Military Ball Signs Pastor

Convocation Will Open Ag Week

O. V. Wells, chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, will speak to university students on "The Agriculture Situation" at an all university convocation Wednesday, Nov. 16.

The convocation scheduled for 11 a. m. in the coliseum will be the inaugural meeting of the first annual Farm and Home Week program.

Wells, who is president of the American Farm Economic association, has been with the U. S. Department of Agriculture for 24 years. He was assistant chief of B.A.E. under Howard Tolley until Tolley's retirement. Wells also did graduate work in rural economics at Harvard university.

Lambert to Preside

Dr. W. V. Lambert, Dean of the College of Agriculture, will preside at the convocation and introduce Mr. Wells to the students.

All Ag College students will be excused from their 10:20 classes to give them time to reach the convocation by 11 a. m., according to the dean's office.

Farm and Home Week is an outgrowth of Organized Agriculture which has been held annually on the Ag campus in past years. This year's program includes several other meetings of general interest to all students.

Thursday, Nov. 17, at 10:15 a. m. a panel discussion is planned for the College Activities building. Clyde Mitchell, head of the rural economics department at the university; O. V. Wells; T. W. Schultz of the University of Chicago; Kirk Fox of Successful Farming magazine; Sam McKelvie, representing Nebraska's ranchers; and Frank W. Reed, state chairman of PMA will discuss "Agricultural Programs."

Gov. Val Peterson, Sen. Ed Hoyt, Mrs. Raymond Haskins representing Nebraska homemakers, I. B. Johnson and Harry G. Gould of the extension service, and J. E. Lawrence, editor of the Lincoln Star will discuss the "Missouri Basin Agricultural Program."

This discussion, led by Gladwin Young of the USDA, will be at 10:15 a. m. Friday, Nov. 18, in Ag College Activities building.

Wednesday evening, Nov. 16, at the Coliseum the University band under the direction of Don Lentz and the county extension choruses led by Mrs. Altinas Tullis, will present a program. There will also be square dancing, beginning at 9 p. m.

In addition to these general meetings the individual departments of the Ag College will present movies, talks and programs on their own particular problems. These meetings will continue through Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Ag Students will not be excused for the departmental meetings unless classrooms are needed or the instructor of the course asks their attendance, the Dean tated.

Elton Lux of the extension service is in charge of the program for Farm and Home Week.

'Fight Song' to Boost Spirit On Migration

Huskers are again reminded that the official song for the migration to Iowa State this week end will be the "Fight Song," which was written by students on the return trip from Missouri last year.

To refresh the memories of students on the tune of the "migration" song, it will be played on the carillon tower bells at 12:50 Thursday noon, and again Friday.

Lyrics to the song are:
Fight, fight sons of old NU,
As we go to meet the foe,
We will fight, fight sons of old NU,
As forward, forward we go,
We will fight, fight on to victory,
Shaking thunder from the skies,
We're the loyal sons of Huskerland,
From dear old U-N-I.

The train schedule for departure from Lincoln and Ames is as follows: train leaves Lincoln Saturday morning at 6:00 a. m. and arrives in Ames about noon.

The train leaves Ames Saturday night at 9:30 p. m. and will arrive in Lincoln sometime between 2:30 and 3 a. m.

Party, Movie Top Union Weekend

Pigskin party Saturday afternoon, and a movie Sunday. That's the schedule of activities at the Union this week-end.

The Pigskin party for non-migrationites will be held in the Union lobby at 2 p. m. Apples and popcorn will be served and the game will be diagrammed, according to Bob Russell, chairman. All students not attending the game are invited.

Sunday evening the Union will screen "Miracle on 34th Street" at 7:30 p. m. There will be no admission charge. The movie, which carries out an appropriate Christmas theme, features Edmund Gwynn as the Macy Department Store Santa Claus. Maureen O'Hara and John Payne are also starred.

Lower Ticket Price to $3 For Traditional UN Event

TONY PASTOR.

Opens Formal Season Dec. 2

Tony Pastor and his orchestra have been booked to play at the Military Ball, December 2.

Tickets for the traditional dance opening the University formal season will sell for $3. Last year they sold for $4, general admission.

Saxophonist Pastor, one of the most popular national bandleaders, brings his orchestra to Nebraska from the Hotel Statler and Paramount theater in New York City, the Sherman hotel in Chicago and Hollywood's Palladium. He also recently completed a stage show engagement at the Orpheum theater in Omaha.

Called "America's greatest vocal stylist," Pastor heads what trade observers call the finest band in his career. He is currently a leader in record sales for Columbia, after recording for Bluebird, RCA Victor and Cosmo.

The Pastor aggregation has been responsible for five million retail record sales.

The bandleader includes song-writing among his successes, with such jump numbers as "Wigwam Stamp," "Helen of Troy," and "Jungle Stomp." Ballads written by Pastor include: "Blossoms," "For Whom the Bells Toll," "There's a Love Song in the Air," and "Sunday in Savannah."

Band to Make Movie

The band is scheduled for a motion picture stint after their present personal appearance engagements.

Pastor began his orchestra work with such leaders as Irving Aaronson, Joe Venuti and Vincent Lopez. His big break came with Artie Shaw, with recordings of "Indian Love Call," which sold more than a million pressings while it was "hot."

Recent recordings of the Pastor outfit include "Red Silk Stockings" and "Gonna Get a Gal." "There's a Man at the Door" and "You Started Something" were also record hits of the Ball band.

