

New Registration To Begin Dec. 12

Registration tickets and schedules will be distributed from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Dec. 12 through 15 on the second floor of the Military and Naval Science building.

Tickets will be distributed as follows: Dec. 12, seniors (89 or more hours on record); Dec. 13, juniors (53 to 88 semester hours on record); Dec. 14, sophomores (27 to 52 credit hours); Dec. 15, junior division students (0 to 26 hours on record). It's a case of first come, first served.

Registration tickets are a unique feature of the University. The ticket which the student receives is billfold size and has a number in the upper left hand corner. A student can register when this number appears on the blackboard in front of the Military and Naval Science building. This system avoids standing in line. Your registration ticket stands in line for you.

Second semester registration will start Jan. 4. All registering is expected to be completed in five or six days according to Dr. Floyd Hoover, assistant registrar.

To avoid delay in registering, all students should plan to meet with their advisors before Dec. 12 to work out their schedules. Each student is responsible for making his own appointment with his advisor, and no classes will be excused for these conferences.

Students who registered in the Junior Division last semester are still in that division unless they have been notified otherwise by the University.

Registration fees can be paid Jan. 22, 23, and 24.

Red Push Ends U.N. Offensive

North Korean Line Collapses

General MacArthur's "end the war and bring the boys home for Christmas" offensive failed when the allied North Korean line collapsed under a fierce communist counter-offensive of 20,000 men. The attacking Chinese communists advanced 12 to 20 miles in the 22-mile section between Tokchon and Oechang where the Eighth army was ordered to hold at "all costs."

Chinese Reds Appear at U.N.

Meanwhile the Chinese communist representatives met at Lake Success for the first time before an United Nations body. A decision is expected soon on whether the reds or the nationalists will represent China in the United Nations assembly.

Rent, Statehood Congress Topics

Congressmen, talking with reporters, said they did not expect much to be accomplished at the short "lame duck" session which began Monday. President Truman will try to have rent controls extended and wants statehood for Alaska and Hawaii.

Statehood for Alaska Will Be the First Business the Senate Will Take Up

The senate democratic leader, Scott W. Lucas, expressed hope that the assembly would vote for a temporary extension of the short session.

Peterson to Adjust Highway Taxes

Gov. Val Peterson said Monday that he will declare the highway revenue measures defeated in the past election void and it will be effective Friday. The tax will be 5 cents a gallon and registration fees will drop $3.

Glassford, Wife Honored by Club

University Coach Bill Glassford and his wife were presented with a choice of air or train tickets to any point in the United States Monday at a meeting of the Quarterback club. George Cook, president, made the presentation.

Glassford was Initiated into the Club by Clarence Swanson in the Absence of Chancellor R. G. Gustavson.

"We have a fine group of boys this season and they have all worked hard," Glassford said.

Civil Service Positions Open To Graduates

The United States Civil Service commission has announced examinations to fill several engineer positions and also jobs in the Departments of Agriculture and Interior in Washington, D.C., and throughout the country. Some positions in other agencies in Washington and vicinity may also be filled.

Engineer Posts

The engineer posts are located at the Wright-Patterson Air Force base and the 862nd AF Specialized depot, Dayton, O. Salaries are $4,600 and $5,400 a year and requirements include a four year college engineering course or four years of technical engineering experience, or a four year combination of both, plus two years of professional experience. In some cases, graduate study may be substituted for the required experience.

Positions in Washington, D. C., include the following: Agricultural marketing specialist, dairy and poultry products inspector and grader, fresh fruits and vegetables inspector, agricultural commodity market reporter, and fishery marketing specialists. Salaries range from $3,825 to $8,800 a year. Applicants must have had from four to six years of responsible and successful experience in appropriate marketing specialties and activities.

No Written Tests

No written tests will be given for any of the positions. Full information and application forms may be secured at most first and second-class post offices, from civil services regional offices, or from the United States Civil Service commission, Washington, D. C.

