Hospital Reports On Injured Coeds

Frances Hanson, who was injured Sunday in an auto accident, is "just about the same," attendants at Bryan Memorial hospital reported Tuesday evening.

Miss Hanson has a fractured leg, possible brain injuries and a severe knee injury. The driver of the car, Peggy Bayer, is reported to be "slightly improved." She is suffering from lacerations and a chest injury.

The accident occurred on South 48th when the car struck a tree.

YW Mass Meet to Hear Speech Prof

The YWCA will hold the first all membership meeting of the year on Wednesday, Nov. 1, in Ellen Smith hall at 7:30 p.m.

The guest speaker will be Dallas Williams. He will speak on the topic, "Religious Expression Through the Theater." Williams is head director of the University Theater and teaches theater courses in the speech department. He was graduated from Louisiana State and taught there and at Texas State before coming to the University in 1944.

Also featured on the evening's program will be several selections by Bonnie Weddell, harpist in the University Symphony. The program includes the following:

Welcome, Sue Allen. Recognition of New Members, Kathy Schreiber. Melodies on the Harp, Bonnie Weddell.

Meditation, Sharon Fritzier. Since this is the first all membership meeting of the year, Sharon Fritzier, meeting chairman, urged that all those participating in YW attend.

"The purpose of this first meeting is to bring together the freshmen and the upperclassmen in a common discussion," said Miss Fritzier.

The YWCA purpose as quoted below states the aims of the organization, which will be explained at the meeting.

"We the members of the Young Women's Christian association dedicate ourselves anew to the building of a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing in our common life those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians. We dedicate ourselves to all within the fellowship of the Young Women's Christian association of every nation, race, and tongue, and to all that makes for cooperation and goodwill among peoples and nations, and for enduring peace throughout the world."

'Rag' Corrects Tuesday Error

The Daily Nebraskan erroneously stated that Bob Raun, president of Innocents was presenting Col. C. J. Frankforter, with an army commendation ribbon. The award made by Raun was an Innocents key, in recognition of Frankforter's sponsorship of that group.

Col. James H. Workman, head of the Army R.O.T.C. presented the ribbon to Frankforter.

Homecoming Events To Highlight Weekend

Colorful decorations, bright costumes, lots of music. In short, excitement.

All these will prevail at Nebraska's annual Homecoming festivities this weekend. The campus is going all-out to make the festivities the biggest since the war, if not the biggest in the University history.

The identity of Nebraska's 1950 Pep Queen will be revealed when she steps from the mouth of a giant tiger at the Homecoming dance Saturday night. Winners in the float and house display contests will be announced as a climax to the week's festivities.

The five Homecoming Pep Queen candidates will be revealed at the rally Friday night. Immediately following the rally, from 8 to 10 p.m., the student body will vote upon the candidates at booths set up in the Union and the Coliseum.

The tiger will be placed on the Coliseum stage for the dance. It will be a 12 foot square head. A door, which will be in the tiger's mouth, will be opened to reveal the queen.

Bob Parker will be the emcee for the dance. Frank Piccolo, Yell King, will introduce the Pep Queen, and Sue Allen, retiring Homecoming Queen, will crown her.

Jim Kirschbaum, Jo Raun and Jack Cohen are in charge of the presentation arrangements.

Anson Weeks and his band will play for the dance. Tickets are $2.50 and are available from Cobs and Tassels and in a booth in the Union.

Bands to Play Miss Allen will be crowned as Homecoming Queen at the half-time of the Nebraska-Missouri game. The Missouri band will play for the first seven minutes of the half-time. Then, the Nebraska band will perform for the remainder of the half.

The Innocents and Mortar Boards will form a heart in the center of the field. A throne will be placed inside the heart. The queen will drive into the stadium in a convertible. Piccolo will escort her to her throne. Chancellor R. G. Gustavson will present her a bouquet of roses.

Miss Allen will reign for the half-time ceremonies as the band performs the following dances for her: the minuet, square dance, acrobatic, schottische, beguine, Charleston and samba.

The band will also perform in ceremonies commemorating the tenth anniversary of Nebraska's trip to the Rose Bowl.

Miss Allen was chosen last year in a method similar to that being used this year. The Tassels selected five members of the organization who are the candidates. The winner is revealed at the Homecoming dance and reigns at the half-time of the next year's Homecoming game. Only junior and sophomore women are eligible.

