

FRANK SIMON—broke into the Husker scoring with a tremendous leaping catch of a Fran Nagle aerial at Kansas. He was snagging them all afternoon.

DICK REGIER — added six points to the Husker total at Kansas Saturday with a catch of a Fran Nagle pass in the second quarter.

JOE MCGILL—was a solid center of the Nebraska line on offense against the Jayhawks.

NU After First Tiger Skin in Five Years

Nebraska's Cornhuskers will be seeking to avenge some consistent defeats at the hands of the Missouri Tigers this Saturday in their annual Homecoming battle. The Tigers have held a jinx over the Huskers for five years; Nebraska's last victory was an upset win in 1944.

The Cornhuskers have come very close on a couple of occasions but the Tigers have held on. One of these was last year's 21-20 game at Columbia when a Mizzou score in the waning moments of the game kept their heads above the water.

Another 21-20 contest was taken home by the Missourians from a Nebraska Homecoming battle in 1946, this after the Tigers led 21-0 at one time.

Try Again
But this year is a new year and the Cornhuskers are back again knocking at the Missouri door for a victory and this year the Huskers won't rank two to three touchdown underdogs as in the past. The Nebraska gridiron teams are on the upsurge and are pointing for a Tiger defeat.

But this will be no tame Tiger affronting the Scarlet. The task will be a tough one all the way.

The Missourians have begun to roll with their accustomed power in their last three games and have scored 75 points to their opponents' 27 in those three. They are currently in the runner-up spot in the conference standings with one win and one tie. Their only losses have come from tough out-of-conference opposition like Clemson and Southern Methodist.

And with this knowledge, the Huskers were back at work Monday night with light drills.

Pass Defense Sparkled
The Nebraska pass defense which sparkled against Kansas will get another tough going over from the Tigers. The Tigers passed Oklahoma A. & M. silly last Saturday with quarterback Bob Henley doing most of the chucking. However, the whole

I-M Volleyball Starts Tonight

With the intramural football play-offs well under way, the I-M spotlight now turns to the Physical Education building for the volleyball tournament.

This year 34 teams compose the five leagues which will meet in the evenings starting tonight. The schedule calls for single round-robin play in each league with play-offs to follow.

Each match will consist of three games. League standing will be determined on the basis of total games (not matches) won and lost.

As for eligibility, no man may compete on more than one volleyball team and official volleyball rules will govern all matches. Each game will be 15 points this year as compared to 11 last year.

Tonight's schedule:

- Court I —North, Ag Men's Club vs. Nebraska Co-op.
- Court I —South, Cosmopolitan Club vs. Europeans.
- Court II —North, Men's Dorm vs. A.E. M.E.
- Court II —South, Newman Club vs. Baptist House.
- Court III —North, Methodist House vs. Presby House.
- Court III —South, Ag College YMCA vs. Lutheran Stu.
- Court I —North, Farm House vs. Theta Xi.
- Court I —South, Brown Palace vs. Zeta Beta Tau.
- Court II —North, Sigma Alpha Mu vs. Delta Sigma Phi.
- Court II —South, Pioneer Co-op vs. Theta Xi.
- Court III —North, Phi Gamma Delta vs. Sigma Nu.
- Court III —South, Ag College YMCA vs. Baptist House.

BOBBY REYNOLDS — increased his lead in the Big Seven scoring race with nine points at Kansas. Bobby was the Kansas target all day and still gave them fits.

BILL MUELLER—hard driving Husker right half, added some important yardage to the Nebraska total against Kansas.

backfield outfit consisting of Phil Klein, Johnny Glorioso, Mike Ghonouly, Ed Stephens, and Nick Carras are good passers and do throw the pigskin when needed.

The Tigers have also got a couple of experienced pass receivers on the ends of the line in Gene Ackerman and co-captain Bob Ebbinger.

The Missourians may have to throw up a pass defense, also if the Kansas game is any indication. Huskers Fran Nagle and Bob Reynolds completed seven out of eight tosses during the afternoon, two of Nagle's going for the six points.

Sig Eps Fight Off Theta Xi

In a savagely-fought battle out Ag College way Monday evening, Sigma Phi Epsilon eked out a 19-6 win over a fighting Theta Xi team. The game was closer than the score indicates as the Sig Eps, who are leading the All-University standings, failed miserably in first half play. The Theta Xi defense batted down pass after pass thrown by Ted Kratt, Sig Ep passer. Two Sig Ep drives were stopped inside the ten yard line by a gallant Theta Xi line. Thus ended a scoreless first half.