Applications for the engineering jobs must be filed with the Executive Secretary, Board of United States Civil Service Examiners, Wright-Patterson Air Force base, Dayton, O. Marketing positions may be applied for by sending applications to the Commission's office in Washington, D. C.

The Weather

Clear with a few scattered clouds. High temperature between 45 and 50 degrees.

—Courtesy Lincoln Journal
DR. FLOYD HOOVER—Assistant registrar today announced plans for registration for the second semester.

NUCWA Plans State World Affairs Meet

Delegations from 15 Nebraska colleges and universities will convene Saturday, Dec. 9, for a statewide college world affairs meeting.

The delegates will attempt to answer four questions:

1. Is a state college world affairs organization desirable?
2. What would be the purposes and principles of such an organization?
3. How would it be organized?
4. How could such an organization be financed?

Working in coordination with the student meetings will be a special conference for faculty advisers to international clubs. S. J. House, NUCWA faculty adviser, will conduct adviser sessions.

Planning the conference are Jerry Matzke, committee chairman, Jackie Sorenson, Harold Peterson, Coa Woolwine, Dr. Frank Sorenson and House. Planning committee members are working closely with world affairs leaders on Wesleyan, York and Midland campuses.

NUCWA will serve as the host international relations club. The one-day meeting includes both a morning and afternoon general session, committee meetings and a luncheon.

Psychiatric Unit Plans Campus Visit

One of the latest innovations in the field of psychiatry—a traveling psychiatric team—will give a demonstration before the Students Association of the Graduate School of Social Work at a meeting Tuesday, Nov. 28, in Room 116, Union.

The team will demonstrate how each member of the group participates in the rehabilitation of patients in psychiatric wards in hospitals. The team, headed by Dr. Cecil Wittson, is a part of the University hospital at Omaha.

The psychiatric team is a new development in the field of treating emotionally disturbed patients. The team which will speak at the University is one of the first in Nebraska.

Members of the team are Dr. Wittson, president of the Nebraska Psychiatric Unit; Don C. Fitzgerald, director of psychological services; Robert J. Ellingson, director of the Electroencephalographic Laboratory; Dr. Edward E. Houfek, resident physician at Omaha; Avis Purdy Schaefer, psychiatric nurse training superintendent; Dorothy Hubbard, psychiatric social work supervisor; Ferne M. Box, psychiatric social worker and Elammy Jeffrey, occupational therapist.

Chairman of the program committee for the association is Herman Kurth.

Fulbright Award Winners Named

Zelda Jeanne Ryan of Kearney and William Whaley of Omaha have been chosen as Nebraska's Fulbright scholars, State Superintendent Otto G. Ruff announced Tuesday.

Willard Smith and Donald Bushnell, University students, were named as alternates. Fulbright scholarships provide for study abroad. Recipients were selected by a state committee headed by Ruff.

Miss Ryan, Kearney State Teachers college student, named England as her preference for graduate study in English. Whaley, Creighton university student, plans to study modern European history in France. Smith requested a study in political science in Austria and Bushnell selected a study of mathematics in The Netherlands.

Applications of Robert P. Kelliger, Auburn; Douglas H. White and Nancy Lindberg, Omaha; and Donald Briggs, Broken Bow, will be forwarded to the Institute of International Education in New York to compete for additional opportunities to study abroad.

Seven NU Students Attend Conclave

Seven members of the Nebraska chapter of Sigma Theta Epsilon, Methodist fraternity, attended the group's national conclave at the University of Indiana last week.

They are Wilborn Whitehead, Richard Saterfield, Dick Cron, Stan Meyers, Bill Croft, Jim Rodgers and Reed Smith. Rev. Richard Nutt accompanied the group.

PBK Names 14 Members At Banquet

The University chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic society, announced selection of 14 new members at a dinner meeting Tuesday evening at the Union.