The Victory Bell, symbol of Husker-Tiger football rivalry for the past 22 years, will be officially presented by the Innocents society to representatives of the Missouri student body. This will be in recognition of last year's 21-20 victory over the Cornhuskers. This presentation will be made before the game.

Bands to Join The Missouri and Nebraska bands will join to play "The Star Spangled Banner" before the game.

Another highlight of Saturday's festivities will be the annual Freshman-Upperclass tug-of-war to determine whether or not the freshmen will continue wearing their beanies. Tradition rules that if the freshmen win, they need no longer wear their beanies, but if the upperclassmen win, freshmen must wear them until the first snow falls.

AVERY LECTURER — Burton W. Marvin, dean of the University of Kansas School of Journalism, will speak Thursday in Love Library auditorium.

Kansas Dean To Discuss Free Press

The need to break down barriers to the flow of free information will be discussed by Burton W. Marvin, dean of the William Allen White School of Journalism, University of Kansas, Thursday.

A graduate from the University, Dean Marvin is the second annual Samuel Avery lecturer to speak at the University. He will speak in Love Library auditorium at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, under sponsorship of Palladian Literary society.

Topic is "Wanted: More Truth for a Free People."

Marvin won the first Hitchcock fellowship for advanced study in journalism at Columbia university. He graduated from the University in 1935 and worked for the Lincoln Star.

While at the University Marvin was president of the Palladian Literary society and a member of Innocents society.

After earning his master of science degree in 1937 he began work on the staff of the Chicago Daily News, where he was assistant city editor and later telegraph editor. He taught at Northwestern university and as an associate professor of journalism at Columbia university.

He was named dean of the newly-formed William Allen White School of Journalism in 1949.

The endowment for the Samuel Avery lectureship was a gift of the Palladian Literary society in 1949 on their 75th anniversary to the University Foundation. The fund is used to bring an outstanding speaker to the campus each year.

The Palladian Alumni association and the active society will combine Friday to honor Dean Marvin at a 6:30 p.m. banquet in the Union.

Mrs. Marvin is also a graduate from the University where she was vice president of Palladians, member of Phi Beta Kappa and Mortar Board.

Flesher Resigns Top ISA Post Effective Today

Rose Bowl Team To Hold Reunion

The Rose Bowl team of 1940 will hold their tenth anniversary reunion Saturday. They will have a luncheon before the Missouri-Nebraska game and then travel to the stadium in two special buses, where they will be provided with seats in front of the stands.

After the game they will have a dinner in the Cornhusker hotel. John Bentley will be toastmaster for the occasion. There will be about 30 members of the Rose Bowl squad.

Only 40 members of the 45 man squad are still alive. Five of them were killed in the last war.

Junior, Senior Students Plan Class Elections

Polls will open Thursday morning for the election of junior and senior class officers.

Voting booths will be placed in both the city and Ag campus Unions from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Filings have been closed since last Friday and the complete list of candidates is as follows:

Senior class president—Aaron Schmidt and Jimmie G. Peterson. Senior vice-president—Bob Pierce, James R. Wamsley and Harold R. Bonness.

Senior treasurer—Norman Case and Clarence Arlen Beam. Junior Candidates

Junior class president—Francis Dale Flood, Charles Burmeister and Douglas R. Dale. Junior vice-president—Delores Lovegrove, Gerald E. Matzke, James C. Downey and Marilyn Mooney.

Junior secretary—Patricia M. Wiedman, Jack Cohen, Susan Pryor, Jayne Wade and Shirley Ransdell.

Junior treasurer—Mary Sidner, Ernest Eugene Johnson and Marilyn Berg.

The election was slated for last spring, but due to Student Council intervention, the election was postponed until this fall.

The grounds for postponement cited by the council were that the elections had not been publicized two weeks preceding the actual voting, the election committee of the Student Council had not approved the election and the faculty committee on student affairs was not satisfied with the election procedure.

Election Date A tentative election date was then set for Thursday, Oct. 26. This date was cancelled because the senior engineering students were out of town inspecting industries of Nebraska and near by states.

Only junior and senior class members will be allowed to vote for their class officers and two Student Council members will conduct the voting at each polling place.

Student Council Officers Student Council members officiating in the elections are Bob Parker, Bill Michaelson, Peggy Mulvaney and Rex Messersmith.

No money is to be used for campaign purposes. Posters may be made, but no candidate is to pay for any advertising facilities. No candidate may use the public address system for advertising on or off campus.

