

Marines Continue Han Push

Planes Use Kimpo Airfield

In their drive towards Seoul, U. S. marines Monday plunged to the Han river just across from the city and were probing for crossings under cover of fighter planes. Captured Kimpo airport was issued for the first time.

United Press correspondent Ernest Hoherech reported in a dispatch dated 12:30 a. m., that the marines had reached the Han west of Seoul after a day of continuous advance.

While the marines now sighted Seoul from two directions, the U. S. Seventh division—now nearly half South Korean—landed at battered Inchon and marched at once toward the Seoul front to reinforce the advancing marines.

As the marines let go on their attacks, the government here Monday unwrapped its long awaited "master blueprint" for building up the nation's civil defenses against a sneak atomic attack.

Russian Power

In the 148-page document was warning that Russia has "the power to attack our cities in force and that any atomic blitz would be particularly successful."

A federal civil defense administration, state and local organizations, and "millions" of civilian volunteers to act as block wardens, rescue squad members, auxiliary forces, fire guard and shore patrolers was called for to counteract the effects of such a blow.

At the same time the United States suggested plans for mass defense, thousands of communist troops were reported to be massing along the Chinese-Indo-China border Monday and two French garrisons guarding invasion routes have been attacked. Some military observers said the attacks might be the start of a general red offensive.

The French have a sizable army in Indo-China which is fighting the native Vietnamese communist forces. Some speculation has been mounting that Indo-China might be the next place the communists would attack in their attempt to conquer Asia.

Harold E. Stassen in New York said Monday it would be at least ten days before he would disclose his connection with "An important national move" which he previously said caused him to cancel a Chicago speech last Friday.

The president of the University of Pennsylvania and former governor of Minnesota told reporters he is "not prepared or at liberty as yet" to make an announcement.

In Nebraska Leonard Motley, 51, Lincoln Negro, was sentenced to 15 years in the state penitentiary Monday after abruptly ending his scheduled murder trial with a plea of guilty to a charge that he shot a man he found with his white wife.

Gives Sentence

No emotion was shown by Motley as he heard the sentence pronounced by Judge R. A. Robinson. It came shortly after the sudden switch in Motley's plea.

The British government announced Monday that it will temporarily halt the export of machine tools vital in war production to the Soviet Union and her satellites.

A FBI investigation was begun Monday to determine whether sabotage caused an explosion which damaged a "Voice of America" overseas radio transmitter at Bethany, O.

Destroys Tower

In announcing the inquiry, the state department said the explosion early Sunday destroyed a 165-foot tower of a transmitter which beams American official broadcasts to Europe and Latin America.

At Doane college President David Crawford said at the opening convocation that "the threat of Russia communism is the most difficult this country has ever faced."

It was the opening of the 79th year for Doane college.

'51 Cornhusker Picture Date Set

Dick Kuska, editor of the Cornhusker, announced that the pictures for the yearbook will be taken starting Monday, Sept. 25, Warner Media Studio, 714 Federal Securities Building, will do the photographing. All pictures are expected to be taken by Christmas vacation.

The unaffiliated students should go to the Cornhusker office Monday, Sept. 25, between the hours of 7 and 5 p. m. to sign up for a convenient time to have their pictures taken. The office is in the basement of the Union.

Boys are required to wear ties and suit coats. A white blouse or a sweater will be suitable attire for girls.

The organized houses on the campus will be notified at a later date as to the time to have their pictures taken.

111 in Chorus . . . Singers Named By Westbrook

University Singers for 1950-51 will have 111 members, Dr. Arthur Westbrook, director, announced Monday.

Word received from Washington indicated that all band members must report to Camp Carson for physicals. The announcement said that no deferments would be granted. One of the members, James Wroth, is a senior in the ROTC unit of the Nebraska A.O.T.C.

Col. H. R. Turner of the Nebraska National Guard pointed out several other non-divisional units of the guard from surrounding states had been called to active duty.

Yearbook Staff Position Open; Fulton Resigns

The resignation of Sarah Fulton as managing editor of the yearbook has left vacant the position of one of the three managing editors.

Miss Fulton turned in her resignation because of being overpointed in the AWS activity point system. The point system specifies that no University woman may carry more than 20 points at any time during the school year.

Name of the student who will fill the vacancy will be announced next week after a meeting of the Committee on Student Publications, Editor Dick Kuska indicated Monday.

Other activities of Miss Fulton include head solicitor of AUP and Tansels. She is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Freshman Drama Group to Meet

All freshman men and women interested in the details of the freshman acting group are invited to attend a meeting Thursday, Sept. 21, at 7 p. m., in room 201 Temple.