The Military Ball, first of the formal dances on campus, will be held in the Coliseum. It is noted for its spectacular staging by the military department, and includes spotlights, canopies and a grand presentation of the Honorary Colonel, a senior woman elected by the Candidate Officers association.

Following her presentation, the officers' sabers flash to begin the Grand March of the Colonel and her escort. Last year's Honorary Colonel was Phyllis Harris.

Kosmet Klub Names Eight Fraternity Skits for Revue

Eight fraternity skits have been chosen by Kosmet Klub for the Fall Revue, president Bob Sim announced today.

Nine judges, made up of Klub members picked Alpha Tau Omega, Delta Upsilon, Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Alpha Mu, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Tau Kappa Epsilon, and Zeta Beta Tau.

The above named houses will perform their acts at the Coliseum, Friday, Nov. 18. There was a variety of material used this year, according to Sim. Skits ranged from a Paris scene to a view of a Sorority house.

Judging

The skits were judged on music, originality, continuity, and humor. The judges were Bob Axtell, Merle Stalder, Bob Hildebrand, Jack Campbell, George Coupe, Leon Pfeiffer, Tom Donahoe, Frank Jacobs, and Sim.

Other features of the Fall Revue will include the selection of the Nebraska Sweetheart and Prince Kosmet. Mortar Boards and Innocents are making the selections for the six finalists for each honor. The winners will be elected the night of the show.

Last year's first place winner was Sigma Phi Epsilon, with their "Dig-U-Later" mortuary mystery. Directed by Frances Flaherty, the cast included a body, a bier, and a slueth.

Kappa Sigma copped second place with "Football Follies." "Choo-Choo-Chew-Chew" of Tau Epsilon won the judges approval of third place.

Louise McDill and Ajax O'Meara were presented as Nebraska Sweetheart and Prince Kosmet.

Bizad Group to Hear Chief Justice

New members of Beta Gamma will be announced at the Business Administration Banquet which will be held Tuesday, Nov. 15, at 6:30 in the ballroom of the Union.

Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Robert Simmons will speak on "The Comparison of Russian Government with Ours."

Tickets may be purchased from members of Phi Chi Theta, women's advertising honorary, or Alpha Kappa Psi and Delta Sigma Pi, men's business honoraries.

'Rag' Brings $150 at Auction

Going, going, gone! And for $150 The Daily Nebraskan falls into the hands of Gamma Phi Beta and Corn Cobs for a day as the AUF auction speeds on under the direction of Professors Arndt and Elliot.

Students paid $430 as dozens of items were placed on the block, thus bettering last year's total by $160. Such bargains as Wes Kohtz' purchase of a migration ticket for $6.50 and John Benda's payment of $6 for a ticket to all Union functions for the rest of the year were among the sales.

Melick Buys TNE

For the sum of $15.75, M. J. Melick bought the services of that "organization of high standards, except (sic) morally, physically, and academically," the TNE. To the Innocents went the Mortar Boards for $35, after the Builders attempted to get them to "clean closets and do mimeographing."

Services of one of the callers, Dr. Curtis Elliot, went in a package to several groups, and included such prize offerings as washing a car, washing a dozen diapers, a speech, playing Santa Claus at the Vets hospital Christmas party, and two days busboy service for Pi Beta Phi. The Pi Phi's also purchased the busboy services of his colleague, Dr. Karl Arndt, for $7.

Pledge Classes Sold

"Luscious, luscious, luscious," cried the auctioneers as various sorority pledge classes marched forth. Kappa Kappa pledges went to Sigma Chi for $33.25, Alpha Phi's to Sigma Nu for $15.50, and Harris Carnaby took the Delta Gams for $10.50. Ralph Taylor, Melvin Bates and Clyde Munson got into the spirit of things and sallied off with the Kappa Alpha pledges for $8.

A page spread in Corn Shucks, that campus humor magazine which "comes out whenever the deans are out of town," went to Wally Banner for $10. Two Kosmet Klub tickets, guaranteed to be "front row seats," brought $1.75 from Ralph Taylor.

Mystery Box

Mid-way in the auction the much publicized "mystery box" was brought forward. Ralph Taylor responded with a bid of $7.25 and the box was then revealed to contain Jeannie Oakes.

This is absolutely the happiest day of my life," sighed Audrey Rosenbaum as she took away the services of Ec Prof. Hal Borgen for $2. Alpha Chi girls paid $25 for an evening with five campus eligibles, guaranteed to be "able to do anything." They were Ted Gunderson, Rocky Mueller, Ed Donegan, Jack De Wulf and Box Axtell.

Baby Sitter Sale

First to go was the "baby sitting" services of Tish Swanson, who after suitable display of merchandise, was sold to Bill Dugan and Charles Frey for $3.50. The Phi Beta Phi took Gloria Larsen's bid to baby-sit "with anyone over 18 or 19," for $2 while the rest of the Red Cross board went to Jack Burley for 50c.

After various others bid for a pint of his blood, a demand that he shave his head, his left leg, and a pound of flesh, Innocents bought Rex Pettijohn's services in a spirit of "brotherly love" for $5.

Other items auctioned included dinner dates at Pi Phi, Delta, Gamma, Kappa Gamma and Alpha Chi. A carton of Chesterfields brought $2, with dates with Jim Bastian and Carla Benner for 50c, and Pat Gaddis was sold as a date for $2. Alpha Phi and Union activities board services also went on the block for $5 and $2.50, respectively.
