

Union Open House to Feature Western Style Entertainment

A come-as-you-are party, the theme will be Western and informality is the order of the evening for the annual Union summer open house, Friday June 9.

All events are free-of-charge, and highlighting the evening will be dancing to the music of Jimmie LeRiche in the ballroom—the "range," for the Open House. Square dancing will also be featured, with caller Kenneth Durm giving instruction on the Circle-two-Step. The Range will be "wide open" at 9 p.m., according to the Union committee.

Western refreshments will be pretzel sticks, popcorn, root beer, cider, and free in the Chuckwagon (Parlors ABC) Red and White table cloths will decorate the tables; and Cowboy crooners will occupy the juke box.

Western movies, dating back to Keystone slap stick, will be shown in the Roundup (cafeteria), with "pianola" by Ralph Hannaman. Bob Hope goes "south of the border" in the short "Going Spanish" in the little Mexican town of Los Poaches Eggo. "Muddles in Mud" comedy stars the Keystone Slapstick cops; and "Love Goes West" features Louise Massey and the Westerners in a light comedy with song. The two showings will start at 8:30 and 11 p.m.

Bingo, complete with prizes, will be held in the Game Room. Gene Sibson will be "el croupier."

The music of America, including the works of Ferde Grofe, George Gershwin, and Aaron Copeland, will be played in the Music Room thruout the evening.

The Craft Shop, under the direction of Mrs. Charles Colman, will hold continuous Open House thruout the evening and a variety of crafts will be on display. Those interested may sign for a series of lessons which will start next week.

General foreman of the Open House is Betty Roessler, Union committee member; and "cowhands" will be Eugene Sibson, Rodson Riggs, Marcia Pratt, and other members of the Union activities committees.

Picard Wins Cobbey Award

Fritz Picard is the first recipient of the $1,000 J. A. Cobbey Scholarship at the University, Dean of Students Affairs, T. J. Thompson, has announced.

The scholarship, one of the University's largest, was established with the University Foundation several months ago by J. A. Cobbey, Chicago lawyer and former University student.

Picard, 22, is majoring in history and English and plans to seek a Doctor of Philosophy degree in history after which he hopes to teach at a college. Picard possesses an average of about 88 per cent. He was a Regents Scholar from Geneva as a freshman, and has won two other scholarships since—the Frederick Stuff Award and the Regents' Upperclass Scholarship.

Picard was selected by the University's General Scholarship Committee of which Dean Thompson is chairman.

The theme of the conference is "More Powerful Than The Atom." Audrey Rosenbaum, Nebraska U and Don Nunnally, Midland, are conference chairmen.

School Heads Take Driver Training Class

A course for the instruction of driver education and training for Nebraska teachers and administrators started June 6. The class, held in the Love Memorial Library, will close Saturday.

The institute, was designed to provide practical solutions to current problems and to prepare teachers and administrators thru a discussion and presentation of the following topics: How to organize and conduct classroom and road instruction; practical plans for securing cars for schools; analysis of classroom units in the course of study; materials and effective teaching methods; road instruction plans in small and large schools; construction and use of psycho-physical testing equipment; home school co-operative driver-training programs; audio-visual aids in traffic safety, and driver psychology and accident prevention.

The course directors were Milton Beckman, Teachers college and LeRoy Ortgiesen, Supervisor of Driver Education, Department of Public Instruction.

The instructional staff consists of Kirk Collins, Assistant Educational Director, Accident Prevention Department, Association of Casualty and Surety Company, New York; J. E. Johnston, Traffic Engineer, Department of Roads and Irrigation; Dr. Floyd A. Miller, Supervisor of Secondary Education, Department of Public Instruction; E. P. Schroeder, Patrolman, Nebraska Safety Patrol; James W. Taylor, Bureau of Audio-Visual Aids, University of Nebraska, and Lt. O. H. Witt, Nebraska Safety Patrol.

Round-Up Fetes Six NU Classes

Six classes of the University were honored at the annual Round Up held in the Union June 3 to 5.

At the alumni luncheon, the honor classes introduced were those of 1890, 1900, 1910, 1920, 1925, 1930, 1940. Special tribute was paid the classes of 1890 and 1900.

Six classes were honored this year instead of the traditional five because of the class of 1925 request to observe its 25th anniversary.

Reunion of former classes began Saturday, June 3 with an alumni luncheon held in the Union ballroom. More than 450 former students attended the luncheon.

Separate classes held reunions over the weekend, and the round up closed with commencement exercises Monday morning of the 79th class to graduate from the University of Nebraska.

General chairman of the round up committee was Walter White, assisted by Robert Lau.

Colorado Coeds Get 2 a. m. Hours

It happened at Colorado. Senior week was originated this year at the University of Colorado, and one of the main features as far as women students was concerned was the creation of late hours for all senior women.

June 5, 6, 7 and 9 were declared 1 a.m. nights. Thursday June 8 was set as a 2 a.m. night, and all women in the University were eligible to stay out on that night.

The Colorado AWS board has also announced that next fall women coeds will be allowed two 2:30 a.m. nights each five weeks.
