CHANCELLOR GUSTAFSON WELCOMES DADS—Speaking on behalf of the University, Chancellor R. G. Gustafson welcomes guests at the Dad's Day luncheon held for University students and their fathers at the Union Saturday noon. The luncheon, sponsored by Innocents society, was held in honor of the football squad members and fathers. The varsity squad dads were also honored at the Nebraska-Minnesota football game, and were given special seats at the side line. Merle Stalder, president of Innocents, acted as toastmaster at the luncheon.

Eighth Panhellenic Workshop Presents Variety of Activities

Panhellenic means "all Greek letter associations," according to Webster, and to all University sorority women panhellenic will be the order of the day during the eighth annual University of Nebraska Panhellenic Workshop this week.

Climax of the week will be the Panhellenic Banquet Thursday, Oct. 6, in the Union. George Starr Lasher will be guest speaker. Lasher is a member of National Interfraternity council, past national president of Theta Chi and present editor of Theta Chi. He is Director of Public Relations at the University of Ohio. Stuart H. Kelley of Omaha, national president of Theta Chi, will also be a guest at the banquet.

Another feature of the banquet will be the presentation of the Panhellenic Elsie Ford Piper Achievement cup to the sorority which has made the most improvement during the past year. Alpha Xi Delta was winner last year and Gamma Phi Beta, the year before.

Round Table Discussion.

Tuesday's schedule includes a round table discussion on the Value of Fraternity to the Individual in Developing Leadership.

Students Urged To Participate In NU Vespers

All University students are urged to participate in the All-University Vespers, Tuesday, Oct. 4, at 4 p. m., sponsored by the Religious Welfare council.

Bernie Barnes, chairman of the Vespers committee, announced that half-hour meetings will be held on Tuesdays at the Episcopal chapel. Participating in the meetings will be both musicians and speakers. Those serving in the musical-meditation programs will work hand-in-hand with the University music honoraries, and the YWCA Vespers choir.

Speakers will be chosen from faculty members, religious leaders, and prominent men from all over the nation.

Taking care of musical arrangements is Willistine Clark, director of Vespers choir.

The honoraries and their leaders: Mu Phi, Joan Hanson; Sigma Alpha Iota, Janet Clark; Delta Omicron, Mary Barton; Sinfonia, Aaron Schmidt.

Mr. Barnes encourages all students to attend the first meeting to gain an uplifting and restful experience.

Ag Queen Title Is Sought By Twenty-Nine Candidates

Pre-Med Exam Applications Due

Pre-med students are reminded to apply for admission to take the Medical College Admissions test before Oct. 8, if they plan to enter an accredited School of Medicine in 1950.

The test will be given at University of Nebraska Oct. 22, and at a later date that has not been announced. E. F. Powell, pre-med advisor at the University, advises students to take the first test "because many medical schools make an early choice of applicants."

The test, required for all students entering medical school, is another form of an aptitude test.

Application forms are available at the office of Pre-Medical Advisor, 306 Bessey Hall.

Newly Formed Student Council Plans Meeting

The Student Council will hold its first meeting of the year Wednesday. Each member will have been elected by a secret ballot with all members of their organization having an opportunity to vote.

In the event that a member or members of any group which elected a representative feels that the election was not held in accordance with the Council rules, he will have the opportunity to state his case.

He must do so in a signed letter addressed to Rosewell Howard and have it in the Council box before 1:00 p. m. Wednesday. Unless sufficient cause for question is included in the letter all representatives will be seated without question at the meeting.

All organizations which have requested membership on the Council and are awaiting word from the faculty committee will have their cases taken up by the newly organized faculty committee on student affairs. It is hoped that the results will be made known before the week's end.

Architecture Course Open To Upperclass Students

An architecture 2 course is being opened for all transfer students and upperclassmen who wished to enter the class at the first of the semester, according to the office of Registrar.

The class, Arch. 2, will be held from 2 to 5 p. m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday in Temp. C, under the instruction of Mr. Waljarvi.

ISA Seeks 1,000 In Recruit Drive

Independent students on campus will have an opportunity during the next two weeks to join an organization meant especially for them. The ISA membership drive began Monday and will continue until Oct. 15.

Four booths will be maintained for the next two weeks, and individual solicitors will be working to increase ISA membership to 1000 students. Fees this year are 50 cents a semester or 75 cents a year.

Social Activities.

The Independent Students association and BABW are the two main organizations on campus which sponsor social activities primarily for independent students.

Formerly known as Unaffiliated Students Association, the name was officially changed in May of 1947. Eligible members include regularly enrolled students in the University who are not members of any social fraternity or sorority.

Extra-Curricular Participation. In addition to sponsoring a social event each month, ISA plans to encourage extra-curricular activities on campus.

ISA Council members who will be selling memberships include: president Bill Plank; vice president, JoAnn Leaming; secretary, Louise Metzger; corresponding secretary, Phyllis Johnson; treasurer, Bobbie Flory; and publicity chairman, Betty Carroll.

