Summer Clinics Begin

Dancing, Movies To Highlight Union's Open House Tonight

The doors will be open and the welcome mats out at the Union tonight. The occasion will be the Union's summer open house, designed to acquaint students with Union facilities.

There will be dancing in the ballroom to the music of the Walt Goodbrod combo. Bingo will be played in rooms ABC. A free movie, "The Housekeeper's Daughter," will be shown at 8:30 and 10 p. m. in room 315.

Free refreshments and the music of Jay Norris at the electric organ will be found in the lounge on the main floor. And the whole affair begins at 8 p. m.

THE UNION is operated by the University for all students. It is under the directorship of Duane Lake, who is aided by a board of faculty and student members.

Special Union activities for students are planned and carried out by the activities office, headed by Mrs. Dorothy Day.

The building opens at 7:15 a. m. Monday through Friday and at 8 p. m. on Saturday and Sunday. Closing hours are 10 p. m. Sunday through Thursday. On Friday and Saturday the building is open until 12 p. m.

THE CORN Crib, Campusline and Main Dining Room are regular features of the Union. The Crib opens and closes with the building on week days but does not open until 4 p. m. on Sunday. The Campusline hours are from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. and 5 to 6:30 p. m. Monday through Saturday. On Sunday, the Campusline is open from 11:45 a. m. to 1:15 p. m.

The Main Dining Room, on second floor, will reopen June 13 at 11 a. m. It will serve from 11 to 1 p. m.

TWO OTHER rooms are standard equipment for the Union. These are the Book Nook and the Music Room. The Nook, located on first floor, contains magazines, newspapers and current fiction and non-fiction. The Music Room, on second floor, houses a library of classical and semi-classical records. This room is available between 12 noon and 2 p. m. and 4:30 and 10 p. m.

The Union also maintains a lost and found department at the check stand on the main floor and a picture lending library.

In addition to its standard features the Union sponsors Friday night "Unionizers" (orchestra dances), a Sunday afternoon coffee hour and a free movie at 7:30 p. m. each Sunday.

Card tables and ping pong equipment are available as are instructions in bridge and craft shop work.

YM-YW Delegates Leave For Estes Park Conference

YM and YW delegates are in the midst of the first session of the Rocky Mountain district conference at Estes Park today.

The delegates, 23 in all, left Lincoln Wednesday to travel by bus to Colorado. The bus picked up representatives from other Nebraska schools along the route.

The conference, of 10-day duration, is held each summer in Estes. It involves several hundred college students from five states as well as national YM and YW representatives.

THE CONFERENCE'S training areas are divided into seminar and workshop groups. These groups are led by students from the various schools participating. This year six University students will act as group leaders.

Pat Larsen will lead the group on the "Ecumenical Church." Miss Larsen was a delegate to a conference on this topic held in Lawrence, Kansas this year. "Church in the World Today" will be discussed by Alice Jo Smith. "Christian and Conflicting Ideologies" will be under the direction of Phyllis Cadwallader. "One World" will be dealt with by Sue Allen, university U.N.E.S.C.O. representative to a recent Cleveland conference.

"CIVIL LIBERTIES" group will be headed by Audrey Rosenbaum. Miss Rosenbaum was the Nebraska delegate to a national YW conference held in San Francisco in April.

In the workshop area city YW president, Jan Nutzman, will lead a group on "Leadership in Large Associations."

Other delegates to the conference include Mary Frances Johnson, Norma Long, Alise Anderson, Dorothy Bowman, Joyce Freidberg, Annette Stopkotte, Donna Rudisil, Irene Wellensick, Mary Sidner, Kathy Maharry, Mary

Hubka and Ruth Shinn, executive secretary.

THE NEBRASKA association of Y's will also meet during the Estes conference. The association's chairman for this year is Phyllis Cadwallader.

Five men will represent the Ag and city YM at the Estes meeting. They are Merwyn French, Truman Bechenberg, Dave Keene, Harlan Scheidt, and Neal Williams. Williams has been acting secretary of the YM since the resignation of Gordon Lippitt, YM executive secretary.

The 10-day conference will also include a meeting of the Rocky Mountain regional council of which Phyllis Cadwallader and Laverne Acker, Ag YW president, are members.

Beutel Resigns Law College Post

The Board of Regents Tuesday announced acceptance of Frederick K. Beutel's resignation as dean of the College of Law and approval of his request to remain on the college faculty as professor of law.

The Regents said Professor Beutel's successor as dean of the college will be appointed soon. The board expressed appreciation to Dean Beutel for his work in reorganizing the college after it was closed during the war years.

In a letter to the board and Chancellor Gustavson, Dean Beutel said:

"THE PROGRAM of the College of Law has now reached the stage where the college is again at its full strength and the demands upon my time and energy are such that I would prefer to return to my scholarly pursuits. Therefore, I would deem it a favor if you would relieve me of the position of dean of the College of Law and allow me to return to teaching as Professor of Law."

"THAT IS MOST understandable," Chancellor Gustavson said. "Dean Beutel has rendered a great service to the law college. He started from scratch and faced difficult problems in getting the college operating after it had been closed during 1934 and 1944.

"He went about the job with enthusiasm and intelligence. Despite the many handicaps, he was able to secure a first class faculty for our College of Law. I hope he will now be able to resume his research."

