Kansas State was in poor shape physically before the Missouri game last weekend. But that was nothing compared to what Coach Ralph Graham found this week. Three and possibly four top gridders are out with injured knees and two others have badly bruised hips.

Latest knee casualities are defensive halfback Ted Maupin and fullback Elmer Creviston who both sustained cartilege injuries in the bruising battle with the Missouri Tigers Saturday. Year Ahead for Huskers

Staff Sports Writer

Coach Harry Good's cagers opened practice this week in

And it looks like a rugged year for the Cornhuskers, with every cember 2 date with Minnesota, the first game for the Nebrask-

Coach Good feels that the backing up "Bus" Whitehead at style of offense. center and Bob Gates and Joe Also starting Brown ready to relieve Jim Buchanan and Bob Cerv at the guard positions, is considerably weaker this year because of the loss of ten out of the first twelve men on last year's varsity squad. However, four of these, Gates, Brown, Larry Walsh, and Joe Malacek have a year's eligibility remaining, but all elected not to return to school.

Seeking Third Title According to Good, who is seeking his third Big Seven championship in a row in his fifth season as Nebraska head mentor, the going will be pretty rough and he sees no possible chance of the young, inexperienced Huskers being contenders for the title this year. Good feels that Kansas University, led by the mighty Clyde Lovellette, will again be the team to beat, with Kansas State assuming the role of leading contender. When asked for a possible darkhorse, Coach Good replied that any Big Seven team outside of Nebraska could be placed in that category-

Forming the nucleus for the 1950 squad will be Jim Buchanan, a fireball at guard, and Bob Pierce, elongated center holdover from last year's team. These two men are the only returning lettermen reporting Coach Good.

Three of last year's squad members are back. They are Forward Norm Wilnes of Sidney, Forward Darrell Brandenburg of
