Troops At Seoul Suburb

Truman Planning High Cost Fight

U.S. marines cut through the Seoul suburb of Yongdungpo on the southwest bank of the Han river and stabbed at the northern outskirts of Seoul Thursday in some of the stiffest fighting since the Inchon landing Sept. 15.

The rapid march of the marines toward the city was slowed in most places by machine gun, mortar and anti-tank fire. The city was reported under martial law and deserted by its communist government. Leaders fled by automobile leaving only the military to rule the city.

One dispatch said that the northern prong of the marine attack had knocked the reds from hills astride a railroad three miles northwest of Seoul.

Meanwhile in Washington President Truman said he was working on plans to meet the high cost of living. He said his administration is trying to avoid the mistakes of the last price control period. The president also said he was working on a plan to combat the fact that wages are not going up while prices are rising fast.

In Nebraska, floods, tornadoes and hail storms kept everyone wondering what the weatherman would send next.

Rivers Flood
The Little Blue and Big Blue and the Republican rivers and their tributaries were flooded and a series of tornadoes hopped about southern Lancaster county doing considerable farm damage.

Soviet objections to introduction of a measure aimed at prohibiting Russian jamming of the Voice of America and other western radio broadcasts were voted down Thursday in the United Nations general assembly.

The powerful 14-member steering committee put the item on the agenda of the general assembly by a vote of 12 to 2—Russia and Czechoslovakia voting in the negative.

Acheson's Program
Secretary of State Dean Acheson's new anti-aggression program got a green light for full United Nations consideration.

Republican leader Harold E. Stassen Thursday denied that he will be Francis P. Matthews' successor as secretary of navy.

The house brought ban on economic aid to nations carrying on military trade relations with Russia or her satellites.

It approved, instead, a provision giving the national security council power to stop aid to any nation whose trade with Russia is found to be "contrary to the security interests of the United States."

Senate Passes Bill
The senate has sent to the white house a bill calling for registration of communists and permitting internment of potential spies and saboteurs in time of war.

Whether President Truman would sign or veto it remained a question.

George C. Marshall took the oath Thursday to become the nation's third secretary of defense.

He took the oath after the senate confirmed his appointment Wednesday. Senators Wherry and Butler of Nebraska opposed the appointment.

Physiology Classes Moved

The Physiology department is no longer located in the Pharmacy building. The departments of anatomy and physiology have moved to the new home in the Pharmacy building, just west of the Pharmacy building. The old quarters at Pharmacy have been taken over by the Pharmacognosy department.

Dr. Pace, Dean of the Physiology department, stated, "The new location is a great improvement and is almost adequate for our needs. However, cooperative projects in Physiology are being carried on Ag. Campus in the study of animal husbandry and in research of tissue culture."

Dr. Pace said that the new building would provide greatly needed extra space which would make possible research projects such as studies in cellular growth, cellular respiration, and hormones. He added that there were now three graduate laboratories, a separate undergraduate laboratory, a seminar, and other special laboratories.

Union to Show Comedy Film

Coeds to Choose YW Commissions

Leadership, family relations, community service and book reviews are only a few commissions groups that upperclass women may sign up for Monday at the YWCA rendezvous.

The rendezvous is designed to give women students opportunities to see what the YW groups are and those the ones in which they are most interested. Hours are from 3 to 5:30 p.m. This gives students with late classes opportunity to attend, said Shirley Ransdall, chairman.

Alice Jo Smith, secretary of the YW is in charge of the program which will include introduction of commission leaders and officers. Sue Allen, YW president, stressed that the rendezvous is informal, and students have chances to meet girls with whom they will work.

All Invited
Anne Jane Hall, social committee chairman, is in charge of the refreshments which will be served. All upperclass women are invited to attend whether they are members or not.

Two new commission groups have been organized this year—the senior group and family relations. Nancy Porter will be in charge of the senior session which will include discussions on problems coeds may encounter upon graduation.

The section on family relations, which will be led by Ruth Trautman, was organized this fall as a result of interest shown in a similar project last summer sponsored jointly by the YW, YM and the Union.

Similar Project
According to Miss Allen, if enough interest is shown in the commission, a project like the one last summer may be planned.

Girls who would like to sell candy and other supplies at houses where they live may be interested in the conference co-op commission, said its leader, Nancy McNally. Proceeds from this commission help pay expenses of YW members who attend the Estes conference in the summer and the national assembly.

