Law Expert Opens Three-Day Meeting

Hugo Srb, clerk of the Nebraska state legislature, will be the keynote speaker at the opening session of the Constitutional Assembly May 3.

He has served as a legislative clerk and parliamentarian since the conception of the unicameral legislature. Srb is considered an authority on legislative procedure and form. He is a permanent officer of the state law-making body.

The Assembly will be called to order at 7:30 p. m. in the Union ballroom by Bob Wallace, chairman of the steering committee. The first duty of the Assembly will be to recognize and seat 100 delegates, representing major campus organizations.

Permanent officers for the three-day meeting will be selected Tuesday night. The convention will then divide into committees where the actual work of the sessions will be done.

Five committees have been set up. Each will have a membership of approximately twenty. The faculty-student relationship committee will survey problems which have arisen between the faculty and the present Council and attempt to devise a system whereby the two groups will be better co-ordinated.

The committee on students' rights will attempt to draw up a bill of rights to be incorporated in the new constitution. Elections and political parties will use material gathered from other mid-west universities in writing workable election laws. The committee on Council powers and procedure will try to determine the amount of control over student life to which the Council is entitled.

The fifth committee will deal with the problem of representation on the Council or a similar body which may be set up to take its place.

These committees will begin their work by holding student hearings on Tuesday night. At this time interested students may appear before each of the groups to present their ideas.

Each committee will choose a chairman who will become a member of the permanent steering committee and a secretary who will become a member of the permanent drafting committee.

When the committee work has been completed the action will be incorporated into a single bill to be acted upon by the entire assembly.

DU Chorus Sings Over Radio Show

The Delta Upsilon chorus, winners of the Ivy Day Interfraternity Sing last year, broadcast over KFOP Monday morning.

The chorus' appearance over the air, this year marks the second annual DU broadcast. In addition to their show last year over KFOP, the DU's also sang over the Nebraska network on the program, "Your University Speaks."

The thirty-voice group also gave a performance at the Veterans' hospital with the Alpha Phi's, winners of the inter-sorority sing in 1948. Another concert was given at the Vets' hospital this year in cooperation with the entertainment division of the University Red Cross at its Easter party.

The numbers presented over KFOP included last year's winning Ivy Day song, "Meadowlands," "Down Among the Dead Men," "The Night is Young" and "The Cossack Song." The chorus is under the direction of Gordon Johnson.

Arizona Appoints Former NU Dean

Former dean of the College of Pharmacy, Dr. R. A. Lyman, has been appointed dean of the College of Pharmacy at the University of Arizona. Dr. Lyman retired from Nebraska in 1946.

Under the guidance of Dean Lyman the Pharmacy College at Arizona has been expanded and developed to a point where it will be accredited as a college next spring.

Dr. Lyman founded the College of Pharmacy at Nebraska in 1915 and was its first dean, a post he held until his retirement in May of 1946. The 74 year old dean is nationally recognized as a leader in pharmaceutical education.

Law Students Win Honors at Annual Dinner

Husker golfers picked up their third straight victory Friday afternoon as they defeated Wichita University 12 to 6 on the Hillcrest Country club course. Two men, Del Ryder of Nebraska and Al Little ton of Wichita, tied for scoring honors as each came home with a one-under-par 71 total.

Wichita picked up their points on two single matches, as Littleton and Joe Minpares both won their matches.

Ryder-Stroh defeated Douglas-Minjares, 3-0.

KK to Sponsor Interfraternity Ivy Day Sing

Kosmet Klub will sponsor the Interfraternity sing on Ivy Day, according to Norbert Tiemann, president.

The rules which will govern men's participation in the sing are:

All men's organized groups, except honoraries, may participate in the sing. Each group may have no more than 30 members, and not less than 15.

No medley of songs may be used, and the same song may not be used two consecutive years. Alumni may not take part in the singing but they may assist in the preparation with the provision that they have not been connected professionally with music. No other assistance may be had.

The director must be active in the group and must be regularly enrolled in the University. All members of the group must be carrying 12 hours this present semester. All groups remain after participation for recall if necessary. The winning organization will be presented the traditional cup by the Kosmet Klub.

Each group will be assessed a fee of one dollar to cover the cost of judging. The fee, the name of the song, and the name of the director must be submitted to Bob Hildebrand, 1701 E Street, on or before Wednesday, May 4.

15,000 Visit E Week To Set All-Time High

E Week '49 is now history. An all-time record crowd of 15,000 attended. This figure is based on actual count taken with an electrical eye in one of the buildings housing the EE displays.

