Tech Relays Discontinued

Illinois Tech has announced they will discontinue the Illinois Tech Relays, the nation's largest indoor collegiate track meet.

Chief factor in the decision was the lack of accord among the coaches on eligibility regulation regarding the participation of freshmen, graduates, and transfer students, and the tendency of some coaches to keep "name" performers for other meets.

Three existing American indoor records have been set in the Tech Relays and a fourth tied. In 1947 Herb McKenley of Illinois ran the 440-yard dash in :47.9. The same year Dick Houden of Wisconsin sprinted the 70-yard dash in :07.0 to tie the record. Garion Campbell of Michigan Normal equaled the mark in 1948.

In 1948 Harrison Dillard of Baldwin-Wallace and Bill Porter of Northwestern ran the 70-yard low hurdles in :07.7, and Dillard set the 70-yard high hurdle mark in :06.4 the same year.

Students Present Variety Of Ideas on Korean War

Students have formulated a variety of opinions on the Korean situation. Optimism, pessimism and humor have been noted.

After analyzing the results of the poll, it is found that the general trend is toward the pessimistic side of the fence.

Dick Tobler, junior in College of Law, contends: "The Korean situation is a vast plot by government capitalists to start another world war. However, no matter what happens, there is bound to be another war."

Another slant was put on the problem by a junior in elementary education, Anslath Wilcox: "If we lose over there, we will lose face with those orientals who have placed their trust in us for so many years."

Taking the fatalistic attitude, assistant yell leader Don DeVries claims that "war is inevitable; if we weren't fighting in Korea, it would be someplace else."

Chem Major Speaks

A senior majoring in chemistry, Ruth Purney delved a little deeper to the core of the matter in stating: "Even if this situation does calm down, it will break out someplace else, as it already is in Germany. It is not a contest of who has the strongest army, but a battle of ideologies, and until we conquer this obstacle, there will be no world peace."

Gene Wohlner, pre-law sophomore, said: "The war in Korea will definitely effect the national economy. I believe that such measures as rationing and no used car sales are coming, as they did in the previous world war."

"Russia will back down because she is not well enough prepared. It is a means by which she is trying to 'feel' us out. Indeed, this is a test of the United States bloc," he said.

"World peace will not become a reality and the world will still be unsettled until democracy becomes all-powerful," was the statement made by Judy Pollack, freshman in secondary education.

Don Lehmkuhl, NROTC junior, believes that "it's going to be a deciding point relative to the international relations between United States and Russia. Our forces are shown to be far below their previous wartime rating. Russia, on the other hand, shows signs of planning. What does this all mean?"

All-out for the support of the United States, Donna Pilcher, sophomore at Ag college, looks on the bright side: "The United States is doing the best under the circumstances, and it is up to us to show Russia where we stand."

George Paynton, University football end, looking to sports, feels that: "If the present Korean crisis continues to be acute, it is likely to play havoc with the University's athletic program."

Bleary Eyed NU Men Offer Television Craze as Exercise

If you have noticed the fellows of NU going around the campus with red and slightly bleary looking eyes, don't suspect them right away. The obvious cause of this condition just might not be the real one. Believe it or not, they have probably been watching television the night before.

This actually could be the excuse since four of the houses on campus have television sets. And from all of the recent reports this is turning into quite a popular evening recreation.

A big problem that is always being discussed is where to take the evening's date. Where to take her, that is, that won't completely waste away the week's coffee and cigarette money.

Inexpensive Time

A new idea for a very inexpensive good time has been brought forward. How about watching one of the terrific movies that appears on television? Don't like the idea? It might become more exciting as the year goes on for many of the houses are working on promotional ideas for their TV set.

Those shows on TV that seem to be the most popular at the moment are, of course, the movies, hockey games, wrestling matches, musical shows, any sports events, (football games on the TV agenda for this fall—appropriate, don't you think?) and some of the commercials.

Rumor has it that some of the beverage ads are pretty terrific. And, of course, there are always those others that bring lots of laughs from the front room audience. Advertisers have finally found a way to bring some sort of a response to their wares. Isn't that encouraging?

Living Room Bleachers

Don't ever be surprised if you walk into one of the houses on campus and find bleachers taking up most of the space in some living room. In order to provide adequate seating facilities for the crowds expected on Saturdays for the crowds expected on Saturdays for football games, additional seats and bleachers are being built. (Always something new and different on the Nebraska campus!)

To make an afternoon or evening more interesting plans are being considered for concession stands that will furnish popcorn, candy, cold drinks, (our national soft drink, of course) cigarettes, and many others items which will undoubtedly add to the entertainment.

As time goes on and the crowds become frequent, someone will probably begin running off programs of schedules, with perhaps a map of the house as a helpful sideline.

Does this all sound a bit fantastic? Well, don't be too scornful of these big plans for this year's entertainment.

With television such a coming and promising field, the Nebraska students are simply being thoughtful and far-sighted in making plans for the future—which all goes to show the ingenuity and resourcefulness of all University students.

Korean War Tops Agenda At NSA Meet

The Korean War competed with campus problems for the attention of representatives of more than 300 American colleges and universities attending the Third Annual National Student Congress in August at Madison, Wis.

Students affirmed the United National position on Korea, strengthened their own stands on academic freedom, discrimination, and scholarships, but did not complete work on a revised Student Bill of Rights.

Dues in the U.S. National Student Association (NSA) were reduced by 20%, and the national headquarters were left in Madison, Wis., with a sub-commission to study other possible sites in the middle west.

