Army Schedules ROTC Inspection

The annual federal inspection of the Air and Army R.O.T.C. at the University will be held on the campus Wednesday and Thursday, May 3 and 4.

The inspecting officers for the Air Force are: Col. Richard Gimbel of Headquarters, Tenth Air Force; Lt. Col. Lyn R. Moore of the University of Kansas; and Major Stanley W. Plate, of Headquarters, Tenth Air Force. The Army inspection team will be headed by Col. Clarence H. Schabacker.

Wednesday will consist of inspection of classroom instruction and facilities. On Thursday morning the administration of the R.O.T.C. will be examined. On Thursday afternoon the entire cadet corps of the Air Force and Army, totaling over 1,500, will parade for the inspecting officers and University officials.

Orchesis To Give Recital

3 Dance Groups Planning Show

Two themes will be featured in the annual Orchesis recital Friday and Saturday—American Impressions and Dance Drama.

Three groups, Orchesis, Pre-Orchesis and the Men's group, will present the major part of the program which will be held in Grant Memorial gym Friday and Saturday, starting at 8 p. m. each evening.

The American Impressions theme will include a presentation of the characteristics of the northern, western, southern and eastern parts of the United States.

The west will be depicted by the Indians, Spaniards, the frontiersmen and the cowboy. These are among the factors contributing to the development of the culture in this part of the country, pointed out Helen Martin, director of Orchesis and in charge of the recital.

May 6 Marks 49th Ivy Day

A tradition begun nearly half a century ago will be continued this week end on the University campus when the 49th annual Ivy day ceremonies are held Saturday, May 6.

The event, which is traditionally the climax of activities for the year, is again being sponsored by Mortar Board, senior women's honorary organization. Saturday morning classes will be dismissed for the program.

As it has been since the first Ivy Day in 1901, this year's program will be held north of the Administration building. In case of rain, everything will be moved to the Coliseum.

Band Concert
A band concert will begin the day's activities, and the celebration will end in the afternoon with the masking of new Mortar Boards and the tapping of innocents.

The program which has been announced by Mortar Board is: 9:30-9:50 Band concert; 9:50 History or Ivy day; 9:55 Chains enter; 10:05 Court professional—Junior and Senior class presidents enter.

10:15 Planting of the Ivy; 10:25 Chains recing; 10:30 Women's Sing; 11:45 Court recess.

1:15 1:30 Band concert; 1:30 Court professional; 1:40 Men's Sing; 2:40-2:50 Symphonia; 2:50 Announcement of Women's and Men's Sing winners; 2:55 Recession of court; 3:00 Masking of Mortar Boards followed by the tackling of innocents.

Block and Bridle To Give Awards

The remaining awards for the Block and Bridle judging contest will be awarded at 5 p. m. Tuesday, in room 103 of the Animal Husbandry hall.

Ribbons will be presented in each of the four classes. The classes are, cattle judging, sheep judging, hog judging and horse judging.

Magazine subscriptions totaling 16 will be given to the top two places in the junior and senior division.

M. A. Alexander, coach of the judging team, and Charlie Adams, sponsor of the club, will present the awards.

Southern Moods
Three Negro moods will show the south. Their worship, gaiety and work will be given in the form of spirituals. Lloyd Lot-speich will be the soloist. He is a student in the School of Music. David Foltz is his instructor.

To display the north, the dancers will present tales from Paul Bunyon, and show the intensity of the industrialists in the machinery and business. Jo Smith, School of Music student, will handle the percussion instruments in this part. The dance composing class of Miss Martin will have charge of the mechanics.

In presenting the eastern portion of this country, the groups will give a take-off on politics—and the pseudo-sophistication of the society there.

Emperor Jones
The second theme, "Dance Drama, is based around Eugene O'Neill's play, "Emperor Jones." Chuck Jones of the Men's Group will take the part of Jones in the play. The dance accompanying group of Miss Martin's will take care of the music for Jones' dances.

A number will also be given by members of an intermediate modern dance class during the recital.

Members of Orchesis are: Wanda Bott, Marilyn Cropper, Sue Kim-all, Marie Mangold, Kay Moore, Adele Mullikin, Jeanne Peterson, Colleen Rankin, Betty Ann Sawyer, Shirley Sides, Jo Swan and Lois Weaver.

The pre-Orchesis group is directed by Lois Weaver. Mrs. H. H. Flood is the accompanist for the recital.

Tickets for the program are 60 cents. These may be purchased at the door, at the physical education office in Grant Memorial or from any member of Orchesis.

Cotner Leader, Mrs. Benson, To Leave NU

Mrs. B., the director of student work for the Christian church students on the campus is leaving.

Mrs. Raymond Benson, a leader in campus religious activities for the past three years, has announced her resignation effective June 1.

