

Satellites 'Peaceful' ---Truman President Meets Gen. MacArthur

President Truman, in a speech in Honolulu, said the iron curtain countries are just as anxious as the United States to have peace.

As he prepared to go to Wake Island to meet Gen. Douglas MacArthur, he said, "We have to get the truth to them, and we are going to get it to them. I am not one of those who think another war is inevitable."

He arrived on Wake Island at about 6:30 a.m. (Sunday). General MacArthur's flight took between seven and eight hours to cover the 1,885 miles from Tokyo.

Agenda Not Announced
Truman had not previously indicated what the agenda of discussion between he and MacArthur would be. The president carried with him detailed information about all Asiatic countries.

American troops continued to carve at 20,000 reds trapped between the U. N. troops and the red capital of Pyongyang.

The naval bombardment of Chonjin was apparently continuing, since the Chonjin radio had remained off the air since early Thursday. The battleship Missouri led 37 ships in bombarding ports, rail lines and other communications facilities along a 130-mile strip of coast from Sonjin to Chonjin, which is 145 miles southwest of Russian Vladivostok.

German Elections
Elections were held Sunday in Soviet held East Germany to elect new officials for the puppet government. Under a four-power agreement, the residents of East Berlin are not entitled to vote in these elections. The red government announced Saturday that no one would be permitted to enter the zone while the election was being held.

Only one slate of candidates was placed on the ballot. The United States denounced the elections as a "sham." Voters had no alternative but to cast ballots for the "national front" ticket, which is 70 percent communist.

French Loan
The French government is reported to have asked the United States to provide a total of three billion dollars in military aid for the French armed forces during 1951.

General MacArthur's intelligence chief, Maj. Gen. Charles Willoughby, claimed that he had warned officials in Washington three months before the Korean invasion that such an event was going to occur.

In Los Angeles, the temperature rose to 104, the hottest October on record. California weather officials blamed the heat on "Florida clouds."

Store-On-Wheels To Visit Campus

What may be the first traveling art bookstore will be in front of Love library Tuesday morning. The Hacker Gallery bookstore contains rare, imported, and new books on fine and applied arts.

The thousand volumes taken from stocks in New York, range in price from 1 to 1,000 dollars. The bookmobile has air conditioning, fluorescent lighting, and rubber-lined adjustable shelving. This metropolitan bookshop should be of great interest to many students who cannot travel to New York to buy excellent prints and art books.

The collection includes European and American art reproductions. Books on ceramics, classical and modern art, costumes, textiles, photography, and illuminated manuscripts are in the collection.

The Hacker Gallery Bookmobile's tour of the country is a new idea in book selling. It will give students and faculty members an opportunity to examine rare and beautiful books on art.

The lucky babies will be picked by Mrs. Gustavson and six faculty wives on Oct. 19, at 7 p.m., in Ellen Smith hall.

Kosmet Klub Polls Women About Show

The first indication of student feeling regarding the Kosmet Klub request for coed participation in the '51 Spring Show, will be received Monday night.

In the first positive attempt since 1941 to produce a show with a mixed cast, the men's dramatic society plans to visit organized women's houses and present brief explanations of the system.

"After all," stated Leon Pfeiffer, president of the Klub, "it is up to coeds as well as the general student body to help decide. And we would like to hear their opinions."

Part of New Outline
The Klub's move to launch the new entertainment program was announced last week. It is part of an entirely new reorganization outline that received first consideration last spring.

Said Pfeiffer, "Since the reorganization of Kosmet Klub in 1945, the members have felt that they have not produced the entertainment and provided the services which their capabilities merit."

"This situation has arisen due to lackadaisical attitude on the part of some Klub members, poor faculty relationships, lack of co-operation with certain groups used in the productions, restrictions imposed by the faculty and students, and misinterpretations of the Kosmet Klub by students and faculty."

"To alleviate this situation, the Klub is attempting to reorganize its internal structure and to revitalize its functions with the following specific purposes in mind:

1. To reorganize the worker training program, placing less emphasis on ticket sales and more emphasis on service to the organization.
2. To place the Klub on a sound financial basis, and bonding the group to maintain this stability.
3. To improve faculty relationships by demonstrating our present capabilities.
4. To inaugurate co-educational spring musical comedies by obtaining faculty and student approval for our plans.
5. To instill in the students a concept of the type of show and entertainment the Klub actually wishes to sponsor and produce.
6. To initiate new projects of entertainment and service.
7. To encourage increased alumni interest.
8. To exchange support with organizations of similar interests such as University Theater, Orchestra, Alpha Epsilon Rho, and other musical groups on campus.

Taking Action
In order to accomplish the above aims and purposes, the Klub is taking the following action:

1. Discussing the situation with faculty committees.
2. Meeting with co-educational groups to explain the aims and purpose, answering questions pertinent to the program; the Klub wishes to install, and in every way possible attempting to gain their cooperation and interest.
3. Enlisting the aid of student publications to stimulate interest and keep interested groups informed as to the Klub's status and progress.
4. Offering students a real opportunity to help.

Schramek, Jeffrey Best 'Hicks' Attending Bums' Ball

The prize-winning "bum" and "bumess" at the annual Bums' ball, sponsored by the Independent Students Association, were Emmarie Schramek and Marion Jeffrey.

