

NU Meets Sooners For Big Seven Title

By Bill Mundell
Sports Editor, Daily Nebraskan

The Big Seven showdown is all set up for Norman, Okla., this weekend as the unbeaten Sooners and the rejuvenated Nebraska Huskers meet in the final conference contest for both. Both outfits brushed up for their crucial meeting by adding to their credit side of games last Saturday, the Huskers dropping Iowa State, 20-13 and the Sooners blasting Missouri, 41-7.

The Sooners already have assured themselves of no worse than a tie for first and the Missouri scalp was their 28th victory in a row. By beating Nebraska next Saturday, they will be sole survivor of the Big Seven in addition to padding their national record.

Nebraska, on the other hand, can share the title with the Oklahomaans by doing what the last 29 Sooner opponents have found impossible. The Husker victory over Iowa State Saturday enabled them to finish the first defeatless season in Memorial Stadium since 1940. Only the 20-20 tie with Indiana in the season's opener mars the Husker home record.

Improved Defense

The Husker defense showed considerable improvement in the Cyclone fray Saturday. The Iowa ground attack went nowhere and if it were not for Billy Weeks' passing, the Cyclones would have had no offensive threat at all.

At that, it was only during the second half that the State passer came into his own. During that second half, he completed ten of 15 attempts and was instrumental in both Cyclone scores. During the first half he connected in only one of six.

The vaunted Husker offense found the road a little rugged against a Cyclone seven-man and eight-man line, but they used a first quarter break to score and then ground out two long drives to wrap up the Staters.

With a little over five minutes remaining in the first period, Bobby Reynolds punted out on the State five-yard line. From here the Cyclones made five yards in two plays, but on the third down Dick Goeglein smeared Weeks forcing him to fumble and Tony Winey fell on the ball on the State six.

Adduci Scores

From here it took Nick Adduci just two plays to smash across and with Reynolds adding the point the Scarlet led 7-0.

From that point for the rest of the half, nothing offensively happened. The only thing worth noting was a beautiful 90-yard quick-kick by Cyclone Ed Green which from the Cyclone ten-yard line, narrowly missed rolling dead on the Husker one.

The Cyclone offense got rolling immediately in the second half. It took the Staters just ten plays to cover 73 yards after taking the kickoff. Four straight completed passes by Weeks highlighted the drive. A beautiful run by the same Mr. Weeks produced the TD. Back to pass, he failed to find a receiver in the open, so cut around right end, danced along the sidelines and completed the 19-yard run by giving Cyclones six points.

The Huskers roared right back

BILL MUELLER . . . roars through the Cyclone defenses for a 12 yard gain early in the first period of the 20-13 Cornhusker win. and in 14 plays ground 59 yards. The longest gains in this drive was a nine-yard advance by Reynolds. An eight-yard gain by Reynolds gave the Huskers a first down on the State four from where Adduci took it across standing. Reynolds again added the point and the score stood 14-6 with four minutes remaining in the third stanza.

69 Yards—17 Tries

Another drive following the same pattern was produced late in the fourth quarter. This time starting on their own 31 the Huskers used 17 plays before Reynolds rounded end for the final seven. An eight-yard gain by Reynolds was the longest in this drive.

In both drives Reynolds, Mueller, and Adduci were the work-horses with a couple of good quarterback-sneaks tossed in by Fran Nagle.

The Cyclones got their second score on the last play of the game. Weeks had passed to Wilhelm who was knocked out of bounds by Ron Clark just inches inside the flag. With one second left and the clock stopped the Staters got their chance and cashed in with McGlynn going across.

Palacers fifth—Defending seven-man champion, Brown Palace, is the fifth ranked football team in the University. The Palacers finished co-leaders of their league and reached the quarter-finals of the frat "A" playoff tourney. They were defeated there in a weird game by the Sig Eps, 7-0. High points of the season were a couple of 23-0 games during regular season while the low point focused on their defeat at the hands of the Sammies.

Alpha Tau Omega leads the way in the second division, holding down the sixth slot. The Taus, defending champs of the now defunct nine-man play, had their ups and downs all season long. Phi Delta Theta was their downfall on all occasions and their only defeats came at the hands of the Phi Deltas. The Taus were ranked second before the playoffs.

Another independent outfit is resting in the final number seven notch. Sigma Gamma Epsilon earns this spot mainly through their showings against the runner-up City YMCA team. The Sig Gams dropped the Yers 1-0 in their first match and lost out 6-6 in their second meeting. They remain in the seventh spot as before the playoffs.

Sig Nu Eighth

Holding fast to the number eight position is Sigma Nu. The Nu's at one time celebrated being on top of the standings, but three losses soon changed things. The Nu's reached the quarter-finals of the frat "A" playoffs before bowing 6-12 to the Deltas. Losses this year were to the Deltas, Taus, and Phi Deltas.

