This column is provided for the expression of student opinion. Anonymous letters will not be published. However, pen names will be used upon request if names and addresses accompany each letter.

To the Editor: In reply to the letterip of yesterday in regard to the Student Health Center I would like to say that we are always open to suggestions and criticism and are more than glad to do anything possible to improve our service.

We do have a waiting problem. It is caused by our lack of facilities to take care of the large number of students at the same time. We have, however, tried to remedy this situation. Each record is stamped at the reception window with the exact time it is presented. This time is again recorded when the student sees the doctor.

Any person who absolutely needs to see a doctor will be seen at once, otherwise he will be seen as soon as possible. Any emergency will be taken care of immediately, as soon as it is brought to our attention.

As for the study time lost, we see no reason why students cannot study in the waiting room.

We are constantly on the lookout for methods to speed up our service. In a larger setup we could route students through faster but it is apparent that with such a small space we can only do so much.

S. I. FUENNING, M. D. Director Student Health Center.

"The Cornhuskers"

Come a runnin' boys Don't you hear that noise Like thunder in the skies? How it rolls along With a good old song For the sons of Nebras-ki. Now it's coming near With a rousing cheer That will drive all foes away So with all our vim We are bound to win And we're going to win today.

Chorus: For Nebraska and the scarlet For Nebraska and the cream Though we've gone through many a battle Our colors still are seen So in conquest and in victory We will wave them for the team, And 'twill always stir A Corn-husker The old Scarlet and the Cream.

AWS to Begin Activity Point Checkup; Organizations, Houses to Turn In Lists

Phyllis Campbell, chairman of the point system committee of the AWS board this week announced that the first check of women students would begin at once.

All house presidents are asked to report to AWS the names of persons in their house who are working in any activities. Activity presidents are to report their pointed positions and the names of the persons who hold them.

By limiting the number of college activities in which a girl may participate, the point system strives for three things:

- 1. To spread among the many students those offices and honors which have in the past been held by a few.
2. To benefit the organization or activities by assuring each position or office a student whose interests are concentrated rather than so scattered that her efforts become inefficient.
3. To protect outstanding individuals from being loaded down with more outside work than is safe for their studies or their health.

Presidents are also asked, said Miss Campbell, to make any suggestions for lowering or raising the points for a position or adding new pointed positions. Presidents are urged to weigh each position carefully as to the amount of work that the position entails.

Each girl is allowed a maximum of 20 points. The following is the list of the AWS Women's point system:

Table with columns: Activity, No. of Points. Lists various activities like AG EXECUTIVE BOARD, AG Y.W.C.A., ALL UNIVERSITY FUND, etc.

Table with columns: Position, Points. Lists various roles like Lay-Out Editor, Assistant Business Manager, Editor, etc.

Gustavson Names 19 New Profs

Nineteen new University faculty members of professorial rank, appointed for the current school year, were announced by Chancellor R. G. Gustavson.

The new staff members are mainly replacements for faculty members who resigned last spring or summer.

The list includes Harry Foster, professor of law, who comes to Nebraska from the University of Oklahoma law school. He received his bachelor of laws degree from Nebraska in 1936 and a master of laws degree from Harvard in 1941.

Three associate professors received appointments. They are Dr. Frank J. Dudek, a World War II veteran who comes to the University psychology department from Northwestern university.

Other new faculty members of the rank of assistant professor are: Dr. Lloyd K. Jackson, and Dr. George Seifert, mathematics; Dr. Robert E. Knoll, English; Mrs. Virginia Trotter and Mrs. Fern Brown, home economics; Burton L. French, agricultural economics; Dr. Nathan Blumberg, journalism; Dr. Don H. Larson, bacteriology; Clarence Fieck, speech; Dr. Colbert C. Held, geography; Anatol Helman, architecture; Mark Hobson, chemistry; Ervin W. Schlicher, animal husbandry; Dr. Charles M. Riley, geology; and Frederick W. Morrissey, economics.

Corn Cob Favors Adorn Students

Something new is now decorating the bodies of the student body. Many guys and gals are sporting small decorated corn cobs.

The trinkets were given out at the Frosh Hop by Corn Cob members. Each cob has a red or white ribbon with a safety pin attached.

What ever you do don't listen to Muzak! Believe me, that is not my idea, but that's the policy that the national Muzak office wishes to have. As one official put it, "Muzak is recorded music that is to soothe the nerves. It is to provide background music to help keep you relaxed. If a person deliberately listens to Muzak, our purpose is defeated."

What ever you do don't listen to Muzak! Believe me, that is not my idea, but that's the policy that the national Muzak office wishes to have.

Muzak is recorded music that is to soothe the nerves. It is to provide background music to help keep you relaxed. If a person deliberately listens to Muzak, our purpose is defeated. So there you are, the story of Muzak.

However if you must listen to Muzak you might listen to Ralph Flanagan's "Jousha." Flanagan, keeping his fame of the band of the fifts, has produced a wax that fits music for an Orson Welles production. With the band members offering the vocal, the record has a modern touch.

Off to a record start for his first recording is Gary Crosby. Gary, with the help of a friend, is doing a smashing business of selling over one million copies of "Sam's Song." The flip, "Simple Melody," is also helping Gary's popularity.

Dixieland jazz has once again taken the nation by storm. One of the favorites of this campus is "Bonaparte's Retreat" by Gene Krupa with Pee Wee King doing the vocal chords, Phil Harris has a fine arrangement of an old Dixieland favorite "Muskrat Ramble."

