A Jeopardy . . .

We watched the 1950-51 yell squad yesterday afternoon while they rehearsed a mythical game from the opening kickoff to the final gun. The nine-man team "ran through" this game as if it were Saturday afternoon instead of Wednesday. And their pep and enthusiasm were worthy of any football crowd.

This rehearsal was not an unusual practice. Rather it was typical, for the squad has been working on their contribution to school spirit since last May. Some of the members continued to practice and improve throughout the summer and all of them were "back in the harness" this fall, practicing at least two hours each day.

Hard work and strenuous practice do not, however, determine the success or failure of the yell squad. This is regrettable, for no one deserves more credit for putting their heart and soul into the improvement of Cornhusker spirit than these boys. But the most polished cheerleaders will fail if the student body, whom they must depend upon for support, have already decided against them.

There is some feeling against the move to inaugurate an all-male yell squad. Many students have expressed opinions that girls have been responsible for school spirit in the past, and without them, spirit will be almost non-existent. Others feel that boys do not have the ability to enthrall and stimulate a crowd. The comments are not directed against the present members of the squad, but against the principle of all-male cheerleaders.

The time for decision for or against this new plan is not this Saturday. It cannot be decided objectively until the end of the football season. Mistakes will be made in the first few games—these are expected as in any beginning organization or function. But the mistake that should not be made is to allow prejudice to influence the reception of the all-male yell squad Saturday afternoon. Such prejudice should be forgotten, ignored and repudiated. If it isn't, then we are all jeopardizing the spirit at our University.

Energetic 1871 Students Began NU's First Paper

University Publications have seen many changes since their first founding in 1871.

According to information in Love Library's Acquisitions, Serials and Catalog department, "The Hesperian Student" was Nebraska university's first regular publication managed entirely by students. Editors and reporters would find a marked contrast if they were to view the office of today's "Daily Rag."

Attic Newsroom

The first newsroom on the campus occupied an attic floor, and it remained one of the jobs of the staff to keep the fire going to heat the building. Original

New York School OKs Class Cuts

According to the new policy at Adelphi College, Garden City, New York, students on the "Dean's List" shall have no limit placed upon the number of absences from any class.

The list includes those students whose work during the preceding two semesters has averaged 2.5 or better.

Any announced tests or exams missed, will be considered failures for that particular exercise. An absence will in no case be reason for the repetition of any part of the work.

In any case of prolonged absence due to illness or other unavoidable causes, however, the student may petition for permission to make up the work without penalty.

Sigma Gamma Epsilon Elects New Officers

Sigma Gamma Epsilon, honorary geological fraternity, began their meetings for the first semester with the election of officers last Wednesday.

Officers elected were: Stan Hamilton, president; Eugene R. Reid, vice-president; Bob Becker, secretary; Jerry Mendelhall, treasurer; Stan Dietrich, scribe; and Jack Yelken, athletic director.

Barb Junior to Fill Post On 'Big Sister' Board

An opening for an unaffiliated junior woman in the Coed Counselor board has been announced. Marilyn Campfield, president of Coed Counselors urges all interested junior girls to apply for the position.

Applicants must have a 3.5 average and be able to attend all of the meetings which are held each Tuesday noon. Anyone interested may file at Ellen Smith hall Wednesday and Thursday.

Applications Open for Fulbright Aid

Opportunities for 600 Americans to undertake graduate study or research during the 1951-52 academic year in some foreign countries through the Fulbright Act, was announced by the Department of State according to R. W. Goss, Fulbright Program adviser on this campus.

The Fulbright Act permits the Department of State to use certain foreign currencies and credits gained through the sale of surplus property abroad for programs of educational exchange with other nations. Countries which provide institutions for this program are Australia, Austria, Belgium, Burma, Egypt, France, Greece, India, Iran, Italy, The Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, the Philippines, Thailand, Turkey and the United Kingdom.

The Act normally provides for one academic year and generally includes round trip transportation or a stipend, a living allowance and a small amount for necessary books and equipment. All allowances under the Fulbright Act are made in foreign currencies.

Students who are permitted to take advantage of the grants will study under renowned professors and specialists to further their education in all fields of graduate work and specialized research projects.

Interested students presently enrolled should request application forms at once from R. W. Goss, Room 111 Social Science building. All applications must be returned to the Fulbright adviser's office by Oct. 31.

Foltz Reveals NU Madrigals' 1950 Roster

University Madrigal singers for 1950-51 have been announced by director David Foltz.

The roster consists of 22 members: six sopranos, six altos and ten male voices.

Members of the group:

First soprano: Peggy Bayer, Pat Killion and Nancy Norman.
 Second soprano: Marjorie Danly, Gladys Novotny and Jo Ann Smith.
 First alto: Audrey Flood, Pat Olson and Janice Wagner.
 Second soprano: Nancy Button, Roberta Lewis and Sharon Voorhees.
 Tenor: Donovan Crandell, Bob Martell, John Moran, Rod Riggs and Ray Schaumberg.
 Baritone and bass: Robert Brown, Bruce Campbell, Lee Myhre, Milton Myhre and Jack Wells.

According to Foltz, the first appearance of the group will be during the last week of November. December will be the Madrigals' busy month as plans have been made for numerous appearances during the month.

The group will sing for both campus and off-campus programs. Many of their appearances will include singing at luncheons and dinner meetings.

