Cornhuskers Meet Indiana in Opener

By Bob Banks

Coach William Glassford is sending his crew through their last dress rehearsals this week before they go on stage for the real performance next Saturday. He is taking no chances on squad injuries before the Indiana opener. The Huskers were working out in sweat clothes during Tuesday night's scrimmage. Back Bob Schreiner and Center Ken Schroeder won't be ready for the test with the Hoosiers. Schreiner expects to be back in full dress by Monday. Schroeder won't make his appearance until the Kansas game. Both players were out jogging around the field.

Guard Don Strashelm was bothered with a tight leg muscle during the latter part of the workout. He expects to be ready to go against Indiana. The offensive platoon was kept busy adding final polish to their attack. Ball handling was emphasized. Fran Nagle looked good on the handoffs and should be decidedly better than he was in 1949. The timing was good throughout the entire session. A lengthy session was held on pass defense. Glassford had a group of freshmen working against the Husker defensive platoon. The brightest performers were Nick Adduci and Don Bloom. Both men looked good against the freshmen aerial attack. The pass defense was a varsity sore eye in last Saturday's game against the frosh. But Glassford pointed out after it was over that Bloom was the only first string back in on defense. Some time was spent on kick-offs. Dick Regier and Charley Toogood handled most of the kicking chores and got some good yardage. The squad finished the evening's practice with several 60 yard sprints. Sophomores A lot of sophomores will get their first taste of varsity ball in the opener. All of the press writeups about their sparkling careers in high school and frosh will be put to a serious test. Saturday will be their chance to prove they can give Nebraska football that extra shot in the arm it needs. When the Huskers go against Indiana they will be facing a team which had a mediocre 1949 season. The Hoosiers will be out to launch the 1950 season with a win over our Huskers. One thing decidedly in Nebraska's favor is the quarterback position. The Hoosiers will start Lou D'Achille, a sophomore, at the signal calling spot. But in spite of this fact Nebraska will have to watch him. In high school he was known as a 'Left handed Lujack.' D'Achille is rated one of the top sophomore prospects in the Big Ten and his port side passes could well put Nebraska completely at sea.

The football season is practically upon us with Saturday only two days off. Saturday is the day of the actual competition but the fervor and excitement that goes along with the game will begin long before the kickoff at 2 p.m. The newspapers have already begun making their weekly predictions along with radio sportscasters. The pregame rally gets under way at 7:15 p.m. Friday and everywhere you go on the campus itself you hear questions, such as, "what do you think of the Huskers chances?" or "who do you think will win Saturday?" Which all goes to prove that the Husker faithful are thinking and talking football. Now it all gets down to this: Friday night and Saturday afternoon, let's shout football! Let's get behind the pepsters and really go to town in the year's first rally, and more important, during the game. After Tuesday's practice, the last day of contact work before the game, Coach Glassford told his gridders that physically they were ready for the contest, that their coaches had done all they could do for them in preparing them for Saturday's struggle, and that now the rest was up to them—they had to get themselves ready mentally for Indiana. Spirit also has a lot to do with the mental attitude of the players. A team with a packed stadium definitely behind their every move plays a much more inspired brand of ball. But don't make the gridders just suppose that the fans are for them, let them know it—early and all the way.

When the Husker gridders meet the University of Illinois at Champaign in 1953 it will be the eighth meeting between the two teams with Nebraska holding a 5 to 2 edge. The largest Husker victory was in 1905 with the Scarlet on top, 24-6. The last time the two teams met was in 1925 with Nebraska winning, 14-0.

Four thousand Indiana-Nebraska bleacher seats will be placed on sale Saturday at 12:30 at the stadium. These will be sold at $2. Knothole tickets also will be available for youngsters at 50 cents.

Brown Palace Rolls; Tekes Take Thriller

The 6-ring aerial circus was in full swing again last night at Ag campus. Lobing and sizzling pigskins filled the late afternoon air. When the intramural battles were over the Farm House, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Brown Palace, Pioneer Coop, Pi Kappa Phi, and Cornhusker Coop clubs found themselves aboard the victory bandwagon. On field No. 1 the Farm House "A" seven fought a see-saw battle with the Theta Xi. Farm House's Krome jumped on a pass from center by the Theta Xi. Then followed a snappy pass play and the game was decided. For a moment it looked as if the Theta Xi's would solve the inorthodox spinner used by the Farm House aggregation but the Farmers switched their offensive set-up and kept the Theta Xi's guessing. The peppy, high-spirited Farm House pigskinners scored a touchdown seconds after the game was officially over and the score remained 6-0.