For those of you who like a musician that has his own style, listen to Ben Light at the Steinway. Light has arrangements all his own, which include a trace of the old upright, backroom piano. Light's offering of "Green Eyes," backed by timbales and a Spanish guitar keep your sense of rhythm beating until the last chord is sounded.

Hats off to Aaron Schmidt for his choice of records that were recently installed in the coin boxes at the Crib. Among those that will rate high with the campus population are "Tzena, Tzena, Tzena," by Mitch Miller, "La Vie En Rose," by Harry James, "El Mambo," by Perez Prado and "Orange Colored Sky" by Stan Kenton with King Cole on the vocal.

In the field of radio, the University's Radio Department is doing something different this year. Each Monday thru Friday, from 3 to 5 p. m., station KNU will broadcast simulated programs to the Union lounge. Under the able direction of Gaylord Marr, these programs will give each student the chance to try his work in front of a live mike. According to Mr. Paul Bogen, head of the radio department, any enrolled student may try out for these simulated broadcasts.

Under the direction of Mr. Erling Jorgensen, "Author of the Ages" will start its fourth year of production. This program, dealing with adaptations from great literature works, novels, plays and original stories, can be heard every Thursday evening at 9:30 p. m. over KFOP.

Blind Dater Reveals Woes To Counselor

"I have a woman, Mr. Anthony!" "Thank you. Now young lady, you have a problem?" "Yes doctor, my problem is blind dates."

"Suppose you tell me all about it." "Well, doctor, I was out with this drip... He couldn't dance, he couldn't talk... he was icky." "Now, Now! Surely he had some good points." "If he did, he hid them very well!" "Ummm, yes... and then?" "Then was the time I went to the Nu Phew picnic... I ran into a barb wire fence and got a scratch on my leg!"

"Would you mind showing the court the evidence, I mean the scratch? Anahhh... Thank you. Now Miss, what did the barb wire have to do with blind dates?" "He was chasing me!" "I see why... I mean, go on Miss."

"Then there was a time a blind date took me dancing at King's." "Stop right there, young lady! My advice is, never take a drippy date to King's. Everybody you know is liable to be there."

"Another question, Mr. Anthony. Should I obey the three-date rule?" "Depends on what kind of an impression you want to make. Do you want him to think of you as the girl he might like to marry some day, or as the girl he might like to take out next Saturday night?"

"Sure doctor! Any more advice?" "Yes, young lady! Beware of these 'good deals' your sorority sisters want to get you blind dates with. Next case..."

Sixty Groups To Perform At Band Day

Sixty bands with a combined membership of 3000 high school musicians will take part in this year's University Band Day, Don Lentz, University Band director announced Monday.

All available places have been filled very quickly, he said, and no more bands can be accepted. "It was a case of first come, first served, as long as the application was properly executed," Lentz explained.

Lentz said he regrets rejecting the applications from many of the state's finest high school bands. Band Day will feature the Nebraska-Penn State football game, Oct. 21.

The bands which will take part are: Ainsworth, Ashland, Auburn, Aurora, Beaver City, Beatrice, Beemer, Bertrand, Blair, Boelus, Broken Bow, Burwell, Campbell, Central City, Chapman, Clarks.

Columbus, Crete, Curtis, Creighton, Exeter, Fairbury, Fairfield, Falls City, Friend, Genoa, Hastings, Hebron, Hooper, Holbrook, Humboldt, Imperial, Kearney, Lincoln High, Lincoln Northeast, Minden.

Phi Gamma Delta National Drops Restrictive Clause

Phi Gamma Delta has recently become the first national fraternity to remove its discriminatory clause. The Phi Gam action took place at the fraternity's 102nd national convention held from Sept. 6 to 9 in Atlantic City.

The old bias clause was unanimously dropped by all chapters of the national following action of officials at a number of colleges and universities which threatened to close their fraternities groups with such clauses. The University was not one of the schools which passed non-discriminatory legislation.

In effect, the revised charter does not limit membership because of race, color or creed. There is a newly adopted clause, however, which would allow the fraternity to refuse admission to rushees who have communistic tendencies.

The old clause in the charter restricted members in Phi Gamma Delta to "anyone of Caucasian and Christian persuasions or tendencies."

Introduction to remove the clause in the national charter was first made immediately after the war. A committee was appointed two years ago to investigate the situation.

The discrimination clause was the major business of the Atlantic City convention. Seven Phi Gam chapters had been requested by their administration, Interfraternity council or student government to drop the clause, and 15 campuses brought up the matter.

Three Nebraska Fijis attended the convention, Jerry Matzke, Ted Wiedner and former president Leo Geier.

Matzke, an officer at the Nebraska chapter, disclosed his belief that there will be no immediate changes but dropping the clause will be a stepping stone for what may happen in the future.

"Whether it happens or not will come about through change in the times. The trend now is dropping clauses due to increased pressure by universities and movements throughout the nation," he said.

Interfraternity council president Bob Parker, in commenting on the situation, pointed out that where fraternity constitutions have been setup without discriminatory clauses, no problems have resulted. Parker commended the Phi Gam action.

Wayne Eisenhart, president of the local chapter, believes that the national action is definitely a step toward progress. "However, changes in the locals will depend on changes in the attitudes of the students in the locals themselves in the future," he added.
