In Retrospect . . .

The first semester Daily Nebraskan ends its publication with this issue.

We are signing the traditional "30" of the journalism profession to the Rag's service to the students and their University during this first half of the 1950-51 school year.

It has not been an altogether pleasant task to report the events and happenings of this semester. It was not pleasant to summarize the uncertainties of the world and our life in the immediate future.

It was not pleasant to report that a group of students were involved on campus in a brawl, a fight or whatever it may be called. The recording of the episode in the files of The Daily Nebraskan was an unwelcome duty—a duty that we hope will not have to be repeated in future semesters.

There was no pleasure in criticizing the Student Council for supplying a crutch to the ISA or in scoffing at the Miden college plan for ridding American campuses of Communists. Nor did we relish the suggestions for improving the Student Directory or demanding a halt to the excessive stealing from the Union book store.

Yet despite this unpleasant news, the past semester has been a bright one. It was gratifying to follow the 1950 Cornhusker football team to their most successful season since Rose Bowl days.

And there were other bright lights in the last eighteen weeks which overshadowed the unpleasant news stories. The successful Crusade for Freedom in which the signatures of 4 students totaled almost half as many as the entire state, the contributions of Religion-in-Life Week to the students, College Day's plans, the numerous queens and the solitary Ugliest Man on Campus all added their luster to the semester.

It is possible that to some students the semester has not been too cheerful. The fluctuations of draft problems created waves of certainties and uncertainties towards future education. These may have cast shadows on an otherwise bright period. Yet we cannot help but feel that the pleasant happenings of the semester have outshone the unpleasant ones.

We fervently hope that the columns of next semester's Daily Nebraskan will report news of a brighter and more certain future, both for the University and for the world.

Pianist, Vocal Soloists Plan Recital Sunday

A faculty recital will be presented Sunday, Jan. 14, at 4 p. m. in the Union ballroom. John D. Blyth and Sari F. Jenkins, University instructors in the School of Music, will present the recital in connection with a faculty series sponsored by the School of Fine Arts and the Union music committee.

Mrs. Mary Green, who will accompany Jenkins, is a part-time instructor in voice at the University and lives in Chicago. Blyth and Mrs. Green will use the nine-foot Steinway piano, which was purchased by the Union last summer.

Blyth, pianist, is an assistant professor of piano and music theory at the University. He received his bachelor of music and master of music degrees from Illinois Wesleyan university and made several solo performances in Chicago and Milwaukee prior to joining the University staff.

Jenkins, voice instructor at the University, received his training and his bachelor degree from the University. He has done some solo work previously and is the assistant choral director. He is now working on his master's degree in music.

Recital Chairmen Bob Lashelle and Marcin Pratt are chairman and sponsor, respectively, of the Union music committee. Members are Gene Sibson, Beverly Mann, Barbara Reinecks, Ginny Cooper, Mae Scherff and Aaron Schmidt.

Immediately following the recital a coffee hour will be held for all students, faculty and guests from 5 to 6 p. m. Joan Lashelle is in charge of this event.

Dean Thompson Answers Student Council's Letter

Robert Raun, President Student Council Dear Bob:

Thank you very much for your letter of Jan. 10 pledging the support of the Student Council and the student body in any move necessary to set at naught the subversive activities of any individual or any group. This office has ever been vigilant in its efforts to protect the good name of the student body and of the University. There have been times a plenty when we have felt we stood alone in dealing with disciplinary problems, but in these instances, we have always been prompted by the belief that attending the University was a high privilege and not necessarily a matter of equity or legal right.

I promise you that this office will not deal tenderly with any persons or group engaged in the perpetuation of any subversive organization or any subversive actions that may reflect upon the good name of the University or of its student body. Neither shall we deal tenderly with persons who commit physical violence against others, indulge in cheating, drunkenness, or the destruction of property.

I have always maintained that the integrity and morality of any community is determined by the forthrightness and courage of the individuals who compose it. The student body of the University of Nebraska, insofar as the immediate environment is concerned can pretty much determine what the intellectual and moral tone of the institution is to be.

May I congratulate the student Council on its courageous stand as exemplified in your letter and pledge it my support. Yours sincerely, T. J. Thompson, Dean

To the Editor: The University of Nebraska Builders appreciate the editorial in the Wednesday Daily Nebraskan, relating to the Student Directory.

We realize that the late issuing of the Directory this year lessened its value a great deal. Although circumstances were of such a nature that an earlier publication was impossible, plans are now underway to insure fast delivery next year. Both the Builders and the Student Council are cooperating in this investigation; and the administration assures us that we will have their complete cooperation.

The omission of some students from the 1950-51 Directory was an unfortunate and unintentional mistake. Because the source of our information was distributed to the various campus religious groups, we had to go back to those groups in order to compile the Directory. In this process, one religious-group was misplaced. We are genuinely sorry that this oversight occurred.

Every effort is now being made to see that the next Student Directory will be an early and complete one! University Of Nebraska Builders

Have you seen Dick Regier lately? The boy with one deep purple and one baby blue! As he pointed to his roommate, his sad story sounded like this: "He hit me!" Seems that Bob Reynolds was wrestling with Dick in the privacy of their room in the Phi Psi house and he gave him the 'ol' elbow. One beef steak coming up!

The Sigma Nu "Pigge Dinner" will be held in the Cornhusker ballroom Saturday evening. This is a tradition with the fraternity where they have a pig roasted and brought in for the stabling ceremony and great feasting. After the dining the Sigma Nu's and their dates will dance to the music of Eddie Haddad.

The SDT's are having their pledge party Saturday. Dates for the occasion are: Lois Gerebeck and Paul Gatter, Mary Lou Ripps and Aaron Schmidt, Charlotte Cramer and Mayer Moskowitz.

A custom in the sorority houses when seniors graduate is to have the seniors who have not passed candy eat lemons or onions. Jan Lindquist, Alpha Chi, seemed to be on this list of unpinned girls. She was very embarrassed Wednesday evening, when an onion was served to her. Unable to look at it, she finally admitted that she wouldn't graduate until spring. Thought you would get out of it, didn't you, Jan?

An original candy passing was witnessed at the Alpha Xi Delta house when Dorothy Williams passed rose buds and cards with a dot on it. This announced her engagement to Bud Morris—Bud and Dot.

Other pinnings on the campus are: Fran Nagle and Ginny Koch; Bobbie Burdick and Bob Barckus; Kenny Lux and Rose Marie Mettling; Mike Swanda and Donna Johnson from Central City; Don Richards and Lon Ann Watkins; and Phoebe Dempster and Don Hamon.
