

Tough Practice Grind Ended

Huskers Return To Lincoln; To Meet Frosh

The University of Nebraska 1949 football squad returned to Lincoln Wednesday night after two weeks of training at Curtis.

Coach Bill Glassford reports the team to be definitely improved. Especially impressive was the showing made by Fran Nagle, junior college transfer from West Lynn, Mass.

The passing of quarterback Nagle sparked early drills of the Cornhuskers. Fran played for backfield Coach Bob Davis for two seasons at the University of Massachusetts at Fort Devens.

Start One-a-Day Schedule.

Glassford closed practice at Curtis with a full hour scrimmage Wednesday. This scrimmage completed the two-a-day practice schedule. In Lincoln Thursday the Huskers will start a single two-hour session.

Lincoln workouts will be held behind closed gates. Only holders of "Quarterback Club" passes will be honored at the daily drills. There are around 300 of these ticket holders.

The varsity will scrimmage the freshmen Saturday Sept. 17 at the Memorial stadium. The game will be open to the public with an admission fee of $1. Faculty members will be admitted with ticket No. 6. Students with ID cards will be admitted free to the east stadium only.

Rich Reese, sophomore from Omaha Central, and Bill Maxe, junior college transfer from Brainerd, Minn., have been switched to tackle positions. Reese, formerly a center, is rated one of the most improved players in the Husker camp. Maxe started practice as a fullback and was then moved to an end position. The 195 pounder is expected to add weight to the weakened tackle position.

Others Improve.

Other gridders showing improvement include Darwin Salestrom, St. Edward guard; Virg Adle, North Platte sophomore tackle; Charley Tocgood, senior tackle; and Don Strasheim, stocky fullback from Kimball.

Strasheim has been moved up to the A lineup replacing Nick Adduci, sophomore fullback from Chicago.

Jerry Ferguson, Scottsbluff halfback, suffered a foot injury last week. Other gridders confined to light duty because of injuries were ends Maxey Vestal, Frank Simon and Dean Newton.

"Do not wish for quick results, nor look for small advantages. If you seek quick results, you will not attain the ultimate goal. If you are led astray by small advantages, you will never accomplish great things."
