

Oklahoma Blocks Husker Title Claim

By Bill Mundell

Coch Bill Glasford today thanked all the Husker faithful for their fine co-operation and spirit they displayed for the Scarlet's sake over the football season and said he and his graders would journey to Norman, Okla., this weekend and do the best job that they are capable of. And with that he began putting his charges through their paces for the mighty battle ahead of them Saturday.

Nebraska can tie the Sooners for the Big Seven Championship by dropping the Okies. That is the main hope in the hearts of all Cornhuskerland. But regardless of what happens at Norman, the nation has heard about the return of Nebraska to big-time college football.

Undeclared

The Huskers have completed their first undefeated home stand in 10 years and their record to date of six wins, one loss, and one tie is also the best since the 1940 Rose Bowl squad paraded on Memorial sod.

The 1950 Cornhuskers also rank high in the nation in both rushing and total offense and to top it all off, they are receiving strong support for four different bowl contests for New Years Day. The Sugar, Cotton, Orange, and Gator Bowls are all interested in Nebraska.

The Sooners, on the other hand, have already clinched a share of the conference crown and could be undisputed champions by dropping the Huskers. The Okies, also, have won 29 straight games, a modern record. Oklahoma is near the top, if not actually perched up there, in the nation's college eye. The Sooners were number three last week and have a great chance to climb to first with the defeat of Ohio State and the lousy Army showing against Stanford.

The Sooners, also, are reported to practically have their pick of any post-season game they want.

Everything to Gain
So Saturday's contest will be one in which Oklahoma has everything to lose and Nebraska has everything to gain.

To beat the Sooners, Nebraska will have to stop the running of Billy Vessels and Leon Heath and the passing of Claude Arnold. Heath has regained his 1949 form and Arnold is a passing whiz, none of his aeriels having been intercepted this fall.

The Sooners have one of the best defenses in the mid-west and the Huskers own the top offense, so it will be the proverbial offense versus defense with only an also powerful Sooner offense present to ball things up.

It truly should be the game of the week.

Volley Playoffs Start Monday

The intramural volleyball play-off tourneys will resume their second rounds of play Monday night, Nov. 27 at 5 p.m.

In the race for the fraternity championship, Sigma Phi Epsilon, winner over Sigma Nu in the first round of the play-offs, will clash with Delta Upsilon who blotted out FarmHouse.

Also, in the fraternity bracket, Phi Kappa Psi will play Sigma Alpha Epsilon. The Phi Psi's thumped Delta Sigma Phi while the Sig Alphas defeated Brown Palace in round one.

Phi Delta Theta and Alpha Gamma Rho have already been advanced to the third round, they being one round ahead of the rest of the field due to drawing eyes for the first round.

Freshy House, victors over Baptist House, will meet the Lutheran Student House which defeated Newman Club. The victor will be crowned the Inter-denominational champion.

The Independent championship will be at stake when the Cosmopolitan Club plays Cornhusker Co-op. The Cosmo crew dropped A.S.M.E. and Cornhusker turned back Men's Dorms in round one. The Cosmo Club is the only undefeated outfit remaining in the volleyball play.

Reynolds Loses Scoring Lead

Husker Bobby Reynolds lost his national scoring lead over the weekend's competition to Carl Taseff of John Carroll university. Taseff, blazed to four touchdowns as John Carroll defeated Baldwin-Wallace, 33-25. That gave Taseff a total of 23 touchdowns for his team's ten-game season. The Saturday win was the last game of the season for Taseff who finished with a total of 138 points.

Reynolds slipped to second with a total of 134 points in eight games, but gets one more chance of overhaul Taseff when Nebraska winds up against powerful Oklahoma this Saturday. Reynolds added eight points to his total in the Iowa State game last Saturday on a touchdown and two conversions.

Tied for third place with 114 points apiece and with their regular seasons ended are Bob Courtney, Canterbury and Bob Miller, Emory and Henry.

upon a Tau fumble and that threat ended with the half.

Halftime statistics were three first downs for ATO to two for the Phi Deltas and 7 out of 11 passes completed by the Phi Deltas to six of 13 for the Taus.

Dave Graef set up the third Phi Delt score as he intercepted a Tau pass early in the third period. He flipped the pass on the 20 and returned it to the Tau five. McKenzie then rewarded Graef further by flipping to him for the touchdown. A penalty voided the successful extra point and the score stood 18-0.

Taus Win Bee Bowl Classic On Terrific 20-Point Rally

By Bill Mundell

Alpha Tau Omega "B" pulled the impossible Saturday morning. They staged one of the biggest rallies ever seen in intramural football to defeat Phi Delta Theta "B" and win the fraternity "B" championship in the Bee Bowl. And what a way to win a football game!

With only 5 1/2 minutes remaining in the game, they were on the short end of a 0-18 score and with all appearances of being scored on again. Suddenly the roof caved in on the Phi Deltas. With savage rapidity, the Taus scored three times, the last with still two minutes remaining to win 20-18.

Here's the way it went.

Starts Here

Gene Cotter of the Taus intercepted the first stolen Phi Delt pass all day and returned it to his 36. From here Mac Bailey hit Doug Dale to advance the ball to the Phi Delt 16. On the next play Bailey fired to Don Barrett in the end zone who caught the ball sliding on the ground. Bailey to Bill Weber was the extra point combination and the score stood 18-7 Phi Deltas.

The Phi Deltas took over on their 15 and went nowhere. Ca fourth down they elected to punt, but a hard charging Tau line had other ideas and the punt was solidly blocked, the Taus taking over on the Phi Delt 28.

A play from Don Richardson to Mac Bailey to Gene Cotter gave the Taus a first down on the Phi Delt five. Bailey passed to Richardson to the three and then cotter grabbed a Bailey pass that had bounced off Richardson for a touchdown and the score stood 13-18.

Richardson to Dale

Once again the Phi Deltas attempted to move and on their first try, Bill Weber intercepted a Steve McKenzie pass on the Phi Delt 27. From here it took just one play, a scoring heave from Richardson to Dale, Bailey fired to Barrett for the extra point and that was the ball game.

The Phi Deltas tried valiantly in the dying moments but on fourth down missed a first down by inches and the Taus took over.

Until that outburst by the victors, they were nothing resembling a football team as the Phi Deltas ran roughshod over them and halted any ideas the Taus might have about scores.

The game was hardly two minutes old when Steve McKenzie passed to Chich Battey six yards for a score. Battey had intercepted a Tau pass and returned it to their 21-yard line to set up the score. McKenzie hit three straight passes in the drive.

Terrific Catch

The Taus tried again and again were stifled. As the quarter ended the Phi Deltas had the ball on the Taus 16. McKenzie then fired to Battey in the end zone for the second TD. Battey made a terrific over-the-shoulder catch of the ball. Up to this time McKenzie had completed 6 of 8 passes.

Late in the first half the Taus got moving and started clicking with their passes. Bailey fired to Keber for one and another to Blue who made a 15-yard run. A play of the weirdest sorts carried them to the Phi Delt eight, Richardson passed to Bill Olson behind the line. Olson was trapped and in desperation to get rid of the ball, he lobbed the pigskin over the tackler's head. Doug Clark was on his toes and grabbed the ball and ran 15 yards before being hauled down.

Fumble

A Bailey pass narrowed the distance to the goal to three yards but then Bill Aldrich pounced