She was director of activities from Cotner house, 1237 R St. During her time on the campus, she served as vice president of the Religious Welfare council as well as directing the work of the Christian Student fellowship. During the current year, she has served as chairman of the religious workers and student pastor's organization.

She has been secretary and vice president of the National Student Worker's association of the Disciples of Christ. Before coming to her present position, Mrs. Benson was pastor's assistant at First Christian church. She will remain in Lincoln, where she resides with her family.

The Christian student work program is part of the program of Cotner college. P. R. Stevens, president of the college, said that no successor has been chosen.

Ag College Royalty Crowned

SUE BJORKLUND—She reigned as Goddess of Agriculture of the 1950 Farmers' Fair at ag campus Friday night and Saturday. The senior from Wakefield was elected by an all-ag student vote. Her four attendants were Connie Crosby, Gwen Monson, Mary Travis and Charlene Eggert. They were presented at the Cotton and Denim dance Friday night, which officially opened the 1950 Fair activities.

Bjorklund, Monteith Honored at Dance

Tall, blond Sue Bjorklund, and tall, bewhiskered Roland Monteith were revealed as the reigning Goddess of Agriculture and Whisker King for the 1950 Farmers' Fair Friday night.

The presentation was made at the Cotton and Denim dance which opened the 1950 Fair activities.

The attractive, 22-year-old coed from Wakefield, was elected Goddess from an all ag campus vote. She was presented, along with four attendants, by Arlen Beam, master of ceremonies.

As each coed was announced, she stepped out of a large replica of an ear of corn.

Attendants
Attendants to the Goddess were Gwen Monson, Constance Crosbie, Mary Travis and Charlene Eggert.

Miss Bjorklund is a senior in the college of agriculture, majoring in agricultural extension work. She is a member of the Union board, Farmers' Fair board, member of University 4-H club, Tassels, Home Ec club, YWCA, and a member of Sigma Kappa sorority. She holds Mortar board and Ak-Sar-Ben scholarships.

Whisker King Monteith won his title by having the best growth of beard of 21 other candidates. He boasted a generous growth of sandy side burns, beard and moustache. All contestants had three weeks in which to grow their beards.

Senior Ag Student
The Newcastle senior in the college of agriculture is a married student.

He is a member of Alpha Zeta and Gamma Sigma Delta, both honorary agriculture fraternities.

Miss Monson, attendant to the Goddess is president of Home Ec club, member of Mortar Board, University 4-H club, ag executive board, Phi Upsilon Omicron and Omicron Nu.

Constance Crosbie, senior from Lincoln, is president of Phi Upsilon Omicron, member of the Fair board, Gamma Phi Beta sorority, home economics council and Omicron Nu.

A senior from Ord, Miss Travis is a member of Phi Upsilon Omicron, Omicron Nu, Home Ec club, Barb board and YWCA.

Miss Eggert is president of Love hall, member of Phi Upsilon Omicron, Omicron Nu, ag religious welfare board, Home Ec club and YWCA.

The Goddess and her attendants were elected from a large group of senior home economics coeds.

Last year's goddess of Agriculture was Mavis Musgrave.

The Goddess and Whisker King reigned over Farmers' Fair activities at Ag campus Saturday.

Cochran Named 'Top' Engineer

Engineers climaxed E-Week with a banquet in the Union Friday night. Dean Roy Green presented the O. J. Fee award for the outstanding senior in engineering to Donald B. Cochran.

Norman Dale Baumgart received the Adna Dobson Memorial award for the most worthwhile engineer. Baumgart is also producing a movie being made in engineering college.

The student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers presented Charles Veys with a civil engineering handbook. This is the first year an award such as this has been made and it will continue to be given to the outstanding members of the chapter in future years.

Blueprint Award
Don Carlberg made the Nebraska Blueprint award, a plaque, to the Ag engineers for outstanding support of the Blueprint. Blueprint staff awards went to Jim Kluck, George Colbel, Walton Ferris, Ed Swenson, Darrell Cast and Harold Leviner.

William Wendland announced the results of the ribbon sales, window display, open house and Blueprint sales. The civil engineers carried off open house honors, as engineers won the Blueprint sales, chemical engineers won ribbon sales, and mechanical engineers received top honors for window display. The overall award for the contest went to the civil engineers.

Following the banquet an organ recital was held in the Union lounge and a dance in the Union ballroom.

12,000 Attend Engineers' Open House

Approximately 12,000 persons passed through Engineers' Week open house to make 1950 one of the most successful years for the engineering colleges.

The crowd was thin in the afternoon but expanded rapidly in the evening in spite of the cold weather. Among the group of 12,000 were 839 high school students representing 27 high schools throughout Nebraska. Two-hundred and eighteen of these students attended a luncheon in the Union sponsored by the Engineers' Week committee.