Presby House slips in at ninth place. The Presbys, last year's runner-up outfit in seven-man ball, were unbeaten until the 8-6. They did, however, own one victory over that same YM team earlier in the year. That score was 14-0. High points for the Presbys were two 14-4 wins over the Newman Club and the low point, their only loss.

Ag YM Enters

The Presby conqueror, Ag College YMCA, pushes in to round out the top ten grid teams this year. The Aggies lost to the City YMCA team in the All-U semi-finals. Their record of the year was not too showy, but their spurge in late season earned them the tenth rung. The 6-0 win over Presby was their high point of the year while a seasonal 6-1 loss to Newman Club was the low point.

In the individual ratings, the A Men's Club squeezed in at the number three spot in the independent standings. Behind the Aggies came the Bengals in fourth and the Wheels in fifth.

In the Denomination ratings, following Presby and Ag YMCA came the Baptist Student House in third, Newman Club in fourth, and the University YMCA in the five position.

The Fraternity "A" ratings went as follows: Following the number one Deltas came Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Brown Palace, Alpha Tau Omega, and Sigma Nu.

Bill Glassford Gets Raise, Vote of Confidence—Regents

The University of Nebraska Board of Regents gave Head Football Coach J. Harold Glassford a vote of confidence Saturday morning "for an excellent football season" by approving an increase in pay.

The Regents, acting on a recommendation of Chancellor R. G. Gustavson, said Coach Glassford would be raised from $10,000 to $11,000 per year on Feb. 1, the effective date of his year-to-year contract. A second raise from $11,000 to $12,000 per year will become effective with the proposed general ten per cent raise planned for all university employees on July 1, provided funds are provided by the next session of the state legislature.

Previously the University's biennial budget had provided for a raise of $1,000 in 1951 and again in 1952.

Coach Glassford, in a letter to the Athletic Director, "Potsy" Clark, on Tuesday, said that he preferred that any wage increase given him would follow the general plan of wage increases to be experienced by the University faculty under provisions of the biennial budget.

Volleyball Second Round Postponed

The Intramural Department announced today that the second round of the volleyball playoffs had been postponed from Monday, today to Monday, Nov. 27, the first day of school following Thanksgiving vacation. The third round will be played the following Tuesday, Nov. 28.

ratings just in time and got the final number seven spot. They reached the semi-finals of the frat "A" playoffs where they lost to the Deltas, 6-18.

Theta Xi dropped a peg and finished as the eighth team. They were beaten by the Sig Eps, 19-6, in the opening round of the playoffs.

Pi Kappa Phi also drops a notch and rounds out the year in ninth place. They too were dropped in the first round of the playoffs, 7-19, by the Fijis.

Pioneer House appears for the first time this year rounds out the top ten fraternity "A" outfits. Pioneer reached the quarter-finals before being ousted by the Fijis, 0-7.

In the Fraternity "E" ratings, Alpha Tau Omega emerged as 1950 champion. The Taus survived an eight team tournament to get the nod. Phi Delta Theta, leader for most of the year, ranked second at the season's end. The Phi Deltas were beaten 18-20 by the Taus in the tourney final.

Ranking behind these two came Sigma Chi in third, Sigma Phi Epsilon in fourth, and Kappa Sigma rounding out the "Bee" ratings.

Delta Tau Delta stands out undisputedly as the number one team of the University in the final 1-10 grid standings. The Deltas survived five grueling contests in the playoffs to take the top spot for honors and rule as the 1950 All-University champion. High spots for the Deltas were the 7-6 victories over the City YMCA and Phi Delta Theta in the playoffs and the 28-0 rout of a good Phi Kappa Phi outfit during the season. The one low spot was the 0-20 shellacking from Sigma Phi Epsilon.

City YMCA climbed from nowhere before the playoffs and rests in the number two position in the final ratings. The City Y boys boast a record of 7-2 and one of those losses was a heartbreaker to the champion Deltas in the finals. This loss plus the 6-0 win over Sigma Gamma Epsilon for the Independent championship were the top moments while a 6-1 defeat at the hands of the Sig Gams was their dark moment.

The Deltas were rated fourth before the playoffs and the Yers were unrated.

Phi Deltas Climb

Phi Delta Theta holds down the number three spot. The Phi Deltas, rated sixth before the playoffs, finished the season with a spurge that carried them into the fraternity "A" finals. They were beaten by the champion Deltas there by a slim 6-7 margin. Low spots in the season for them were the 7-19 defeats by Kappa Sigma in the season opener and a 0-27 surprise by Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Two victories over Alpha Tau Omega top their record.

Previously first-place Sigma Phi Epsilon finishes the year on the number three rung. The Sig Eps boast of the second best record in competition, an eight win, 8-7 covering a decision to Phi Delta Theta kept them in the fourth place. They hold one of the brightest spots in the record, a 20-0 lambasting of the
