

TOM NOVAK (left) and Nick Adduci (right) are honored in the Saturday Evening Post's "Pigskin Review" as some of the outstanding players in the Missouri Valley. Written by Fred Russell, the article mentioned players from the Big Seven conference and picked the Sooners as conference champs. Novak has won many honors including All Big-Seven teams three years and All-American honorable mention. Adduci is acclaimed as one of the most promising sophomores in the Mid-West.

Two Cornhusker Gridders Honored by Sateve Post

Two Nebraska football stars have been honored by Fred Russell in the Saturday Evening Post's "Pigskin Review."

Tom Novak, 24-year-old center from Omaha, and Nick Adduci, sophomore fullback from Chicago, were rated among the outstanding stars in the Missouri Valley as compiled by the Post.

Novak gained All-Big Six honors as a fullback when he was a freshman. In 1947 and 1948 he was named to All-Big Seven teams as a center.

As a result of his bone crushing line play, Tom was named to the Notre Dame all-opponent team. Last year he added a spot on the All-American honorable mention squad to his laurels.

Adduci won a freshmen numeral for his sparkling play as a fullback last year. His line bucking on the frosh team netted him acclaim as one of the most promising sophomores in the midlands this year.

Other Big Seven stars honored by the "Pigskin Review," were Walker, McNabb, Owens, Royal, Pearson, Thomas, Weatherell, and Silva, Oklahoma; Fuchs and Braznell, Missouri; Tomlinson and Griffith, Kansas; Pudlik and Narcisian, Colorado; Prather, Hackney and Faubion, Kansas State; and Halbert, Iowa State.

The Post review names the Sooners of Oklahoma to repeat as Big Seven champs with Missouri and Kansas runners-up. Nebraska and Colorado come next and Iowa State and Kansas State are slated to end up battling for the cellar again.

Coach Bill Glassford has revealed that the practice schedule following the opener with South Dakota, Sept. 24, will include little scrimmage. There will be 20 minutes of offensive scrimmage each Tuesday and 20 minutes of defensive scrimmage each Wednesday.

Before the Sodak game scrimmages will take place daily.

Assistant Freshman Coach Ray Prochaska will be in Billings, Montana Saturday scouting the South Dakota-Montana game.

Fullback Don Strasheim and Jerry Ferguson, A-string backfield members saw limited duty the last days of Curtis practice because of slight injuries. Both men are expected to see action in Saturday's scrimmage with the Freshmen.

Tackle Don Minnick and End Dean Newton also suffered injuries but will probably be ready for action Saturday.

One of the Huskers opponents lost two men this week. Tom Southard and Jim Meyers stellar linemen on the Iowa State squad dropped from the lineup when old injuries reoccurred.

Southard, burly tackle has been bothered by bad knees for several years. An operation last spring failed to cure the trouble and he has decided to abandon football.

Nyers suffered a shoulder dislocation last year and was out most of the season. The shoulder popped out in an early scrimmage and he announced his retirement.

Gene Grimm Appointed Union Activities Head

The new director of activities in the Union is Gene Mitchell Grimm.

Mrs. Grimm, who is taking over the post vacated by Mrs. Dorothy Day, is the former Mortar Board Gene Mitchell, now the wife of Marvin Grimm, Nebraska swimming ace. A 1949 graduate of the University, she is a past president of the University of Nebraska Builders.

New Stadium Seating Plan Announced

There are no two sections or two ramps in Memorial stadium numbered the same as last year, according to Business Manager A. J. Lewandowski.

If you sat in Section G, West Stadium, last year, your tickets will be numbered Section 26. Also if you entered Ramp 2 in the East Stadium, you will now use Ramp 3.

In previous years both the east and west stadiums were numbered and lettered identically. Because so many people misread their tickets and entered the wrong stadium, this system was originated.

The East Stadium is numbered Sections 1 (at the north end of the concrete stands to 11 on the main floor and 101 to 111 in the balcony.

Ramps are numbered 1 to 11 using only the odd numbers.

The West Stadium is numbered Sections 21 (at the south end of the concrete stands) to 31 on the main floor and 121 to 131 in the balcony. Ramps are numbered 21 to 31, still using only the odd numbers.

Each ticket contains this information to make it easier for you to find your seat: Ramp number, section number, row and seat number.

Mr. Lewandowski urges everyone to come early and use the ramp designated on the ticket.

Season tickets for the University of Nebraska's five home football games are available in the Coliseum ticket office, Mr. Lewandowski revealed.

Reserved-seat tickets for the Nebraska-South Dakota game on Sept. 24 are now on sale in the Coliseum.

All tickets may be purchased over the counter or by mail, Mr. Lewandowski said.

Trial and Error

Plato held that an animal which killed a man should be prosecuted for murder.

Bengtson Accepts New Position

Dr. Nels A. Bengtson, formerly Dean of the Junior Division and professor of Geography at the University of Nebraska who retired this fall, left Lin-Mo., where he has accepted a year's appointment as professor of geography at the University of Missouri.

A faculty member for 41 years at the university, Dr. Bengtson was long active in student affairs and popular with students. Before leaving, associates in the Department of Geography, and former students presented Dr. Bengtson with a handsome set of traveling bags and a volume containing letters of good will and appreciation from hundreds of his former students.
