Huskers Work Hard Against Tiger Plays

The University of Nebraska football machine swung back into full gear Tuesday in preparation for its Saturday's tussle with an up-and-coming University of Missouri team.

Coach Bill Glassford had every Varsity man in full playing uniform with the exception of Bill Mueller. Barring injuries this week during practice, the team should be at full strength for the Tigers.

to the tricky style of the Missouri offense. From then on the Freshmen had a pretty rough time gaining any ground.

Larry Carney, Bill Wingender, and Dick Goll all returned to full duty today to bolster the end, fullback and guard positions, respectively.

The starting lineup for the Varsity was Regier and Simon at tackles, Spellman and Handshy at ends, Strashelm and Bauer at guards, and McGill at center.

Play became rougher as the scrimmage progressed with Clark and Reynolds often being stopped cold by the hard-charging Freshmen defensive line.

Coach Glassford, fearful of the powerful Split-T running attack of the Tigers, sent his defensive platoon against a Frosh lineup in a two-hour scrimmage.

REX HOY . . . Husker defensive guard, was named nationally as one of the stars of the week for last Saturday's performance against Kansas.

Other offensive team to see action against the Frosh was made up of Carney and Ferguson, ends; Spellman and Handshy, tackles; Ponsiego and Meyer, guards; and Britt at center.

Fijis Upset Pi Kaps in Grid Playoff

Phi Gamma Delta scored three times in the third period Tuesday afternoon to upset Pi Kappa Phi, 19-7 in a fraternity "A" intramural football playoff contest.

The Pi Kaps, favored slightly going into the contest, were ruffled by the Fiji splurge.

Colorado Has Problems for Sooner Game

One of Coach Dal Ward's biggest problems this week in preparing his Colorado team for the invasion of the Oklahoma Sooners in Boulder Saturday is — how to bolster the wingback position in the Buff backfield.

Presby Stays Undefeated; Tops Newman

Unbeaten Presby House took advantage of the breaks to score eight points in the last three minutes of the game Tuesday night to beat an inspired Newman Club team, 14-6.

That left Ralph (Cactus) Curtis, another sophomore, as the only able-bodied wingback in the Colorado camp following the Utah game. Curtis' development through the campaign, however, has been retarded due to a pre-season leg injury.

So, if Shelton's ankle heals, Johnson's knee stays put, and Curtis keeps plugging — the Buffs may be all right in the backfield. Otherwise, the Colorado offense may sag.

Cyclones Face Kansas State

Iowa State faces an aroused, dangerous and rested football foe Saturday when the Cyclones invade Manhattan for their annual game with Kansas State.

For the fourth week in a row Colorado's golden gridders received the opening kickoff and scored the first touchdown of the game without relinquishing control of the ball.

Zack Jordan, Buff tailback who topped the nation's punters last week, will probably hold the No. 1 rung again. His average in the Ute contest was 49.5.

Taus Rally to Drop AGR's

Alpha Tau Omega spotted Alpha Gamma Rho a first period safety and then scored two touchdowns in rapid fire succession in the second quarter to win their opening playoff game Tuesday night.

As for Oklahoma, the Buffs have been looking forward to the visit by Wilkinson and Co., for some time.

"We will have to work hard this week," Coach Ward said, "and we'll try and have our boys as physically ready as possible."

Know Your Huskers

An up and coming sophomore is helping Coach Glassford's end situation this year in the person of Louis Roper who hails from Lincoln.

Roper is 19 years old, weighs 175, and stands 6-1. At the beginning of the season he was situated on the "B" team, but when the varsity returned home from the Curtis camp, Glassford switched the backfield man to end.

Roper graduated from Lincoln High School in 1949. While at Lincoln High he lettered in football and basketball. He was quarterback while at Lincoln.

He is a sophomore in Bus Ad College and is affiliated with Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Football Playoffs Continue With Five Contests Tonight

Five more teams will follow the 11 already disposed of in intramural football playoff competition Wednesday night as tougher and tougher opposition is being served up to the survivors.

The fraternity "A" tournament will go into the second round of play with four games on tap while the five contests will be the final game of the first round independent play.

All the games should be close in the fraternity "A" bracket, the winners to advance to the semi-finals of that tourney.

Leading the way in pre-game excitement is the battle between Sigma Nu and Delta Tau Delta. Both teams won their opening round game with little trouble.

The Nu's on the other hand shine through their defensive prowess. They have held four opponents scoreless in their seven games played.

Offense holds the key here, however, and the Deltas are slight favorites to go into the semis. This game will be on field 2.

The game may develop into the battle of offense versus defense. The Deltas are currently the highest scoring team in the University with 146 points chalked-up in seven games, an average of over 20 per contest.

Phi Gamma Delta and Pioneer House, two teams who supposedly were not to reach second round play will battle on field 1. Both outfits scored the only upsets in first round fraternity "A" competition.

This game could develop into a real contest since the two outfits are working hard for upsets. Early season showing can not mean too much in determining a winner here, but considering their two first round opponents' comparative strength, the Phi Gams rate a one touchdown edge.

Both outfits possess terrific passers in Ted Krattand, Mel Williams and top pass receivers in Bob Svanda and Bob Stake.

By sticking with the leader until he is beaten, you come up with Sigma Phi Epsilon by a very slim margin over Brown Palace. Don't be too surprised if it goes the other way.
