

Husker Athletes Peddle 'Peanuts, Corn' at Games

The athletic concession department is starting its third year of operation under the direction of L. F. "Pop" Klein.

Klein commented that with the modern high-powered athletics as they are now, it is almost necessary for athletes to have some sort of a scholarship.

Working on this basis, the University of Nebraska athletic department set up the concessions program three years ago this fall.

Any University student who is actively engaged in some sport that is under the jurisdiction of the athletic department is free to participate in the concession program.

These sports include football, basketball, track, baseball, swimming, tennis, wrestling, golf and gymnastics.

Many Concessions Sold

On each item that he sells, the athlete makes four cents. Concessions that are being sold this year are popcorn, which is made by the concession program itself, cracker jacks, candy bars, peanuts, apples, ice cream bars, orange, Coke and Seven-up drinks, seat backs, eye shades and sandwiches.

During football season, the freshman football men and all freshman and varsity squads from all other sports sell at the games. During basketball games the football varsity and freshman, basketball freshmen and all other athletes participate. The whole schedule operates in this fashion.

Any athlete is able to make up to $250 per year as a result of this program.

Aids Athletes

This organization has been set up in order to help those who participate in sports with incidental finances during the school year.

The athletic department reasons that any boy out for some University sport sacrifices a minimum of 2 hours per day in order to compete in this sport. There-

IVCF Members Hear Evangelist

Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship members chartered two buses to Omaha Monday to hear the evangelist speaker, Billy Graham.

Graham is an interdenominational speaker who received considerable comment when Life magazine presented a two page spread on him several months ago.

It was estimated that over 12,000 people were present at Ak-Sar-Ben coliseum, excluding crowds that were forced to stand outside and listen to the public address system.

Fifty-eight members of the University group, including two sponsors, Dr. Samuel Fuenning, Student Health and Robert Mills of the Mechanical Engineering college attended the meeting.

Joint Ag Groups To Sponsor Film

"One God," a religious film will be featured at Religious Film Night, an Ag YM and YW project, Saturday, Oct. 14 at 8 p.m.

The film presents the ritual of the three major faiths of the country. It was produced by representatives of the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths.

Tickets are now being sold by the Ag YM and YW members. Adult price is 50 cents and children admission price is 25 cents.

fore this organization tries to compensate for his free time.

Last year the public patronage of the concessions enabled the athletes to earn over $12,000 in commissions, and provide money for grants-in-aid for over 150 athletes.

These grants-in-aid are made possible by extra money which is saved during the year. Athletic scholarships for $160 are given to incoming athletes to cover the cost of tuition.

215 Participate

The concession set-up is very similar to a regular business. Working with Klein this year will be approximately 215 Nebraska athletes. Checkers, stand managers, concessions contact men and many others compose the official program.

The concessions organization has rights to all athletic activities which are held in the University coliseum or stadium. These rights are restricted solely to the athletic department.

The program has shown remarkable success during the two years of its operation, according to Klein. This set-up is different from any other athletic scholarship program in the nation's colleges and universities.

NU Architects To Attend Meet

Eight University faculty members and more than a hundred students will attend the regional meeting of the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture in Omaha next Thursday.

Professor Linus Burr Smith, chairman of the University's department of architecture, is head of the planning committee for the meeting. Roy M. Green, dean of the College of Engineering and Architecture, will speak at the dinner meeting Thursday night.

Other speakers will be T. A. Filipi, director of the Nebraska State Department of Sanitation, Emiel Christensen, Columbus architect who has done extensive work in rural areas, and Eugene Kingman, director of Joslyn Memorial.

Representatives from 12 mid-west colleges and universities are expected to attend. Work by architectural students from these schools will be exhibited at Joslyn Memorial Oct. 12 to 14.

ISA to Name Best 'Bums' At Ball Friday

The ISA will try something new in the way of king and queen contests at their annual Bums Ball Friday night.

Instead of giving a prize to the most beautiful or most handsome person, they will give a prize to the seediest "bum" and "bumess" in attendance at the dance.

All people who have never been quite able to qualify for the other contests will have their chance then.

Bucky Lewis and his orchestra will play for the dance which will be held from 8:30 p.m. to 12 midnight.

All persons in attendance will be required to wear old costumes such as a hobo would wear. Prizes will be awarded for the best ones.

Both hobo and superstition themes will prevail since the dance is being held on Friday the 13th. Each dancer will have to pass under a ladder as they enter the room. Decorations will follow the same theme.

All holders of ISA cards will be admitted free. Tickets will be sold at the door to anyone who does not have a card.

There will be a number of hostesses to take care of all those present without dates.

Fenske Selected YM Co-Chairman

Paul Fenske, sophomore from Ag college, was chosen as co-chairman of the State YM-YW by the delegates to the conference held at Wayne State Teachers College, October 6 to 8.

"Bee" Jepsen of Kearney was chosen as the other co-chairman.

Those representing the University YMCA include Arnold Otto, Charles Kemp, Dave Wiles, and Bill Barnes from City campus and Harold Tageler, Virgil Gangel, and Fenske from Ag campus.

