

TACKLE—Charley Toogood, Husker tackle, threw the key block to spring Harry Meginnis free on his 70 yard touchdown gallop against Iowa State Saturday as the Huskers chalked up their third victory of the season. He has been one of the unsung heroes of the Cornhusker camp. Toogood has been labeled one of Coach Glassford's "60 Minute-men."

Phi Delta Theta is the 1949 IM swimming champion. The Phi Deltis added seven points in the diving event Monday to increase their already substantial lead over second place Sigma Alpha Epsilon and thus sew-up their third intramural title this year. The Phi Deltis have already won the Fall Golf and the Fall Tennis titles.

Behind the victors' point total of 57 and the runner-up Sig Alphas with 45 came the Phi Psi's with 26, the Sig Nu's with 25, and the Delta Sigma Pi's with 24 points to round out the top five teams.

The Independents topped the second division, totaling 20 points, followed by the Phi Gams with 14, the Kappa Sigs with 13, the Betas with 4, and the Sig Eps with 3 points.

Blumer Wins Diving

Paul Blumer, Phi Delt, led the way in the final event of the meet, the diving competition, to total 72 points as compared to 69 points by runner-up Leonard Jones, Delta Sig Pi. Jerry Barrett, Independent and Jim Faris, Sig Epsilon tied for third with 68 points apiece. Fifth place was earned by Independent Bud Lade and the sixth point-getter in the event was Bob Burhans, Sig Alpha.

The Phi Gamma Delta hopes for third place in the meet received a severe jolt when their winning relay team was disqualified after it was learned they used an ineligible swimmer. The 13 first place points were deducted from the Phi Gam total and every other placing team was moved up accordingly.

Indoor Track Entries Due

Attention all intramural managers!! The deadline for entries in have their last chance to put their names down among the Huskers' all-time greats.

Tom Novak's name will undoubtedly go down as the greatest center ever to perform in Husker togs. According to some of the "old-timers," Novak is the best center ever to have played in Memorial Stadium.

Besides Novak, Ralph Damkroger, Bob Schnieder, Darwin Salestrom, Mike DiBiase, Ken Fischer and Harry Meginnis will see action for the last time for the Cornhuskers.

Students and faculty members should exchange their football tickets for basketball tickets Monday, Nov. 21, in the lobby of the Coliseum.

A meeting will be held in the employee dining room of the Student Union, Thursday evening at 7:30, to discuss the formation of a Table Tennis

Persons who are interested and cannot attend should sign a petition in the activities office of the union Friday.

"We got the break and we hung on." That was Bill Glassford's explanation of the Iowa State game in his letter to the alumni. He described the game as the old fashioned type, in which the Huskers played close to the "vest" all afternoon.

Glassford went on to say that the magnificent 70-yard run by Harry Meginnis was hardly a break. Any run where the carried drops the ball, picks it up and is touched by seven men before he reaches mid-field, is definitely not a quirk of fate.

Special mention should be made of Charlie Toogood when talking of Meginnis' run. If it had not been for Toogood's bruising block of two Cyclone defenders, the game would have been a scoreless tie.

Toogood, Tom Novak and Walt Spellman played the full 60-minutes Saturday. Nick Adduci missed only four plays in the rough game.

Novak received more national recognition this week when he was picked to play for the West in the annual East-West New Years game.

Patterson Announces First Nebraska Wrestling Clinic

A new clinic will make its appearance on the campus Nov. 19.

The University will sponsor a wrestle clinic for Nebraska high school wrestlers and their coaches. "Pat" Patterson, Husker coach will direct the activities.

"We want the boys to come to Nebraska and the best way to do it is to show them the set-up we have here," said Patterson as he explained the program.

The high school wrestlers and coaches will be shown different types of holds, methods of warming up and escapes. Cornhusker varsity matmen will give the demonstrations and two high school coaches will give lectures.

Patterson will conduct a question and answer period for the group following the demonstrations and lectures.

The complete program, which will be held in the Coliseum, includes:

- 10:00-10:30—Warm-up drills and take downs—Newt Cottle and Mickey Sparano.
- 10:30-11:00—Rides and Pinhold combinations—Vern Ekfelt, coach, North High, Omaha.
- 11:00-11:30—Escapes—Orville Orr, coach, Thomas Jefferson high, Council Bluffs, Ia.
- 11:30-12:00—Questions and Answers—Patterson and varsity men.

The 1949 indoor track meet is Friday at 5 p.m. No entries will be accepted after that date. Also, any men interested in becoming paid referees for intramural basketball this winter, see Hollie Lepley, room 107 P.E. on Monday, Tuesday, or Wednesday next week.

Husker Passing Gets Polish Job

BY KIMON KARABATSOS

The Nebraska Cornhuskers' passing arm was given a good polish Wednesday night as the Huskers set aside their defensive work to work on a good offense.

Quarterbacks Fran Nagle and Kenney Fischer were handling the passing chores on the two top offensive units. Working in the backfield with Nagle were halfbacks Don Bloom and Ron Clark, who seems to have recovered fully from the groin injuries that allowed him to see only two plays during the I-State game last week, and fullback Rich Yost.

Fischer was working with the first string backfield of halfbacks, Bill "Rocky" Mueller and Harry Meginnis, and fullback Nick Adduci. Glassford had his quarterbacks using various plays against the different Colorado defenses, hoping to find a weak spot in the Buffs' defense.

Novak Honored.

Composing the forward wall of the "Fischer team" were center Tom Novak, who was recently picked to play for the West in the annual East-West game to be played New Year's Day, guards Mike DiBiase and Walt Spellman, tackles Charley Toogood and Bob Mullen and ends Frank Simon and Bob Schnieder.

Working with Nagle were center Joe McGill, guards Art Bauer and Rex Hoy, tackles Don Minnick and Herb Reese, ends Ray Magasman and Tracy Bush.

Squad spirit rose to a new high since now the Huskers can look forward to a third-place tie with Iowa State in the Big Seven conference. All that the Huskers will need is a win Saturday afternoon.

Brightening the outlook for Glassford was the return of sophomore Ron Clark, who despite the fact that he didn't get a chance to make a punt return last Saturday, still leads the Big Seven's punt returners with a net of 231 yards.

Halfback Harry Meginnis, with his 70-yard TD punt return against Iowa State, would have the command spot in that category had he made at least five returns. Meginnis has returned three punts for an average of 26 yards per try.

Charles Buehrer took over the second place spot among Nebraska's punters with a 29.3 punt average. Bruhrer, who had not seen any action in a regular game for the Huskers until last Saturday, did a praiseworthy job as he punted Nebraska out of trouble ten times, averaging 29.3 yards per try.
