Team Send-Off Planned

Early Bird Rally To Spark Spirit

"Rise and shine" will be the cry Thursday morning when the combined University pep groups sponsor a send-off rally for the football team at 7:30 a. m.

Hundreds of alarm clocks are expected to rouse Cornhusker fans in time to witness the team's departure for Penn State.

The "breakfast" rally will be sparked by Tassel, Corn Cob and pep group spirit. Presidents of organized residences are also expected to urge pledges and actives to attend the cheerfest.

"If there's a good student turn-out at the rally," said N-Club President Bill Mueller today, "it will be the best thing possible for the team."

Athletic Director "Potsy" Clark re-emphasized Mueller's remarks when contacted by a Daily Nebraskan staff member. He urged all Husker fans to make a real effort to attend the rally to cheer the squad on its longest jaunt.

Rally Schedule.
On the morning of the rally the team will be at the Union at 7:15 a. m. to eat breakfast. They must be at the airport for their flight to Penn State at 8:30. They will have to leave the Union about 8 o'clock.

The rally will be held as soon as the team has breakfast. A real send-off is planned before the men board their buses for the trip to the airport.

The send-off will close in time for 8 o'clock classes. No interruption of the regular class schedule will be tolerated by University officials.

The rally will be the first regularly scheduled send-off since the pre-Minnesota celebration. Last week a pre-Kansas State rally was not held.

Cheers, chants and songs are expected to make the early risers rally one of the noisiest of the year. Anticipated Husker enthusiasm will probably make late sleeping somewhat of a problem.

The committee expects the morning rally to be a serious test of Cornhusker spirit. The turn-out of fans for the 7:30 a. m. send-off likely will serve as a barometer of Nebraska pep.

Students Receive Final Shot Today

This may hurt a little!
All new students and freshmen were reminded today by the Student Health center to take their second and final diphtheria-tetanus shot sometime today.

The center will be open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. to insure prompt, regular inoculations. Only those students who were given the first immunization shot are asked to report.

NSA Officer Denies Commie Infiltration

NSA, in taking a stand against the International Union of Students, has freed itself from charges of communist infiltration and international control, according to Richard Medalie, national vice president of the National Student Association.

Speaking to a small group of Nebraska students Tuesday, Medalie listed the advantages of NSA membership for Nebraska and also showed that NSA has corrected some of the things which Nebraska students held against the organization when they turned down the NSA petition for entry to NU two years ago.

One of the most serious charges at that time was that the organization was communist infiltrated and internationally controlled. According to Medalie, this was due to the fact that NSA was wanting to join the International Union of Students. Since then, the organization has realized that IUS is communist dominated, and at the last national convention, a strong resolution against IUS was adopted.

"Although NSA wants no part of IUS, we are using all possible channels in contacting student groups in other countries on a study and cultural level," Medalie said. On this level, NSA sponsors

Ag Jamboree Offers Hayrides, Dancing

The Ag Union open-house jamboree is scheduled for Friday night, Oct. 14, according to John Killeen, director.

The annual event promises to be a gay evening. Everyone will meet at 6:30 p. m. in front of the Ag Activities building. There will be a hayrack ride to lower campus for a weiner roast.

Dancing, Games.
Following the roast, the hayracks will return to the Union where dancing and games will begin. Walt Goodbrod will furnish music for dancing from 8:30 p. m. till midnight.

Something new in dancing will be inaugurated at the jamboree. It is called the "sock dance"—shoes will be checked at the door and everyone entering the auditorium will be shoeless.

The Union committee has arranged for the hayracks to continue to run for the entire evening. There will not be enough hayracks for everyone to go at once so they will return for a new load periodically.

Cotton and Calico's.
Cotton and calico's will be standard dress, Killeen stated. He also stressed that dates are not required. The whole affair will be free and the entire University is invited to everything except the weiner roast which is restricted to Ag students.

The Ag Union committee in charge of the open-house is composed of Sue Bjorklund, Jack DeWulf, Ann Webster and Warren Monson.

Rhodes Scholarship Applications Open

Applications may now be made for the 1950 Rhodes scholarships, according to Dean Charles H. Oldfather.

Anyone interested in becoming a candidate for one of the 32 scholarships for the University of Oxford, must apply not later than noon of Oct. 22, stated Oldfather. Application blanks may be obtained from the Dean's office.