Hal Keebler, district supervisor, reported at the meeting that there was a total of over 2100 YMCA members in Nebraska.

It was also announced that there will be six students and two non-students to represent the National Assembly at Oxford, Ohio to be held during Christmas vacation.

1941 Kosmet Klub Shows Included Coeds in Cast

Mixed cast or no mixed cast? That is the question.

And a pertinent question it is since the recent Kosmet Klub move to have coeds among the participants in the '51 spring musical.

If students give the green light for the inclusion of female thespians, it won't be the first time that Kosmet Klub shows have featured coeds.

The last time coeds took part in a Kosmet Klub production was Nov. 20, 1941 when six sororities presented skits along with those of four fraternities.

The sorority winner that year was Delta Gamma and the fraternity winner was Phi Gamma Delta.

In the preceding spring, Kosmet Klub had just revived the mixed cast idea with a well attended spring show. The run lasted five days.

A "Rag" clipping stated then it was the first time since 1926 that coeds took part in the productions which usually featured "all male choruses of sturdy gridiron heroes."

Evidently this idea of coeds in Klub shows was supported by strong sentiment from many quarters. At any rate, a "Rag" article dated Oct. 2, 1941 said, "The spring show for many years was played by a male cast but last year's musical comedy included both men and women. This idea met general campus approval and will probably be used for the show this spring."

Boom Lowered

Then the boom was lowered—on Kosmet Klub. In 1942, Panhell voted out sorority participation in any KK show. Panhell representatives contended that "huge profits" had been reaped from shows in the past. And it seemed that the money was not being put to any good advantage.

Kosmet Klub immediately retorted that all funds earned through Klub sponsorship were handled through usual channels—the student activities office, where they are subject to inspection of any interested party.

$1,000 Donation

In existence at the time of the trouble, was a general scholarship fund. On Feb. 4, 1949, it was decided that this fund which had reached a total of $1,000 would aid the University if donated to the library of each college at the University.

During the prolonged absence of any University actresses in the shows, the productions thrived very much on the slapstick humor provided by hairy-legged athletes. And show-goers not only from the University but from outstate towns howled with appreciative laughter.

However following the war, the outlook on limiting participation to males only lost its punch. Audiences decreased in size and it became more difficult to get student support for the shows.

Klub members again started to consider possibilities of combined male and female cast.

During this rather disorganized period, a "Rag" editorial summed up general sentiments.

"One Thing Lacking"

"The Kosmet Klub," stated the article, "each spring puts forth its own brand of humor to the amusement of all Revue goers. But there's one thing obviously lacking—Kosmet Klub will bring its merriment to the campus with an all-male cast, complete without coeds."

"Blessed with Nebraska coed talent, the Kosmet Klub spring Revue might once again come into its own."

Like many male organizations during the period previous to the World War II, Kosmet Klub was falling apart, for the obvious reason—the War.

Following the war and the inevitable slump during that time, Klub members made reorganization plans.

However the sincere efforts on the parts of several members had a rough go due to the I-don't care attitude on parts of other members, poor faculty relationships, lack of cooperation with certain groups used in the productions, and various restrictions and misinterpretations.

Now it appears that it is up to the students, Kosmet Klub has presented its desire to produce a spring show "stimulating creative student activities at the University."

With student endorsement of the new plans, Kosmet Klub will ask a few talented coeds for lead parts and choruses in the spring musical.

Math Department Plans Seminars

The mathematics department is again presenting its annual seminars, Dr. M. A. Basoco, head of the mathematics department, announced yesterday.

The first seminar, at which Dr. Basoco was the speaker, was held Tuesday. He will also preside at the next meeting on Oct. 24.

The speakers and the dates for the rest of the seminars scheduled for this semester are: Nov. 2 and 16 with Dr. F. Rebeiro, and Nov. 30 and Dec. 14 with Dr. L. C. Jackson as speaker. All will be held at 3 p.m. in 209 Burnett.

Each speaker presents reports on his own research or reports on recent articles, Dr. Basoco said.

The purpose of the seminars, Basoco stated, is to provide stimulus for the group for continuing interest and for them to become more familiar with other parts of the field.

Members of the staff, invited students, and other interested persons are welcome to attend the seminars.

Vandalism Result Of School Rivalry

A Syracuse-Cornell rivalry developed into a real feud between the two schools last week when Cornell students were reported responsible for vandalism and damage to the Syracuse campus at Syracuse, New York.

The raids took place prior to the Syracuse-Cornell football game when red lettered C's were painted on several buildings by a number of Cornell undergraduates. They also burned a twenty-foot C into the grass in the stadium. However, Larry Waddell, director of the Syracuse bureau of public information, stated that the vandalism was greatly exaggerated.

Reports that several fraternities planned to raid the Cornell campus caused Clifford Craven, assistant dean of men at Syracuse, to call a special meeting of fraternity leaders at which time he urged the house presidents to use their influence to prevent such raids.