Professor Beutel was appointed dean and professor of law at the University of Nebraska in 1945. This summer Professor Beutel will teach at George Washington university in Washington, D. C.

Tyson Will Give Bridge Lessons

Fourth for bridge! That will be the cry that may well echo from room 315 of the Union each Wednesday afternoon.

At that time bridge instructions will be given. Lessons will last from 3 to 5 p. m.

Bill Tyson will aid the group and aid beginners in learning the game. Tyson is a three-time winner of Union bridge tournaments. He will teach the Culbertson method.

First Session to Deal With New Problems Of United Nations

Current problems facing the United Nations will be discussed June 13 at 7:30 p. m. by British Colonial Affairs expert, John Fletcher-Cooke.

Fletcher-Cooke's discussion of "New Issues Before the United Nations" will be the first in a series of two-day clinics sponsored by the University.

The clinics, three in all, are under the directorship of Dr. Charles H. Patterson of the Department of Philosophy.

First on the agenda for the UN clinic will be a press conference at 9:30 a. m. on June 13. This will be followed by a faculty luncheon. The luncheon will be held in rooms XYZ of the Union.

FLETCHER-COOKE.

FLETCHER-COOKE'S evening address will be held in Love Memorial auditorium and will be open to the public.

On June 14, the British authority will conduct a round-table and forum on the United Nations. The session will be held at 9 a. m. in Love auditorium.

Fletcher-Cooke was recently appointed Counsellor on Colonial Affairs to the British delegation of the United Nations. He is also a United Kingdom alternate on the UN's trusteeship Council. He has long been associated with British colonial administration.

Hixson Choice Completes Ag College Staff

Reorganization of the top administrative offices of the College of Agriculture was completed Tuesday with appointment of Dr. Ephriam Hixson as Associate Director of Resident Instruction.

Dr. Hixson's appointment is effective July 1, Dean W. V. Lambert announced. Dr. Hixson has been head of the university's entomology department since March, 1946.

THE NEW administrative setup at Ag college now provides for the titles of dean of the college, director of the experiment station and director of the extension service to be held by Dr. Lambert. Detailed supervision of the work of these three agencies will be done by associate directors: Marvel L. Baker for the experiment station; Harry Gould, for the extension service; and Dr. Hixson, for the college teaching program.

"Dr. Hixson is an outstanding teacher, an able administrator and a fine scholar," Dean Lambert said. "We are pleased that he has accepted the new position. His appointment is a major step toward revitalizing the teaching program of the College of Agriculture and is part of our ultimate goal of extending the opportunities of an agricultural education to increasing numbers of the young men and women of Nebraska."

DR. HIXSON, a native of Texas, received his B.S. degree in 1929 and his M.S. degree in 1930 from Oklahoma A. & M. College, and his Ph.D. degree in 1940 from Iowa State college. He was a member of the faculty and associate entomologist of the Experiment Station at Oklahoma A. & M. college from 1943 to March, 1946, when he accepted his present position at Nebraska.

He is the author of many research studies in entomology, at Nebraska. Dr. Hixson supervised an active research program including discovery, in association with Dr. M. H. Muma, that benzene hexachloris an effective control for hog mange. This research may ultimately save Nebraska farmers approximately two million dollars a year.

EDUCATION AT Malvern College, England, L'Univesite de Paris and later Oxford, preceded his joining the colonial office in 1934.

He served in West Africa and the Pacific and Mediterranean areas. In 1935, he was appointed assistant to the secretary of the Federal Malay States. In Malaya he served as a Singapore magistrate and a district officer in the German Highlands.

Fletcher-Cooke joined the Royal Air Force in Singapore in 1941. He was captured by the Japanese in 1942 and interned in Java and later in Japan.

UPON RETURN to civilian life, Fletcher-Cooke served in the colony of Malta. Later he became Under-Secretary to the government of Palestine.

Fletcher-Cooke's career in the United Nations began in 1948 when he was appointed a member of the British delegation. He served on a committee for non-self-governing territories and finally as a colonial advisor.

The United Nations clinic will be followed by two others at two week intervals. The second and third clinics in the series will deal with "A Calendar for Atomic Energy" and "Nebraska's Stake in Missouri River Development."

Summer Session Registration Ends For Undergrads

Summer session registration closes today.

Although graduate students may register as late as Saturday, the official registration process is completed.

Although official figures are not yet available, it is estimated that the total enrollment fell below the 4,000 mark. The registrar's office expected to enroll some 3,700 students by the end of the week.

Schedules were rearranged yesterday, during the one day drop and add period. Courses may still be dropped and added at the Administration building. Students must secure permission of advisers and their respective college deans in order to drop a course.

Dr. Floyd Hoover conducts the registration process. The entire procedure has undergone a renovation and simplification since it was placed under Hoover's administration.

Those who wish to enter or pay fees after the regular registration period closes will be charged an additional fee.

HERB REECE and Bob Easter rush to draw the doorprize at a typical Union open house. The open houses are held at the beginning of each term. The scene above is the ballroom. It is always a featured attraction of Union open houses. Game rooms, parlors and the lounge are other favorite spots during open house. The open house for the summer session will be held at 8 o'clock tonight. The open house will feature the music of Walt Goodbrod and his combo. Jay Norris will be at the organ in the main lounge.
