

Males Top Weekend Activities

'Bachelor' Contest . . .

Vote Today to Pick Eight Eligible Men

Eight NU men will be tabbed "Eligible" by campus women in an all-girl election in Ellen Smith hall and the Ag Union today from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

The occasion is the election of the eight Eligible Bachelors who will be presented at the Mortar Board Ball Friday, Dec. 8.

Pictures of those running for the title will be posted at the election polls.

Candidates

The thirty-two names appearing on the ballot are: Gene Bruening, Leonard Bush, Wendell Cole, Ira Epstein, Wayne Handshy, Bill Henkle, Gene Johnson, Hobe Jones, Donald Korinek, Paul Kugler, Joe McGill, Paul McKie, Bill Marbaker and Edwin Lane.

Jerry Matzke, Fran Nagle, Phil Olsen, Russell Parmenter, Harold Petersen, Veri Scott, Tom Snyder, Dick Walsh, Clayton Yeutter, Charles Burmeister, Bill Dugan, Ed Hussman, Frank Simmon, Bob Reynolds, Richard Buls, Aaron Schmidt and Lavone Fritson.

Presentation

Presentation of the Bachelors is the highlight of the annual "turnabout" dance sponsored by the campus senior women's honorary.

The identity of the Most Uglyest Man on Campus will also be revealed at the ball.

Girls assume the roles of fellows for one night. They pay the bills, call for their dates and provide corsages for their dates.

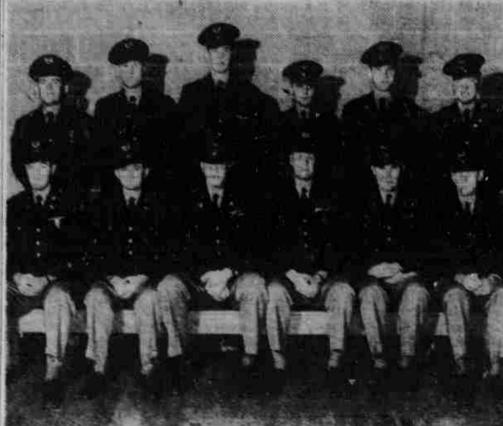

Corsages

Some of the corsages last year ranged from electric razors to Christmas tree lights. A basketball hoop, TNE pin, a miniature barn containing a cow and chicken which laid two eggs, a surrealist creation of a miniature girl with an oversized garter attached were some of the outstanding corsages at the last ball.

Last year's Eligible Bachelors were Charles Widmaier, Robert Sim, Keith O'Bannon, Ajon Farber, Tom Donahoe, Bill Brinkman, Don Bloom and Bus Whitehead.

Coads must present their ID cards before voting.

Good Soldiers . . .

BEST ARMY STUDENTS—These students were honored at a military parade. They were cited for scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character. They are: (back row, l. to r.) John E. Gudgel Jr., James M. Rosenquist, Gordon R. Denker, Henry M. Kadavy, Allan F. Decker, Donald D. Jensen, (front row) Stanford W. Jones, Roland L. Egger, Edward D. Pullen, James M. Wroth, Oscar C. Decker and Mark O'Dell Jr. Not pictured are: John W. Maher, Miroslav H. Mateja, Robert B. Meyers, Charles M. Bressman and Richard Meissner.

ROTC Seniors Receive Honors

Members of this group of top-ranking senior Army ROTC students at the University were among those honored Wednesday evening at a parade and ceremonies on the campus.

They are: John E. Gudgel, jr., James M. Rosenquist, Gordon R. Denker, Henry M. Kadavy, Allan F. Decker, Donald D. Jensen, Stanford W. Jones, Roland L. Egger, Edward D. Pullen, James M. Wroth, Oscar C. Decker, and Mark O'Dell, jr.

Members of the honorary army cadet group not pictured are: John W. Maher, Miroslav H. Mateja, Robert B. Meyers, Charles M. Bressman, and Richard H. Meissner.

Selection Basis

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

'Revue' to Include 6 Fraternity Skits

NU Students Cast 'Prince' Vote Tonight

A popular student vote at the door of the Coliseum tonight will answer the current campus question: "Who will be Prince Kosmet this year?"

A giant poster inside the Coliseum lobby will identify the six finalists for the title with large photographs with names underneath.

The presentation will provide breath-taking suspense during a special ceremony which will reveal the Prince accompanied by the new Nebraska Sweetheart.

Roaring Twenties

The precedent of a Prince Kosmet was originated during the "Roaring Twenties" when crowds "roared" with laughter at the riotous escapades of hairy legged athletes pounding the boards into pulp. However, it wasn't a very exciting precedent; in fact, the Prince took a back seat to the Nebraska Sweetheart.

It was a custom to present the Sweetheart in an atmosphere of majesty and forget the Prince, whose only purpose was to merely escort "her royal highness" when she was introduced.

However, the Prince gradually gained more prestige and finally it was considered just as great an honor to be chosen Prince Kosmet as it was Sweetheart.

Until 1940, the student body had no part in selection of the Prince. The members of Kosmet Klub only were allowed to vote for the Prince. Coeds had their first opportunity to choose the Prince Kosmet in 1940. It might be interesting to note that first to be so chosen was Ralph Warden, head cheerleader and former Big Six diving champion.

Following is a brief sketch of the 1950 Prince finalists:

Dick Walsh, Farmhouse, is a member of Corn Cobs, Tri-K, Ag Ec, and Union board. He is an Ag junior.

