Students Show Husker Spirit At Early Rally

Approximately five hundred students rolled out at 7:30 a. m. Thursday morning to attend a rousing send-off rally. University cheerleaders, aided by two Lincoln high yell squad members, led the students gathered round the steps of the Union in warm-up yells and songs while the team ate breakfast. Enthusiasm was at a peak when the team arrived. After a few words from Coach Glassford, several team members were called upon to speak.

Bob Schneider, team captain for the Penn State game, said the team had no intentions of spoiling Glassford's record of no losses on the road. Tom Novak promised, "We'll give 'em hell!"

Members of the band added greatly to the spirit of the crowd with such numbers as "Darktown Strutter's Ball" as well as University songs.

A large crowd followed the two buses which carried the team to the airport and rallied there while the team boarded the plane.

All of the team members expressed appreciation for the enthusiasm shown at such an early hour.

National YW Representative Seeks Workers

A representative of the National Board of the YWCA will be on campus Oct. 17 and 18 to interview possible candidates for YW employment.

Miss Olive Walser will talk to those interested in jobs of leadership and teaching in the YWCA. The positions open at the present time are mainly in the fields of young adult and teenage programs.

An advance letter states that the positions will require mature persons with graduate training. There will be a limited number of opportunities for graduates of this year's class. There are also opportunities for experienced and inexperienced persons in health and physical education. Swimming is an important aspect of this program.

ISA Plans Free Dance Saturday

Highlights of an ISA dance at the Union ballroom tomorrow evening from 9-12 p. m. are Jimmy Le Riche's band and a professional dance team.

This was the information given by the organization's officers, after they announced that the get-acquainted dance would come as the climax to the ISA membership drive.

Membership cards make admission free to all members and their dates. Membership cards may be obtained at the Union, both today and tomorrow, or at the door tomorrow evening. Stags are also invited to come.

Acting as hosts and hostesses will be council members of ISA. During intermission, the dance team will put on an exhibition.

Pigskin Party Saturday in Union Lounge

Husker fans and fun seekers will have a chance to show their spirit Saturday afternoon during the Husker-Penn State football game.

Bob Russell, chairman of the Special Activities, announced that another Pigskin Party, just like the one held last Saturday, will be in order at 1 o'clock p. m., central standard time.

The pattern will be exactly the same, as the students have their own huddle around the radios of the Union lounge and follow the chalk diagrams accompanying each play by play description by the announcer. Directly following the game, a free dance will be held in the ballroom.

Russell stated that the affair was so successful last week that it was decided to be a scheduled occurrence "during each Husker game away from home."

clude heads of staff (in large cities); directorships; assistantships in the fields of physical education, working with teen-age girls and boys, and work with employed girls and women. Salaries run from $2,400 to $3,800.

Calendar Announced for Observance of UN Week

Huskerville Span Now in Operation

Huskerville's new steel and concrete bridge has been completed and is now in operation.

The $38,000 structure, spanning Oak creek at the Municipal airport, will end the necessity of having two fire-fighting units at Huskerville.

The bridge replaces three wooden ones which have been destroyed by washouts. The span is 140 feet long and is being financed by the city's surplus property fund.

- Mr. Ganz.

Union Offers Variety Weekend

Union activities this week include the "Husker Huddle" Friday evening from 9 to 12. The informal dance promises to be a success from all indications of the crowd of 350 at the "Corn Cabaret" two weeks ago.

For those who wish a moment of relaxation before the six-weeks' exams begin, a movie will be shown in the Union at 7:30 Sunday evening. "Fury at Furnace Creek" will be on the agenda, starring Victor Mature. No charge will be made.

Bob Vollmer and his band, previously reported as playing on the 15th for ISA, is scheduled to play the 21st for a Union dance.

Ag Openhouse-Jamboree To Feature 'Sock' Dance

The Ag Union Jamboree will be tonight beginning at 6:30 p. m.

All Ag students will meet in front of the Ag Activities building for a hayrack ride to lower campus for a weiner roast. The group will return to the Union after the roast to continue the evening with dancing, games, and more hayriding.

"Sock Dance" Something new in the line of dancing a "sock dance" will be tried. Everyone who is going to dance must check their shoes at the door and dance in stocking

Program Includes Student Talks, Friendship Dinner

High on the list of the United Nations week calendar is the annual International Friendship dinner.

