All-U All-Star Cage Team Names Five Unanimously

BY BILL MUNDELL

The final and most important of the basketball all-star teams was tabulated Vednesday from 86 ballots cast by the intramural managers and their teams. Only nine of the 95 cage managers failed to respond to the voting. Five men were unanimous choices in the balloting which made the final tabulation very simple. The five men who represent the university's best are:

Darrell Heiss of Farm House,
Elwood Bohn of the Lutheraps, Mack Robinson of Alpha fau Omega, James Walsh of Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Jack Yelkin of

Sigma Gamma Epsiton. Three Form "A" League Both forwards, Heiss and Walsh, are representatives from the freternity "A" league as is Robitson at a guard position. Yeikin comes to the All-U team from the Independent league and Bohn represents the Interdenominational league.

Yelkin topped the Independent scorers, getting over 12 markers per game, and was the only unanimous cager selected from his league.

Bohn was second in final standings in All-U scoring with an average points per game, only .04 less than the champion, Walsh. Bohn is the current holder of the single game scoring record ci 38 counters.

Robinson averaged almost 13 points per game for the All-U champions, Alpha Tau Omega. In seven of his contests he bested his average considerably. Late Ballots Help

Six late ballots helped in the final selection of the All-U team. Until those arrived, there were

Eight Receive Mention

The same situation prevails for the fourth team. Those chosen by the I-M managers to this team are: Bob Bull of Beta Sigma Psi and Don Coupens of Alpha Tau Omega "B" at the forwards; Jack Cady of Phi Delta Theta at the pivot; and Gordon Lucht of InterVarsity and Bill Kerr of Sigma Gamma Epsilon at the guard positions.

Eight men received enough votes to warrant mention on the "All" line-up. Those eight and their teams are: Neal Prince of Sigma Chi; Paul Fenske of Ag YMCA; Tom Recht of Sigma Nu "B;" Ralph Damkroger of Pio-neer Co-op; Leland Korte of Dorm C; Duane Parker of City YMCA; Arlan Waldermath of Alpha Gamma Rho "B;" and Bob Allen of Phi Delta Theta. braska weather to hopeful University of Nebraska athletes. He has not been able to get his tennis team out of doors to practice once during the current year.

Like the gridders and the baseball players, the tennis squad has practiced indoors. Their shelter has been the coliseum thus far this year. While they have been able to get in quite a bit of good practice, they still need to get outside for purposes of con-ditioning and roomier quarters. In the confines of the Coliseum they are able to get in about two hours of practice a day.

One Letterman

Only letterman back from last year's squad is Jamie Curran, a junior from Buenos Aires. He is a hard driver with either the backhand or forehand. Curran does all of his stroking from the poet side. He was number for port side. He was number four man on the team last year and at the present time is holding down the number one position. Curran is expected to lead the squad thru most of its schedule.

Other men figuring in on Slezak's net strategy are Bob Radin, Vero Beach, Florida; Frank Red-man ,Miami, Florida; Andy Bun-ten, Cheyenne, Wyoming and Jerry Magee of Omaha.

Their chief competition is ex-pected to come from Jeff Delton, Long Beach, California; Bob Jensen, Fremont and Milt White-head of Scottsbluff.

With the lack of more experienced hands on deck to shoulder the brunt of the burden, Coach Slezak is rather pessimistic over the chances for this year's netmen. He states that Nebraska will put the best four men on the court and that they will be try-ing all the way for victory.

Saturday's game will probably be the deciding factor as to whether it will be held at in next year. Only one "gripe" has reached the sports desk. A vast majority of the students are complaining because the game will be played during Spring vacation. I have been informed that this is not a deliberate action to keep the students from the game.
