Delit Hangover
Pink elephants and agonized faces were part of the decorations at the Delta Tau Delta hangover party Saturday night.

Emory Mauch provided entertainment with a few jokes and some imitations.

Dancing to the music were Jim Lubker and Barb Nelson, Phil Neff and Jo Elder, Ron Hart and Pokex Bergh.

Silver and blue laced garters were given as favors at the Theta Xi French party.

Modern French murals decorated the fraternity house walls. Dripped candles in wine bottles provided atmosphere.

Entertainment included the Theta Xi Kosmet Klub skit. Taking in the party Saturday night were Ken Johnson and Jo Mikklesen, Jack Moore and Mary Kay Tolliver, Don Forinash and Eunice Braasch, and Levis Pennock and Joyce Hayes.

ZBT's and Spooks

A Frankenstein stood in one corner of the ZBT house to add to the spooky atmosphere at their haunted house party Saturday night.

Spider webs and signs also decorated the house.

At the informal party were Lenny Wolpa and Leah Baird, Marshall Kushner and Janice Ringle, Al Katskee and Sylvia Krasne, Peggy Judd and Milt Malsel, and Barb McElwain and Cal Modisest.

Pioneers park was the scene of the Farm House annual fall party Saturday night.

Mal Dunn and his orchestra provided music for dancing. Among those present were Clayton Yentler and Jeanne Vlerk, Lavern Popken and Lola Banghart, Joe Edwards and Ann Lambert, Rex Messersmith and Shirley Peggson. The last dance was a gay polka.

Before the party, the alums had a banquet for the Farm House actives and pledges at the Union.

Atomic Age Theme

The coming atomic age was the theme of the Alpha Xi Delta pledge party last week-end.

A group of Latin-American students provided music for the pledge skit given at intermission. The skit was about a couple in a nightclub in the coming age.

Jerry Ewing and Bunny Spradley, Alice Erwin and Tom Harper, Pat Wainsoott and Dick Finke, and Wally Schmidt and Jack Mosley were a few couples at the celebration.

Fiji Second Childhood

Honoring national kiddies week, the Phi Gam's gave a kiddies party last Saturday.

Prizes were given to the two sweetest little girls. One of the winners was Leo Geier who charmed them all with his pink baby bonnet and silk waist sash. The other child was Dolly McQuistan who was wheeled to the party in a baby buggy.

Lollypops were given as compensation to the other kiddies who did not win prizes.

Painted freckles, skull caps, and short pants were the usual masculine costume. The girls came in shorts, or short skirts, big hair bows, and pigtails.

Comic balloons and crepe paper decorated the fraternity house. Some of the little people were Wayne Eisenhart and Barb Yeager, Matt Japp and Mary Pitterman, Darrell Shermann and Phyllis Murphy, Pat Gundy and Dick Carson, John Ellwell and Pat Roach, Ila Jungbluth and Jerry Berigan, Jim McGeachin and Bev Reckaway and Rich Olson and Julie Johnson.

Ag to 'Throw' 'Snow-Ball' Jan. 5

With snow flurries promised by the weather man, snowballs will come into their own. But the Ag Union has a special "Snow-Ball" in mind.

An annual Ag college affair, the "Sno-Ball" dance will be held Jan. 5 in the College Activities building. Bobby Mills will furnish music for dancing from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Joan Meyer has been appointed chairman of the "Sno-Ball" dance committee. She will be assisted by Clarice Millen and Norman Swanson.

Sponsors are the Ag Union dance committee headed by Jeanne Vlerk and Dick Walsh. Tickets will sell for $1.20 per couple.

Cigaret Company Wants Snapshots

A college photography contest is now being sponsored by Chesterfield cigarettes. Chesterfield wants amateur shutterbugs to click a series of three snapshots showing photogenic students at the University taking the mildness test.

Three photographs of each model are to be submitted illustrating the three steps in the mildness test: Open 'Em, Smell 'Em, Smoke 'Em. For more information about this contest, call The Daily Nebraskan office.

