

Huskers Rout Missouri Teachers

Pierce, Buchanan Lead 61-39 Win

By BILL MUDELL

The Nebraska Cornhusker basketball aggregation sputtered around for almost a half night before it increased the tempo and went on to rout the teachers of Northwest Missouri by a 61-39 score. The outcome was never in doubt after the first half as the Huskers settled themselves down a little to play basketball.

The contest was typical of a first-nighter for both outfits with bad passes and missed shots galore. It was apparent that the Big Seven coaches knew something about their predictions as the Husker machine appeared far from the defending champions of the last two seasons. The Big Seven coaches, in a pre-season ballot, tabbed the Huskers to finish last in the conference race.

Kansas is the favorite to cop conference honors with Kansas State tabbed to make a race of it. Missouri and Oklahoma were picked to end the year in third and fourth place respectively and Colorado and Iowa State in fifth and sixth.

Matched Score
The Missouri Teachers matched the score they ran up at Lincoln last year—39 both times. The Husker outdid them here, also, their 61 being three more than last year's 58.

When the game reached rout proportions early in the third quarter, Coach Harry Good substituted freely and over the whole game, every man on the Husker bench got into action.

Twenty-two men, in all, saw duty for the Cornhuskers and 12 of these broke into the scoring column.

Center Bob Pierce and Guard Jimmy Buchanan led the scoring attack on the teachers, each getting a night's total of 15 in the limited time they saw action. Joe Good and Ben Akromis each contributed seven markers to the Scarlet total.

George Nathan, Marysville guard, led the way for the teachers with an effort of 11 points. Jim Laurin added nine for second high honors for the visitors.

Teachers Lead
The game increased with intensity and interest as it went along. The teachers took a brief lead at the start of the game on Lyle's free throw, but Buchanan's two gratis shots gave the Huskers a one-point edge.

Both teams shot frequently and missed them all during the first three and a half minutes until Laurin's two-hand shot put the Missourians back in front.

An even five minutes had elapsed in the game before the first Nebraska field goal found its way through the meshes. Akromis was on the throwing end of this scorer and the Huskers were never headed again.

Buchanan dropped in a two-pointer and Pierce added two free tosses for the remainder of the NU scoring in the opening stanza.

A quick goal by Good boosted the Cornhuskers to a 10-6 margin at the start of the second period, but the invaders countered with three points of their own and the gap was only one point.

Doomed to Fade
Buchanan gave the Huskers breathing room but Laurin short-sided them with a basket of his own and there was still that one-point margin. But here the Missourians were doomed to fade.

Pierce contributed a field goal, Buchanan duplicated the trick and went one better with a free throw. Jimmy missed his second of two throws, but Pierce tipped it in and the Huskers had an eight-mark bulge.

Next Semester Schedules Available Soon

Class schedules will be available beginning Tuesday, Dec. 12 on the second floor of the Military and Naval Science building. At the same time students will receive their registration tickets.

Ag college students need not come in to the city campus to pick up their registration material. They can get their tickets and schedules at the office of Dr. Hixson, associate director of resident instruction.

Seniors (89 or more credit hours) should get their schedules and registration tickets Dec. 12; juniors (53 to 88 credit hours) Dec. 13; sophomores (27 to 52 credit hours) Dec. 14; junior division (0 to 26 credit hours) Dec. 15.

Most advisers want to do their advising prior to the beginning of the holidays. Freshman and students in the College of Business Administration should make it a special point to see their advisers before Dec. 12 according to Dr. Floyd Hoover, assistant registrar.

Appointment schedules will be posted on or near the door of all advisers. Write your name on the schedule before Dec. 12, and then return at the appointed time to make up your class schedule.

Second semester registration will start Jan. 4. A student should register as soon as his number appears on the blackboard in front of the Military and Naval Science building.

Registration fees may be paid Jan. 22, 23 and 24.

Honors Convo . . . Committee Refuses Builders Request

The request by College Days planners to have Honors Day convocation included in the celebration has been refused by the University Honors convocation committee.

