Aggies Spank Huskers in Playoff, 52-35

Nebraska Ends Cage Season At Kansas City

BY JERRY EWING.
KANSAS CITY—The best Nebraska cage team in recent years came to the end of the trail Wednesday night as it dropped a 52-35 decision to Oklahoma A & M. The loss eliminated the Huskers from the NCAA western playoffs starting here Friday.

Oklahoma A & M, paced by All-American Center Bob Harris, led all the way in a game which saw the Nebraska five scoring only in spurts, but scrapping all the way. Harris dropped in eight field goals and four free throws for a 20 point total. His smooth play in the pivot keyed the Aggie machine thru the full 40 minutes.

A & M OPENED the scoring after one and a half minutes when Harris dropped in a close shot, which he soon followed with a hook shot from the foul circle. Jack Shelton added a gift shot and Parks a jump shot to boost the Oklahomans to a 7-0 lead after four and one-half minutes.

Bus Whitehead opened Husker scoring with a free throw after J. L. Parks scored from the gratis line. Retherford hit a bucket and free toss to cut the lead to 8-4.

Harris widened the margin with a pair of goals and the Aggies moved to a 14-5 lead after 12 minutes of play. Malacek and Anderson moved Nebraska within six points, but Lawry missed a layup and A & M moved back into a comfortable 21-11 lead with two and one-half minutes left in the first half.

FREE THROWS by Cerv and Retherford and a long one hander from mid-court by Ruck brought the Huskers up to a 21-15 deficit at intermission.

The Oklahomans found the range after the rest period with a series of pot shots and school was out for Nebraska. Cerv made a futile bid to keep the Scarlet five in the contest, but his four points were all the Nebraska could muster in the first seven minutes of the second half.

When N. U. again found the hoop, Oklahoma was in front by a 31-19 count.

RETHELFORD DROVE around the foul circle for a jump shot, Cerv hit a drive in, but the Stillwater five countered with field goals by Jacquet, Harris, and Yates.

The final Husker bid came with seven minutes to go when Retherford stole the ball and went in for a layup, and Malacek and Lawry hit long one handers from back of the foul circle, pushing Nebraska to 20-39. A&M slowed down the play. However, Harris added seven points to his total in the final minutes to sew up the contest.

Retherford and Cerv hit from the field in dying moments, making the final score read 52-35.

NEBRASKA'S INABILITY to hit from the field in the opening half proved very costly. Had

Foundation to Entertain Prep Students At Big Basketball Party This Afternoon

BY GENE BERG
High school students in Lincoln for the state basketball tournament will be guests at a Student Foundation party this afternoon in the Union.

All members of prep teams and their supporters have been issued an invitation to the party, to be held from 4-6 in the Union ballroom.

An annual affair for high school visitors to the campus, the party will combine free cokes with dancing and "Cornhusker spirit."

Members of Corn Cobs, Tassels, N club, Student Foundation and the cheerleading squad will be on hand to entertain the high school students. Basketball Coach Harry Good, Football Coach Bill Glassford and Athletic Director Patsy Clark will greet the prep guests.

Pennants and colors of the high school teams in the tourney will be used to decorate the ballroom, along with the Scarlet and Cream.

THE CHERLEADERS will lead all party-goers in cheers and songs of N. U. Present will be Mary Alice Dosek, Jo Lisher and Bob Jensen.

Informal chats with Nebraska athletes, as well as University co-eds, will be encouraged by Foundation hosts, in an attempt to further familiarize the high school students with the University of Nebraska.

The basketball meet party has become one of the Foundations's most popular functions with preppers. Last year, the party attracted over 300 students. They jammed the ballroom, danced, drank several hundred cokes, ate even more brownies and scrambled for pennants and N feathers. They heard from Tom Novak, Claude Retherford, Mary Grimm, Husker athletes, and Patsy Clark, then football coach.

Though the party is planned for the high school basketball players or supporters, University students are urged to come if they want to help "sell" Nebraska to the preppers.