Oct. 5 Ag-Campus Election Will Select Home Ec Senior

Candidates for Farmers Formal queen have been announced by Don Knebal, co-chairman of the Farmers Formal presentation committee.

The 29 girls who are listed are home economics seniors with averages of 6 or over.

Talented, Bub? Red Cross Unit Beckons You!

If you wiggle your ears—the Red Cross wants you!

If you sing, if you dance—the Red Cross wants you!

If you juggle, or paint, or play an instrument—if you smile and talk—the Red Cross can use you, too!

All University students with the above talents (and any others) are invited to take part in the Red Cross College Unit's "Talent Tryouts" tonight at 7 o'clock in the Union ballroom.

Serve Local Institutions

The Unit's Institutional Entertainment committee will conduct the tryouts to find student entertainers for local institutions. These include Veterans' hospital, the State Mental hospital, children's homes and hospitals and old peoples' homes.

All types of entertainers and hosts and hostesses are needed by the Red Cross for parties, programs and special events at the local institutions. These events are sponsored regularly by the campus organization.

Talent File

The "Talent Tryouts" are designed to build up a talent file for the use of Red Cross committee chairmen, George Wilcox, Jean Bay, Gloria Larsen, Anne Figge and Carla Renner. The chairmen will call on entertainers throughout the year for appearances under Red Cross sponsorship.

At the tryouts tonight, each entertainer or group of entertainers will be scheduled for auditioning upon their arrival. Each will be heard and rated by the committee for use in an institution.

All Talent Needed

All types of student talent are needed by the Red Cross because of the range of the group's entertainment program. Oftentimes, the group needs a group to distribute Christmas- or Valentine cards. Students may also be requested to perform in auditorium and ward shows, to play ping pong or dance with patients, or simply to visit a patient, an invalid or convalescent.

Last fall, the units sponsored a "Truth and Consequences" quiz show at the Veterans' hospital. Members also distributed greeting cards on holidays throughout the year.

Easter Party

In the spring, some 250 University students took part in a large auditorium Easter party at the hospital. A "Crazy Hat" and "Easter Queen" contest were held during the show, made up of student entertainment acts.

The Red Cross also entertained orphans and underprivileged children last year at a St. Patrick's party and an Easter Egg hunt.

A Red Cross Christmas project at some fifteen local institutions included caroling, parties, skits and Christmas gifts. Organized houses on the campus cooperated in the mass project.

The committee chairmen plan an enlarged program of activities at local institutions during this year. Enlistment of student talent at the tryouts tonight will serve to provide suitable entertainment for the homes.

Election Wednesday

The Formal queen will be picked in an all ag campus election next Wednesday, October 5, from 9 a. m. till 5 p. m. Voting will be in the election room of the Ag Student Union.

The Ag-Exec-Board has released the following rules which will be used in the election of the Farmers Formal queen.

They are as follows: (1) Only undergraduate girls who are enrolled in the College of Agriculture and who have completed not less than 89 credit hours with an average of 80 or above may be candidates. (2) A candidate must be carrying successfully, not less than 12 credit hours, and must have completed at least 27 credit hours at the University during the preceding two semesters.

Filing Automatic

(3) The names of all girls, meeting the above requirements, will be filed as candidates in the office of the Dean of the College of Agriculture unless they indicate otherwise when notified by the Farmers Formal presentation committee. Withdrawals may not be made later than 5 p. m. on the Tuesday immediately preceding Farmer's Formal.

Knebal and Joan Raun are co-chairmen in charge of the presentation. Bob Scheve will be Master of Ceremonies. The Queen will be disclosed at 10:30 p. m. the night of the Formal.

Lee Williams Band

Tickets to this informal dance are $2 per couple, and they can be obtained from any member of the Ag-Exec-Board. There will also be a ticket booth in the Ag union from Wednesday till Friday of this week. Lee Williams and his 10 piece band will furnish the music for the affair.

29 Candidates

The list of candidates are as follows:

Doris Malmbers, Betty Malmleaf, Mary Manning, Loise McDill, Jean Ann McLaughlin, Margaret McGeachin, Gwen Monson, Arley Olson, Maria Constantini-des Pulos, Winnie Douglas Rickets, Verlon Reifschneider, Patricia Holm Scott, Mary Travis, and Irene Wellensiek Maricle.

Ski Enthusiasts Will Organize

Ski enthusiasts on the campus who are interested in forming a ski club will meet Wednesday night at 7 p. m. in Parlor X of the Union.

The club, a new idea on campus, is intended to promote skiing by Nebraska students. Those organizing the club have several aims.

Experience Not Necessary

First they want to get as many students as possible with skiing experience interested. (Many students from Colorado and eastern states have done extensive skiing). It is emphasized however, that experience is not necessary for those who would like to ski.

Secondly they plan to join the American National Amateur Ski Association. This will enable members of the club to get special rates when traveling to ski resorts, purchasing equipment, etc.