The noon book reviews are planned especially for Lincoln girls. Members meet once a week for a luncheon followed by a review. Among books reviewed in past years are "Mature Mind," "Magic Mountain," and "Man from Nazareth." Ruth Speer is in charge of the group.

Hubka Named
One change has been made in commission leaders, Mary Hubka, in absence of Audrey Rosenbaum.

Ag Park Permits Deadline Today

Parking permits will be on sale at the Ag Union from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. today and today only.

The permits, sponsored by the Ag Exec. board, are required at all University parking lots and along campus streets. They cost 25 cents.

Students must present their car registration and ID cards before permits will be granted. If students are not registered in the College of Agriculture but take some classes there, they must present their green registration slips. All students who park their cars on Ag campus must purchase the parking permits.

Students who have already purchased parking permits for the city campus will not need another permit for the Ag Campus. All students are urged to obtain their permits as soon as possible or they may be paying for similar tickets at the Lincoln Police Station.

AUF Vacancy Announced

Jo Lisher, All University Fund director, reminded again that students who wished to fill the vacant solicitations board position should have their application in the AUF box today. To be eligible, a candidate must be a sophomore with at least a 4.5 average.

Frosh Hop Tickets—freshmen students buy tickets to the Saturday night Frosh Hop, sponsored by the Innocents Society and Corn Cobs. Special plans by the entertainment committee include skits about each campus organization. In addition each organization will be represented by an activities booth. Representatives will explain the work of each activity. Dancing will continue until 12 p. m. to the music of Aaron Schmidt and his orchestra.

Those granted Sears-Roebuck awards, worth $100, are Mildred Athey, Carylyn Buss, Marilyn Fredricks, Lois Kiehfater, and Louise Watkins.

Union Pacific, Carl Grey scholarships, valued at $100, were awarded to Wanda Ham, Elva June Miller, Bonnie Tank, Margaret Rainforth, and Shirley Sukstorf.

Evelyn Kunc earned the $150 KFAB, 4-H Public Speaking Award.

Frosh to Invade Union For Annual Hop Activities

"Cuffmates" Reign As Latest Fad

A new fad has hit the University campus. Instead of being pinnates, it is strictly the latest thing in love affairs for a couple to be "cuffmates."

The fellow in the happy pair needs not risk a tubbing because he does not have his fraternity pin, since he may continue to possess and wear it even after becoming "cuffed."

To become "cuffed" the only thing a fellow needs to have is a pair of dime store police handcuffs which he and his girl may sport together.

Congratulations are in order for Priss Jones and Jack Greer, who are the originators of the new "cuffmates" idea.

Calendar Sale Headed By Rediger

Poochie Rediger has been appointed head of the Builder's new calendar sales this year.

As announced Wednesday at a meeting of the Builder's board, the 1950-1951 publication will be a calendar of American colleges and universities. In the past the Builders has published its own calendar.

About 30 American schools, including the University, will be pictured in the calendars which are published by the Livingston Printing company of Pennsylvania.

University Honor
According to Gene Berg, Builder's president, the University should feel honored to be one of the few schools asked to be represented in the calendars.

The calendars have about 30 pages. Miss Rediger expects books to arrive about Nov. 1. "Sales will begin as soon as the calendars arrive," she said.

Other business included the resignation of Bill Dugan as membership chairman. The vacancy will be filled in the next few days from last year's workers.

Discontinue Scarlet
The board decided to discontinue publication of "Scarlet and Cream," newspaper sent to high schools in the state. "We want to find out just how valuable the paper is," said Berg, "and how many high school students actually read it."

Meetings of the Builder's board will be held each Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the Union.

Practice Session Scheduled For 1950 Pepster Squad

All members of the new pepsters squad must attend the practice session Saturday at 1 p. m., in the East stadium.

Attendance will be checked at the meeting Saturday. Also required to attend are Corn Cobs and Tassels who are squad leaders.

Nearly 400 pepsters and other students were present at the first meeting Wednesday night of the pepsters when Jake Geier, University gymnastics coach, spoke. "Pop" Kline led the pepsters in group singing.

Aaron Schmidt showed slides and explained the card section procedures.

The Yell Squad, under leadership of Yell King Frank Piccolo, presented yells and acrobatics.

