

Finishing Touches . . .

HOUSE DECORATIONS—receive finishing touches as Jen Champagne, Midge Van Pelt, Marilyn Vingers and Ruth Jewett wield paint brushes to the Delta Gamma Homecoming display. Judging of the displays will take place tonight to determine the possession of the traveling cup, the first place award. Second and third place winners will be awarded plaques for their creations.

T. Z. Koo Address Sunday To Begin Religion Week

Religion-in-Life Week opens Sunday when Dr. T. Z. Koo, noted world statesman will speak at a convocation in the Union ballroom at 7 p.m.

The convocation will be the only Religion-in-Life Week appearance for Dr. Koo. His topic will be "What's the Score?"

Dr. Koo is one of a slate of noted speakers who will participate in the events of the five-day week, Monday through Thursday, such activities as vespers, student and faculty seminars, YM and YW meetings, personal conferences and house visitations will be held.

Following Dr. Koo's speech, a movie pertaining to the subject will be shown.

Catholic Program
Dr. Koo's address will begin the Protestant observance of the week. Catholic students will hear Rev. Joseph W. Bolland of McCook speak on "The Purpose of Life" at the 9 and 11 a.m. masses at the Union on Sunday.

At 5 p.m., Father Bolland will speak at St. Mary's Cathedral on "The Greatest Gift."
Dr. Koo has traveled extensively throughout the world as an officer of the World Student Christian federation. He is a world citizen of Chinese birth, having graduated from St. John's university, Shanghai.

Iowa Professor
He is currently a visiting professor at the University of Iowa, where he holds the position of professor of oriental studies. He has addressed hundreds of college, church and club audiences in all parts of the United States and has participated in scores of conferences and international institutes.

Dr. Koo spent three years of World War II in China. He escaped from Shanghai to Chungking through Japanese held territory on foot in 1944.

He was active in the League of Nations and was an adviser to the Chinese delegation at the San Francisco conference after the war.

For many years, Dr. Koo was active in YMCA work in China. During the second semester of 1949-50 he will be teaching at the University of Florida.

Committee Retreat
Sunday afternoon, beginning at 3 p.m., members of the Committee of 100, consisting of faculty members, students and campus religious leaders, will meet for an afternoon retreat at Emmanuel Methodist Church.

The committee of 100 is headed by Dr. G. W. Rosenlof, University Director of admissions. The committee has been working for many weeks planning for Religion-in-Life Week.

Sponsored by the Religious Welfare Council in cooperation with the University Christian Missions, the week aims at bringing religion to each student's life by asking him the question: "What's your score?"

Copies of Folder
Students may pick up copies of a six page folder describing Religion-in-Life Week events and containing a complete schedule of activities at the Methodist Student house anytime between today and Monday.

Jewish students are planning a college night at the synagogue, and also sessions with Rabbi Simha Kling, who will be on the University campus to lead the Jewish program.

The Jewish activities include, besides the college night, meetings and sessions with Kling.

The Catholic program will continue with week day masses at the Union Monday through Thursday at 7:05 and 8 a. m. Meetings will also be held at St. Mary's Cathedral Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights.

The three religious programs are separate, yet all are open to the public.

Other Leaders
Other leaders who will be on campus for the week are Charles E. McAllister, G. Eugene Durham, Bryant Drake, Joseph King, Rolland Dutton, Jerry Voorhis, Robert Fischer and Ruth Isabel Seabury, all furnished by the University Christian Missions.

Students desiring personal conferences with any of these speakers may make arrangements as to time and place by contacting Louise Cook, Terrace hall, 2-1107 or by filling in a form that will be available at any of the week's meetings.

All speakers, with the exception of Dr. Koo and Mr. Voorhis will be available for conferences.

Student members of the judging team are the following Klub officers: Leon Pfeiffer, Ted Randolph, Frank Jacobs, and Jerry Johnson. Other Klub members, Aaron Schmidt, John Mills and Bob Rogers will be present at the judging.

Dean Frank Hallgren will accompany the team.

All scripts are due Saturday, Nov. 11. Rehearsals of the seven skits chosen for the show will begin Tuesday, Nov. 14.

Tug of War To Determine Beanies' Fate

Will the freshmen be required to wear their beanies until the first snowfall?

This question will resound from the Stadium Saturday when Nebraska meets Missouri across the 50 yard line and the freshmen meet the sophomores across the middle of a rope.

The annual tug-of-war classic, to determine the battle of the red beanies, will take place before the Homecoming game. The event is sponsored by the Innocents society.

Tradition rules that if the freshmen are victorious in the battle they may discard their beanies immediately. However, if the sophomores out-tug the frosh, the beanies must be worn until the first snow falls.

Girls to Pull

Girls will participate in this year's "Tug" for the first time in University history. Twenty Tassel workers and twenty girls for the freshmen pep squad will be selected by Tassels to compete in the first tug-of-war.

Corn Cobs will select 20 sophomore workers and 20 men from the pep squad to compete against each other in the muscle battle.

The two struggles will take place in front of the band section on the 50-yard line. The men's competition will begin at 1:35 p.m. and the women's event will take place at 1:40 p.m.

Game Rules

The rules for the game are: Teams line up in a straight line facing each other. Both teams pull in their direction on the rope. The first team that succeeds in pulling the entire opposite team over the line, about a 20-yard pull, wins.

Last year the freshmen discarded their red beanies after a victory over the sophomores. In 1948, the freshmen met defeat and had to continue wearing their headpieces until the first snowfall.

Deadline Tonite For Display Expense Report

All entrants in the 40th Homecoming display contest should have their expense accounts, itemized and complete, turned in to John Mills, 635 No. 16th street, by 6 p.m. tonight.

Judging for the contest will be done from 6 until 11 p.m. tonight. The judging committee will inspect the displays during the evening from an expense viewpoint.

