Huskers Fortify Against Wildcats

By Kimon Karabotsos

All indications point to Nebraska being at top strength for their 1949 Big Seven debut against Kansas State Saturday afternoon at Manhattan.

Even though the Huskers were ragged at times in their workout Wednesday, there still was sparkles of brilliance. An encouraging note was that Glassford will be better fortified, as far as sheer manpower is concerned, than he was against Minnesota.

Minnick Bolsters Tackles

Don Minnick, transfer from Fairbury JC, will be expected to bolster Nebraska's strength at the tackles. Last week the Huskers were low in reserves at that spot.

Glassford has named guard Darwin Salestrom to captain the Huskers. Salestrom is a 190 pound guard from St. Edward.

The Wildcats will be after their third consecutive win, a feat that they have been unable to accomplish since 1942 when they won their first three games—one of those wins was against Nebraska.

Coasting 82 points in two games, which is more than they scored all last season; K-State is expected to throw a rushing game at the Huskers. Nebraska's attack will probably center around the passing arm of Fran Nagle who hit 12 for 22 against the Golden Gophers.

Nagle Best Passer

Coach Ralph Graham believes that Nagle may be the best passer the Cats will face all season so maybe an airtight defense will stymie the Huskers in the air. Even with a good pass defense, the Wildcats will have to contend with a spirited Nebraska line that forced the highly touted Minnesota forward wall to buckle at times and made Bierman take to the air for their 28-6 win.

K-State's line is nothing to be overlooked for in two games, they have given up only 13 points and only 99 yards.

Three Cats are in the top eight scorers in the conference. 'Hi' Faubion, the sensational sophomore, is second with 30 points. George Thomas of the Sooners leads with 33. Behind Faubion are teammates 'Bulldozer' Hackney and another soph sensation Elmer Creviston.

Nebraska is given a slight advantage over the Wildcats by romping over the Sodaks and holding the Gophers down, 28-6.

Dodgers Even Up Series; Win 1-0

Pitching was again the whole story as the Brooklyn Dodgers evened up the World Series at one game apiece with a 1-0 victory over the Yankees.

For the second consecutive game, the first time in Series history, the game was a one-run shutout. Preacher Roe went all the way for the Dodgers and limited the Yanks to six hits, no more than one in any inning, while the victors banged seven off loser Vic Raschi and reliever Joe Page.

Roe, while not as sensational in the strikeout column as his teammate Newcombe was in the opener, was tough in the clutches and his three strikeouts were registered with one man on base each time.

Raschi pitched good steady ball, and was taken out not for pitching failures but for a pinch hitter in the eighth inning.

Jackie Robinson opened the Dodger second with a screaming double and advanced to third on Hermanski's pop fly to Coleman. Robinson then scampered home with the game's only run on a single by Brooklyn first sacker, Gil Hodges.

Friday, Yankee manager Casey Stengel is expected to start southpaw Ed Lopat while Burt Shotton of the Dodgers said that he would start either Rex Barney or Ralph Branca. The scene shifts to Ebbets Field in Brooklyn for the next three games and as tradition goes, "Anything can and usually does happen in Ebbets Field."

Shotton has invited all the members of the Dodgers' 1920 National League championship team to attend the series. Burt is planning a special welcome for one of the team, Casey Stengel.
