(Editor's note: The following is the Student Council Constitution as it has been revised. The old articles are given so a comparison might be made between the old articles and the proposed revisions.)

ARTICLE IV:

Section 1. The Student Council shall be composed of the following representatives: Each undergraduate college or school wishing a representative on the Student Council shall have one member regardless of the size of the college or school. Such a member shall be elected from the majority sex, and shall be the sole representative of that college until membership in the college of that sex shall have reached a total of 501 and not to exceed 1,500, when an additional representative shall be allowed, or until the minority sex reaches a total of 501 and not to exceed 600 students for which they will be given another member on the council. When the minority group has a membership between 601 and 1,500 it shall be given another member. Either sex having 1,501 to 1,800 students in the school or college shall be allowed a third representative on the council.

Majority Sex: 1 to 600, one member; 601 to 1,200, two members; 1,201 to 1,800, three members. Minority Sex: 201 to 600, one member; 601 to 1,200, two members; 1,201 to 1,800, three members.

Previous to each Student Council election, it shall be the duty of the judiciary committee of the Council to check the enrollment of the second semester of that year and to ascertain the number and sex of the representatives from each college or school.

Four seniors—two men and two women—nominated and elected at large by the student body. Eight seniors—four men and four women—nominated and elected by the Student Council from the junior members of that body to serve during the following year.

Such additional members as are added through the system of proportional representation. Any advisers appointed by the University Senate who shall serve as ex-officio members.

Antiques Added To NU Museum

Five new collections have recently been given to the University Museum by Nebraskans. The gifts and their donors are: a collection of hand-made rugs by Mrs. Gilbert Gutru, formerly of Newman Grove; Civil War barbering equipment by J. N. Loney, Stella; a collection of Bryan campaign badges by Adolf W. Benson, Omaha; and a large collection of pioneer home furnishings by Laura B. Hartzell of Lincoln.

Goldfish, Dogs, Chicks Inhabit Fraternities and Sororities

By Jerry Bailey
Quite a menagerie is enjoying Greek life on the campus. Relax, people—we mean beast, fish and fowl, not humans. A recent survey reveals a number of the lower species living in or about the various fraternities and sororities of the University. These creatures, ranging from goldfish to dogs, have a hard time keeping up with the strenuous campus life. Many of them either end up at the morgue or retired to the farm with ulcers. A deluge of baby chicks—little yellow cheepers—hit the sororities a couple of weeks ago. Most of the houses got a couple each, but one house claims to have received 27. They shipped the chicks off to the farm that night. The poultry was left on steps and inside front doors like orphans. Where the chicks all came from only Heaven and the Beta's know. The Tri-Delta kept their two chickens for two weeks, but the little darlings' pined away to mere pin feathers. They then allowed the cock to export the chicks to the country, where they are reported to be doing fine. The Chi O's report that their chicks cheeped so loudly they could be heard from the basement to the third floor. Chi O Pets In addition, the Chi O house has maintained four goldfish, a pet turtle named "Silo" and a rabbit named "Flop-Ears". Silo, the turtle has done nothing more notable than go swimming in sundry bathtubs and wash basins. He hibernated through the winter and is only now stirring into activity, having felt the sap start running again or something. "Flop-Ears" the rabbit developed an ability to jump out of any pen built for him. He awoke at 5 a. m. and demanded breakfast, when all good co-eds most desired sleep. He noisily crunched his rabbit pellets. "Dammitt" and eventually exiled him to Siberia. House rules, high cost of living, and strict house mothers have combined to keep most houses along North 16th, such as the Sigma Kappa's and Alpha Chi O's, down to a few goldfish. Turtles and Snakes The Theta's have a remarkable collection of zoological specimens, due to the fact that Dianne Thomas has a pinmate in Med school in Omaha. Said pinmate occasionally sends her little pets to keep her company in his absence. Among these pets have been two turtles, named "Footie" and "Tootie", a white rabbit named "Clarence", and a garter snake. The snake made history some time ago by escaping. The whole Theta house searched, but the reptile then put in a surprise reappearance disclosing itself to a girl just stepping out of the shower. "There she stood in her towel, screaming," recall some of the Theta's. The snake was eventually freed by being thrown out a window. Not having had enough, The Theta's are currently dicker for a canary and some kittens. Perhaps the most distinguished guest at the Alpha Phi house was a baby alligator, a gift to Jo Mellan from an admirer. The alligator came to a sad end while swimming in a pan of water on top of a radiator. Heat came on in the radiator. By the time he was found, the alligator was thoroughly stewed, boiled, and cooked. In fact, he was dead. Phi Psi Gift As for the fraternities on campus, they have largely confined themselves to dogs. A few of these have become prominent, such as the monzrel pup that the Theta's gave to Phi Kappa Psi. The dog was a notorious scratcher. "We gave him a bath and a dose of flea powder," reported one Phi Psi. "After that he just scratched harder." Another rather prominent mutt is the North 16th Pekinese, "Tawny". The Pekie is the pet of Mrs. Reynolds, house mother to the Sig Eps. Some Sig Eps report that the Pekinese is good lady-bait. It seems that girls love to stop and pet—Tawny. The Kappa Sig's watchdog "Duke" was the only local canine to achieve front-page mention on the Raz. The Great Dane became famous by sleeping through a robbery of the house in February. The Kappa Sig's later shipped him back to Omaha, giving no reason for their action. All in all, perhaps the tallest tale on Greek pets is the one about the Delta's chameleon. It is said they laid it down on a plaid cloth, and it died of frustration.