The "bumness" costume was long, wool, red underwear covered by an old, short, tattered dress.

The "bum" wore an overlapping toupée and ragged pants and shirt. His teeth were blacked out and a cigar on a toothpick was in the bum's mouth.

A jug of corn liquor and a jug of white mule were the prizes given to Miss Schramek and Jeffrey. The jugs were full of apple cider.

Dr. and Mrs. Floyd Hoover and Mr. and Mrs. Price were the judges of the contest.

Kansas Migration Tickets on Sale Beginning Today

"Migration tickets within reach of the average student's budget will go on sale Monday."

This was the announcement of Bob Rogers, student migration committee chairman. According to Rogers, this year's tickets will sell for $8.50.

The traditional trip will be made Saturday, Oct. 28 to Lawrence, Kan., where the Cornhuskers will meet the Kansas Jayhawks.

All University students who desire to take part in the migration are urged to buy their tickets early, because there is a limited number available—probably between 300 and 400.

The ticket price is much lower than that of two years ago when the migration caravan traveled to the same place—Lawrence. The 1948 tickets were sold for $13.

The entire cost covers the round trip train ticket ($5.41) and the stadium admittance ticket ($3.00). The balance will go for sundry rally materials such as pom poms, etc.

Rogers stated that the migration train will leave Lincoln 6:15 Saturday morning and will arrive in Lawrence about 11:30 a.m. The return trip will begin that evening at 8:30 p.m. and will terminate about 2:30 the next morning.

"This migration is an excellent opportunity for students to show the team some real support," pointed out Rogers.

Cars on the train will carry besides student travelers, the ROTC marching band, Corn Cobs, Tassels and the cheerleaders. A special snack car for the use of all migrationers on the train will be provided.

A big rally complete with the band and the pep groups will be held on the way down as well as at the station in Lawrence. Those persons from Nebraska who go down in their own cars are urged to meet the migration train at the station for the pre-game rally.

Last year, the migration trip was made to Ames, Ia. where the Huskers played the Iowa State Cyclones.

The annual event is sponsored by the Student Council. Members of the committee are besides Rogers: Marilyn Lutz, representing Tassels; Del Kopf, Cobs; Dean Killion, ROTC band; George Wilcox, Council treasurer and Kent Axtell, publicity.

Jepson Ticket Sales Open

Student tickets for the Helen Jepson concert may be obtained Tuesday at a booth set up in the School of Music.

The booth will be open from 10 to 12 a.m. and from 2 to 4 p.m. Price of the tickets to students is 60 cents. Adult tickets will be sold for $1.20.

Miss Jepson will appear at the Coliseum Thursday, Oct. 26. The opera and concert star will be sponsored by the Nebraska State Education association.

Miss Jepson has been in the entertainment world since 1935 when she first appeared in the Metropolitan opera in New York. She made her debut with Lawrence Tibbett. Thereafter she has been in demand for both operatic roles and concerts.

If students are unable to obtain their tickets Tuesday, they may buy them later at one of the five Lincoln music stores. Prices will be the same at both places.

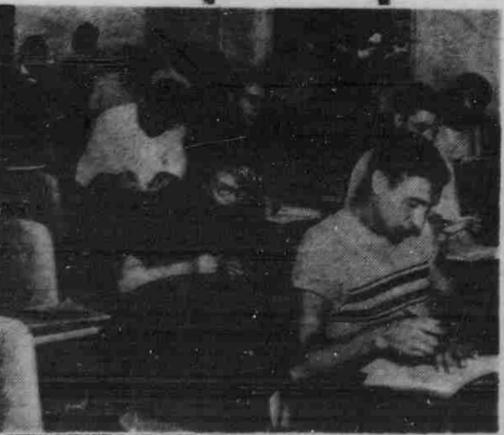

According to Archie Bailey, ticket sales chairman, the booth is being set up in the Music building as a convenience to the University student body and faculty.

Tips, Trips, Tests -- Part of Last Week's NU Activities

WHY DIDN'T I STUDY?—That thought seems to be in the minds of these students taking a Sociology 53 test. The bright students may be distinguished from those who are taking the course for an extra three hours by the intelligent looks on their faces. The girl in the foreground is trying to decide what one of the chief characteristics of Cro-Magnon man was. But don't laugh, for six weeks tests are coming up!

OFF TO COLORADO—These girls, Fatsy Peters, Jody Loder, Marli Mooberry, Betty Coad and Suzi Vickery, get ready to drive to Colorado in Miss Mooberry's jeep. Most of the students on campus would like convertibles, but Miss Mooberry reports that her jeep rides much easier than the other cars. The girls reported a breezy ride on their way to see the Nebraska Cornhuskers play the Colorado Buffaloes. Nearly 2,000 tickets were sold to Nebraska fans and students to make the trip to Boulder. Cars seemed to be the most popular means of transportation, with only a few people taking the train or flying.

BUILDERS BOOTH—The University Builders representatives, Anne Barger and Marilyn Coupe, assist freshman who sign up for the organization. The freshmen are (l. to r.) Joan Legges, Harriet Wenke, Sue Brownee and Sally Slick. The workers assist in publishing pamphlets telling about the University, conducting high school students on tours of the University and, in general, selling the University to high school pupils.
