Plot to Slay President Unsuccessful

Two armed men were shot down by White House guards as they attempted to force their way into Blair house, President Truman's home.

One of the assailants was killed and another escaped in the melee. Three White House guards were wounded in a gun battle. Inside the house at this time was President Truman.

The assailants, dressed in civilian clothes, approached the two Blair house entrances, shooting with German Lugers.

This occurred in the broad day light. Within a matter of seconds following the shooting, Washington police roared in on squad cars.

LAST YEAR'S PEP QUEEN—Shirley Allen was the officiating Queen at the annual Homecoming dance last year. Nominated by Tassels, she was chosen by popular vote. The same procedure is being followed this year. The 1950-51 Queen will be revealed during the dance at the Coliseum Saturday night. Voting for the finalists will take place after the rally Friday night.

Tiger Trial, Burning Top Tonight's Rally

Rallies for the annual Nebraska Homecoming weekend will be held Thursday and Friday nights.

Thursday at 7:15 p.m., the Homecoming pre-rally will take place. The big rally will begin at 7 p.m., in front of the Union.

A stuffed tiger will be put on trial and burned in front of the Union during Thursday night's rally. The pep occasion will begin at the Coliseum at 7:15 p.m. The rally will march through the campus and over to the Union for the ceremonies.

The Friday night rally starts at the Union at 7 p.m. The pepsters will proceed to the Coliseum, across the campus and end up at the Mueller carillon tower.

Tower Program

The program to be held at the tower, planned by the rally committee, will be:

"The Star Spangled Banner," led by Pat Hinds; presentation of Coach Bill Glassford; introduction of the team and coaches by Glassford; introduction of Shirley Allen, last year's Homecoming queen; and presentation, by Miss Allen, of the Pep Queen candidates.

Interspersed in the rally program will be yells by the cheerleaders, fireworks and band numbers. A fireworks display will be held at the tower.

The ceremonies to be held Thursday night are part of the annual Homecoming festivities. The trial and conviction of the tiger has been carried out in previous years by the burning or hanging of the Kansas University Jayhawk, UCLA Bruin or some representation of the team to be played for Homecoming.

Biggest Yet

The Friday night rally will be one of the biggest of the year. The fireworks speeches, processions and cheers will be presented in full force for the Homecoming game.

The rally committee, headed by Yell King Frank Piccolo, wants all of University students to turn out for the rally.

Piccolo said, "We want to make this the biggest and best Homecoming celebration that the University has ever seen."

Piccolo Asks Help

As in previous rallies, cooperation, spirit and backing are being asked of the students. The success of Homecoming and especially the rallies, stated Piccolo, will depend on the attitude of the student body.

The rallies planned for this weekend will be lots of fun for the Cornhusker backers and will show the Huskers how much students are behind them, according to the rally committee.

Members of the rally committee are: Frank Piccolo, Aaron Schmidt, "Brick" Paulson, Dee Earlsman, Janet Zlomke, Gene Robinson and Del Koph.

Truxell Receives Geology Award

Council Maintains Old Policy

Again Questions Representation

Discussion of Student Council membership, AUF contribution from the Council, yell squad rules, and committee and migration reports were the issues taken up by the Student Council at the regular Wednesday meeting at the Union.

Last week the Council voted not to recommend approval to the faculty committee on student affairs the applications of AUF, NUCWA and Red Cross for Council membership.

Discussion arose again this week as to the validity of this motion. The fact was brought out that this Council is acting in an interim position only. The constitution committee has been working on a plan to set up a criteria for admittance to membership on the Council.

The opposition emphasized the size, representation, worth, purpose, and growth on campus of the organizations desiring membership.

Motion Reconsidered

Last week's motion was reconsidered and again voted on. The Council decided to maintain their position of recommending disapproval of the application of those organizations for representation on the Council.

Bob Rogers, head of the migration committee, reported to the Council on the results of the KU Very Big.

"A very big success" was the opinion of Rogers on the annual trip.

Rob Raun, president of the group, stated "Everyone had a whale of a good time and is ready to go again next year."

The faculty chaperones said that the conduct of the students was above and beyond reproach.

Election Rules Presented

Rules for election procedures were presented by Bob Parker, elections committee chairman. The Council is endeavoring to make the junior and senior class officer elections completely free of criticism, according to Parker.

The Council approved the suggestion of the Daily Nebraskan that results of the class elections be withheld until Monday.

A request for a contribution from the Council for AUF was turned down by the group. The members felt that their funds were to be used for a specific purpose designated by the Constitution.

UMOC Elections Monday, 32 Aspirants Vie For Title

Eight more males will be vying for the newly-created title of Ugliest Man on Campus. This brings the total to 23. The other UMOC aspirants were announced in last Friday's "Rag."

Elections to choose the finalist will be held next week, beginning Monday. Booths will be manned by the sponsors, AUF officers. They will continue through Friday.

Strong support has been afforded each competitor by their respective houses.

All UMOC candidates must meet at the "Rag" office for a group picture at 5:30 p.m., today. Jackie Hoss, chairman, warned that this will be the only time that pictures will be taken and every "ugly" is urged to be there with a full repertoire of funny faces. The picture will be used for posters which will be distributed before voting begins.