The program for UN week, Oct. 17-24, will be sponsored by several organizations including NUCWA, the Religious Welfare council and Cosmopolitan club.

Six Law Students Named to Board

Six law college students were named to the board of advisers for the Thomas S. Allen memorial court competition. The selections were based on scholarship and interest in the competition.

Named to the board were: William Fuhr, Robert Scoville, John Moorehead, Robert Orshek, Ed Fisher and John Gerlach.

The incumbent members of the board are: Glen Fiebig, Frank Johnson, Russell Lockwood, Cecil T. Rothrock, and Richard Coyne.

The board judges appellate court contests held between teams composed of Law college students. The competition covers a three year period with most of the teams eliminated during the first two years.

Six third year teams remain in the running and two of them will be before the Nebraska Supreme Court in the finals of the competition next spring. Altogether some 37 teams will participate in this year's rounds.

Deadline Told for Ag Skit Plans

All Ag organizations planning skits or curtain acts for Col-Agri-Fun skit night must have a rough draft of their plans in the office of the dean of the Ag college before 12 p. m., Saturday, Oct. 15.

This was announced yesterday by Jack Wilson, manager of the show. This annual affair will be held Saturday, Oct. 29, at the Ag Activities building. The show will begin at 8 p. m.

After the rough drafts have been approved, the group must present their skit before the Col-Agri-Fun board Oct. 19 and 20 for final OK, Wilson said. Dress rehearsal will be Oct. 26 in the Activities building.

This annual affair is 18 years old. All Ag campus organizations are invited each year to participate. Judging of the skits will be based on acting, originality and humor.

TC Cancels Party

The Teachers college party for freshmen students previously planned for this Friday night has been cancelled.

Other UN week events will be a coffee hour and discussion, distribution of free copies of the new Cosmopolitan club paper, a series of addresses by foreign students and movies pertaining to international affairs.

Coffee Hour.

Preceding the opening of UN week, the Nebraska University Council for World Affairs will sponsor a coffee hour and discussion in the Union. All new members of NUCWA will attend the session in the Union lounge Sunday, Oct. 16, from 5 to 6 p. m. UNESCO and UN week will figure in the discussion. Coffee and brownies will be served. Students interested in NUCWA will be able to join the organization at that time.

Sunday will also mark the beginning of a series of lectures by foreign students. This project will be sponsored by the speakers bureau of NUCWA under Co-Chairmen Claude Hannezo and Pat Stoural.

Speaker from Iran. A Nebraska student from Iran, Gus Rezaei, will give the first talk Sunday at the First Christian church. His topic will be "The UN and Political Implications as Seen by a Member of a Smaller Power."

Other talks will be given by foreign students Wednesday at Phi Gamma Delta fraternity and Thursday at an all-university convocation at Wesleyan.

Gustavson Talk.

Members of Cosmopolitan club and NUCWA will hear an address by Chancellor R. G. Gustavson Tuesday, Oct. 17, at 7:30 p. m. in the Love library auditorium. The Chancellor's speech will concern "Atomic Energy and International Relations." NUCWA and Cosmopolitan club have invited all students interested in the work of their organizations to attend the meeting.

Near the end of UN week the first issues of the Cosmopolitan club paper will be distributed on the campus. The new paper, UN Cosmopolitan, is edited by Walter Willi, Nebraska student from Switzerland. The first issue will be distributed free at the Friendship dinner, in the Union lobby, to organized houses and to faculty members.

Friendship Dinner.

The annual International Friendship dinner will be held in the Union ballroom Thursday, Oct. 20. The dinner is sponsored by the Religious Welfare council with the cooperation of the Cosmopolitan club, "I" house NUCWA and interested students and faculty members.

American students attend the traditional dinner with overseas students as their guests. Foreign students will prepare special dishes and provide an informal program.

NUCWA will also sponsor movies concerning world affairs in the Union this week. Definite dates will be announced later.

Syracuse Contest

A dinner with Charles Laughton, plus a first prize of $25, are the top awards being offered at Syracuse University for the winners of a "What Shakespeare Means to Me" contest.

The contest is being sponsored by the drama department. Every student is eligible to enter the contest, and manuscripts must be less than 500 words.