This group was originated last year by Dallas Williams, Director of the University Theater. Fifteen or 20 members are chosen each year for the group according to ability and interest. They will produce a series of one act plays and one big production during the coming year.

Beanie Sales Remain Open To Freshmen

It's still not too late to buy those freshman beanies. Sales by the Innocents Society are continuing in the office of W. C. Harper, Room 201, Administration building. Individual Coed Counselors are also selling the red beanies with the white '54 on the front.

According to Bob Moher, Innocent in charge of sales, about 800 have been sold by that organization. "The tradition seems to be gaining much cooperation," he said.

Gene Berg is assisting in the Innocent sales. Peg Mulvaney is in charge of the Coed Counselor campaign.

43rd Guard Band Gets Active Call

Includes Fifteen University Men

Fifteen University students received their call to active duty when the 43rd Army band of the Nebraska National Guard was activated Saturday night.

The Lincoln unit will report to Camp Carson, Colo., about Oct. 15. Although a member of the Nebraska National Guard, it is not an element of the 34th Infantry division of which the Nebraska guard is a part. The division has its own band.

News of activation came as a surprise to band members who had supposed that they would be one of the last units to be called.

Roger Phipps, senior business administration student, expressed the feelings of many of the University students this way:

"Naturally we were all surprised when the word came through that we had been activated. We are disappointed that we will not be able to finish our college right now. However, if our government needs us, we must go."

The University students called were: Ed Doll, Don Engle, Jerry Fairchild, Roland Goin, Bob Harrison, Dan Johns, Erle Kendle, Roger Phipps, Dick Reid, Bob Sandstedt, Art Schmeer, Don Stack, Al States, and James Wroth. The band leader, W/O William Spischal, is a graduate student at the University.

Word received from Washington indicated that all band members must report to Camp Carson for physicals. The announcement said that no deferments would be granted. One of the members, James Wroth, is a senior in the ROTC unit of the Nebraska A.O.T.C.

Col. H. R. Turner of the Nebraska National Guard pointed out several other non-divisional units of the guard from surrounding states had been called to active duty.

'Sister' Frosh Party Tonight

The Coed Counselor freshman party will be held in the Union Ballroom tonight. The party starts at 7:30 p. m. and will be the first meeting of the "Big Sisters" and the "Little Sisters" in mass.

About 450 girls are expected. The evening's program includes a skit, group singing and refreshments.

One Coed Counselor from each of the 14 affiliations will participate in a skit concerning life on the campus. Tish Swanson and Nancy DeBord are in charge of the skits.

The party, which had been scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 14, was postponed because of the redecoration in the ballroom. The event had formerly been held in Ellen Smith hall. This is the second consecutive year the party has been in the Union.

"Big Sisters" have been contacting their "Little Sisters" to help them register. They sold freshman "beanies" and the "N" books. The Coed Counselors have been having coke dates with the new girls and have acquainted them with the campus and the city of Lincoln.

Freshman Drama Group to Meet

All freshman men and women interested in the details of the freshman acting group are invited to attend a meeting Thursday, Sept. 21, at 7 p. m., in room 201 Temple.

This group was originated last year by Dallas Williams, Director of the University Theater. Fifteen or 20 members are chosen each year for the group according to ability and interest. They will produce a series of one act plays and one big production during the coming year.

Other activities of Miss Fulton include head solicitor of AUP and Tansels. She is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Pepsters Mass Meeting Set Wednesday; Patsy Clark, Yell Squad on Program

"Patsy" Clark, University athletic director, will speak to freshman pepsters at the mass meeting Wednesday at 7 p. m., in the Union ballroom.

An estimated 308 pepsters including 154 boys and 154 girls are expected to attend the first meeting of the 1950 pep group. As a part of the program, Yell Squad members will demonstrate different yells. Frank Pincola, Yell King, assisted by his all male squad, will be in charge.

Bring ID Cards
Pepsters attending the session are requested to bring their ID cards, $5 for their football ticket and a card from their organization which authorizes them as an official representative of that group. These items are necessary in order to receive football tickets in the pep section on the 50-yard line.

Dick Kuska, vice president of Coed Cobs, said that freshman members must attend this meeting in order to get tickets.

In charge of the freshman cheering section are Kuska and Janet Carr, representative of Tansels.

Alternate members of the group are also invited even if they have already purchased their tickets.

Cornshucks Calls For Workers

Cornshucks needs business staff workers.