Dr. Paul Meadows, associate professor of sociology, was the principal speaker. The new members are:

William B. Edmondson, Audrey R. Flood, Albert E. Herman, Dorothy A. Kurth, Marylou J. Luther, Richard T. McDonald, John W. Mills, Charles H. Newell, Jr., John R. O'Neil, Peter M. Peterson, Fritz P. Picard, Nancy M. Porter, Susan Reed and Dan L. Richmond.

Edmondson and Herman completed their college work at the conclusion of the summer session. All new members have a grade average of at least 90 percent and have completed the group course requirements of the College of Arts and Science for graduation.

Dr. Clifford Hicks, chapter secretary, explained that another group of PBK members will be selected next April from seniors who will then have completed the arts and science group requirements.

Speaking on "Technology—World Ferment," Dr. Meadows told PBK members that young men and women today face a lifetime amid a world of unrest caused by two world revolutions.

One of these, he said, is the world-wide spread of industrialism; the other, and more recent, is the conflict between Russia and the western democracies.

"Primitive and peasant peoples around the world," Dr. Meadows said, "are destined to experience a terrific upheaval of their ways of life through the introduction of modern technology. Both the United States and Russia are, through the encouragement of industrialization, underwriting world revolution."

"The world-wide spread of industrialism," Dr. Meadows continued, "runs at least three major risks. One is the explosive fear, suspicion and hostility of the ex-colonialists who already have had a most brutal exposure to the industrialism of the west. A second is the primitives and peasants may be caught in a series of international civil wars (such as Korea) precipitated by the global conflicts of Russia and the west. And a third is that native social reform and emerging nationalism around the world may be crushed or be perverted by the crusading industrial nations."

Dr. Meadows said it is understandable that the pre-industrial peoples of the world should want foreign technology without foreign ideology. He concluded, however, that the two go together and the prospect for the pre-industrial peoples is one of "a nightmare from which there is, for them apparently, no escape."

Orange Bowl Bid Goes to Clemson

There'll be no orange blossoms for Nebraska's Cornhuskers this year.

Hopes of Nebraskans were shattered when the Orange Bowl selection committee announced Monday night that the two contestants in the annual New Year's day classic will be Clemson and Miami of Florida. Other teams which were considered besides Nebraska, Clemson and Miami were Wyoming and Alabama.

Officials representing the Gator Bowl of Jacksonville, Fla., were still reported to be considering the Huskers as one of the teams to play in their bowl on New Year's day.

The Nebraska team had voted Monday that they were willing to compete in a major post-season game, University officials willing. The athletic board and the chancellor also have to approve the action.

Chairman of the program committee for the association is Herman Kurth.

Ball Plans Hushed By Mortar Boards

—Courtesy Lincoln Journal
DON COOK—University senior was killed instantly early Wednesday morning when the car in which he was riding skidded on an icy road and crashed.

Don Cook Dies In Car Mishap Over Holidays

Don Cook, University senior, was killed almost instantly in an automobile accident Wednesday morning when he and his father and grandmother crashed near Rock Rapids, Ia., his home town.

The car in which they were riding skidded on an icy strip, overturned and Don was crushed beneath it.

At the time of the tragedy, Dr. Stuart H. Cook, the University senior's father, was driving. However, he was not seriously injured, just badly bruised and shaken as was the elder Cook's mother, Mrs. A. E. Cook of Randolph.

Cook had gone to Randolph to meet his father and go on from there to Rock Rapids, where they were to spend Thanksgiving.

He was attending the University under the naval ROTC program and was a senior in the college of business administration. He was a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Plans Revealed For Annual YW Ceremony

The annual ceremony for the hanging of the greens will be held in Ellen Smith hall at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 29. This tradition is conducted each year by the YWCA and opens the campus Christmas festivities.

Officers of the women's organizations on campus, the advisory board, presidents of organized houses, Ag and City YWCA cabinets, deans of women and their assistants are invited to attend the ceremonies.

Refreshments will be served immediately after the guests arrive. The entertainment for the evening will include a vocal solo by Susan Koehler, a Christmas reading by Betty Lester, and a violin solo by Sheila Brown.

