Exam Week Discussed By Senate

Hear Proposals Of Elimination

The Faculty Senate Tuesday ifternoon spent the major portion of their meeting time on discussion of examination problems.

After lengthy discussion on a proposal to do away with the present two-week exam period, the recommendation was tabled. Senate members will receive to the Student Council's recom-mendations of the problem, prior

Tom Novak, former Husker center, will address the great the student's semester and final exam work.

Presented by

Presented by Ag campus in-structors, the proposal called for large unit exams to be held on Saturdays in the two-week period. All other examinations would be held in class periods in addition to the usual class assignments

Some faculty members objected to the proposal because it might place too heavy a study load on the student body. They pointed out that a student might have three or four final exams on the same day under a system of complete "freedom" for instructors in all classes.

Council Recommendations The Student Council's recommendations were not discussed but were added to the agenda for the next Senate meeting, Copies of both plans will go to each faculty member for his consideration before the next meeting to be held next month .

The Senate also heard at its meeting a discussion of the background and work of the present examination scheduling committee. The present system went into effect years ago after an investi-gation of exam procedures on other campuses. It was designed to do away with an overload of exams for students. In other business, the Senate approved the establishment of a Committee on Student Conduct to review appeals of students on conduct charges. It was created on the recommendation of the Dean of Student Affairs, Dr. T. J. Thompson. The Senate members also voted on membership of the committee on University Librar-ies, and approved three recommendations of the Committee on Committees in regard to nominating faculty members to committee posts.

Reese and his council will com-plete plans for a Junior Class day topped off with an all-class barbecue and outdoor dance. Tentatively set for "about May 12," according to Reese, the day will include a class meeting, recognition ribbons for the class of '51, a Junior Class Sweetheart, and a large free outdoor party. Purpose of the council's plans s to promote a real class spirit and unity among the members of the junior class, whatever their college or residence. Class organization has not existed actively on the campus for many years.

More Meetings

In addition to Junior Class Day, President Reese said he hopes to call other class meetings in order to carry over the year's work to the final college year for the class members.