All students interested in working on the business staff should meet at the Cornshucks office in the Union basement at 4 p. m. Wednesday.

Business manager Al Tully will be on hand to assign duties and explain the situation to prospective workers.

NU Theater Opens Tryouts

Dean Graunke, director of the first University theater production announced that tryouts for "Antigone" will begin Wednesday. Tryouts will be held from 3 to 5 p. m., and 7 to 9 p. m., Wednesday, and continue Thursday from 7 to 9 p. m. They will be in Room 201, Temple building.

The story is based on the Greek myth of Antigone, a Greek maiden, and her father, Edipus. Antigone becomes a martyr when she is put to death because she attempts to bury her brother, Polynices, against the orders of Creon, the new Regent of Thebes.

The adaptation used was first displayed in Paris in 1945 and 1946, during the German occupation. A few revisions had to be made at that time because of the marked likeness of the dictatorship of Creon to that of Hitler. The modern is used with formal attire during the performance which lasts one hour and 40 minutes.

Union Issues Call To Willing Frosh

One of the busiest places on the Cornhusker campus is the Union activity office. The union is again issuing a call to all freshmen. Workers for the many phases of activities are needed.

Those frosh possessing special talents are very welcome. The jobs are varied and there are places for nearly everyone willing to work. Students are needed for everything from helping plan dances and convocations to typing letters.

As one worker in the activity office stated, "Helping in union activities has many advantages. A student can do much to make the union a better place, and yet have a good time and meet new friends at the same time."

Schlaphoff New Chairman Of Home Ec Department

Dr. Doretta Schlaphoff is the new chairman of the department of home economics. Miss Schlaphoff served this past year as the chairman of the foods and nutrition department.

She replaces Miss Margaret Fedde who is now in Wiesbaden, Germany, employed by the Hi Commission of Germany. Miss Fedde is working on a development and educational program for rural women and girls.

Dr. Schlaphoff is a graduate of the University. She got her Master's degree at Michigan University and Doctor's at Cornell.

Dr. Josephine Brooks is chairman of the division of foods and nutrition. Miss Ann Benz and Mrs. Helen Conley Sulek are new instructors in the foods department filling the teaching vacancies left by Mrs. Lois Mickle and Dr. Brooks.

Mrs. Virginia Trotter is an Assistant Professor in housing and household equipment replacing the vacancy of Mrs. Dorothea Plum.

Miss Fern Pentz Brown is teaching and doing research work in the division of child development and family life.

CORNHUSKER SPIRIT—The big "N" portrayed by the Freshmen pepsters at each football game. The boys in red sweaters form the "N" and the girls in white, the background. The 346 freshmen students form the card section and sit on the 50 yard line.

In its second year of action, forms a large red "N" on the stadium side of the stadium. Boys will wear red sweaters with white megaphone emblems, and the girls, white sweaters with red megaphones. All squad members must wear red freshman beanies.

In charge of the pepsters will be Corn Cobs and Tansels members. Approximately ten will be in each group.

John Connelly and Joel Bailey headed the group during its initial year.

Refreshments will be served at the meeting Wednesday.

Campus Cop Tells Parking Penalties

After Monday, Sept. 25, the ax will fall on parking violators.

According to Sgt. John Furrow of the campus police, regulation parking violation tickets will be given to students and faculty members who park their cars after that date without parking stickers in restricted areas.

Deadline for obtaining the parking permits is Tuesday at 5 p. m. They can be obtained from the Student Council booth in the Union.

Decals identifying permit holders are being affixed to cars at a station set up in the parking lot north of the Social Science building. The station will remain open until 5 p. m. Wednesday afternoon.

To Police Campus

Furrow and his staff will begin regular policing of the campus parking stalls Monday. Students receiving tickets must present them at the campus police office in the West Stadium within ten days after issuance.

The first two tickets, according to Sergeant Furrow, will be dismissed, however, as courtesy tickets. They will be filed against the student and his car registration at the campus police office.

Third time violators will automatically have their names submitted to Dean T. J. Thompson, if a student, and Dean Carl Borgmann, if a faculty member. The administration will then have charge of prosecution.

"Students who do not submit their traffic tickets to the police within ten days after issuance will also be turned over to the administration," says Furrow.

To Trace Cars

Unmarked or locked cars violating the parking rules will be traced through the state office in the State Capitol building and through the Lancaster and Lincoln city files. All Nebraska registered cars can be found in this way.

Though the plans for prosecution are not clear-cut, the general procedure for punishment is through the Lincoln Municipal court.

