

Three NU Teams In Home Action

Powerful Sooners Favored Over Husker Tracksters

There is no rest for the victorious Coach Ed Weir and his Nebraska tracksters, with only a two-day breather from their rout of Kansas State Wednesday night, play hosts to the powerful Oklahoma Sooners Saturday night.

The Weirmen, counting the Wildcats as their fourth victim in five starts, face the darkhorse of the Big Seven indoor meet. The Saturday dual in Memorial Stadium will be the last competition for the tracksters until the conference meet in Kansas City March 2, 3.

The Sooners readied themselves for the Husker encounter last Saturday by blasting the defending indoor champions, Kansas Jayhawks, to the tune of 72-32.

BLAKE CATHRO . . . sees double action in both hurdle events in the Nebraska-Oklahoma tussle Saturday night.

The Okies marked themselves up beside six records in that meet while toying with the Kansans.

Early indications point to the Sooners being favored to topple the Huskers despite the good showing of the Nebraskans to date.

Coach Weir fears the Sooners mostly in the 440-yard dash. The invaders have tremendous strength in that event along with veteran performers in the distances and field events.

To offset this decided Sooner advantage, Coach Weir has been making several changes.

To match the Oklahoma 440 entries of Jerry Meader and Charles Coleman, he is putting Bill Hein, Bob Barchus and Jack Scoville in the quarter.

Record-breaker Hobe Jones will see double-duty Saturday. He is scheduled to run both the 880 and the mile. Hobe's best time of 1:57.3 which he turned in against Kansas State will get a severe test from Don Crabtree and George McCormick. Crabtree turned in a 1:57.8 against the Jays. Also slated to see 880 duty for the Scarlet are Gene Yelkin and Dale Schnackle.

In the mile it will be Jones, Ken Jacobs and Yelkin against Jim Wilkinson, the Sooner flash.

In the hurdles, Coach Weir will string along with Huskers Don Bedker, Dan Tolman and Blake Cathro. Timber-topper Wendy Cole is still out of action, but may be ready to go for the league meet.

Ken Jacobs and Bob Kruger will be the NU one-two men in the long one, the two-mile run. They will be pitted against Sooner Bruce Drummond.

Four Huskers are tentatively set for action in the 60-yard dash. They are Lee Alexander, Leonard Kehl, Sheldon Jacobs, and Irving Thode. They will have to face the three Okies who swept that event against Kansas, Quanah Cox, Don Sobocinski and Jimmy Smith.

Seek Grid Televising

A resolution has been offered in the state legislature asking that Nebraska televise its home football games.

Senators Charles Tvrdik, William Moulton and John P. McKnight introduced the bill Thursday.

Tvrdik had stated several days ago that he wanted to take the necessary steps requiring the university to allow its home games to be televised as was done in the past two years.

But the resolution was reconsidered and finally it was drafted to ask "that the university do everything possible to obtain permission of the Big Seven conference to permit televising."

The resolution further asked that copies of it be sent to legislatures in Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Colorado. These states comprise the other schools in the Big Seven. It also asked that copies be sent to the presidents of other conference schools.

Televising the games is required because all the Nebraska football fans can not see the games at Memorial Stadium since size, distance from the stadium and other physical difficulties do not permit.

"All loyal Nebraskans like to see their university team in action on the gridiron," the resolution stated, "and some may do this only by the medium of television."

University authorities had disagreed with Tvrdik. They maintained they are only cooperating with the policy set down by the National Collegiate Athletic association to prohibit televising college sports on a one year trial test to see how it gate receipts.

WOW-TV, Omaha, has televised Nebraska games at Memorial Stadium for the past two years.

Walker Fights Louis Tonight

Former heavyweight champion Joe Louis and San Francisco Andy Walker are expected to fight before a $95,000 gate in the Cow Palace Friday night.

Louis ended training Wednesday at nearby Travis Air Force Base where he sparred six rounds before some 4,700 airmen. He weighed 210 pounds.

Walker, California state heavyweight champ, also ended his workouts. He weighed 197 pounds.

The ex-champion is heavily favored to win the 10-rounder.

Meanwhile, promoter Bill Kyne announced he would bid $500,000 for a San Francisco title match between Louis and heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles.

McArthur, Valentine, Newman Shatter I-M Scoring Records

Scoring records were smashed and then ground to dust Wednesday night in intramural basketball play. Newman Club, Phi Delta Phi, Jack Valentine and Don McArthur all took good care of the previous marks.

The old records of 83 points by a team in one game and 38 points by one player in one contest met decisive deaths.

Newman Club started the ball rolling—or probably it was flying—by running up a 96-17 score on the Methodist Student House. They rolled to 24 points in the first quarter, 21 in the second, roared to 29 in the third and finished off with 22 in the finale.

The Methodists, a good cage outfit, were just powerless to halt the rampaging Catholics once they got going.

Out for a Record
Newman was definitely out for a record as the Catholic first string played the entire game while the Methodists subbed freely.