The group meets each Tuesday and Friday at 4 p.m. in the Music building.

SOCIETY

Van's Vine

Bubble gum was passed Monday night by Shirley Allen. She announced that she would be married to Jack Selzer, December 17th.

The Alpha Chi's seem to specialize in novelty candy passing. Charmaine Marquenson's candy, passed for her pinning to Winton Buckley, was wrapped like Hadacol.

Jane Laughlin, who will be married Nov. 18, to Don Deter, passed a cake with a heart in the center which was inscribed "Jane and Don" in frosting.

Wedding bells will ring Oct. 29 for Nancy Wagey and Wayne Osburn. Nancy passed candy at the Gamma Phi house Monday.

Towne Club had two candy passings last week. One was from Shirley Mahr, who is engaged to Ronald McWilliams. The other was from Janet Carr, who announced her engagement to Willis Kroger. Janet will march down the aisle soon after graduation. Shirley and Ron have set no date for the wedding.

A few matrimonial events have also recently taken place among the Towne Club girls. Marriages were Shirley Heffelfinger and Ed Craran, Junie Greer and John Reta, Paula Penndray and Dave Belknap, and Virginia Seiler and Don Ostermiller.

Jerry Swanson surprised Jean Leadley Sunday night with a diamond ring.

A pledge leaped upon a chair last Monday night at the AGR house to announce the engagement of Eileen Derieg and Rob Raun. A chorus of "Goodnight Eileen Goodnight" followed.

The Theta's had a pair of pinning ceremonies this week. The ATO's marched to the pinning of Phil Wheeler and Don Coupens. Laura Scherff was pinned to Bob Water.

New fraternity pins in the Delta Gamma house belong to Bob Mastin, Paul Anderson, Ginger Nye and Ann Farrow are the respective proud owners.

Joyce Hunscoete recently passed candy for her summer pinning to Bob Kuhn.

Phi Gams and dates celebrated the pinning "Och" Schnutter and Jim Godfrey at Jerry Robertson's Saturday night.

Officially steady couples are Barbara Young and Jack James, and Jane Randall and Herb Saxton.

Among those attending the Sigma Nu picnic at Pioneer Park last Saturday were Pat O'Brien and Bill Knudson, and Norma Engle and Don Wynberg.

Dancing to the music of Harry James last Friday were Joan Forbes and Jim Winter, Ruth Raymond and John Leach, and Jo Miller and Charlie Curtis.

New Coed Sweater Styles To Dominate Fall Trends

College girls can take the credit for inspiring at least one of this season's important fashion trends. After looking at collegiate sweater sleeves, top designers have come up with down-to-earth shirt dresses, sleeves pushed up and staying put, and coats with sleeves pushed up, worn over wool sheath dresses with sleeves drawn tight to the wrist. The dresses come in flannel, in checked wool and knitted wool. They're snug, they're slim, they're comfortable—they look best on the move and they take wearing.

Basic sheaths and contrasting cover-ups—the illusion of two dresses for the price of one—dominate the dress-up department. Halter-topped taffetas bowed at the neck are transformed by a velvet jacket into a semisuit. Sapphire rayon velvet sheaths, open-necked, come with starting jackets. Jacketed, you start out in an informal mood; unjacketed, you're set for cocktails, dancing or any other semi-formal occasion.

Coats to Vary

While the accent is on slimness this year in dresses, the good news about coats is that no one shape dominates. It may be the enormous tent falling from sloping shoulders or a trim fitted reefer, this year velvet collared and cuffed. A revived favorite, designed originally by MADEMOISELLE, is the Chesterfield, full length or in the new shorter-than-long length.

Furs Are Different

And if this is your year for a fur coat, you're in luck. The new straight fur coats look slim—and wonderful, even in furs you might once have thought bulky—sheared raccoon and sheared fox. And colored furs such as jewel colored seal-dyed lapin—shockers just a few years back—are now quite as acceptable as conventional grays, blacks and browns.

Survey Shows Ideal Traits Of Roommate

Are you considerate? Are you loyal? If your answers are "Yes!" you might make some lucky person a good roommate.

Students from all over the United States were asked by the college board of the Going-to-the Sun College handbook what qualities they thought essential to a good roommate. Tabulations show a desirable roommate 1. is considerate (about lights, radio, use of room, etc.); 2. respects personal property and privacy; 3. is loyal; 4. goes at least half-way; 5. helps keep a neat room; 6. can discuss controversial questions without getting ruffled; 7. makes reasonable adjustments; 8. keeps reasonable hours; 9. cultivates a cheerful disposition.

If none of these traits sound familiar to you, perhaps you are on the negative side. A naughty roommate 1. thinks chiefly of self; 2. makes unreasonable demands; 3. betrays confidences; 4. borrows without asking; 5. leaves things scattered around; 6. argues heatedly; 7. is noisy—and noisy; 8. comes in late and wakes everybody up; and 9. is too solitary—or too sociable.

Add, Drop Office Remains Open

Add and drop procedure will now take place in the Administration building instead of the Military and Naval Science building.

Any student wishing to change his schedule either by adding a subject or dropping one should use the following procedure:

1. Pick up a work sheet from the registrar's office.
2. See his advisor and have the changes approved.
3. Secure the approval of the dean of his college.
4. Visit the Administration building and submit the work sheet with the proper signatures for registration in the desired classes.