Furrow emphasized that last year's stickers are no good for the current year, and that the new stickers are the only ones authorized for campus parking.

Permits will not be necessary on Ag campus and students living within eight blocks of the campus are not eligible to receive the permits.

Residence Changes

If a person changes his residence during the school year and is eligible for a permit, he should see the Student Council to obtain a sticker.

Sergeant Furrow explains that parking on city campus parking stalls and lots is restricted only between the hours of 7:30 a. m., and 3:30 p. m. "After 3:30, the campus is open for parking to everybody, though red-line parking is still prohibited," he says.

Parking facilities have been increased this fall by 75 stalls. In addition, as soon as operations permit, a new lot will be opened at 14th and Vine streets. The ground must be cleared and graded before the lot is available to faculty and students.

YWCA Tells Membership Drive Plans

The YWCA will begin its annual membership drive Wednesday. Emphasis will be placed on obtaining members who will participate in all phases of the Y's activities.

Solicitors will contact girls living in organized houses. Those living off the campus will be contacted also.

First event of the year will be a rendezvous Monday, Sept. 25 from 3:30 to 5:30 p. m. at Ellen Smith Hall. Any girl who is not a freshman is urged to attend the meeting. Freshmen girls must wait six weeks before they can take part in any campus activity.

Many Benefits

Some of the benefits of the organization listed by Ruth Shinn, YW director are: making new friends, exchanging ideas with other students, training for leadership, working on a specific project, learning of intercollegiate conferences and summer projects and participating in a significant national and world movement.

Voting members of the Y must participate in at least one major activity. Some of the commission groups open to girls on the city campus are: knitting and discussion, beliefs on trial, comparative religions, intercultural, personal values on campus, social service tours, freshmen commission, worship workshop, current affairs, noon book review, family relations, community service, and senior commission.

Committees on which girls may serve are: publicity, social, office staff, membership and conference co-op.

Membership Provision

Membership in the local YW offers participation in the World Student Christian Federation, a world-wide organization. The YW is represented in 735 communities and on 617 campuses in the United States.

Members may also participate in the summer intercollegiate program of the "Y". Last year, 108 girls were able to obtain paid government jobs for the summer as a result of their membership.

The membership fee is $1.50 per year, or $1 a semester.

Corn Shucks needs an Art Editor

The humor magazine's present art head has just received his greetings and will soon be army bound. Anyone interested in the position please see Editor Frank Jacobs in the Corn Shucks office for details.

Kosmet Klub Smoker Tonite

Tuesday evening is the date for the Kosmet Klub smoker.

Designed to acquaint prospective workers with the program of the organization, the meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. Room 316 of the Union, according to Frank Jacobs, vice president.

Active members will meet at 7 p. m., Room 316 of the Union.

All workers must be first semester sophomores and have maintained a 4.5 average during their first year of work. Two men from each organized house, as well as any independent student who so desires, may attend the meeting.

The men's dramatic society annually sponsors fall and spring show revues. The fall show includes a number of skits by various organized men's groups on the campus. The spring revue is an original play with an all male cast.

Workers sell advertising, do stage work and sell tickets for these revues, as well as other Kosmet Klub sponsored events.

"Workers will be judged on the quantity and quality of their work; the top men will be selected for membership," said Jacobs, who is in charge of workers.

The Kosmet Klub smoker for prospective workers will be held tonight at 7:30 p. m. instead of Wednesday evening as previously reported in The Daily Nebraskan.

Student Council Plans Meeting On Sept. 27

The Student Council will hold its first meeting of the year Wednesday, Sept. 27. According to Rob Raun, president, the Council will be unable to meet until that date due to the fact that six campus organizations have not yet elected their Student Council representative.

Organizations still lacking representatives are BABW, ISA, Engineering Exec board, Inter Fraternity Council, YWCA and the Law association.

The following officers will be elected at the first Council meeting: treasurer, secretary and corresponding secretary. Present officers include, besides Raun; vice president, Bob Parker and judiciary chairman, Gene Berg. Hold-over members of the Council, in addition to the officers are Bruce Kennedy, Betty Green and Shirley Allen.

The schedule of work for the first meeting calls for completion of plans for the student migration, election of additional Council officers and discussion of plans for the election of class officers.

The six holdover members of the Council will continue to meet with the faculty sub-committee on general organization for discussion of the Student Council constitution. The new constitution, completed last year is still under discussion by the faculty sub-committee. Revisions and additions will be recommended by this faculty group.