Facts which the houses have released about their candidates are being published by the "Rag" with the strong liability of being sued for libel. Strangely enough, the contestants themselves have not entirely ratified these sketches which follow.

Representing Theta Chi is Jack Fuller, junior, whose chief hobbies reportedly are pinmates and finances.

Leverton to Show Slides Tonight

Dr. Ruth Leverton, chairman of the University food and nutrition research department, will show colored slides which were taken on her trip around the world Thursday, Nov. 2, at 7:30 in the Ag Activities building.

The pictures include scenes from Japan, Siam, Ceylon, Egypt, Istanbul, Athens and Rome among other points of interest encountered by Dr. Leverton while on her trip.

Approximately 150 slides will be shown, accompanied by short explanations by Dr. Leverton.

Dr. Leverton taught in the Philippines last year. She was also a consultant and did some research in her field of study while there.

She has recently made some examinations of the diet habits of college girls in connection with her nutritional research work.

The convocation is open to the public as well as the students and there is no admission charge.

Publication Heads Go to Press Meet

Four members of the staff of two University publications left yesterday for the annual American Collegiate Press meeting at the Edgewater Beach hotel in Chicago.

Representing The Daily Nebraskan are Bruce Kennedy, editor, and Ted Randolph, business manager; representing the Cornhusker are Dick Kuska, editor, and Jack Barnhart, business manager.

The convention will consist of panel and discussion groups in which college editors from all over the United States will pool ideas for better University publications.

Juniors, Seniors To Name Officers

Juniors and seniors will choose their leaders today. Members of the two classes will go to the polls starting at 8 a.m., to vote for their class officers. Voting booths will be located in both the city and Ag unions and will be open for voting until 5 p.m., under supervision of the Student Council.

Seniors will select their slate of officers from the following candidates who applied for the offices:

Presidential candidates are Jimmie G. Peterson and Aaron Schmidt.

Richard Meissner, James Stoddart and Robert Waters are competing for the senior vice presidency.

Vying for secretary are Harold R. Bonness, Bob Pierce and James R. Wamsley.

Treasurer Candidates

Candidates for treasurer are Clarence Arlen Beam and Norman Case.

Junior candidates for office are as follows:

Charles Burmeister, Douglas R. Dale and Francis Dale Flood will compete for the top junior position.

Vice president candidates are James C. Downey, Delores Lovegrove, Gerald E. Matzke and Marilyn Moomery.

Juniors vying for junior secretary are Jack Cohen, Susan Pryor, Shirley Ransdell, Jayne Wade and Patricia Wiedman.

Candidates for junior treasurer are Marilyn Bergh, Ernest Eugene Johnson and Mary Sidner.

Last year's senior class president was Rocky Mueller. Juniors were led by Herb Reese. No other officers were elected by the classes.

Council to Preside

Only junior and senior class members are eligible to vote in the election. Two Student Council members will be present at the booths at all times. ID cards are required.

Council members who will officiate at the polls are Peggy Mulvaney, Bob Parker, Bill Michaelson and Rex Messersmith.

Candidates were barred from using money for campaign purposes. Posters were legal but no candidate was permitted to pay for advertising. Use of public address systems on or off campus was also prohibited.

Slated Last Spring

The election is regularly scheduled for the spring, and last spring a slate was prepared. However, the Council invalidated the election on the grounds that the elections had not been correctly publicized, the Council had not approved the election and the faculty committee on student affairs was not satisfied with the procedure.

Class officers will appoint senior and junior class councils to assist in the duties.

Dean Marvin Will Deliver Talk Tonight

Burton Marvin, dean of the William Allen White school of journalism at the University of Kansas, will speak in Love Library auditorium at 7:30 p.m. tonight under sponsorship of the Palladian Literary society.

"Wanted: More Truth for a Free People," will be the topic the journalist will discuss.

A graduate of the University, Dean Marvin is the second annual Samuel Avery lecturer to speak here. The endowment for the Avery lectureship was a gift of the Palladian Literary society in 1949 on their 75th anniversary. The fund is used to bring an outstanding speaker to the University each year.

Marvin won the first Hitchcock fellowship for advanced study in journalism at Columbia university. He graduated from the University in 1935 and worked for the Lincoln Star.

While at the University Marvin was president of the Palladian Literary society, a member of Innocents society, and editor of The Daily Nebraskan.

After earning his Masters degree in 1937 he began work on the staff of the Chicago Daily News, where he was assistant city editor and later telegraph editor. He taught at Northwestern university and was an associate professor of journalism at Columbia university. He was named dean of the newly-formed William Allen White school of journalism in 1949.

The Palladian Alumni association and the active society will combine Friday to honor Dean Marvin at a 6:30 p.m. banquet in the Union.

It Happened at N.U. . . .

At the joint YM-YW meeting on Ag campus last week the discussion was about the subject of dating.

The question being discussed was "How can a girl meet a boy?"

One bright member piped up with "Well, when I'm showing cattle I try to attract the judge with what I'm showing."