The Sig Ep attack came to life for the first time in the game late in the third quarter when Kratt hit Bob Svanda alone in the end zone for a touchdown. The try for extra point failed, and the Sig Eps held a narrow 6-0 lead.

Bale Runs
A fourth down punt by Ted Kratt to Bob Bale, Theta Xi safety man, put the Theta Xi's back in the game. For Bale, looking like a Bobby Reynolds, reversed his field and tore down the sidelines untouched for a score. The run covered 65 yards. The try for extra point failed and the game was deadlocked, 6-6.

This marked the first time this season that the Sig Eps have been scored upon.

The Sig Eps came roaring back in the fourth quarter for two quick tallies, one on a fourth down pass from Kratt to Svanda, the other on a 15 yard run by Kratt around left end. One of the tries for extra point was good, Kratt to Diers, and the Sig Eps led, 19 to 6. Time ran out as the Theta Xi's desperately tried to make another score.

And in ends, the Scarlet will counter with Frank Simon and Dick Regier, both of whom were grabbing them Saturday. The two first string ends were on the scoring ends of Nagle's tosses, also.

Sooners Lead

Oklahoma's Sooners continue to lead the conference in both all-game standings and conference standings. The Sooners won their 26th straight game Saturday at Ames, Ia. This ties Cornell's modern record set in the early '20's. If the Okies win at Boulder this Saturday they will establish a new modern record.

The standings:

Sig Nu Thumps Sammies, 19-0

A hard charging, smooth passing, Sigma Nu team stopped once-beaten Sigma Alpha Mu 19-0 Monday evening. Two touchdown passes by Bob Hinde highlighted this fraternity "A" playoff game.

Hinde's first quarter 30 yard toss to team captain Bill Best gave the Nu's an early lead. But this was the only scoring done in the evenly played first half.

A pass interception in the third quarter set up a Don Shepherd to Tom Podhaisky pass which was good for a T.D. The same combination connected for the extra point. This made the score 13-0 in favor of the Nu's.

Scoring ended with Hinde's long heave to Don Shepherd. The try for the extra point was unsuccessful.

The Sammies' main offensive threat proved to be Len Moyer. Moyer made several excellent catches of passes thrown by Paul Galter. Sharp blocking by Ray Fred helped make these plays possible.

Bob Russel led the powerful Sig Nu defense. Tom Stoup, 6-4, 200 pound lineman, proved outstanding in stopping the Sammy passing machine.

DAILY NEBRASKAN "SPORTS" IN THE NEWS

From the Sports Desk

By Bill Mundell
Sports Editor, Daily Nebraskan

Saturday's game at Lawrence between Nebraska and Kansas has drawn quite a bit of national attention. One news service release called it the "feature game of a hectic day of football." The same news service called it also the "upset of the day." It seems that they had picked the Jayhawkers to win by 21 points. So did a lot of other people.

Coach Glassford found that it can be dangerous being a coach as well as a player in this game of football. After Saturday's contest, a band of joyous fans hoisted Bill to their shoulders and proceeded to carry him about the field. There seemed to be a little mixup in the signals, however, as they tried to carry Bill in two different directions at once. The result: Bill was back on the ground in the same position most of the Jays found themselves that day.

While listening to the Husker game on the radio, I watched the Notre Dame-Michigan State game on television. They played fair ball that day in South Bend, also.

Boulder, Colorado is still providing Husker football teams with headaches. The Nebraska frosh team ran into trouble there Saturday against the Colorado frosh. Final score read 7 to 6. I wonder if the Buff officials ever attempted to get all their games played there. We're against it.

Oklahoma's terrific Sooners put their unbeaten streak up on the block this Saturday when they journey to Boulder. It will be interesting to see just how much playing at home can do for the Buffs. Seems as though that's putting just too much pressure on a jinx, however.

Bobby Reynolds continues to pace the Big-Seven scorers. His nine points against Kansas boosted his total so far this season to 81. Second running Mervin Hodel of Colorado failed to score against Utah Saturday and so the margin between him and Reynolds is now 27 points.

For conference games only, however, Hodel is in first place with 42 markers. Wade Stinson of Kansas holds the runner-up spot with 30 and Nebraska's Reynolds is third with 28 to his credit. Bobby has participated in only two games, however, as compared to three for Stinson and four for Hodel.

Pioneer Upsets Phi Psi's; Ten Passes Intercepted

Pioneer House turned in the lone football upset Monday night by edging favored Phi Kappa Phi by a 1 to 0 yardage victory.