The week ended with a banquet at which awards were presented. The plaque awarded to the department winning the contest which included window displays, open house displays and ticket sales was given to the electrical engineers. The EE exhibits under the theme of Progress in Electrical Engineering was judged first place in Open House.

Melvin R. Poeschl, senior in mechanical engineering, was given the O. J. Fee award, highest honor of the College of Engineering and Architecture. Poeschl has been in the upper 10 percent of his class for four years, and is a member of four scholastic honorary societies—Sigma Tau, Sigma Xi, Pi Mu Epsilon, and Pi Tau Sigma. Dean Roy M. Green presented this award.

Ralph R. Ruhter, sophomore in the college of engineering, received the Sigma Tau freshman scholarship key. This medal is given each year by Sigma Tau to the engineering student who received the highest scholastic average in his freshman year.

Blueprint key awards to engineering students who made outstanding contributions to the Blueprint, monthly magazine of the college of engineering were presented to: Fred Chael, Norman Rosenweig, Howard Duncan, Donald Carlberg, Reginald Finlay, Eugene Jarecki and Edwin Goral-ski.

Associated General Contractors award to architecture students submitting best designed solutions to a practical construction problem was presented to William L. Larson. This award is a check for $100.

Winners of the Field Day events were announced at the banquet.

The chemical engineers team was winner in sports. W. E. Minford of the electrical engineering department faculty was declared winner of a "tall story" contest.

Miss Maud M. Melick, secretary to the dean, was presented a bouquet of roses during the banquet in recognition of outstanding service to the college.

MAVIS MUSGRAVE, Goddess of Agriculture, and Max Rogers, Whiskers King, reign over the 1949 Farmers Fair festivities. After being presented at the Cotton-Denim ball Friday, the royalty headed the parade down O street and observed the midway, open house and rodeo Saturday.

Musgrave, Rogers Reign At Farmers Fair Dance

Mavis Musgrave was crowned 1949 Goddess of Agriculture at the Cotton and Denim dance Friday night along with Max Rogers, 1949 Whisker King. The Goddess reigned over Farmers Fair activities Friday night and Saturday.

Presented informally through a "booth at the midway," the theme of the dance, she was attended by Betty Beckner, Marj Reynolds, Vi Vosika, Phyllis Ross and Lillian Lock. Dick Kuska was master of ceremonies.

Adding to the spirit of the affair, a pen of Hampshire pigs contributed a few notes to the music of Jack Swanson and his orchestra. About 250 couples attended the dance and participated in the lighting of the barbecue pits at the rally following the dance.

SATURDAY'S activities began with the "Progress of Agriculture" parade, which passed down O street, to 16th and out to Ag. The day's activities were highlighted by the rodeo in the afternoon in spite of the dust and occasional showers that daunted onlookers.

Seven events took place. Events and men who copped first and second places in them are: Calf roping, Jim Curtis, Vaughn Johnson; bareback riding, Buzz Stebbins, Mark Pittman; bull riding, Roger Eagon, Jack Wilson; saddle broncs, Al Closson, Richard Counce; wild cow milking, Bruce Haskell and Frank Kent, Jim Curtis and Ernie Guetschall; and cow cutting, Jim Monohan, Jim Curtis. Corrine Lundin and Louise Zorouski were the winners of the coed calf catching contest. Runners-up were Mary Ryons and Nancy Sayre.

Official announcer for the rodeo was Jack King, professional rodeo moderator from Lincoln. Bill Wakefield and Dale Markensun were official judges. Timekeepers were Peggy King and Betty Wakefield.

BEFORE and after the rodeo visitors inspected the open house exhibits prepared by each department. Two prizes were awarded to the displays. Winning for the second year in succession was the women's vocational educational department. In the men's department the agronomy department took top honors. Receiving honorable mention were the design display and the meats lab exhibit. Judges for the displays were Richard M. Bourne, Mrs. Hedy Newmann, and Mr. Robert Coppel. They judged the exhibits on their eye appeal, organization and integration, representation of activities of the department and show of scientific advancement.

Bringing the 1949 Farmers Fair to a close was the barbecue and square dance Saturday evening. About 700 students, faculty and alumni of Ag college attended.

Farmers Fair is sponsored by an elected Fair Board headed by Don Smith, manager. Other members of the board are Phyllis Ross, Don Knebel, Harriet Moline, Sue Bjorklund, Keith Arteburn, Bob Eggert, Connie Crosby, Donna Rudisil, Jack Baird, Charles Athey and Eunice Jensen.