The committee planning the three day celebration in the spring had asked the convocation committee to change the convocation date from Tuesday, April 24, to Thursday, April 26. This would mark the opening of the College Days activities.

In a letter to Bob Reichenbach, College Days Representative, Dr. Roscoe Hill, chairman of the Honors convocation committee gave two reasons for refusal this year.

First, the speaker who has been engaged for the occasion lives in Chicago and cannot be obtained for Thursday, April 26. He tentatively has been scheduled to appear April 25 at the Medical College in Omaha, the letter wrote, and it is impossible to change date.

Date Already Published
The letter gave as the second reason that the committee felt since the date had been published already in the University calendar, it would be a poor policy to change now.

The committee also wrote they felt the idea was good, and passed a resolution saying that

UN Army Abandons Capital

Assembly Asked To Take Action

Pyeongyang was abandoned by United Nations forces Monday and left it a city of terror for the hands of a surging Chinese invasion army. The army is soon expected to reach more than one million men.

U.S. first marine division and two regiments of the Seventh Army regrouped in Northeast Korea for a final 50 mile smash through the walls of the Chosin reserve area.

A communique said red Chinese already had thrown 268,000 front-line troops into the fighting, had grouped 550,000 more in the rear areas and was bringing 200,000 more.

A fantastic development occurred in the northeastern battle area. The Chinese released 29 wounded American soldiers and sent them back with the message saying Chinese troops were going to Manchuria.

ASSEMBLY ASKED TO DISCUSS CHINA

The United States and five other countries formally asked the United Nations assembly to take up the Chinese intervention as an urgent matter.

The request was made in a telegram to Tryve Lie and signed by the chief delegates of the United States, British, France, Norway, Cuba and Ecuador.

Diplomats are still awaiting the results from the Secret conference Sunday night between India's Sir Benegal Rau and communist China's Wu Hsiuchuan.

Observers do not expect the United States to ask the assembly to take action against the Chinese reds until after the Truman-Atlee talks.

TRUMAN, ATLEE CONFER ON CRISIS

British Prime Minister Clement Atlee is in Washington conferring with President Truman on the present world crisis. Truman and Atlee have many advisors for their conferences.

Atlee told reporters that the aim of these talks is to align our policies and to find the means of upholding what both countries know to be right. He said that Russia is wasting time if they intend to split the US and Great Britain.

SOME SENATORS ASK A-BOMB USE

Some democratic and republican senators have been calling for an ultimatum to Russia and to China. The ultimatum states they must get out of Korea and if they do not, the atomic bomb will be used.

Sen. Morse (r., Ore.), Sen. Ferguson (r., Mich.), Sen. Lehman (d., N.Y.), and Sen. Alben Barkley (r., Va.) are supporting the use of the A-bomb.

NAVY WILL CALL RESERVES TO DUTY

The navy announced Monday that 15,000 naval reserves will be called during next April, May or June for active duty.

The orders will be sent to those called four months prior to the date they are to report.

Col. Frankforter

most effective explosive used by the United States Army today?

Atomic Bomb Use
In regard to the atomic bomb, Colonel Frankforter says that "although it is definitely a very deadly weapon, it will not replace all other explosives."

He will discuss the manufacture and the constituents of bombs and shells and will give a few demonstrations. In the light of the world situation, the discussion should be of interest to all," John Prien, secretary of the group says.

The Detoneers is the Nebraska chapter of the Society of American Military Engineers and is a military group for all engineering students who are in ROTC. They have just recently reorganized. Robert Zwart is chairman of the group and John Prien is secretary.

Broaden Interests
The purpose of the organization is to give engineering students a chance to broaden their scope of interests and activities throughout their academic years.

Colonel Frankforter is well known on the campus, being an adviser for the innocents, Corn Cobs and the Inter-Fraternity Council. He is a veteran of World War I and II, and is a graduate of the War college in Washington, D. C.
