

Fine Arts Series Opens Tonight

Guardsmen Quartette Will Present First Program in Union Ballroom at Eight

The first recital of the summer artist series will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the Union ballroom.

The series, sponsored jointly by the Union and the summer session committee will open with the Guardsmen Quartette.

The Quartette, composed of Henry Iblings, tenor; Irl Hunsaker, second tenor; Thomas Clarke, baritone; and Dudley Kuzell, bass, recently completed the film "It All Came True", with Ann Sheridan and Humphrey Bogart. Other motion picture work for the group includes appearing as four of the dwarfs in "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

In addition to having talent as dwarfs, the quartette does a feature number which is a take-off on the gay '90's. The number known as "The Lady Killers," offers songs such as, "Harvest Moon," "Strawberry Blonde," "Blue Skies" and others.

The quartette has appeared on a number of radio shows in the past several years. Early shows include "Good News" and "Show Boat." Later they sang with the Charlie McCarthy show, Lux Radio Theater and the Cavalcade of America.

THE FOUR musicians estimate that their voices have appeared in over a thousand motion picture productions. They have sung with such artists as Lawrence Tibbett, Grace Moore, Gladys Swarthout, Nelson Eddy, Jeannette MacDonald and Bing Crosby. They have worked under the direction of Leopold Stokowski, Andrew Kostelanetz, Meredith Wilson and Raymond Paige.

The summer series includes two other programs. One will be by Paige and Stone, celebrated dance team, and another by Jack Rank, who will do monologues.

THE ENTIRE series is planned to give summer school students and extra-curricular educational opportunity, according to Dr. Frank Sorenson, acting director of the summer session.

"Usually the summer session is completely barren of any type of cultural or extra-curricular advantages for the summer student. This year we are making an attempt to give students something worthwhile in the way of summer session entertainment and education," Sorenson said.

The Union's portion of the series is regulated by Duane Lake, Union director.

"The first concert parallels All-State nicely. Before the second and third of the series we plan to hold coffee hours for students and performers, but this time we are giving the afternoon to All-State," Lake explained.

Religious Groups Consolidate for Summer Work

"Education For Failure" will be the general topic of discussion at the Sunday evening meetings of the religious groups on campus as they join in a co-operative program this summer. The Baptist, Congregational, Christian, Episcopal, Methodist, Presbyterian, YM and YW groups have planned a summer program containing both interest and fun. Anyone is welcome to come to the Sunday evening meetings and picnics whether they are associated with any of the above groups or not.

The meetings each Sunday evening will be in a different location with one of the above groups acting as host. Meet on the steps of the Student Union at 5 o'clock and go with the group to the place of meeting. Supper will be served at 5:30 followed by the discussion and vesper service. Twenty-five cents will be charged for the supper.

Picnics are scheduled for Wednesday, June 22 and Wednesday, July 13.

This week the Canterbury Club of the Episcopal church will be hosts and the meeting will be in their club rooms in University Episcopal Church, 13th and R.

THE GUARDSMEN QUARTETTE will sing in the Union ballroom at 8 o'clock tonight. Shown above in their "Lady Killer" ensembles they will render tunes that charmed Lillian Russell. The Quartette is presenting the first concert in the summer artists series.

Regents Appoint Belsheim New Dean of Law College

A native midwesterner with long experience in corporation law practice is the new Dean of the University of Nebraska College of Law, the Board of Regents announced Friday.

He is Dr. Edmund Olaf Belsheim who has been a member of the law college faculty as professor of law since January, 1946. He succeeds Prof. Frederick K. Beutel, whose resignation was accepted by the Board of Regents earlier this week.

DR. BELSHEIM, 44, practiced corporate law in Chicago and New York City for eight years, and prior to coming to Nebraska taught law for five years.

A native of North Dakota, Dr. Belsheim graduated from the University of North Dakota with an A. B. degree. As an undergraduate he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, scholastic honorary society. He was a Rhodes Scholar at the University of Oxford, England, where he received the Bachelor of Jurisprudence (first class) in 1929, and the Bachelor of Common Law in 1930. He received a fellowship to the University of Chicago and was awarded its Doctor of Juridical Science degree in 1931.

DR. BELSHEIM immediately entered private practice in Chicago and for six years spent a large part of his time reorganizing the Insull utilities. From 1937 to 1939 he taught law at the University of Tennessee, and from 1940 to 1943 taught at the University of Virginia. In 1939 he was with the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency in the U.S. Treasury Department, and in 1943 served for one year with the Board of Economic Warfare.

From 1943 to 1946 he was associated with the firm of Root, Clark, Buckner and Ballantine in New York City. He came to Nebraska as a professor of law in 1946. While at the University, Dr. Belsheim helped organize, in association with the Lincoln Bar Association and the Barrister club, the Legal Air Bureau operated by the College of Law under his direction. The bureau offers free legal aid to needy residents of Lincoln and surrounding territory.