The 40 organized houses on campus which have entered the contest should be sure that their lights remain on and their displays in operation until 11 p.m. Judges for the contest will be Prof. C. J. Frankforter, Prof. Don Lentz and James Porter. A group of Innocents will accompany the judges to inspect the displays.

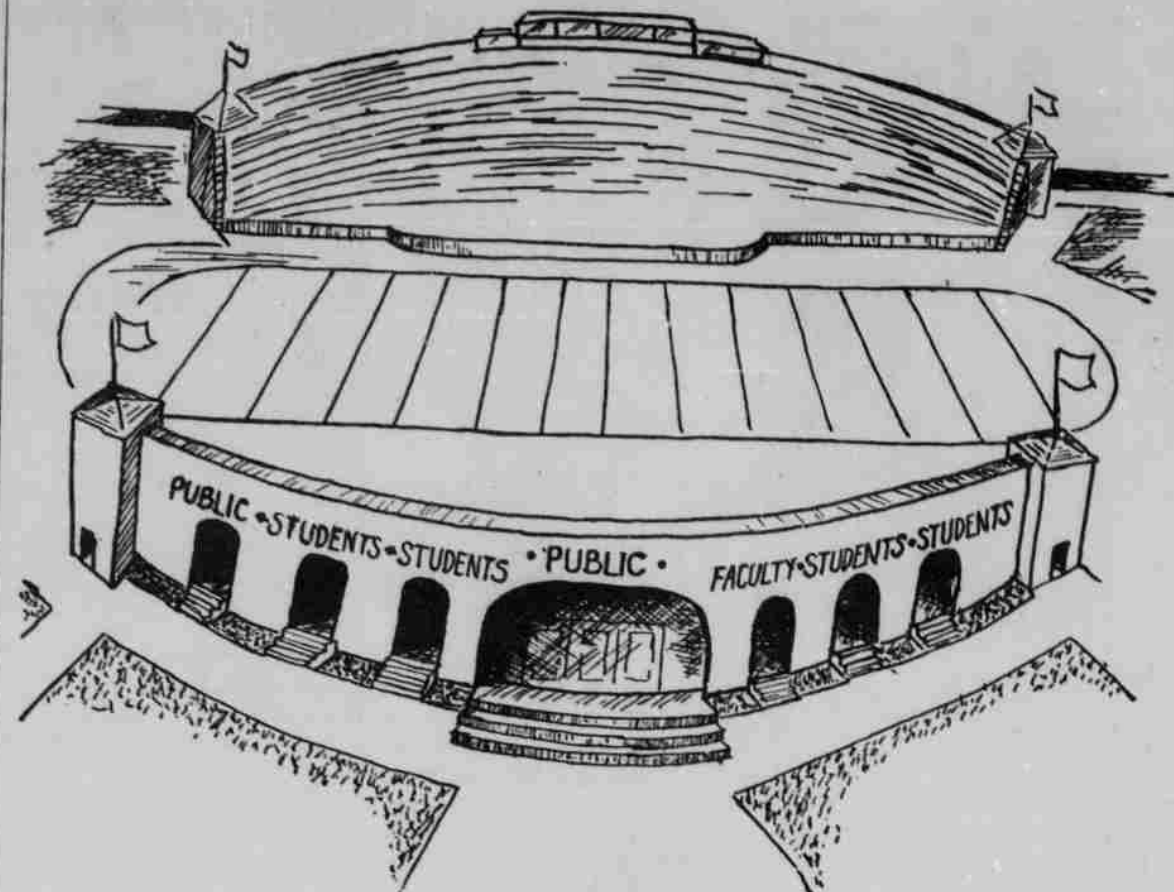

Lights for the displays at the 40 organized campus houses will be turned on and remain on until 11 p.m.

Y Members Hear Talk by Williams

Dallas Williams addressed the first YWCA all membership meeting Wednesday night at 7:30, in Ellen Smith Hall. His topic was "Religious Expression Through the Theater."

After giving a summary of what theater has meant to man since its beginning 2000 years ago, Williams spoke as the imaginary person "Theater." He described how the theater has been wrongly used by man. He also brought out the fact that the theater is a mirror of man's life and is just what man makes it. The meeting was conducted by Sharon Fritzer. A recognition of new members was given by Kathy Schreiber. Melodies on the harp, played by Bonnie Weddell, opened and closed the meeting.

Stadium Entrances . . .

EAST STADIUM

EAST STADIUM DOORS—At the Homecoming game Saturday, students will enter the doors marked "students" in this illustration. Faculty members will use the faculty entrance and the general public will use the center and extreme north entrances. Athletic business manager A. J. Lewandowski urges all students and faculty members to reach the game early to avoid congestion. The new system is being used this year to protect the interests of the University student body. Checkers will be at the doors and ramps to check game tickets with identification cards.

Students, Faculty Requested To Arrive at Stadium Early

Due to the large crowds expected at the game Saturday, students and faculty members should arrive at the game early, A. J. Lewandowski, University athletic director urges.

"Students who have seats in sections one, two, three and four should enter the north student doors of the East Stadium, so they will not cause cross traffic inside," Lewandowski said.

The new checking system inaugurated this year will be used to handle tickets at the game.

system would be speeded up. The business manager believes that the new checking system has been very successful. "When students can cooperate with student checkers and abide by the rules, it shows the spirit and unity which the student body has," Lewandowski explains.

Country Dancers To Meet Tonight

Ag Country Dancers will hold their weekly meeting from 7 to 9 p.m. tonight in the College Activities building.

A short business meeting will be conducted and the remaining time will be spent in square dancing and other forms of folk dancing.

Any interested persons are invited to attend. There is also opportunity to learn how to call square dances.