With the count knotted at 6-6 the two clubs churned up and down the field with neither team able to score before the final gun. On the 4-down yardage attempt the Z.B.T.'s had a pass intercepted on the second try. That decided the ball game. The T.K.E.'s went to control the ball for four down and put themselves on the long end of a 7-6 score.

Brown Palace

The Brown Palace definitely marked themselves as the team to watch this season. Their razzle dazzle play and trickery with the pighide proved too much for an outclassed Delta Sigma Phi seven. Masterminding the Palace club was Williams who flipped 3 touchdown passes and was on the receiving end of another.

Williams again connected with Chandler and the Palace team went ahead 13 to 0 at the half. The Brown Palace roared back to score three more times in the second half. When the final gun sounded the Delta Sig's had been dropped to the tune of 33 to 0.

In a hard-fought contest the Pi Kappa Phi's managed to down the Delta Chi's 19-0. Sheffield fired to McGowan just as the first quarter ended to put his club on the paying side of the ledger. Mick Sisley and company dug in and it wasn't until the third quarter that the Sheffield gang could hit pay dirt again. Naber intercepted a Delta Chi pass and raced all the way to score. The Pi Kappa Phi's scored again in the fourth quarter and went on to win 19 to 0.

The Cornhusker Coop downed the Theta Chi's 6 to 0 on field No. 6 and the Pioneer Coop won by forfeit when the Delta Sigma Pi ball club failed to show up.

Know Your Huskers

This year at last, Bill Glassford will be able to count on the services of Charley Toogood, veteran tackle from North Platte. Last year Charley received his third varsity letter in football. Charley is 23 years old, weighs 223, and is 6-1. He graduated from North Platte high school in 1945, in which he competed in football and track, lettering three years in each. In football he was voted all-state tackle by the Omaha World Herald. In track he was all-state in the shot-put and the discus two years in a row. He is playing in his fourth year of varsity football this year. He also lettered in the shot-put last year, placing third in the Big Seven Conference. He is a senior in teachers college and a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

No Sure Lineup For Minnesota

Two situations unique in Bernie Bierman's 16 seasons at the University of Minnesota's football coaching helm face the "Silver Fox" as he sends his Gophers into the final three days of preparation for the season's opener Saturday at Seattle against the University of Washington's Huskies.

For the first time in this span of years Bernie finds himself less than a week away from his first game without a fairly definite idea of how he will line his athletes up for the Husky encounter—either on offense or defense. Saturday's full-scale scrimmage went a long way toward determining the composition of the first offensive and defensive units, but, as one member of the coaching staff put it, "We probably won't know until it's time to go on the field how we'll line 'em up."

Only "cinches" defensively are Art Edling, right end and Keith Stelen, Dave Skrien and Bob Thompson in the secondary.

The second situation new to Bierman is the heavy responsibility he is going to have on sophomores. It is these new men who really hold the key to Minnesota's success in the campaign ahead.

I-M Golf Pairings Told; Peterson Tops

By Bud Wiederspan
Staff Sports Reporter

Men's Intramural golf tournament, under the direction of "Buck" Barger and Hollie Lepley, got under way last Saturday and Sunday, September 23 and 24, with 18 hole qualifying rounds at Pioneer Park golf course.

Erv Peterson took top qualifying honors with a one under par 71. Roy Wythers knocked out a credible 73 for second honors.

Sigma Phi Epsilon qualified fifteen men for top ranking among fraternities. Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Phi Delta Theta were second and third with twelve and six qualifiers, respectively.

Team Championship

Team championship will be determined by a point system which gives the winners in the first flight bracket four points, winners in the second flight 3 points and in the third flight 2 points. Consolation winners will receive 2 points in the first flight 1½ points in the second and 1 point in the third. Failure to play matches will automatically eliminate points of contestant up to that point.

First rounds in the 9 hole match play tournament must be played and posted before October 2. Director Lepley advises players to check the chart posted left of the office in the Physical Education Building for their opponents telephone number and then make arrangements to play as soon as possible.
