Leave Them Alone?...

Leave us alone! That is the view expressed by one of the Independent students on campus in a recent Letterp. The ISA, he said, is not claimed or desired by most independents. He accuses the Greek students on campus of being ashamed of their own acts.

leading universities showed that the people who were leaders in campus activities were also more likely to succeed in other lines after graduation. Perhaps the Independent students are not interested in what goes on in campus politics. They should be. For they are paying for the student recreational facilities. They are directly affected by the actions of student governing bodies.

A New G. I. Bill...

It seems likely that the United States congress will pass a new, modified G. I. bill. The old one expires next July. Backers of the new bill argue this way: Millions of men will have their education interrupted by the draft. By the time they get out of the armed services, they will be much older and possibly married.

ride, and the government would be incapable of financing the project. They also point to all the red tape which would result from the bill. The previous G. I. bill, they say, has cost more than $11 billion, and this figure will no doubt be well under the cost of the new bill.

Female Opinions Vary On Drafting Women Issue

By Connie Gordon

Everyone has been mulling over the idea of drafting women, but few pollsters have asked the women's view on the matter. However, the University of New Mexico did, and they discovered that more than half of the University coeds preferred the home front to the war front.

ably be familiar to you, only his face will seem strange." Oh, my scarlet countenance! The Daily Californian quoted an incident from an Alaskan school, and I in turn will quote it for you.

Students Having Same Names Cause Trouble, Confusion

What would you think if you received a letter from your pinmate in Colorado saying that she was returning your pin by special delivery? Sure, it's a common story until you realize that you don't have a pin-mate!

Eight Bob Johnsons appear in the directory, but two have dropped school. The boys say that they haven't really had too much trouble being distinguished from one another. Usually they are in different curriculums. This keeps the registrar's problems at a minimum.

ISA Head Clarifies Dear Fellow Independent:

This letter is offered to you in an effort to explain the present condition and future possibilities of the Independent Students association. As you know, ISA is trying to overcome its difficulties and produce an acceptable program for all independent students.

The ways in which you can now help and support the building of this program and spirit are: 1. File for an ISA office—submit your name, address, phone, and office desired.

Likes Student Health

To the editor, "Members of the council voiced several objections to Student Health Services, including examples of 'typical gripes.' This was reported in The Daily Nebraskan article of Thursday.

I feel obliged to express here and publicly my sincerest gratitude for the brilliant, efficient and most careful personal and medical treatment I received in this institution.

It is marvellous and highly to be appreciated how they sacrifice time and troubles for the benefit of the students of this campus to a degree not to be found everywhere.

Comedy of Errors

By Donna Prescott

On the back page of the Monday, Feb. 26 issue of the "The Daily Nebraskan" there was a reference to a mysterious dog. It is rumored that his name could be Alawishus. The owner of this take-off on Harvey is still a mystery.

Faults of American Men Observed by Female Critic

By Phyllis Long

Say fellows, know what the gals think of you? Among the male sex, there have always been a number of self-appointed critics who are more than willing to expound on the wrongs of the American women.
