

Too Many Cooks . . .

WHAT'S COOKING—That seems to be the question in the mind of Claude Hannezo as he prepares to use the taste test on the cooking of Chef Abdul R. Ayaz. These two students helped prepare the food for last year's International Friendship dinner. Each year, foreign students prepare food of their lands for the dinner.

Freshmen to Give Single Act Plays

"Suppressed Desire," by Susan Glaspell and George Cram Cook will be the first of two one act plays to be presented by members of the Freshman acting group. The performance will be held Friday, Dec. 1, in Room 201, Temple building.

The one act comedy "Suppressed Desire" concerns the psychological investigations of Henrietta Brewster. It is Henrietta's firm belief that every movement represents some suppressed desire on the part of the individual. Her husband Steven is thoroughly disgusted with his wife's new "project" and literally cringes when a new book by Freud or Jung appears on his work table.

Psychiatrist Visited
Henrietta's own life becomes complicated when she sends her husband to her favorite psychiatrist for the interpretation of a recent dream. The doctor after some investigation tells Steven that he sub-consciously wants to leave Henrietta. This, of course, Steven has never realized, but sees in it an opportunity to curb his wife's fanatical ideas.

In the meantime Mabel, Henrietta's cousin has been convinced, that she should be psychoanalyzed and out of a perfectly normal happening comes the conclusion that she is in love with Steven.

When the threat of a broken marriage comes before her thru the psychiatrist she decides that she should give up psychology and keep Steven.

The cast is Henrietta Brewster, Mary Kay Toliver; Stephen, Charles Rossow, and Mabel, Connie Nye.

The second play to be presented is "Fumed Oak." The cast includes Henry Gow, Don Silverman; Doris Gow, Mildred Goodman; Elsie, their daughter, Diane Downing, and Mrs. Rockette, his mother-in-law, Mary Ann Lebsack.

Because of limited seating each play will be given twice. Both plays will be presented at 8 p.m. and 9 p.m. There will be a ten minute intermission at 9 p.m. to clear the room for a new audience.

Dallas Williams is the director of "Suppressed Desire," and the director of "Fumed Oak" is Jack Wenstrand.

Sweden Offers Three Grants For Americans

Three fellowships to American students have been made available through the Sweden-American Foundation.

These fellowships apply to graduate students during the academic year of 1951-52. They are offered for study at the Universities of Gothenburg, Lund, Stockholm and Uppsala and other approved institutions in Sweden.

Applications for the fellowships may be secured from the Institute of International Education, 2 West 43th Street, New York 19, N.Y. These applications and all other supporting documents must be filed not later than February 1, 1951.

Cash Stipend
Each fellowship carries a cash stipend of 3,800 Swedish crowns, a sum sufficient to cover room and board in a university town and at university restaurants. Both men and women, preferably under 35 years of age, are eligible to apply.

It is expected that tuition fees will be waived, except in the graduate course for English speaking students at the University of Stockholm, for which the tuition is approximately $400. Preference will be given to those who have not had the opportunity of studying in Sweden.

Requirements
Candidates must present proof of:

1. American citizenship.
2. A Bachelor's degree from an American college or university of recognized standing (or meet this requirement by the summer of 1951).
3. An adequate knowledge of Swedish.
4. Good academic record and capacity for independent study.
5. Good moral character, personality and adaptability.
6. Good health.

In certain scientific fields and in the graduate course for English speaking students at the University of Stockholm, a knowledge of Swedish is not necessary but it is preferable in all cases.

Union employees are having a Christmas party, Saturday, Dec. 9, in the evening. This party will also be held at the Union.

An innovation at the Union this year will be lighting of the trees outside. Mrs. Grimm said that this is the first year that the outside trees have been decorated.

Union workers are spending a lot of time making the Union just as full of Christmas spirit and cheer as possible.

Editor Obeys Coed; Prints Story's Errors

The editor of the Connecticut Campus worked out a way to get even with those who insist that their letters to the editor be printed—with no cutting.

At Connecticut the president of Panhellenic wanted a letter printed, and promised she would be around to make sure it went in without any deletions.

The obliging editor printed the complete letter and sprinkled asterisks throughout the copy. In an editor's note, he explained: "All asterisks in the letter refer to errors in grammar, spelling and typing, which he felt honor-bound to leave unchanged in view of our unconditional compliance with Miss Oppell's wishes."

Consistently misspelled in the Panhell president's letter—the word "sorority."

Reaction to this editorial was immediate. Among the charges in the next day's letter were: "You are small minded," "the Campus is run by a clique of sadists" and "You do not show both sides of the issue."

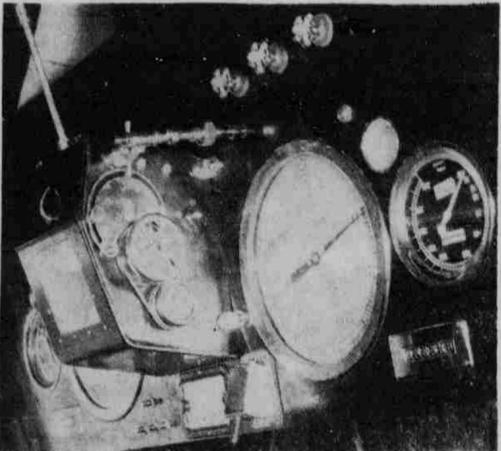

Of special interest was a letter signed by six of the Panhell president's sorority sisters accusing the paper of printing biased editorial comments.

USC 'Lift' Stop Delays Students

The elevator operator in the Campanile at USC announced in an apologetic manner to the two women and seven men in the elevator that there would be a slight delay in the ordinary rapid trip to the top of the campus landmark.

They were stuck about ten feet from the base of the building because the generators had stopped working.

Reassuring the students that there was no danger, the operator used the elevator phone to call for help. It took about 40 minutes for the electricians to start the elevator.

Some of the marooned students felt it was a worthwhile 45 minutes; others were worried about missing classes.

While some talked about going to the USC game on Saturday, others caught up on studying.

Carleton College Issues Handbook

"Ties at mealtime are 'comme il faut'" and "probation is a touchy subject" according to the handbook for new students given out at Carleton college, Northfield, Minnesota.

The booklet, "Information Please," is written and published by upper-class students who outline the traditions, rules, student government, and general campus information about Carleton. It supplements the official "Handbook for New Students" published by the administration, which is devoted to course descriptions, curriculum requirements, calendar and finances.

By this booklet the students are told that "leading students around by the nose is discouraged here, and how you carry the ball under your own power will count far more than the size of your hometown or your checking account."

Columbia Reveals New Degree Plan

It is now possible to get a bachelor's degree even without a high school diploma announces the director of Columbia university school of general studies.

A student wishing to receive this degree must be twenty years old and complete a "validation semester." This period gives students a chance to show their ability and character.

If an applicant did not complete his high school education for a good reason he can take an aptitude test. If he makes a satisfactory score, he can be interviewed, file a formal application and, if accepted, will be permitted to take the specified program.

Comprehensive reading, for which there is much student speculation, will also be continued again this year at Columbia university school of general studies.