Eligibility
In order to be eligible, the applicant must be a male citizen of the United States, have Junior standing in any accredited college, and be between the ages of 19-25. In regard to the last requirement, the candidate's birthdate must not have been before Oct. 1, 1925, or after Oct. 1, 1931.

Candidates will be selected on the basis of four qualities. They are:

1. Literary and scholastic ability and attainments.
2. Qualities of manhood.
3. Exhibition of moral force of character and leadership.
4. Physical vigor.

Basic Value
According to the will of the late Cecil J. Rhodes, the scholarships were to have a basic value of 400 pounds or $2,000.

Last year's committee for selection of candidates will meet Oct. 25, to determine the nominees from Nebraska. Two men will be chosen. These men will appear before the district committee with 10 other men. From this group, only four will be chosen. Members of the state selection committee are: Roger B. Shumate, H. W. Manter, C. E. McNeill, and David Dow.

Nominees of last year were University students Ted Sorensen and Eugene Luschei.

Business Writers Elect NU Teacher As Vice-President

A University of Nebraska instructor, Mamie Meredith, was elected the mid-west vice-president of the American Business Writing Association at their national convention recently.

The Association is made up of a group of college instructors of business writing. Payment of the annual dues of three dollars gives each member the right to attend the national convention as a voting member and entitles him to receive the Bulletin, the group's publication.

Besides regular members from the teaching profession, those interested in business writing may become associate members by paying the dues. This entitles them to the publication, and enables them to attend the conventions, although they may not vote.

The Bulletin, published monthly from October to May, deals mostly with business letters, reports, direct mail, public relations, jobs in business writing, and news items about members.

Skiers Organize, Name New Club

The name N.U. Skiers was chosen and a constitution was approved at the first meeting of the new ski club, held last Wednesday in the Union.

The purpose of the organization is to promote skiing among students at the University. Another meeting will be held Wednesday evening in Parlor X of the Union at 7 p. m. Further plans for organization will be discussed and officers will be chosen. Those interested who cannot attend Wednesday's meeting are urged to call Jackie Anderson at 2-6413.

New Members Of Vocal Group Named by Foltz

Singers of the unusual in music, the Madrigal Singers of the University, have been announced by David Foltz of the School of Music.

Chosen after University Singers tryouts and individual tryouts, the Madrigal singers represent the inner circle in the singing groups at the University. They include members of University Singers, music majors and non-music members.

The group of 22 is split into units of about eight to study English, Italian and French madrigals from as far back as the fifteenth century. They study both the music and the customs of madrigal singing. Besides the traditional madrigals, the University group sings such unusual things as extreme modern music and some radio arrangements.

This year the group will perform for two radio broadcasts in November, a Christmas program for the Faculty Women's club and some other public performances.

Learn to Dance At Union Classes

Do you want to learn to dance before the opening of formal season—never again to be a duncer on the dance floor?

The Union dance committee has a remedy—dance classes to be held in the Union ballroom beginning Tuesday, Oct. 18.

The six-weeks' course will be held free of charge every Tuesday evening from 7:30 to 9:00 p. m. under the direction of Miss Donna McConduffy, professional dance instructor.

Ballroom dancing will be practiced during the first few lessons. Then, if students become advanced enough, the rhumba and other dance steps may be taught.

Dancing classes were also held last year under the sponsorship of the Union. Ralph Taylor is chairman of the Union dance committee.

Diamond Agent To Give Lecture

A public lecture on diamonds and diamond mining will be given at 2 p. m. Wednesday, Room 20, at Morrill hall, by Mrs. Gladys Babson Hannafeld, a representative of a diamond industry from South Africa.

Mrs. Hannafeld recently returned to the United States from a visit to the Kimberley mines and from the gem cutting centers in Paris. Her lecture will be illustrated and her appearance on the campus was arranged by the Geology department.

Last 'Know How' Program Today

Last call, freshmen women!

The third and last of three 'Campus Know How' previews, sponsored by AWS and Mortar Board, will be held Wednesday at 5:00 p. m. in Love Library auditorium.

These activity meetings have been designed to help freshmen women pick their activities by presenting the purpose of each group. Original skits have been prepared by the various organizations. As a result, the new students will be able to determine what is expected from members by the groups and the ones in which they will be most interested.

Since freshmen are not allowed to participate in these activities for the first six weeks, they are given the chance to see the organizations in action first. After the skits, students may question representatives of the various groups.

In a recent election held by the Sigma Chi fraternity, Bob Barchus was elected president of the new pledge class.