DURING THE summer months of 1947 he taught law at George Washington University in Washington, D. C., and in the summer of 1948 at the University of Texas.

Dr. Belsheim is an authority in the fields of property and business organization, and has published various articles in legal journals on real property and public law.

New Dean . . .

DR. BELSHEIM will soon take over the helm at the college of law. He replaces Frederick Beutel who resigned to return to teaching. Belsheim has been a member of the University faculty since 1946.

Faculty Committee Adopts Anti-Communist Resolution

The University faculty went on record Wednesday opposing the hiring or retention of any University employee identified with communism or other subversive doctrine advocating overthrow of the United States government.

The action was taken at a mass meeting of the University faculty held Wednesday afternoon.

The faculty expressed its unqualified opposition to communism and subversive organizations in a three-point statement prepared by the faculty liaison committee.

THE STATEMENT SAID:

(1) There is no member of the faculty or administration staffs at present whose loyalty to the United States government is questionable.

(2) The faculty agrees with the Board of Regents' policy to dismiss those who may advocate the overthrow by violence of our present democratic form of government.

(3) The faculty believes that free, honest and impartial discussion of various forms of government can be carried on without involving practices contrary to the American principles of democratic government.

The faculty's action was taken as an expression of formal agreement with University policy on communism and other subversive forces restated by the Board of Regents recently. The statement was prepared by the liaison committee composed of: Professors M. A. Basoco, mathematician, chairman; Harold E. Wise, educator; Elvin F. Frolik, agronomist; Ferris Norris, electrical engineer; G. M. Darlington, accountant; Carl Georgi, bacteriologist; David Dow, lawyer; Donald A. Keys, dentist, and Frank E. Mussehl, poultry husbandryman.

THE REGENTS' statement, issued May 28, said: (1) subversive textbooks will be barred from the University; (2) honest and fair discussion is desirable provided it is not used to plant seeds of subversion; (3) no one who is a member of a subversive group will be permitted to teach at the University; and (4) the University will continue to remain free from un-American influences.

The complete text of the faculty statement:

"In view of the resolution adopted by the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska on May 28, 1949, reiterating its long established principles in support of instructional practices in the University which are consistent with the best interests of our democratic form of government, the faculty of the University takes satisfaction in presenting the following statements:

"1. WE BELIEVE that there are no individuals now identified with either the instructional, research, or administrative staffs of the University whose loyalty to the government of the United States is questionable. Moreover, we believe that the faculty and administrative staff of the University are composed, without exception, of persons who are sincerely devoted to the democratic principles upon which our form of government institutions are founded.

"2. We support the policy of the Board of Regents that any person who advocates the overthrow by violence of our present democratic form of government should not be permitted to remain as an employe of the University.

"3. We believe, further, that those basic principles of academic freedom which permit and encourage the free, honest, and impartial discussion and analysis of the various forms of government are essential to the development of competent, inquiring minds without which democracy cannot prosper. We believe that such principles of academic freedom can be adhered to in teaching at the university level without involving practices inimical to our own democratic principles. We further believe that these principles of academic freedom are being adhered to in the University of Nebraska."

Second Craft Session Planned

A special craft session will be held Wednesday from 7 to 9:30 p. m. This session will feature James Gibb, rehabilitation director at Vets Hospital. Gibb will demonstrate working with leather.

The Wednesday night session will also include work with plastics, wood carving and art metal. The meeting will be held in the craft shop in the Union basement.

United Nations Clinic Ends Sessions Today

The United Nations clinic enters its second day of activities this morning.

Yesterday, John Fletcher-Cooke, British colonial affairs expert, spoke at a faculty luncheon to touch off the two-day clinic. The British delegate to the United Nations addressed a group in Love memorial auditorium last night. He spoke on "New Issues Before the United Nations."

THE CLINIC will continue today with a round table and forum on the United Nations. The session will be held in Love auditorium at 9 a. m.

Fletcher-Cooke was recently appointed Counsellor on Colonial Affairs to the British delegation of the United Nations. He has been associated with British colonial administration since 1934.

A member of the Royal Air Force during the last war. He was captured by the Japanese in 1942. He was interned in Java and later in Japan.

FLETCHER-COOKE'S career with the United Nations began in 1948 when he was appointed a member of the British delegation. He served on a committee for non-self-governing territories and finally as a colonial adviser. He was recently appointed an alternate to the Trusteeship Council.

The clinic which closes today is the first of three. The second will deal with "A Calendar for Atomic Energy" and the third with "Nebraska's Stake in Missouri River Development." The clinics are sponsored by the summer session committee as a part of the organized extra-curricular education program. They are open to all students and faculty members.

Graduation

July graduates who have not already made application for degrees and certificates should do so in the senior checking room, Administration building B-9, not later than Monday, June 20. The office will be open from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. daily except Saturday, when the hours are 10 a. m. to 12 m.