Wed Soon

Betty Lou Moderow and Philip Young will be married Saturday, Dec. 16 at the First Lutheran church in Oakland.

Miss Moderow is a member of Willard sorority at Nebraska Wesleyan, Young is a senior at the University and a member of Sigma Nu and N Club.

Ovitz-Varney Wedding

The marriage of Grace Ann Ovitz and Thomas Varney was solemnized Sunday, Nov. 12, at First Presbyterian church.

The bride wore an Italian silk satin gown fashioned in the traditional style. It featured a bertha of Duchess and Rosepoint lace and long fitted sleeves on a fitted bodice.

For her attendants the bride chose Bonnie Varney, Marcia Beckley, Carolee Cuthbertson and Janice Ann Hannaford.

Serving at the reception at the Persian room of the Cornhusker hotel immediately following the ceremony were: Dorothy Speer, Eileen Derieg, Betsy Thompson, Jean Vogt, Adele Coryell, Jayne Carter, Pat Gilbreath, Charlotte Warren, Shirley Evans, Sarah Fulton, Suzanne Vickery and Sally Rothenberger.

Mrs. Varney attended William Woods college in Fulton, Mo., and the University where she was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. Varney attended the Wentworth Military academy and the University where he was affiliated with Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

Myers-Meehan Rite

Fan-shaped sprays of wood-wardian white stock in gold urns and cathedral candles appointed the altar of Holy Family church for the Monday morning wedding of Patricia Meehan and Philip Myers.

The bride chose a portrait gown of candlelight satin and chantilly lace, fashioned in a Victorian cut mode. The snugly fitted bodice outlined with satin cording had a waist-length berth which was scalloped in front on back.

Virginia Meehan was maid of honor, and Mary Lucille Meeha was a junior bridesmaid.

NATIONAL RECOGNITION—LeRoy Burket, left, and Walter Meigs, right, both members of the University art faculty received national recognition recently when paintings of each were accepted by a national jury for the Metropolitan museum's exhibition of American paintings. "Quarry Face" by Meigs and "Beach Scene, Black Moon" by Burket are the works which will be exhibited.

Paintings by Two Professors Receive National Recognition

Paintings by two members of the University's art faculty have received national recognition.

The works have been accepted by a national jury for the Metropolitan museum's exhibition of American paintings of today 1950. Duard W. Laging, head of the University's art department announced Thursday.

Walter Meigs, assistant professor, is represented by a painting, "Quarry Face." The other painting selected is the work of LeRoy Burket, who is currently on leave to study in Paris. It is entitled "Beach Scene, Black Moon."

Professor Laging explained that this is the first time the Metropolitan museum has sponsored a show of works by living American artists. All entries had to pass both a regional and national jury of selection. The exhibition will be open from Dec. 9 to Feb. 25.

Laging Comments

"Having paintings accepted for exhibition at the Metropolitan museum is a significant achievement," Professor Laging commented, "and Nebraska can be justly proud of this recognition."

Meigs, originally a New Yorker, holds a bachelor's degree from Syracuse university and a masters degree from the University of Iowa. He also has a diploma from Fontainebleau, internationally famous school of fine arts in France.

Burket holds a B.F.A. and an M.F.A. from Iowa State. His oil painting, "Rock Inhabitants," won a $200 purchase prize at the ninth annual Missouri exhibition held last year at the City Art museum in St. Louis.

Meigs has been a drafting engineer at the Caleo Chemical company. In 1949 he received honorable mention at Jauslin memorial. He does most of his painting in Duco.

Walter Meigs has been at the University for two years. He was first an instructor, and now he is an assistant professor.

LeRoy Burket presently is on a one year leave of absence on a Fullbright scholarship. His last painting won regional jury.

Pre-Yuletide Debates Slated

Three exhibition debates have been scheduled for University students before Christmas.

Two debaters will discuss formation of an international non communist organization Friday noon at a Cosmopolitan luncheon at the Cornhusker hotel.