27 Campus Organizations To Explain Respective Plans

Freshman students will have a chance to get acquainted with campus activities at the Frosh Hop, Saturday evening at the Union. Representatives from 27 University organizations and activities will be on hand in Parlors A, B, and C to explain the activities from 8:30-12 p.m.

Aaron Schmidt and his orchestra will play for dancing, which will be held in the ballroom from 9 to 12 p. m. Singing with Schmidt's orchestra will be Jim Kingsley, talented University student. Kingsley will play his own piano accompaniments.

Intermission entertainment starts at 10:30 when presidents of University organizations will be presented to the audience. Short satirical skits will be given which will burlesque different campus activities.

Tickets at Booth
Tickets for the Hop can be obtained in the Union booth all day Friday. Ducaze will also be sold at the door this evening. Price is 60 cents.

Organization representatives will be present in booths in parlors A, B and C to explain the functions of their respective groups and to give out pamphlets and literature to both freshmen and upperclass students.

Groups to be represented at the booths are: Associated Women Students, Student Council, Ag Executive board, Panhellenic council, Interfraternity council, Union board, Activities Board for Women, Mortar Board, Innocents, Farmers Fair Board, and NUCWA.

Cornhusker, The Daily Nebraskan, Cornshucks, University Builders, All University Fund, Tassels, Corn Cobs, Kosmet Klub, Nebraska Masquers, Red Cross, Coed Counselors, Home Economics Club, Independent Students association, Woman's Athletic association, YMCA, and YWCA.

Crests and emblems of the organizations will provide the decorations for the ballroom.

All representatives of the organizations participating will meet at 4 p. m. this afternoon in the Union ballroom. Booths will be assigned and additional instructions will be given.

To Reveal Activities
The Frosh Hop provides students with the opportunity to ask questions about the functions of and the openings in various campus activity fields.

For instance, a student may have worked on a school newspaper staff while in high school or may simply be interested in newswriting. He may want to know how he can be a "Rag" reporter. If this is the case, he can obtain all the information he needs at the Daily Nebraskan booth.

Frank Jacobs, innocent in charge of arrangements for the Hop, emphasizes that all University students are invited to attend, and that even the Activities Carnival is not exclusive to freshmen.

The annual affair is sponsored jointly by the Innocents society and Corn Cobs. The purpose of the Activities Carnival held in connection with it is to help entering freshmen to learn of the programs and projects of different campus groups.

The Innocents and Corn Cobs wish to stress that the Frosh Hop is not strictly a date affair.

Union Sets Frosh Worker Deadline

This is the last day for the freshmen to sign up to work in the Union for its activities pool.

When signing up freshmen put their name on the card and from there on they will be called to work in the various departments of the Union. They will not serve on one committee but on several and will thereby be able to decide what their interests are when they sign up the next year.

Some of the work freshmen will do will be running movies, mimeographing, ushering, helping in the book nook or music room.

No scholastic requirements are necessary for the Union activity workers pool and all University students are eligible. Points are given for the work. Freshman women will sign up for the pool when the Activities Mart opens after the first six weeks period.

Powell to Advise Med Enrollees

Pre-medical students who wish 1951 entrance to any accredited medical college in the nation must make application soon, according to Dr. Eugene F. Powell, pre-med advisor.

Powell stated that it is imperative that all applications be in by Dec. 1. This deadline must be met, because all acceptances to med college will be out by March 1.

Students who didn't take the May 13 test must take the Nov. 6 aptitude test if they wish to enroll in 1951. It is necessary that students who take the test fill out the special application sheet now in order that it will reach the testing service in Princeton, N. J., by Oct. 23.

Artist Prints Available From Union

Lending Service Open to Students

Prints of pictures by contemporary artists and old masters are now available to every University student for their rooms through the "Picture-Lending Library" sponsored by the Union. In promoting this project the University joins with colleges all over the nation.

The initial funds to purchase pictures for the picture-lending service were presented by the 1948 Kosmet Klub, from the receipts of their show and revue. From this the service was started with 38 prints, and has now grown to a library of 50. Last spring the Nebraska Art Association, gave $25 to the library from which 16 new prints were framed.

Most of these prints are framed and hang in the Union Book Nook and along the main corridor of the Union. All lending is taken care of by the Activities office in the Union, free of charge.

Ag YWCA membership drive for upperclass women started Tuesday.

Any woman student interested in joining the Ag YWCA may do so by signing up at the booth located in the Home Economics building between 8:15 a. m. and 5 p. m., Monday through Wednesday.
