Buy a Share . . .

Here's an item for your shopping list. Buy your share of fellowship by contributing to the AUF drive.

Today's Daily Nebraskan has devoted an entire page to the AUF project. A glance at the page will serve as evidence that the AUF has faith, not only in the causes served by the drive, but in the student body as well. It realizes the great needs of foreign students and the importance of aid here at home. It believes that the student body will extend the hand of fellowship by contributing to the AUF.

The world-wide student needs are so realistic that we cannot refuse to make a small sacrifice to further basic understanding between nations. Overseas students are not only doing without books and equipment, but without leaders, without shelter, without food and medical supplies. AUF funds could furnish stop-gap aid to insure continued attendance in foreign universities. Given a chance to complete their education, these students may some day prove to be one of democracy's best investments.

In the past few days, we have seen in THE Daily Nebraskan what the campus leaders . . . pastors, instructors, foreign students, American students . . . have to say in behalf of AUF. They have appealed to the student body to do its share in the AUF cause.

We point out that this will be the only drive of the year. Students will not be approached again to contribute to other relief organizations. Keep in mind that you won't be hounded to dole out a dollar here and a dollar there throughout the year. When the AUF drive opens Nov. 7, it will be your only chance to contribute. So dig deep.

We should all make sacrifices to put this drive across. Added together, our donations will show the students of the world that we are supporting them.

Susie Reed.

Well Modulated

Some weeks it doesn't pay to get out of bed. Last week we were begging people for something to write about. This week we got nothing but material. Maybe we don't live right.

Meet the Professor returns to the air this year at 9:30 p. m. over KOLN. This show gained a surprising amount of popularity last year. It features an interview with a prof from the university. This Monday Mr. Don Lentz, director of the University R.O.T.C. band, will be interviewed by Dale Anderson. Dale is one of the drummajors for the band as well as a radio student.

A new dramatic series starts Wednesday over KOLN at 9:30 p. m. So far the show is nameless. It will be entirely produced by radio students. Next Wednesday James Moise's High Bridge is the offering. Mr. Jorgensen, director of the show, tells us it is a suspenseful play about a plan for suicide. Incidentally, anyone who has what they consider a good name for the show might stop by the Radio Section with the suggestion. About all they can guarantee is that you'll have your name read on the show.

"Coke Date UN" is now "Cornhusker Beat." It seems Sandy Levy and Lois Nelson, the M.C.'s for the show had some copyright trouble. The show is aired over KLMS Wednesday and Friday at 4:00.

The "Beat" is a campus interview show. The interviews are made in the Crib every Tuesday and Thursday at 4:00. All you publicity hounds come on over.

Ag Dairy Judges Place 12th at L.A.

The University student dairy products judging team placed 12th in the international collegiate contest at Los Angeles Tuesday.

Dean Whitmore, a Nebraska student from Wheatland, Wyo., won 11th placing in individual judging competition. Whitmore also placed 11th in judging milk, 12th in butter, 17th in cheese and 15th in ice cream.

The Nebraska team composed of Whitmore, Warren Newell and James Yoder, placed 11th in milk judging, fifth in cheese, 13th in butter and 16th in ice cream.

Newell placed seventh in milk judging and Yoder eighth in cheese.

Ursinus Changes Chapel Regulation

Recently Ursinus College, Collegeville, Pa., has changed the regulation of chapel attendance. Now all freshmen and sophomores will attend chapel on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, while junior and seniors will attend on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

us "Buck." Next week Authors goes to the "Old West" for the "Saga of Coyote City." Actually it is a rather satirical comedy with a lot of laughs.

Don't miss this one. Remember the show "A Boy, a Girl, and a Song" we told you about a week or so ago? Tune your dials to KLMS every Thursday afternoon at 3:30 and hear the sweet voice of Bobby Rayburn, accompanied by Bob Vollmer on the ivories. You'd just be surprised how much talent there is around this campus that most of us don't even suspect.

Man of the Week

This week's tribute comes at a time when the recipient has not yet proven his worth to the students. Man of the Week is John R. Connelly, editor of the Cornhusker annual.

As editor, Connelly has one of the most thankless jobs on the campus. His publication comes out once a year, and if it is not of top-notch calibre, that's the old ball game. Other editors can make mistakes and then rectify them—Cornhusker editors cannot.

Connelly, who numbers two wins at Detroit this month among his major accomplishments, must tackle a number of tough assignments. He exercises overall control over layout, pictures, sections, etc. He must work with his business manager, Bud Gerhart, to keep the Cornhusker solvent. He must harrangue with printers to get just the effect or color he wants.

But when a Cornhusker editor is through, he can claim the most monumental of student achievements. The yearbook is a thing that students keep all their lives—there is nothing like it to bring back the old days.

And so The Daily Nebraskan salutes Editor John Connelly. We will reserve judgment on his product, but are sure it will live up to Cornhusker standards.

Ed note—We pass up the chance for a dig.

John Connelly

Meddling With Melick

by M. J.

Swan Song!

And we feel almost professional as we sit down with the usual tears in our eyes to write our fourth "this is the last time . . ."

But the really tender thing about the set-up is that we never go quietly—always by request, usually unpopular request. So as a farewell gesture we would like to throw a few parting darts.

