

AMY JO BERGH, president of Orchesis, will be one of twenty students who will present the annual Spring Dance Concert at Grant Memorial Hall at 8:15 p. m. Friday and Saturday, May 13-14. The program, which will celebrate the 22nd year of Orchesis on campus, will present a varied program, ranging from an original version of Moussorgsky's "Pictures at an Exhibition," to a comedy ballet depicting an office scene in which the secretaries, and finally the boss go off into flights of fancy. Director of the program, which will feature seventeen women and three men is Dr. Aileen Lockhart.

Phi Psi's Win Innocents Award; ATO's, Farmhouse Place High

For the second consecutive year Phi Kappa Psi topped other fraternities in activity-scholarship achievements. The official announcement of the Phi Psi win was made by Norman Lee, Innocents president, when he awarded the society trophy to Fritz Simpson, Phi Psi president. The award was made as part of the Ivy Day program. The Phi Psi's were followed by Alpha Tau Omega in second place and Farm House in third place. The winning fraternities were highest in points earned on a basis of scholarship and activities. Fourth and fifth place winners in the contest were Sigma Phi Epsilon and Beta Sigma Psi respectively.

This year a new basis for awarding the second and third place trophies has been initiated. The first, second and third places were awarded on all university basis. Last year, two first prizes went to the winning houses on both Ag and City campuses, and a third trophy was awarded the fraternity which placed second on either campus. Last year's winner on city campus was Phi Kappa Psi, and the Ag winner was Alpha Gamma Rho.

POINTS WERE awarded on a basis of individual activities, group activities, such as placing in home-coming decorations, Kosmet Klub show, or Ivy Day sings. Scholarship points were figured in relation to the top ten houses in fraternity average. Extra points are awarded for men on the honor roll.

Among high point men from first place Phi Psi were Bob Hamilton, Dale Ball, Fritz Simpson and John Connelly. Top men from second place ATO included Jack Selzer, Bud Gerhart, Merle Stalder, Alan Clem and Bruce Kennedy.

Dane Will Make Tour of Nebraska

A youth from Denmark has been chosen to visit Nebraska this summer in connection with the international farm youth exchange project.

He is Jorgen Madsen who will make a three-month visit in Nebraska starting about July 1. Most of his time will be spent on farms in the state, getting acquainted with agricultural methods and practices.

Nebraska State 4-H Club Leader E. W. Janike said plans are underway to offer the Danish boy an opportunity to attend a district 4-H camp and other youth activities.

Duane Sellin, Ag junior, is the Nebraska youth, selected for the exchange project. He will visit Finland this summer and is expected to sail from New York in June.

East, West Join Hands Saturday

West met East and married him.

That was the story Saturday in Omaha when Mildred Holdtwalker, University senior, married Iskender Sasati, graduate student in mechanical engineering, in a civil ceremony.

Miss Holdtwalker is a native of Chapman, Neb.; Sasati hails from Istanbul, Turkey.

The couple met on the University campus where Miss Holdtwalker was recently elected to Phi Beta Kappa. They were married in Omaha Saturday, and returned to school here today after a two-day honeymoon.

Miss Holdtwalker is a former staff reporter of The Daily Nebraskan. She is also active in University and Experimental Theater productions.

Registration To Continue On May 17

Unregistered students must now wait until May 17 to complete summer or fall registration.

At that time, junior division students and upperclass "stragglers" will converge at Temporary B. May 17 and 18 will be set aside to complete all advanced registration.

Summer school fees will be paid May 31 in the Armory, Dr. Floyd Hoover, assistant registrar, announced today. Fall term fees will be taken care of completely by mail, he said.

At the time summer school students pay their fees they will fill out a greatly reduced number of personal data cards. Men will fill out one; women, two.

These information cards may be filled out at the convenience of each student. They may be picked up at Temporary B in the week preceding May 31. Then, in paying fees, all the student will have to do is appear, pick up registration, file cards and pay their fees for the summer session.

Tri-K President Dwight Kaster Tells Plans for Annual Crop Judging Contest

Plans for the annual crop judging contest sponsored by Tri-K club, have been announced by Dwight Kaster, president. The contest will be held in the Ag college activities building Saturday, May 14, and will be open to all students in the university.

Registration will be at 8 a. m. Saturday. Students competing will be divided into Freshman, Junior and Senior classes. Contest rules are:

1. Students who have had Agronomy 1 or no agronomy courses will be classified in the Freshman competition.

2. Those having more than Agronomy 1, but not taking advanced judging work will compete in the Junior division.

3. Students taking advanced judging work in preparation for the intercollegiate crop judging team will enter the contest in the Senior division.