Jack Valentine of the Catholics established a new individual record by netting 20 field goals and one free toss for 41 markers, surpassing the old mark by three set by Woody Bohn of the Lutheran Student House in 1950. Neil Campbell tallied 20 points for Newman Club as runner-up. Glen Carter garnered a third of the Methodist points with six.

There was some consolation for the Methodists, however. The Newman men were out to topple the one-hundred mark and had an excellent chance to do it. The losers, seeing at least one goal to strive for, played control ball for the last three minutes and accomplished their feat.

Valentine set his record at six o'clock. He owned it for about three hours.

McArthur Hits
Don McArthur, spearhead of the Phi Delta Phi lawyers, went point-happy in the 8 p. m. battle between the PDPPhi's and Phi Alpha Delta and showed the record over the half-hour mark. McArthur scored 51 points in that game.

Thirty-one markers fell his way in the second half of that fray as the lawyers were out for records also. McArthur got his but his team fell short of the Catholic total by five points. The final score was 91-19.

The shysters potted 20 in both parts of the first half and then spurred to 27 and 24 markers in the last two quarters. Bill Wenke ran second to McArthur with 20 points. Bob Harson and Bernice Packett of the Paddies each counted four.

One-Hour Record
Jim Walsh of Sigma Phi Epsilon established the individual mark of 38 in a 7 p. m. game last February only to lose it an hour later when Bohn streaked to 38. Walsh had eclipsed Darrell Heiss's Farm House record of 31.

Alpha Tau Omega owned the team scoring record until Wednesday, running up their 83 points against Sigma Alpha Mu last year.

Other teams hooked-up in good basketball Wednesday.
The Lutheran Student House climbed to second place in the Denominational League IX by stopping Presby House, 43-29. It was the sixth win for the Lutherans compared to two defeats, identical to Presby's record.

The Lutherans jumped to a 9-6 first quarter lead and maintained it throughout the contest. Halftime score was 22-14 in favor of LSA.

Grapplers Seek Third Straight Win

An improved band of Husker wrestlers meet Omaha university Friday night in the coliseum.

Coach Al Partin announced that his matmen are in top condition for the match and is optimistic about annexing the third straight Scarlet victory. The Huskers defeated Kansas State and Iowa State in their last two duals.

Darrell Adamson will make his first varsity appearance for Nebraska Friday night. Coach Partin is sending this Cherokee, Iowa sophomore into the 130-pound fray. Adamson will replace Harold Gilliland, defending Big Seven champ, who is sidelined by a back injury.

Two other changes appear in the Huskers' regular lineup. Ken Brown returns to action in the 123-pound class. There is no contender listed on the Omaha roster at that weight to date, however.

Perry Leitel replaces Bob Russell in the 137-pound division.

Al Johnson, senior letterman, will take the mat for his second time this season in the 167-pound class. Johnson drew with his Kansas State adversary in his first outing.

Regulars Herb Reese, Ken Fisher, Dave Mackie and Harley Richardson will be on hand in the other divisions.

123 pounds—Ken Brown.
130 pounds—Darril Adamson.
137 pounds—Perry Leitel.
147 pounds—Ken Fisher.
157 pounds—Dave Mackie.
167 pounds—Al Johnson.
177 pounds—Harley Richardson.
Heavyweight—Herb Reese.

JIM BUCHANAN . . . Husker guard will see plenty of action against Colorado.

Noble May Quit School

Nebraska's Cornhuskers may be losing a good football prospect to the professional boxing ranks.

Bill Noble, Grand Island freshman, indicated Wednesday that he will probably turn pro sometime after participating in the Chicago Golden Gloves tournament next week.

Noble was an end on the Husker frosh team last fall and was an All-State fullback and a teammate of Bobby Reynolds in 1947.

Noble won the Midwest Golden Gloves heavyweight title for the second year in a row Saturday night and has lost only six of 75 fights during his career.

place in league VI. The Beta Sigs are winless to date.

Three men each scored six points to lead the junior Taus. They were Mac Baily, Lyle Blue and Jack Pesek. Dale Bonsir led all scoring as he potted seven for the losers.

Ag College Play
In play on the Ag College floor, the once-beaten Ag College YMCA "A" barely made it past Ag Student Center. The final score for the YMCA was 26-24. It is win number eleven for the Aggies.

Ag Men's Club "A" stayed right with the YM men by blasting the Aggie YMCA "B" outfit, 39-19. The win also gives the Ag Men a 11-1 record.

The Plamors and Ag Extension Annex hooked up in a tight battle with the Plamors finally winning 29-27. It was win number eight for the Plamors against four defeats. The loss dropped the Annex down to a tie with the Plamors for third and fourth places in league X.

The Dorm A stars kept atop league XIII by weathering the Nebraska Co-op basketball challenge. The final score read 40-28 in favor of the Stars.

Alpha Sigma Phi ran up a 46-19 score on the Dental College Frosh Wednesday night. The win boosts the Alpha Sigs from fourth to second in league XI.