Pershing Rifle Delegates Win National Posts

Three University students who attended the National Pershing Rifles convention at Bloomington, Ind., were elected to national posts.

The students and their PR ranks are: Brig. Gen. James Wroth, national commander; Col. James Rosinquist, chief of staff, and Lt. Col. James Tighe, adjutant.

Five other students who went on the trip were: Maj. George McQueen, Maj. Gordon Francis, Maj. Edward Pullen, and Ralph Taylor and Joe Nicolson, pledges.

Members from all Pershing Rifles companies in the United States attended the annual convention.

The consideration of a proposal that new units be approved by the companies and headquarters of the regiment to which they are assigned was discussed at the convention.

Other topics discussed included the establishment of rules for the Pershing Rifles national rifle match and the question as to whether or not the number of companies in one regiment ought to be limited.

The class is co-educational and open to all University students who have swim permits obtainable from Student Health.

The only charge is for a towel and for the Red Cross life saving manual.

The classes will be taught by Ruth Ann Sandstedt. She will be assisted by qualified University students. The course is under the direction of the men's and women's physical education department.

All students who expect to receive associate baccalaureate, or advanced degrees or any teaching certificate in January, 1951, should apply by Nov. 1, 1950, in the senior checking office. The office is in Room 9, Administration building. The office hours are 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., except on Saturday, when the office closes at noon.

Jim Tomasek Will Assume Presidency

Don Flesher, president of ISA, handed in his resignation, effective today. Jim Tomasek, vice president, will assume Flesher's responsibilities.

Flesher's letter of resignation stated, "For scholastic reasons, I hereby resign from the office of president of the Independent Students' association, effective immediately."

"I firmly believe that the work of ISA should and will be carried on to even greater success than before."

Last spring Flesher proposed various ideas for the organization. Since then, the ISA council has been working to carry out these proposals.

A new social program was outlined, including dances and activity cards. The activity cards were to take the place of membership cards, thereby providing a larger membership. By presenting these cards at their functions, ISA members were admitted.

Flesher also encouraged the independent students to participate in extracurricular activities on the campus.

The ISA council has accepted his resignation and is planning to continue operations with a revised program for the future.

A special meeting will be held Monday night at 5 p.m. in Room 309, Union, for all people interested in future ISA activities.

Three Convos Planned for Ag Religious Week

Ag college will hold three convocations during Religion in Life Week. Jerry Voorhis, Dr. Charles E. McAllister, and Miss Ruth Seabury will be the featured speakers.

Jerry Voorhis, executive secretary of the Cooperative League of the U.S.A. and executive director of the Cooperative Health Federation of America, will speak Tuesday, Nov. 7, at 10:20 a.m. in the Ag Union Lounge. His topic is "Political Science and Religion."

At a joint Ag YM and YW meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, November 7, in the Ag Union Lounge, Dean McAllister will show the film, "The Church in the Atomic Age." He is the originator of a series of pictures whose purpose is to encourage the application of moral principles to great events. Dean McAllister will also speak at an Ag Faculty dinner.

Miss Ruth Seabury will speak at the third convocation on November 8 at 5:00 p.m. in the Ag Union Lounge. Miss Seabury is a well known speaker on Christianity at home and abroad. She spends much of her time on college campuses and in university student groups. She will lead a group discussion on "Preparation for Family Life."

Meeting Planned By French Club The French club will hold its second meeting of the year on Wednesday, Nov. 8, in the Union, Parlors X and Y, at 7:30 p.m.

A "bigger and better" party is planned along the theme used at the last meeting, that of a French cafe. Couples will be seated at tables of four decorated with bottle candleholders.

The feature of the evening will be a comic skit, which will be scenes from "Knocks," a play by Jules Romains. The cast of the skit includes Karl Pond, Forrest Hazard and Robert Firestone. All are instructors in the University language department.

The singing of popular French songs such as "La Vie en Rose," will also be an important part of the entertainment. French will be translated for those students who do not yet have a working knowledge of the language.

Officers will be elected at a short business meeting and refreshments will be served.

Life Saving Class To Start Tonight

Senior life saving classes sponsored by the Red Cross college unit will begin tonight.

The classes will be held from 7:15 to 9:45 p.m. at the Coliseum pool.

The class is co-educational and open to all University students who have swim permits obtainable from Student Health.

The only charge is for a towel and for the Red Cross life saving manual.

The classes will be taught by Ruth Ann Sandstedt. She will be assisted by qualified University students. The course is under the direction of the men's and women's physical education department.