Kent Tiller, chairman of the inquiry committee said, "I believe we have reached the saturation point as far as overall attendance at E-Week is concerned. This year we had 150 per cent of the number of high school students we had last year, and next year we will be shooting for 1,000 high school students."

Tours held in the morning for the students went through without a hitch with only one exception, two schools arrived at the same place at the same time. The students found the displays so interesting they were not diverted by other Lincoln attractions.

The engineers summed up their week as being one of the most successful in many years and are looking forward to an equally successful one next year.

N-Club Schedules Ivy Day Dance

A brightly decorated Union ballroom will be the setting for the N-club's annual dinner-dance, which will be held Saturday, May 6, from 7 to 11:30 p. m.

The affair will climax the Ivy Day festivities for the N-club members and their dates who will attend.

Co-chairmen of the affair are Bob Russel and Herb Reese. Special guests, including several faculty members and their wives will be invited to both the dinner and the dance.

Working with Reese and Russel will be Bob Phelps on decorations; Dick Meissner, invitations; and Marvin Grimm and Henry Cech, entertainment.

The program of entertainment will consist of skits and numbers given by members of the club. Master of ceremonies will be Bill Mueller.

According to Russel, who is also N-club social chairman, those attending the dance will have the opportunity to become better acquainted with the athletic department of the University and with the various Cornhusker athletes.

UN Mediator Plans Visit To Campus

Dr. Ralph Bunche, top United Nations mediator, will meet representatives of the Nebraska press and radio at a special news conference Monday morning, May 8 at the University.

Following the press conference Dr. Bunche will address a University faculty luncheon. His major address will be Monday evening in the Coliseum. "The United Nations Intervention" will be the topic of the mediator's talk.

Dr. Bunche served as mediator in Palestine after the assassination of Count Folke Bernadotte in 1948. He succeeded in bringing the Arabs and Jews into agreement on the question of the newly formed Israeli government.

He received his A.B. degree with highest honors from U.C.L.A. and his master and doctor degrees from Harvard university. He has served as chairman of the political science department at Howard university since 1928, but has been on leave of absence since 1941.

Dr. Bunche is now Acting Assistant Secretary-General of the United Nations Department of Trusteeship. During the war he served with the O.S.S., and after the war for a short time in the state department. He has served in the U. S. delegations to many international conferences.

He recently was offered the assistant secretaryship of the state department, but declined the offer.

Fair' Rodeo, Parade Held Despite Rain

Spirited to put on a Farmers Fair, come rain snow or sleet, Ag college students went through with nearly all events during Saturday's rain.

Winning in the parade "A Greater '50" held Saturday morning was the Voc Ag float, made under the direction of John Lambert. It was a display of new and old-time teaching methods, showing a welder in action for the new, and a classroom for the old. They received the traveling cup awarded by the Fair board.

The University 4-H club received first honorable mention and the Tri-K club received second honorable mention. Also receiving mention were floats by Alpha Gamma Rho and the Home Ec club.

All rodeo events went off as scheduled except for the wild cow milking contest, saddle bronc and cow cutting contests.

In the calf roping contest, Buck Keister was named first place winner. Rex Coffman placed second and Rodger Egan placed third.

George Minford placed first in the bareback riding contest. Placing second was Keith Young and third place winner was Gene Rule.

First place in the bull riding contest went to Rodger Egan. Kirk Gillispie copped second place honors and Paul Stokely won third place.

Jean Fenster and Bev Schuman composed the winning team in the coed calf catching contest. Second place went to Jo Ann Meyer and Lorrie Nielsen and third place went to Mary Ann Grundman and Jean Becker.

First and second place winners in the rodeo events were awarded silver belt buckles. Winners in the coed calf catching contest received western style shirts.

Earle Haggart and Jo Ann Meyer were crowned King and Queen of the pie-eating contest held Friday afternoon at 1 p. m. This is the first year such an event was staged and proved to be a great success by the attending crowd.

Saturday's barbecue was held in the College Activities building. A special feature at the barbecue was a wrestling match held on the stage of the ballroom.

Topping one of the wettest Farmers Fair in its history was the Square dance Saturday night. Members of the Ag Country Dancers did the calling.

Bizad Honorary Pledges Six Girls

Phi Chi Theta, professional business administration honorary, Friday night pledged six girls into their organization.

Those pledged are Marguerite Hughes, Elaine O'Neill, Patricia Van Sant, Marilyn Kranan, Barbara Gardner and Joan Sherman.

WHISKER KING MONTEITH—Roland Monteith was named 1950 Whisker King at the Cotton and Denim dance Friday night. His unique growth of sandy whiskers won him the title from 21 other candidates.
