

Quitting Won't Work . . .

The action of all but one of the University party delegates and the Corn Cob delegation in walking out of the Constitutional Assembly Tuesday night speaks none too highly for those groups. Obviously, they are not interested in the work of the Assembly.

One University party delegate made the statement that the Assembly was wasting its time since the faculty has not pointed out what is wrong with the now defunct Student Council constitution. If the faculty would state exactly what it thinks is wrong with said constitution, there would be no need whatsoever in carrying on the Assembly. The change could be made to suit the faculty, and that would be the end of it.

But faculty members have repeatedly said that they want any change to come from the students themselves. And they have said that the Assembly's work will be considered carefully by the Faculty Senate. They have even stated that the "Assembly is the best answer to the problem of student government."

Why then do some delegates say the faculty will throw out the Assembly's constitution as it did the Student Council constitution? There certainly has been enough trouble over the campus political set-up this year to merit a change of some sort. If the Assembly is not the answer, the students will indicate so when the constitution is brought before them for vote. If it is the answer, the students will give their approval.

The entire purpose of the Assembly has been to investigate the possibilities of a change, and if needed, to carry out such change. This purpose certainly cannot be fulfilled by quitting. The Assembly affords students an opportunity to bring out their own ideas and changes. And there are enough interested Greeks and independents to take advantage of the opportunity.

If there are students who do not wish to participate in the drafting of a fair constitution, others will handle the job. And if the job is not done, Nebraska university can expect no student government, period. Therefore, it is imperative that the students stick to the job until it is completed and until everyone is satisfied that the University will have a fair, representative student government.

Gordon Lippitt Leaves YM For Michigan U. Position

Gordon Lippitt, executive secretary of the YMCA, announced his resignation, to become effective August 31, at the YM Board of Management meeting Wednesday.

Lippitt will assume the duties of co-ordinator of the National Training laboratory on group development, sponsored by the National Educational Association and the University of Michigan.

Coach Harry Good, chairman of the YMCA Board, expressed his regrets at Lippitt's resignation. He stated that "Mr. Lippitt's relationship has brought us to the most successful point in the history of the campus YMCA. Our membership is now the largest that it has ever been. We regret very much losing our executive secretary."

Lippitt has held his present position for the past four years. He has also been very active in community affairs.

Y to Aid DP's With Proceeds From Movie

"Angel On My Shoulder," a movie starring Paul Muni, Anne Baxter, and Claude Rains, will be shown on the Ag and city campuses Friday under the sponsorship of the YM and YW.

Proceeds from the 50-cent tickets will go to the Displaced Students fund.

The picture will be shown in Ag campus Dairy Industry building.

"Angel On My Shoulder," is the story of the devil's attempt to increase the population of Hell by sending Paul Muni, an ex-gangster, back to earth to work such havoc that Hades will soon get an entirely new and large assortment of citizens. However, once Muni's spirit is placed in the form of a kindly judge and he meets his beautiful secretary, Anne Baxter, everything happens contrary to the devil's desires.

Bob Epp is the chairman of the committee which is sponsoring the unusual comedy-drama in behalf of the Displaced Students fund.