Korean Resolution

On the "immediate challenge to student life and incentive" of the Korean situation, students supported the UN in application of Article 33 and 42 for mediation, conciliation and arbitration and for use of armed forces in breaches of peace. Students also condemned oppression as well as aggression and expressed sympathy and support "for the efforts of our fellow students in countries which are now struggling for independence and self-governing status."

Officers elected for the coming year were: President, Allard K. Lowenstein, 21, University of North Carolina; Vice-pres. of student affairs, Elmer Paul Brock, 24, La Salle College, Pa.; Vice-pres. of educational affairs, Herbert Goldsmith, 23, University of Wisconsin; Vice-pres. in International Affairs, Herbert Eisenberg, 23, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Executive Secretary, Shirley Neizer, 21, Simmons College, Mass.

committees will be to make arrangements for the Ag Union open house, to be held Friday, Oct. 13. Some plans for this affair may be discussed at this meeting, which makes it more important for all committee members to be present.

HELLO! HELLO! HELLO! Hatti Mann, 1949-50 "Hello Girl," steps from a bannered stage as she was announced to her title last year. Friday, Sept. 29, a new "Hello Girl" will be announced during a dance in the Union Ballroom held in her honor. The Walt Good-brod combo will furnish the music for the occasion which is one of the highlights of the social season for the unaffiliated students. Tickets are on sale in the Union lobby this week for 50c.

Ag Activities Meeting Today

All Ag Union activities workers are to meet in the recreation room of the College Activities building at 5 p. m. today.

Monday, Sept. 25 will be the last day that freshmen and all others who are interested in working on Ag Union activities will be able to sign for that work. All interested students are urged to register for the activity which attracts them most as soon as possible.

On the agenda for the meeting will be an explanation of Ag Union activities and the proposed plan of Union affairs scheduled for the year.

After the introductory meeting, of all Ag Union committees, the chairmen will call their committee members into separate meetings and tell them about the various functions performed by their group.

Students who are interested in working and have not signed for activities work are invited to attend the meeting, also.

Alpha Phi Omega Hold First Meeting

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity held its first meeting on Thursday, Sept. 21, with Dr. Floyd Hoover, assistant registrar, as guest speaker.

Thirty prospective members of the organization were welcomed and introduced, by Glen Curtis, president. "A large percentage of these men are expected to be recruited in the near future" stated Curtis. The principles of the organization were explained in short talks by Wiley Vogt, vice-president, and Bob Mills, secretary-treasurer. The meeting concluded with a speech on "Faculty Cooperation with Alpha Phi Omega."

All college men who have formally been affiliated with the Scouting movement, who desire to take part in the program and who maintain a satisfactory scholastic standing are invited to become members.

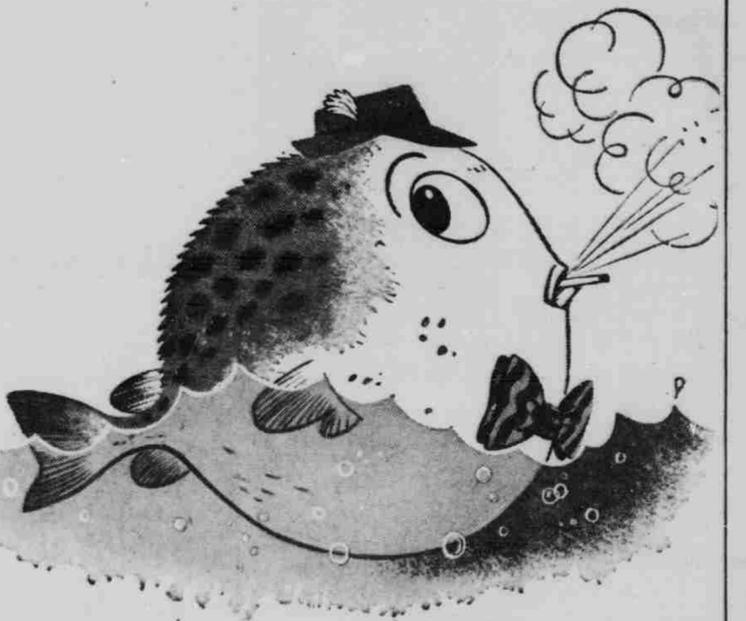

'Lounge Needed' Report Badgers

A student-faculty lounge! This is the desire of the University of Wisconsin's function and policy committee.

The committee believes that although friendly and courteous relations exist between the students and faculty, complete mutual understanding is lacking. It was suggested that a lounge would provide a common meeting ground for Wisconsin men and women and their instructors.

The student committee stated that more student representation on faculty committees might also help achieve this purpose.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests Number 2...THE BLOW FISH

"Shucks—I blew in when I should've blown out!"

Pity the poor Piscis! He's been making all those trick cigarette tests you've been reading about! He's taken one puff of this brand — one sniff of that. A quick inhale of cigarette "A" — a fast exhale of cigarette "B" — and he's still confused! Seriously, isn't the sensible way to test a cigarette to smoke pack after pack, day after day?

That's the test Camel asks you to make — the 30-Day Mildness Test. Smoke Camels — and only Camels — regularly for 30 days. Your "T-Zone" (T for Throat and T for Taste) — is the real proving ground for any cigarette. After you've tried Camels as your regular smoke, you'll know why . . .

More People Smoke Camels than any other cigarette!