Bobby Reynolds, of Phi Kappa Psi, plays left halfback on the Husker grid squad; is a sophomore enrolled in Teachers college.

Gerald Warren, Sigma Nu, is managing editor of the "Rag," a College Days chairman and a junior whose major is journalism.

Joe Gifford, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, is a member of the Husker golf team and Simon's college board. He is an arts and science junior.

Phil Neff, president of Delta Tau Delta, is a member of Gamma Lambda, and the ROTC band. He is an engineering senior.

Frank Piccolo, Alpha Tau Omega, is Yell King. He is a bizad senior.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

A host of University entertainers will embark tonight on "A Mythical Tour of Broadway," with an expected crowd of 3,500 as their guests.

The Broadway theme will establish the setting at the 1950 Kosmet Klub Fall Revue which will begin at 8 p. m. at the Coliseum.

The entertainment aggregate will include skits presented by six fraternities, special acts by student talent, a royal presentation, and the wit of veteran emcee, John Carson.

Make-Believe Atmosphere

This year's skits will be flavored with the make-believe atmosphere of Broadway. All will embody the sparkle, hilarity, and gaiety of the New York wonderland.

Delta Upsilon actors directed by Howard Dennis, will delve into the history books as they present "The Life of Mr. Berlin."

The interesting sidelights of Broadway will be surveyed by Alpha Tau Omega as they give their "On the Town," directed by Charles Saggau.

The Zeta Beta Tau skit, "Call Me Private," will provide a pantomime of Broadway's drama. It is directed by Leo Schmidt.

A bit of the classical is embraced by the name of Beta Theta Pi's "The Adventures of Cyrano de Bergerac." Skitmaster is Ken Wayman.

A white-collared title has been given to the Theta Xi skit "Tea Time on Broadway," directed by Jack Moore.

A lively plot is hinted at by the Phi Gam's skit name, "Manhattan Merry-Go-Round." Director of last year's first place skit, Jerry Solomon is back at the helm.

To guide the show throughout its entirety, Jack Carson will be back in his favorite role as master of ceremonies. Presently employed by radio station WOW-TV in Omaha, Carson is known throughout the Midwest area for his specialty impersonations, witty satire, and ventriloquist numbers. He was very active in radio and other campus functions before his graduation in 1949. He was a Prince Kosmet finalist in 1948, and also an honorary member of Kosmet Klub.

Good Acts Promised However, George Wilcox and See Revue, Page 2

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

Royal Rites Will Honor 'Sweetheart'

A tradition begun in 1929 will again focus student interest tonight upon the annual Fall Revue.

The presentation of the Nebraska Sweetheart of 1950 will mark the 22nd royal ceremony for "her majesty."

In November of 1929, men chose the Sweetheart in a regular campus election.

Even when it was decided that only males would be featured in the Revues and Spring shows, the royal ceremonies revealing the Sweetheart took top priority regarding student concern.

The loud guffaws from slapstick-appreciating audiences usually subsided enough to permit an impressive coronation of the Sweetheart. Even George Sauer and Bernie Masterson of football fame who once appeared in a Fall Revue, rated second best to the show's royalty rites.

It was from these rites that the title of Prince Kosmet originated. The title actually was given the honor of leading her to the throne next to the one which he himself would occupy. Kosmet Klub conferred the honor upon some prominent non-member or someone who had done the most in past Kosmet Klub productions.

A brief sketch of the six finalists for the Sweetheart title of 1950:

Jackie Sorens, of Kappa Kappa Gamma, managing editor of the Cornsaker, secretary of AUF and a member of a College Days committee. She is an arts and science junior.

Dorothy Elliott, Alpha Phi, is a member of Coed Counselors. She is a sophomore in Teachers college.

Jean Loudon, Alpha Chi Omega, is a member of Coed counselors board, Aquettes, YWCA, and the Union committee. She is also AWS board treasurer. She is enrolled as an arts and sciences sophomore.

Lorraine Westphal, Pi Beta Phi, is a member of the YWCA, Cornhusker staff, and a Union committee. She is a Teachers college sophomore.

Anita Spradley, Alpha Xi Delta, is a member of Mu Phi Epsilon. She is a Teachers college junior.

Dolly McQuistan, Delta Delta Delta, is a member of Coed Counselors and is enrolled as a Teachers college sophomore.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

The army merit awards were presented by Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and tactics; the air force awards by Lt. Col. Alex C. Jamieson, professor of air science and tactics.

Members of the honor group, all seniors, were selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, military bearing and character.

The air group, were awarded ribbons for the most uniform performance in the Nov. 2 parade. The award for the ground force group was received by Cadet First Lt. James A. Doyle, battery executive officer for Cadet Capt. Richard H. Heissner, battalion commander. Cadet Capt. Robert W. Shively, flight leader for Cadet Lt. Col. Robert Pierce, squadron commander, received the award for the air force group.

N.U. Forces Resist Reds; Move Ahead

U.N. forces continued to move forward in the face of continued communist withdrawals in North Korea, while South Koreans and the reds continued to attack and counter-attack in the East.

Allied troops were able to advance from one to five miles. The Seventh Marine division met the first real red resistance in two days. They continued to push along the shore of Chosin reservoir, source of Korean and Manchurian power.

South Koreans managed to throw back red counterattacks on their positions in the west-central sector of the front.

Temperatures rose above the freezing mark for the first time in three days, although some