

Eleven Coeds Will Ride In Ak-Sar-Ben

Eleven Nebraska Coeds who will ride western style in the Junior Ak-Sar-Ben show have been announced by Bob Hamilton, chairman.

Girls riding stock saddle are Connie Foutz, Marcella Fischer, Laverna Acker, Ramona Young, Cherie Viele, Joan Fiekling, Ruth Hayward, Clarice Fiala, Lucille Snyder, Doris Eberhart and Virginia Baskin. Lincoln owners are furnishing horses for the show.

Women will also participate in the ladies invitational three-gaited jumping exhibition. The division is for outside participation also. Present entrants include Martha DeLong, Patrice Hammond and Georgia Lee Hudson.

The annual show will be held Saturday, March 26, at the State Fair grounds in the 4-H arena. This year it is being dedicated to Dean and Mrs. W. W. Lambert.

The Junior Ak-Sar-Ben Ball will be held Friday, March 25. The informal affair will be held at the Ag Union.

Flying Kernels Plan Air Meet

The Flying Kernels have reached an agreement with Union Air service whereby its members may fly from Union airport at reduced rates. Each member is required to pay a $5 deposit and agree to fly one hour a month.

Plans for an air meet in the spring are under way. Flying clubs from colleges throughout the midwest will compete for prizes in the various events planned.

There will be a meeting of the Flying Kernels Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Parlor A of the Union. A flight breakfast in the near future will be discussed and movies will be shown. Any student interested in flying and participating in the above events is urged to attend.

Countryman Hits Stands Tomorrow

The Cornhusker Countryman, Ag college student magazine, is scheduled to hit the stands Wednesday.

Featuring the 50th anniversary of the Home Ec department, this month's Countryman contrasts pictures of Home Ec as it was during its first years on Ag campus and as it is now.

Eight outstanding Home Ec majors are presented in the "Campus Personalities" section this month. Articles on the coming Junior Ak-Sar-Ben, irrigation in Nebraska and synthetic alfalfas are also featured.

The March Cornhusker Countryman will be distributed to Ag organized houses Wednesday. Those with subscriptions not in organized houses should pick up their issues in the Countryman office, Ag Union, on Wednesday.

'College Teaching Lags,' Says Prof

A University of Texas professor has reported that secondary schools have far outdistanced the nation's colleges and universities in changing teaching methods and in meeting the needs of the times.

"Higher education has lagged behind secondary education in studying the nature and needs of students," Dr. Royal B. Embree states. "The traditional structure of the college has withstood the pounding social forces of the past 70 years much more effectively than did that of the secondary school."

Lutheran Choir Will Give Three Outstate Concerts

The University of Nebraska Lutheran student choir will give three concerts in northeast Nebraska communities next Sunday, March 20.

They are: Oakland (morning), Wakefield (afternoon) and West Point (evening). At the evening concert, the Rev. Alvin M. Peterson, pastor for University Lutheran students, will speak.

The choir is composed of 40 students directed by James Hanson, a graduate student from Wakefield.

KK Tryouts Will Begin Thursday

Tryouts for the Kosmet Klub's Spring Show will be held Thursday and Friday evenings at 7 p.m. in the Union ballroom. The tryouts are expected to last about two and a half hours, according to Norbert Tiemann, Kosmet Klub president.

George Randol, manager of the Circle theater here in Lincoln, will direct the show which was written by Jack Solomon, a student in the University's Law college. The show will be presented in the Nebraska theater in April.

Engineers to Hold Regional Meeting

Thirty AICHE members from Nebraska met in Lawrence, Kas., last week for the regional convention with representatives from five other colleges.

Dr. Miles C. Leverett, research associate for the Humble Oil and Refining company of Houston, Tex., addressed over 300 representatives at a banquet Saturday. His subject dealt with engineering problems in the field of nuclear energy.

After the address, each AICHE chapter reported on its activities during the past year. Nebraska will be host to the regional meet in 1950.