4. Students doing lab assistant work will be classified in the next highest group.

THE CLASSIFICATION is not based on the standing in school but on the number of agronomy

Wallace Announces Burnett Hall Site of Second Meeting

Delegates to the Constitutional Assembly will reconvene Tuesday at 7:30 a. m. after five days of hopeful waiting for the Faculty Senate committee to act on student government.

The Assembly will meet in Burnett hall auditorium, Room 108, since it is impossible to get the Union ballroom within such short notice, said Bob Wallace, parliamentarian.

Recent faculty sentiments on the Assembly will be revealed at the session Tuesday night. Concerned faculty members are expected to be present, according to Ted Sorenson, chairman of the assembly.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL Assembly folded last week in its second assembly session. A resolution to adjourn, in the form of an ultimatum to the faculty, was proposed by Ben Wall, Student Party delegate, and unanimously adopted by the assembly. The resolution was amended in its last stages to reconvene this Tuesday.

Delegates to the Assembly are urged to attend and be prompt. Committee heads elected at the opening session are Winton Buckley, Council powers and procedures; Frank Loeffel, faculty-student relations; Ruth Sorenson, bill of rights; Ray Simmons, political parties and elections; and Chuck Berghoffen, representation.

WHEN THE ASSEMBLY adjourned last week, the student's bill of rights committee had prepared a seven-point program for student government rights. This program will be presented by Committee Chairman Ruth Sorenson at the meeting Tuesday.

The idea of the Constitutional Assembly was first proposed by The Daily Nebraskan several months ago when the Student Council was under attack. A steering committee, headed by Bob Wallace was chosen by the staff.

Planning of the conference was carried out by this steering committee and the Assembly convened May 3. Delegates representing campus organizations were present with the purpose of drafting a new constitution of student government.

Three meetings were held before the Assembly adjourned to ascertain faculty and administration backing for the constitution to be prepared.

THE UNIVERSITY originally requested a 10-million dollar budget from the State General Fund. Governor Peterson cut this request to $7,800,000. Another cut was administered by the budget committee which recommended an additional slash of 400 thousand dollars.

Any move to reverse the budget committee's slash will involve cuts in the appropriations recommended for the State Board of Control and the state normal schools.

The Budget committee reduced the Board of Control General Fund allotment 695 thousand dollars below the Governor's recommendation and the normal school's appropriation by 100 thousand dollars.

The University, in its budget, estimated fees and tuition for the next biennium at $3,400,000, but the governor raised this amount to $4,600,000, based upon 1947 revenues.

Awards will be presented at the annual banquet which will be held in the Ag cafeteria Saturday at 6:30 p. m. Tickets for the banquet are priced at one dollar per person and can be purchased at the Student Union or from members of the Tri-K club.

Dean Lambert will be guest speaker at the banquet. Mr. Donald Hanway, instructor in agronomy, will present medals to the winners of the various divisions.

The three high individuals in each division will receive gold, silver and bronze medals. In addition, the top five men in the Senior division and the top ten men in the Freshman and Junior divisions will receive ribbons.

HIGH INDIVIDUAL of the entire contest will be presented with a trophy by C. R. Porter, secretary of the Nebraska Crop Improvement Association. Scholarships will be given to the high individual in each division. They

'49 Yearbook Ready May 20 Says Johnston

The 1949 Cornhusker should be ready for distribution by May 20, according to Editor Jerry Johnston.

The '49 yearbook, which has as its theme the 80th anniversary of the university, will be "by far one of the most outstanding yearbooks," according to Editor Johnston.

Under the dark blue cover, designed by Johnston, a "complete coverage of all campus activities" will be given in the 496 pages. An unusual feature of the book will be the copy, all of which is printed in lower case letters. "The page make-up is also strikingly different," according to the editor.

ASSISTANT Business Manager Neil Atkinson reported that all copies of the book have been sold, and there is awaiting list for those who have not yet purchased their books.

Business Manager Ray Biemond hopes to have 3,200 books available on the first day of distribution, and to complete distribution on that day. He emphasized the fact that students must present their receipts and their identification cards in order to receive their books.

Exam Schedule

The exam schedule, correct in this issue, states that classes meeting at 1 p. m., five or four days, or Mon., Wed., Fri., or any one or two of these days will meet for examination from 9-12 on Wednesday, June 1.

Final exams will begin on Tuesday, May 24. Classes will be dismissed on Monday, May 23, and Monday, May 30. Arrangements for conflicting examinations should be made with the department concerned before May 17.
