Nebraska Baseball Squad Leaves on Six-Game Trip

Nebraska baseballers will open their 1949 campaign with a six-game swing through Texas and Oklahoma. The Husker nine is the defending Big Seven champion.

The first four games are non-conference tiffs, with the last two to be played against the Oklahoma Sooners at Norman, April 8-9. Coach Sharpe has tabbed a 20 man squad for the jaunt.

Poor weather has been a definite handicap to Husker hopes make a good showing in their opening series. The team has been able to hold only six practice sessions outdoors.

The squad will leave Saturday for Waco, Texas, where they play their first of two games April 4. Following the second game April 5, they will move to Wichita Falls, Texas, to meet Hardin Simms April 6. April 7 the Scarlet will play Southwestern Tech, Weatherford, Oklahoma, and then invade Norman for the two game match with the Sooners.

Coach Sharpe has named Jim Sandstedt, a righthander, to the starting pitcher against Baylor in the first game and plans to come back with southpaw Elroy Gloystein in the finale. Jack Helmsing and Jim Sharp, the latter a converted outfielder, will be used in relief if needed.

The batting order for the opener: Fritz Hegwood, lf; Hobe Hays, 2b; Bob Grogan, ss; Bob Cerv, cf; Bob Denker, 3b; Shirley Matthews or Harlan Powley, rf; Bob Schleiger, 1b; Tom Novak or Del Blatchford, c; and Jim Sandstedt, p.

The return of Hegwood to the lineup will give the batting order added power over last season. The leading hitter on the club for the past two years, Hegwood broke his leg in early season play last year. He pounded out a .436 average in 1947 and hit .418 in the first eight games last season.

Grogan paced the Scarlet regulars in 1948 with a .349 mark. Bob Cerv, hitting in the number four slot, led the conference in two departments last spring. In the all-important RBI's he paced the loop with 18, along with pilfering a total of 25 bases.

The traveling squad named by Sharpe includes: Elroy Gloystein, Jack Helmsing, Jim Sharp, Fritz Hegwood, Hobe Hays, Bob Grogan, Bob Cerv, Bob Denker, Shirley Matthews, Harlan Powley, Bob Schleiger, Tom Novak, Del Blatchford, Jim Sandstedt, Ernest Behne, Willard Branson, Robert Bull, Bob Camp, Don Hayes and Bob Jenkins.

Group pictures of the N Club are being held at the coaches office for those N men who have ordered them, Dick Srb, N club member, announced.

Sig Alphas Cop IM Water B-Ball Win

The Sig Alphas climbed into third place of League III in water basketball Tuesday by dumping the Sig Eps, 13-3. The loss dropped the Sig Eps into fourth position. In another League III encounter the Zeta Beta Tau's were the sole occupants of the cellar as they dropped a 6-2 decision to Sigma Alpha Mu in a slow but hard fought game.

Due to the overcrowded condition of the fieldhouse caused by spring football and baseball, lockers of trackmen not working out regularly are being checked in. Men who want to keep their equipment and lockers should report out immediately, according to Coach Weir.

Seven Named To Independent All-Star Team

Seven men were named to the Independent All-Star Team which was selected by the managers of the various clubs. The voting was so close in the forward and guard departments that three of each were chosen.

THE LILIES, Independent Champions, led the selections by placing three men on the team. AIEE, runners-up, placed two men and the Reformatory Guards and Sigma Gamma Epsilon each earned one position.

At forwards were G. Yelkin—Lilies, Kellogg—AIEE, and Nuss—Sigma Gamma Epsilon. Kellogg, high scoring engineer, led his team to the Independent finals. Yelkin and Nuss played good steady ball and were invaluable to their clubs.

At center was Jack Yelkin of the Lilies. Yelkin was chosen outstanding player of the year by the balloting and received practically unanimous selecting. A sharpshooter, he continually controlled the boards in all his games. He also led the league in scoring.

AT THE GUARDS were Parker—AIEE, Clough—Reformatory Guards, and Ingram—Lilies. Parker was a classy ball-handler while Clough and Ingram were dead-eyes. All three played good defensive ball.

Sooner Netmen To Begin Quest For 12th Title

Oklahoma University will be pointing for its twelfth Big Seven conference championship in 18 years this season with an all veteran lineup.

Only dark spot on the Sooner horizon is the possible loss of last year's number one singles player, Stanley Draper. Draper suffered serious injury in an auto accident this winter. If he rounds into form he will be a definite threat for the Big Seven singles crown in the meet at Lincoln late in May.

In case Draper is unable to compete, Jack Stuart, an import from Oklahoma Baptist, will move into his place. Stuart, sporting an excellent serve, played high school tennis in Oklahoma and Tennessee, and will probably be used on the number two doubles combination.

Following Draper and Stuart, will be Charles Cunningham, a 205 pounder built like a football guard, who played under the former Sooner great, Joe Ben Champion, in high school. Cunningham will team with veteran Jack Griggs in the number one doubles outfit.

Other members of the squad include Guy Ewton, who may play doubles as well as singles, Abe Ross, a two-year letterman at OU, and Gerald Badgett, a protege of Chickasha's girl coach, Genevieve Carter.

Coach Walter Mead is at 28 the youngest coach in the Sooner athletic system. Mead played tennis at Oklahoma and was one of the greatest doubles players in Sooner history. In 1939 Mead played on the doubles team which took first in the Big Six, and followed with championships in 1940-41.

In the three years which Mead has been at the helm of Oklahoma netmen, he has taken third, second and first in conference play. The best year came in 1947, when the team won 15, lost 1 and tied 1. Last season the Sooners were second with a 9-4-2 record.

Los Angeles zookeepers report the case of Hal, the bashful camel, who would run a mile to get away from another camel. Have the cigarette people heard about this?

ELROY "LEFTY" GLOYSTEIN, veteran Husker hurler, will lead his mates south this weekend on a six-game tour of Texas and Oklahoma. Gloystein was a number one pitcher in the conference last year as the Huskers won the Big 7 crown. Assisting Gloystein will be Big Jim Sandstedt, number two man on the Nebraska hurling staff and number two hurler in the conference. Gloystein. Newcomer Tom Jenkins will also make the trip with the Husker hurlers.
