

Nebraska Nine to Open Home Season Against Kansas State

University of Nebraska baseballers hope to shake a losing streak when they meet the Kansas State diamondmen for a two-game series Friday and Saturday. Friday's game will start at 3 p.m. and Saturday's at 2 p.m.

Coach Tony Sharpe expects the Huskers to settle down on the home diamond and improve their hitting. The boys have fielded well and the pitching has been good but their hitting in the clutch has not been up to par. Many men have been left on the base paths due to poor clutch hitting.

Jim Sandstedt, Nebraska's leading pitcher, will hurl Friday and Lefty Gloystein is slated for mound duty in the second game. Sandstedt has worked three good games this spring, winning two and losing one. The Oklahoma Sooners beat Jim 2-0 for his only loss of the season. A superb pitching job by the Sooner's Sophomore star, Jack Shirley, proved the margin in a well played game.

Bob Gates, NU basketballer who recently joined the Husker pitching staff, will probably see relief duty this week-end. Gates looked very good in his six inning stint against Denver.

Kansas State hasn't won a conference game in two starts this season while the Cornhuskers have won one while losing two, Oklahoma and Iowa State, who are tied for the lead with 2 wins and no losses each, will battle it out for first place when they square off for a two-game series this week-end.