Orchosis Recital Will Depict 'Impressions' of America

Cowboys and Indians, Negroes and their spirituals, Paul Bunyan and his tall tales, sophisticated society. American impressions all, these characteristics of the United States will form the basis of the annual recital by Orchosis, University modern dance group. Three groups, Orchosis, Pre-Orchosis and the men's group, will present the major part of the program which will be given Friday and Saturday evenings in Grant Memorial hall. Part of one of the recitals, "American Impressions," will portray various sections of the country through their characteristics. The west will be depicted by Indians, Spaniards, the frontiersmen and the cowboy. Entitled "Frontier Life," this portion will include a square dance by Adele Mulliken and Kay Moore.

Barbs to Give House Award At Tea Friday

The BABW achievement award will be presented to an independent women's organization or house for the first time at the annual Recognition Tea, in Ellen Smith hall, Friday, May 5 at 5 p. m. The award will honor the house which has achieved the most in campus activities, house improvement and scholarship during the past school year. The award will be in the form of a traveling plaque, the shape of the BABW shield. The winning house or organization will keep the plaque for one year. At the same time, individual awards will be made to independent women who have been active in campus organizations. Coeds who have earned a specified number of points will receive bronze BABW activity pins. To those students receiving the award for the second time, a rose will be presented. Last year, 19 coeds received the individual awards. Points are earned during the school year for work in campus activities, attendance at Barb-sponsored events and participation in rallies and house-sponsored affairs. All women not affiliated with a social sorority are eligible for the individual awards. The house award is also made to a non-sorority group. The winning house will not be disclosed until the tea on Friday. Refreshments will be served after the presentation of the awards.

YW Frosh Plan Breakfast Sunday

Freshman YW members will be host to YW members and their mothers Sunday morning at a May breakfast. The annual breakfast, sponsored by freshmen YW members, is a culmination of the year's activities of the workers. It will start at 9 a. m., Sunday in Parlors ABC Union.

Chosen by Tryouts

Orchosis members are chosen by tryouts, and this year's group includes 14 members. Pre-Orchosis has eight members and the intermediate group numbers 18. Three men are also included in the recital. One of the major interests of the group is to create and stimulate interest in creative dancing. Sue Kimball is president of the group. Helen Martin is director of Orchosis, Lois Weaver of Pre-Orchosis and Mrs. H. H. Flood accompanist for the recital.

Choral Union Will Portray 'The Seasons'

The miracle of the sprouting, growing and death of crops will be portrayed by music by the 600 voices in University Choral Union at a public concert Sunday, May 7, at 3 p. m. in the Coliseum. The Choral Union will sing "The Seasons," a secular oratorio by Haydn, assisted by the University's symphony orchestra. Many of the natural sounds of the seasons—wind, thunder and lightning—are reproduced by the voices and the orchestra. Doris Ruth Ganz, soprano; Roger Dexter Fee, bass; and Franklin E. Barger, tenor, will be featured as soloists. Miss Ganz has appeared as a soloist in oratorio presentations at Columbia University, Hastings College, Nebraska Wesleyan University and the University of Nebraska. Voice Teacher She spent a summer season with the Dallas Light Opera Co. She has taught voice at several universities and is now at Nebraska Wesleyan University. Fee, winner of three scholarships to the American Conservatory of Music and a World War II veteran, is now a voice instructor at Drake University. He was formerly head of the music department at Illinois Wesleyan. Barger, a former member of the Denver Grand Opera Co. and a soloist in the Rocky Mountain States for 20 years, is now a rep-