Sigmund and Hruza
Paul Sigmund and Lavern Hruza were the Alpha Sig point-getters with 13 and 12 markers respectively. Dale Capek got six for the dentists.

Unbeaten Phi Kappa Psi smacked Farm House with a 56-16 defeat in their contest Wednesday. The senior Phi Psi's thus avenged the first defeat the Phi Psi Bees have been tagged with this year by blasting the "A" team of the spoilers.

Don Frei with 16 points led the victors while Jerry Anderson added nine more. Jones topped the aggie scoring with five.

DU's Climb
Delta Upsilon "B" took a big stride towards league VII honors by edging the Sigma Phi Epsilon Bees, 28-26. It was a close game all the way, the halftime score knotted at 13-11.

Bill Alexander led the DU's with nine points while Bill Russell of the Sig Eps tallied 11 markers.

The Phillips 33 and Warriors stayed neck-and-neck in the league XII race by winning their Wednesday games. The Phillips crew dumped the Gunners, 54-38 while the Warriors were hitting the Dusters, 34-25.

Bob Clark and Harold Deitrich score 18 and 16 points for Phillips while Scott Stockton garnered 13 for the Gunners. Jerry Straszheim collected 15 for the Warriors and Ron Powers, ten for the Dusters.

Cagers Can Climb to Fifth With Win Over Colorado U

Coach Harry Good will probably string along with the same starting lineup that upset Missouri against the University of Colorado cagers Saturday night in his hunt for a combination which can consistently win ball games.

This starting five has Joe Good and Bernie Akromis at the forwards, Bob Pierce at center, and Jim Buchanan and Bob Mercier at the guards. The unit would have played the whole game against the Missouri Tigers except that Buchanan fouled out in the last few minutes of the game.

The Saturday scrap—while not billed as a championship contest—will nevertheless allow one of two teams to pull out of the cellar. They are currently tied for sixth and seventh places in the Big Seven. Both teams have a season record of two wins and six losses. The winner Saturday night will climb into a fifth and sixth place tie with the Iowa State Cyclones.

Coach Good and his squad are hoping for a repeat performance of last year's Nebraska-Colorado series when the Buffaloes beat Nebraska at Boulder but were defeated in Lincoln.

Colorado defeated the Huskers, 51-45, on her home court in the first game this year. The Buffaloes had too much team scoring for the Goodmen in that tilt. Wayne Tucker collected 14 points while Jim Armatas and John Amaya both scored 12. But veteran Bob Pierce topped both teams with 17 tallies.

Tucker
Tucker is currently the third high scorer in the conference. He has been the backbone of Coach H. B. Lee's team. He has a 34% shooting average from the floor and 75% on free throws. Tucker is noted for his aggressive play.

Another stellar performer for the Buffaloes is senior Bill Clay. His six feet four inches are put to good use at one of the starting forward berths.

Lee is taking his first crack as the Colorado head mentor. Before going to Buffalo he was basketball coach at Utah State.

Although they emerged victorious over the Missourians, the Husker cagers failed to exhibit a consistently smooth floor game. But the stall in the dying moments of the game showed they could present a good passing and floor exhibition.

All six men who participated in the Missouri game managed to get in on the scoring act. However, Pierce was the only man who was really hot. The other four starters were even up with seven points apiece. Pierce got twenty-five to continue his assault on "Bus" Whitehead's record. Paul Kipper broke the scoring column with a free throw.

The new Husker starting combination has moved Good from his old guard berth to a forward position. He has shown occasional flashes of being a scoring threat, and perhaps his newly found position will bring the flash into a steady beam.

Mercier
But the newest addition to the starting five, Bob Mercier, is the player who really shows a lot of hustle and energy. He prepped at Teachers College where he became one of the outstanding players in Class "B" competition. But he proved that playing at a small school was no handicap at all when he won a place for himself on Tony Sharpe's frosh team along side of such Class "A" stalwarts as Good, Bob Reynolds, Chuck Stickels, Ted Connor and Ron Roeder.

His varsity debut was badly jolted when he hurt an ankle in practice and was forced to quit playing for several weeks. Mercier's passing and speed are excellent, while his shooting eye should add scoring punch to the Husker machine.

Pierce will be the tallest man on either team and so will probably be able to cash in on his rebounding ability as well as in the scoring department.

AROUND THE LOOP...

Big Seven Called Tough Cage Area

Wayne Tucker, Californian playing for Colorado, has a reputation for the Midwest, at least in basketball. "Tuck" thinks the Big Seven is one of the nation's toughest areas for cage player. He hails from San Marino, California.

Currently third highest scorer in the Big Seven, he has sent 237 points through the nets this season. In 19 games, "Tuck" has a 34% shooting average from the floor and 75% from the charity line.

He has great regard for Kansas. He says the Jayhawk stadium at Lawrence is the finest he has ever played in. One reason being that the Kansas floor reminds him of Colorado and makes him feel at home. He thinks that K-Staters Ernie Barrett and Jack Stone are two of the toughest men to score against he has met in three years of college play.
