Deadline Nearing For Dad's Day Sales

Innocents Revive Tradition Of Special Day for Fathers

Ticket sales end Thursday for the first Dad's Day since 1934, Merle Stalder, president of the Innocents, announced.

The capacity of the Union dining room limits the number of tickets to 300. Tickets and reservations for lunch at $1.25 per plate will be sold on a first come first served basis. This makes imperative that students expecting their Dads to attend this luncheon buy their tickets immediately.

Chancellor.

Chancellor Gustavson and Athletic Director George "Potsy" Clark will welcome the dads at the luncheon, beginning at 11:30 a. m. in the Union. The luncheon is expected to end about 1 p. m., giving those attending ample time to get to the Stadium before kick-off time.

"Interest of the fathers was shown by the fact that 32 Dads of the football team are expected to attend the game Saturday," Potsy Clark remarked. "I believe that the interest of the fathers is just as great in sons who are in school for studies alone."

Innocents.

The Innocents, sponsors of the banquet, believe that the fathers, as taxpayers, are in a position to influence the schools policy. In view of this, the students should make an effort to honor them on a special day.

In addition to this, the fathers

Vets Requested To Send Single Dividend Claim

Ashley Westmoreland, Lincoln regional office manager for the Veterans Administration, has asked World War II vets not to send in more than one application for the GI insurance dividend.

He said that regardless of whether or not the report was incomplete the mailing of duplicates would only slow down the huge clerical task of paying out Nebraska's share of the dividend to 119,000 veterans.

If the name and address on the form is correct, the government will, in most cases, be able to supply the missing information. If this is not possible the VA will notify the man and he will be asked to submit another application.

The VA's Washington office was buried under a deluge of applications at a rate of more than one million per day during the first ten days after the forms were made available.

The most frequent error made in the application is in item 4 asking for the veteran's serial number. Many put down their date of enlistment, rank or grade.

Young Democrats Tell Meet Plans

The Young Democratic clubs of America will hold their national convention in Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 17-19.

Roy G. Baker, president of the organization, made this announcement after a conference with Chattanooga Democratic leaders.

Stated as the highlights on the program according to Baker are "addresses by prominent figures in the Administration and Congress, and Democratic governors."

Business will include strategy plans for the youth's participation in the 1950 campaign and election of national officers for the coming year.

will be able to meet the Chancellor and Clark, meet informally together, and to get a closer look at the college life that their sons are leading.

Tickets for the game are still available with single seats in the Stadium and reserved bleacher seats left. The Stadium seats are priced at $3.50 and the bleacher seats at $2.50. Either male or female students can bring their father to the banquet.

Theatre Adds Week to Ticket Sale Deadline

Deadline for ticket sales of the Honorary Producer Campaign has been lengthened until Oct. 8, the University Theater, sponsors of the campaign, disclosed Tuesday.

"A large number of tickets were not checked out until a few days ago," Mrs. M. Denton, business manager said, "and for that reason we decided to extend the deadline."

The University Theatre hopes to repeat last year's success of the Honorary Producer. This year's campaign is essentially the same as last except for a few more honors for the winners.

Two Honorary Producers, a boy and a girl, are chosen by the number of tickets sold by their social organization in proportion to membership. They will be presented at the opening night of the first Theatre production, "Faust." This production will run Oct. 31 to Nov. 2.

Season tickets to the University Theatre are $3.60 for five productions. This is a special student and faculty rate established by the Theatre for the first time. This new price enables students to see five productions for the price of three. All plays will be given in the Nebraska Theatre.

Radio Announcer Tryout Dates Thursday, Friday

Tryouts for radio newscasters, dramatists, and announcers will be held this week, Prof. William Dempsey announced Tuesday. All students interested should report to the radio studios in the Temple building either 1:00 to 5:00 or 8:00 to 9:30 p. m. Thursday, or 3:00 to 4:00 Friday.

Union Plans Football Movies; Coffee Hours

Will there never cease to be activity in the Union?

The Union Activities Committee added two more facilities to the list for this year, according to Mrs. Genevieve Mitchell Grimm, director of the committee.

Because they became so popular last year, the experimental Campus Quarterback films will again be featured this year, beginning today at noon, in the Union Ballroom, said Mrs. Grimm.

The series, started for the first time last year, is free and includes a complete film report of each Cornhusker football game. Today the full particulars of last Saturday's South Dakota game will be shown.

Rendering an account of the game while the film is in progress will be Marvin Grimm, former football spotter and also Husker high-scoring swimmer of last

Student Pep Group To Study Migration

BABW Hello Dance Tops Union Slate

"Hello" will be the password in the Union ballroom Friday night when BABW sponsors the annual "Hello" dance.

Scheduled from 9 to 12 p. m., the dance will feature dancing and the presentation of the 1949 "Hello Girl." Admission will be 50 cents per person. Tickets can be obtained from any board member, or in the booth in the Union.

Dances With Candidates
Another feature of the dance will be the chance (for the fellows) to dance with the "Hello Girl" candidates. Balloons will be released at 9:30 p. m. and some will have the names of the candidates inside.

When the contestants are introduced, the balloons will be thrown to the dancers. Lucky "balloon-catchers" will have a chance to claim their dances after the introduction.