Following the program everyone present will help with the hanging of the greens and decorate the Christmas tree.

Chairman for hanging of the greens is Delores Lovegrove. Sarah Devoe is program chairman, Shirley Coy is in charge of hospitality, arrangements chairman in Sue Porter, and Janice Fullerton is decoration chairman.

Black Masques Won't Tell Details Until Night of Dance

"S" is for the secrecy that will remain from now until the Mortar Board ball Friday, Dec. 8.

Dec. 8 at 9 p.m. in the Coliseum is the date, time and place in which three big campus secrets will be answered.

The biggest surprise is the band that has been booked for the affair.

The Mortar Boards may have engaged the University band, Frank's Filthy Five or one of the most famous bands in the country for the Mortar Board ball.

'World' Topic Of Friday Conference

World affairs will get a thorough airing for three days beginning Friday, Dec. 1, when Lincoln holds its second annual conference on world affairs.

All meetings of the conference will be held in Love Library. Both the auditorium and the fourth floor seminar rooms will be available.

Dr. Carl Bracy, chancellor of Nebraska Wesleyan; Harlan Miller, Des Moines Register columnist; William R. Mathews, editor and publisher of the Arizona Daily Star; and Kenneth Boulding, economics professor at the University of Michigan, and Walter K. Schwinn of the state department will speak.

24 Sponsors

This year's conference is being sponsored by 24 groups including the Nebraska University Council for World Affairs, NUCWA, represented on the conference's executive committee by Harold Peterson, who will also lead discussion after Mathews' talk Saturday.

Lincoln religious, educational and social service groups are sponsoring the conference in cooperation with the American Friends Service committee.

Co-chairmen for the meetings are two University faculty members, Dr. Frank Sorenson and Dr. K. O. Broady. Mrs. A. K. Donovan of the League of Women Voters is secretary.

The conference is aimed to find a better concept in international problems. Though the conference is not University-sponsored, students are urged to attend. All sessions are open to the public.

Bracy Talk

Friday at 7:30 p.m., Bracy will open the meetings with his talk: "Strengthening Democracy in the World Community."

Mathews has received honorable mention for his newspaper work on his Tucson, Ariz., daily. He is one of two survivors of the 15 American correspondents who toured Indonesia in June, 1949. He was an accredited correspondent with the Dulles commission in Korea only three days prior to the start of the present Korean war.

Miller is the writer of the regular "Man Next Door" page in Better Homes and Gardens magazine and "There's a Man in the House" for the Ladies Home Journal.

Magazine Writer
He has conducted his present column for the Register, "Over the Coffee Cup," for fifteen years. In addition he is a contributor to such magazines as Reader's Digest, American Mercury and the New York Times Sunday section.

During World War I he was a member of the Hoover commission. He was a lieutenant colonel in World War II.

Accompanying Miller to the Lincoln conference will be Rev. Charles W. Phillips of Des Moines, a former naval chaplain.

Boulding is a native of England, and an author of economics books. He received the award as outstanding economist in the United States last year.

NU Art Gallery Adds to Collection

The Lincoln Artists' Guild's collection of more than 30 paintings, prints and drawings by Nebraska artists has been loaned permanently to the University art galleries, Duard Laging, acting director of the galleries, announced recently.

The collection will be housed and maintained by the University galleries and will become a part of the display here. The pictures probably will be available for use throughout the state, Laging said.

The Guild recently purchased four works from its 14th annual All-Nebraska show, currently on display in the University art galleries.

They are: "Quarry," watercolor by Gall Butt; "Vancover Island," watercolor by Shirley Cane; "Trail Ridge," brush drawing by Freda Spaulding; and "Serenade," engraving by Rudy O. Pozzatti. All the artists are residents of Lincoln. The pictures will be added to the permanent collection.

Any student who has not had his picture taken for the Cornhusker may have it taken at Warner-Medlin studio Tuesday through Thursday. No appointments are necessary. The final deadline is Thursday, Nov. 30.