College Politics Topic of YM 'Town Meeting'

Representatives from several campus groups will take part in a forum on student organizations at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the Temple YMCA Lounge.

The current question of representation on the Student Council will be the main topic. According to Harold Nebelsick, in charge of plans for the forum, it is hoped that the discussion will lead to constructive suggestions for improvement.

Speakers in the Town Meeting type discussion will include Dean T. J. Thompson, dean of student affairs; Miss Mary Mielenz, assistant professor of English; Dale Ball, Student Council president; Chuck Thoene and Shirley King, Student Council members; and the Rev. Rex Knowles, Presbyterian student pastor.

The Y. M. C. A. discussion, usually held on Wednesday evening, is being held on Thursday this week to make the presentation of this program possible.

Eight Seniors Vie for Queen Of Ivy Day

Who will be Queen of the May? That's a question which will be answered by junior and senior coeds at women's elections today.

Voters will be able to choose from a slate of eight candidates chosen in last week's primary. Only juniors and seniors are eligible to vote for the eight candidates.

THE CANDIDATES are:
Betty Aasen has been a leader of Husker pep for three years. When she isn't swinging the gavel as president of Chi Omega, Betty may be found at Student Council meetings or working in Panhellenic.

Marion Crook, who presides over AWS board, UNESCO executive meetings, Council of Women's Residence halls, is vice president of Mortar Board.

Joan Farrar, Mortar Board president, boosts Tassel pep as vice president and sits in on Student Council sessions. Joan also devotes time to AUF advisory board and Kappa Alpha Theta.

Former pep queen and BABW "Hello Girl," Lois Gillett, presides over Tassel activities, is a member of Towne Club and Mortar Board.

Phyl Harris, Honorary Colonel and a former pep queen, acts as vice president of the AWS board. She is a member of Alpha Chi Omega and Mortar Board.

Lois Thorfinson Mickle, former Ag YWCA prexy, belongs to Omicron Nu and Phi Upsilon Omicron, Ag honoraries. She is vice president of Chi Omega and a former member of Home Ec club Council. She is a Mortar Board.

Past president of Student Foundation, Genene Mitchell, is a former Coed Counselor board member, a member of Pi Beta Phi and Mortar Board.

Barbara Speer, former city YWCA president, holds a Student Council seat. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta and Mortar Board.

Voters will be asked to choose one girl from the list of candidates. A second senior woman will be named from the slate to act as Maid of Honor at the Ivy Day ceremonies.

Polls will be open from 9 to 5 p. m. today in Ellen Smith Hall and the Ag Union.

THE ELECTION will include selection of the presidents and boards of AWS, BABW and Coed Counselors. Junior and senior women will be asked to name 5 to 20 candidates for Mortar Board.

Mary Ellen Schroeder and Janet Stratton are nominees for AWS presidency. Miss Schroeder has served on the board for one year. Miss Stratton is serving her second year and is a former AWS treasurer.

Norma Jean Peterson and Jo Ann Leaming are candidates for president of BABW. Both are serving their second year on BABW.

Dorothy Borgens and Janet Cochran will vie for the Coed Counselor presidency. Both have been Counselor board members.

WAA Names Vanevery New Council Prexy

New officers of the W. A. A. Council were announced today by Jeanne Boman, past president. They are: President, Barbara Vanevery; vice-president, Lois Erickson; secretary, Peggy Mulvaney; treasurer, Betty Ann Sawyers.

According to the voting eligibility rule as set up under the W. A. A. constitution, approximately three hundred girls were eligible to vote, and two hundred girls were present at the polls.

President Barbara Vanevery is a past member of the Council. She acted as assistant to the intramural coordinator, Lois Erikson, was treasurer during her last year's membership on the Council. Peggy Mulvaney is now president of the Badminton club, and a member of Alpha Chi Omega. Betty Ann Sawyers has acted as an assistant in the intramural program, and she is a member of Delta Gamma.