As it was, it was the Pioneer defense that finally chucked-up the win. In the Pioneer try for yardage, their offense took it on the chin and wound up with a net loss of one yard in their four downs.

The Phi Psi's took their turn

Colorado Student Lauds NU Spirit

There's nothing wrong with Nebraska spirit!

At least, that's the opinion of one fervent Colorado rooster. Writing to the editor of the Silver and Gold, Colorado university daily, the student, in showing his disapproval of the Colorado cheerleader's tactics, complimented yell power.

"At the University of Colorado," he said, "it appears that the cheerleaders are more interested in how high they can jump how fast they can turn cartwheels, etc., than they are getting the entire student body to cheer as a group."

"At the Nebraska game, (at Boulder) several people sitting where they could hear both cheering sections equally well said that they thought Nebraska had the better cheering section."

Ping-Pong Begins At Union Wed.

Table tennis pairings for the All-University tournament will be posted in the Union ping-pong room Tuesday, according to word received today. The tournament play begins Nov. 1 at 5 p.m. The matches must be played between the hours of 5-7 p.m. on weekdays and from 9-12 noon on Saturdays.

Twelve More Teams Battle In Tonight's Grid Playoffs

Twelve more intramural grid outfits will take the fields for their first playoff encounters Tuesday afternoon. Two games each from the fraternity "A" tourney, the Interdenominational tourney and the Independent tournament will spice the afternoon's card.

The two top seed outfits in the frat "A" division will try to advance to second round. These two games will complete the first round play in that tourney as the other six contests took place Monday evening.

First rounds in the other two tourneys will also be completed after tonight, only four teams in these two.

Pi Kappa Phi and Phi Gamma Delta are thrown together in the feature battle of the evening on field number one. Both teams are potentially strong and both can surprise a strong opponent at any time. The Pi Kaps are rated slight favorites before the contest but the margin of victory will be very slight whichever team wins.

Taus Play

The other fraternity "A" contest will be the Alpha Tau Omega-Alfa Gamma Rho tussle on field 2. Even though the AGR's made a good late season splurge to gain the playoffs, the Taus, currently ranked third in the University, are strong favorites to roll into the next round of play.

Into Denom play the spotlight

Phi Deltas Hit Theta Chi, 12-0

Phi Delta Theta was held at bay for three and a half quarters Monday night before they broke away to a 12-0 intramural football playoff victory. Theta Chi furnished the opposition for the Phi Deltas and although failing to show much of an offensive thrust themselves kept the powerful Phi Deltas away from pay dirt most of the contest.

The Phi Deltas were not to be denied, however, when with but four minutes remaining in the game Sam Huston fired a 29 yard pass into the waiting arms of Bob Ledingham for six points. The pass for point went astray and the Theta Chi's took over.

Trying desperately to score and ignoring a punt situation on fourth down, the Theta Chi's lost the ball on downs with less than a minute to play.

The Phi Deltas seized this opportunity with Stan Gerlach on the throwing end and Don Edmund catching, they upped the score to 12-0 just before the end of the contest.

The Phi Deltas worked the ball to the Theta Chi 32 yard line just before the first half for the farthest penetration by either outfit in the initial half.

That was the extent of scoring threats until the final drive by the victors which covered 58 yards in six plays.

Gerlach was the whole show for the victors with his passing and running. Link stood out for the losers.

focuses on a battle between traditional athletic foes. On field 3 the Newman Club will take on Presby House in perhaps the game of the day. Both have good records this year, the Presby record a little brighter with six wins and no defeats.

Solely on an early season contest in which Presby defeated the Catholics, 14-6, the Presby aggregation is ruled the favorite tonight.

Baptist House and the Ag College YMCA will also be another battle to the end. The Baptists finished the season with a winning splurge that carried them to second in the Denom ratings. The Y boys have been strong all season long, however, and hold a 6-0 early season win over the Baptists. Contrary to this result, the Baptist House is ruled a slight favorite to move to the Denom finals. The tussle will be on field 4.

Sig Gams Favored

Over in the Independents the leading Sigma Gamma Epsilon outfit will take on the Bengals. The Sig Gams have improved during the season while the Bengal power faded as the games rolled by. The Sig Gams should take this one easily, but if the Bengals can display early season form, the game should be a dilly.

The final contest of the evening will take place in the grove on field 6. The City YMCA is favored over the Ag Men's Social Club in this affair. The Yers are currently ranked second in the Independent rankings with the Aggies third so this should be quite a contest. The City Y downed the Ag Men during the season by a 13-7 score.