"We leave the columns of the Daily Nebraskan feeling anything but proud of Pan-Hellenic's attitude toward the Homecoming parade. In spite of the fact that many of the houses voted to participate in the parade—but not for prizes—the powers that be turned thumbs down. For five years, according to the decree, the poor overworked sorority girl, who finds time to throw some fairly elaborate house parties, will not be able to contribute to the festivities of homecoming.

Pan-Hell's comment is that these gals are "too busy." After all a float is an enormous project for 60 women to undertake. Poor little Greeks.

We pause here to inject a fervent hope that the faculty will soon, very soon, sanction the action of the Student Council on name bands and sanction it in toto. It's a good program and is certainly well worth a try. The situation can't be worse. Who knows, it might even be improved—the Mortar Boards might get a band for the MB turn-about ball.

Via a private survey we have noted that the Coed Counselors are doing their usual fine job of "counseling" frosh women. Over half of the women we have talked to have not been contacted by their "big sisters." All of the girls who had been contacted felt that the procedure had done no earthly good.

Most of the girls we talked to were Greeks who felt that the CC set-up is a duplication of what goes on within their own houses. Need we point out that we said these same things last spring. A final plea then to cut out the dead wood campus organizations and give their functions to the groups who can handle them most effectively—namely BAEW.

Since we won't be around, we urge the entire campus to participate whole-heartedly in the coming AUF drives. May we who have never been hungry contribute generously for those who have never been filled.

We really should say something about dirty politics—but its all been so clean this year. So our final prayer is that the sense of fair play which has existed thus far in campus life will be continued and continued and continued—ad infinitum.

Campus Chatter

The Union is going to start things off with the first of many Halloween parties this week-end. Probably doing a good job of hosting and hostessing will be Hugh Follman and Betty Roessler. Let's keep this plutonic, Hugh. Jerry Lopez says he will be there too.

Saturday night the Kappa Delta will give their Nightmare party. Couples planning to attend are Pat Stoural and pinmate Don Stockholm. Jean Quigley and Richard Anderson, Jan Joyce and Harry Harris, and Phil Benn and Adriene Hertz.

The Sigma Kappas will follow up Saturday night with another Halloween party. Dates coming are Dotty Corbett and Dave Slusher, Liz Olson and Bob Wenkleman, Donna Michlich and Sterling Seaton, Sue Bjorklund and Kent Mackey.

Some news in pinnings: Beta Sig prexy Jim Troester has given his pin to home-town girl Virginia Douglas. Dorothy Borgens is now wearing the crescent and star belonging to Norrie Haring. As of last week-end Susan Pryor is wearing the Delt pin of Bud Carlson from South Dakota U.

Out at Ag the big event of the week-end is Col-Agri-Fun. Watching the fun will be Jack Sautter and Mary Marshall and Bill Stole and Peggy Walters. We hear that Alpha Xi sisters are a little disappointed in Peggy. At the first of the week she was planning to take a carload to Missouri. Oh, well, try the Pigskin party at the Union. Who can tell what's going on by watching a football game anyway?

Delta Sigma Phi brothers will escort their dates to their Apache ball Saturday night. Planning to attend are John Scharf and Doris Kendall, Al Johnson and Donna Hyland, and George Hugenberg and Pat Rook. This party has treasure hunt. Refreshments will be served.

Admission cost is 25 cents a person, and all YM-YW cabinet members are selling tickets.

Lincoln Paper Cites NU Student

Honorable mention in the Lincoln Journal's Weekly Recognition Gallery was given Tuesday to David Hallstrom, a University of Nebraska senior, for his "contribution to his community."

Hallstrom's "contribution" is a flying club organized to promote private flying and to help other students who are interested in learning to fly. This is the second club of this type organized by Hallstrom, the first one being organized in Sioux Falls, S. D., his home state, at Augustana college.

The University Flying Club, Inc. was organized by Hallstrom on Oct. 1, 1948 and at that time was composed of eight members. Hallstrom serves both as founder and president of this non-profit organization.

Wesleyan Aids WSSF

Nebraska Wesleyan university, with a student population of 868, has set a goal of $1,800 for their current WSSF drive. The charity drive leaders report that Wesleyan faculty members average a donation of $4.50.

strictly French atmosphere, say the Delta Sigs.

If you haven't a gun and you haven't a car and you haven't a date, what will you do this week-end? Now if you had a gun, you could go hunting. It is estimated that 50 percent of the male population are. If you had a car you could take a little jaunt to Missouri to see the game as about 25 percent are. For instance, Don Darst and Pat Nolan, Windy Ganger and Jane Rockwell, Hod Meyers and Norma Gameri, are going. And if you had a date—well, there are just endless possibilities. Here's what you could do:

Friday Night

International House party.
YM-YW Halloween party.
Intervarsity Christian Fellowship Halloween party.
Delian Union Halloween party.
Palladian program.
Union Halloween party.

Saturday Night

Col-Agri-Fun at Ag.
Sigma Kappa Halloween party.
Delta Tau Delta Hangover party.
Kappa Delta Nightmare party.
Delta Chi house party.
Delta Sigma Phi Apache Ball.

YM-YW Plan 'Pirate' Party

A treasure hunt, games and dancing will be the order Friday night at the YM-YW Pirate party. The Cosmopolitan club has also been invited to attend the function.

The party will be held at Warren Methodist Community center at 45th and Orchard. Those who lack transportation should contact Ruth Shinn at the YM office in Ellen Smith hall.

Co-chairman Mary Travis and Tom Chilvers advise all "pirateers" to bring flashlights for