Independent Women
The "Hello Girl" candidates are chosen by every independent women's organization on the campus. Each house receives one candidate for every 25 members. Voters will have a chance to review the contestants at 9:30 p. m. when they will be introduced by BABW vice president Norma Jean Peterson. The "Hello Girl" will be presented at 10:30 p. m.

Candidates
Candidates and the houses they represent are: Cleo Abdnor, Hattie Mae Mann, Shirley Krebsbach, Patricia Seibold, Marie Mangold and Marybelle Dudeck, Women's Residence halls; Eleanore Wiberg, International house; Shirley Ruff, Terrace hall; Bernadine Evans, Howard hall; Marilyn Doolittle, Loomis hall; Dorothy Bowman, Love Memorial hall; Vera Deurschner, Rosa Bouton hall; Rita Renard, Wilson hall; Twyla Burgess, Rundle hall; Bobbie Flory, Ruth Bergstraesser and Janet Carr, Towne club; and Marilyn Meyers, Palladians.

Midland College Faculty Cracks Down on 'Wheels'

Faculty members of Midland college, Fremont, Nebraska, have taken steps to correct the often lamented fact that too few students occupy and control nearly all key positions in campus groups.

Howard Reveals Committee Plans

Possibilities of a Student Migration this year are now in the hands of a Student Spirit committee appointed by the holdover members of the Student Council.

Roswell Howard, Council president, announced plans for the committee today. He emphasized that the group's work will continue "of this year only."

The committee will include representatives from the following groups: Corn Cobs, Tassels, Innocents, Mortar Boards, Band, yell squad and the Council.

Members of the Student spirit committee must be elected or appointed by the above groups before the Council's first regular meeting, Wednesday, Oct. 5.

Names of the representatives should be sent to Howard in Room 305, Union, by that date.

The Spirit committee will have complete responsibility for deciding whether there will be an organized migration this season. Members must "represent the views of the groups from which the year elected," commented Howard.

Band Co-operates.
The seven members will weigh the results and problems of previous migrations before making their decision. Last year's migration to Kansas university would not have met expenses if members of the University Band had not cooperated in it.

The Student Spirit committee may decide on making a migration by train to Missouri, which will be having its Homecoming during its game with Nebraska; to Kansas State; or to Iowa State, which has already been designated as the Husker Band day. These schools are said to be the strongest possibilities.

Howard pointed out that the University officials have already warned Council members that they will not sanction or approve an automobile migration.

Migration Suggestions.
Committee members will be instructed by the Council to consult "Potsy" Clark, Athletic Director, and perhaps the football team itself for migration suggestions.

Howard visualizes that the Student Spirit committee might also investigate possibilities of centralized Cornhusker spirit. It is now in the hands of numerous campus organizations.

Innocents Society members appoint the Yell King and yell squad; Corn Cobs and Tassels and the Pep group lead rallies and game cheering; Cheerleaders also assist in rallies and lead organized cheers at athletic contests. Other groups also have a hand in promoting "that Cornhusker spirit."

Grad Students Plan Coffee Hour

Graduate students will have a chance to meet each other this afternoon at an informal coffee hour in the faculty lounge in the Union between 4 and 5 p. m.

Friday, Sept. 30, they will again meet at an informal open house in parlor XY in the Union at 7:30 p. m. These open houses are being held for graduate students at the University so that they may become acquainted with each other.

Red Cross Unit Will 'Roundup' New Workers

The Red Cross College Unit's first mass meeting of the year will be held this Thursday, Sept. 28, at 7 p. m., in the Union parlors.

The "Roundup" will acquaint all university students with the activities and plans of the unit. It will provide an opportunity for students to sign up for the Red Cross activity in which they are interested.

Rosenbaum to Welcome.
Audrey Rosenbaum, Red Cross president, will be on hand to welcome guests at the "Roundup" and to introduce the unit board members.

The board members will then give a brief picture of their phases of the organization. Cokes will be served to all attending students.

Board Members.
Board members include Don Cooper, Jean Bay, George Wilcox, Carla Renner, Glario Larsen, Anne Flgge, Frank Jacobs and Lois Rodin. They represent Red Cross work in first aid, motor corps, special projects, such as fire prevention; grey ladies, institutional service at Veterans' hospital, local orphanages and homes, and the State Mental hospital; swimming, water safety and life saving.

Officers of the unit, in addition to Miss Rosenbaum, are: Marilyn Stark, vice president; Jean Fenster, secretary; Bob Mosher, treasurer; and Harry Stalker, historian. Gene Berg is student adviser.

Tassels Pledge Five Members

Five girls were formally pledged by Tassels at the regular Monday night meeting.

They were: Joyce Shaner, Robin Rauch, Lenore Hersohn, Marilyn Lutz and Louise Zurwiski. These girls fill vacancies made in the organization since the Tassel rush tea last spring.

For a week they will wear the traditional Tassel pledge ribbons, white letter "T's" on red ribbons.

To become Active Tassels, the girls must earn a required number of points and must attend all rallies and games. Points are earned by selling Cornshucks, Cornhuskers and dance tickets, by ushering and by doing other jobs.

Parking Permit Deadline Friday

Its your last chance! Students who haven't gotten their parking stickers as yet will be given their final chance to get them this Thursday and Friday. University Police will be on duty from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. on both days. Students using University parking must have the proper sticker stressed Police Sgt. John Farrow.
