

Thompson Urges Men to Take Draft Tests

All students should take Selective Service College Qualification tests, if possible, said Dean T. J. Thompson, Dean of Student Affairs, Wednesday.

"We think," said Dean Thompson, "despite the fact that there is an opportunity to by-pass tests by students who have high scholastic records, everyone to whom I have officially talked as well as representatives of the American Council of Education, believe all students should take tests if possible."

Dean Thompson continued, "The student should also take note of the fact that the cut-off grade levels have not been officially established, but it is believed the level will not be far from those recommended by General Hershey. This test is not open to high school students, as we understand; they are, however, open to graduate students."

"State Selective Service headquarters indicates that it will not be possible for students who are registered to make application of their local Selective Service board after April 16," said Thompson.

The following information was prepared by Dean Thompson.

General Features

The test known as "Selective Service College Qualification test" will be devised, administered and scored by the Educational Testing Service. Said service is located at Princeton, N. J. The test is to be used by local Selective Service boards as evidence in considering deferment for the pursuit of a college education. There is apparently no limitation as to the nature of the curriculum the student may be pursuing.

Eligibility And Method of Application

To be eligible to take the Selective Service College Qualification test, an applicant—

1. Must be a registrant under the Selective Service Act who intends to request occupational deferment as a student;
 2. Must be under 26 years old at the time of taking the test;
 3. Must be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college course leading to a degree (the applicant need not be in a four-year college but his entire course of study must be satisfactory for transfer of credits to a degree-granting institution);
 4. Must not previously have taken the test.
- All eligible registrants who wish to take the test should apply immediately.
1. Obtain a post card application (SSS Form No. 106 and attached SS form No. 107) from any Selective Service local board (Nebraska Selective Service headquarters states that these forms will not be available until after April 16.)
 2. Fill out the application in exact accordance with instructions in this bulletin and mail it immediately. Note that the card is self-addressed but a one-cent stamp is necessary. On the application the student must designate an examination center and its number, chosen from the list of centers and center numbers appearing further on in this information. Educational Testing Service will assign them to the center requested or to the closest possible alternative center.
 3. Do not mail more than one application. A ticket of admission will not be issued if more than one application is filed.

Tickets of admission will be issued as rapidly as possible. The applicant, may, however, be assigned to any one of the three testing dates. He should not become concerned, therefore, if there is some delay in his receiving his ticket of admission.

4. Students must take the Selective Service College Qualification test on the date and at the place specified on the ticket of admission that will be mailed to the applicants.
5. When reporting for the test, it is necessary to bring an official document showing your selective service number and the exact designation, number and address of the Selective Service Local board having jurisdiction over the applicant. Students should consult their local board now if they do not already have this information.
6. Selective Service College Qualification test may be taken only once.

Administering Test—University of Nebraska

The University, with Prof. H. M. Cox, Director of the Bureau of Instruction Research, in charge, has been selected as an institution at which the test will be given. The test will require three hours elapsed time.

The test will be administered on the following dates:

1. Saturday, May 26, 1951.
2. Saturday, June 16, 1951.
3. Saturday, June 30, 1951.

The provisions of the new Selective program as recommended to President Truman by General Hershey are as follows, quoting bulletin 167, American Council on Education. The provisions are not as yet official but it is believed they contain the essentials of the official information to follow. (The word or is important in the following.)

- "1. A cut-off score, equivalent to 120 on the Army General Classification Test, will be designated as 70 for purposes of deferment. Local boards will be advised that all high school students scoring 70 or higher will be eligible for deferment to enter college.
- "2. Present college freshmen who have achieved a score of 70 and/or rank in the upper 50 per cent of their class may be deferred to continue in school.
- "3. Present sophomores may be deferred if they score 70 and/or rate in the upper two-thirds of their class.
- "4. Juniors who score 70 and/or rate in the upper three-fourths of their class will be eligible for consideration of deferment.
- "5. Seniors who obtain official admission to a graduate or advanced professional school, achieve a test score of 75 (equivalent to 130 A.G.C.T.) and/or rate in the upper 50 per cent of their class, will be eligible for deferment.
- "6. Continued deferment for graduate level study will be contingent upon progress satisfactory to the institution."

AWS Sets Up Women's Rules For Traditional Ivy Day Sing

All women's organized groups, except honoraries, who wish to participate in the traditional Ivy Day Sing, Saturday, May 5, must submit applications by Friday, April 20.

Applicants must send the name of the director, an alphabetized list of the singers and the name of the song, plus the expected help from alumnae, to Pat Wiedman, 626 No. 16th.

Not more than twenty-five girls, including the director, may represent any group in the Sing, but the groups must be larger than an octet. Freshman women may participate. No medleys of songs or songs which exceed five minutes may be used. The same song may not be used for two consecutive years.

Alums May Assist

Alumnae may not take part in the singing, but may assist in the preparation, provided they have not been connected professionally with art music group. No other assistance may be used. No special articles of apparel may be purchased for the Sing.

The director must be active in the group and enrolled in the University. All members of the group must be carrying twelve hours this semester and have no failures from last semester.

Three Dollar Fee

Each group is assessed a fee of three dollars to cover the cost of judging. The three dollars should be sent to the A. W. S. treasurer in Ellen Smith hall. All groups must remain after their participation for recall if necessary.

Further announcements concerning the Sing will be placed in the Daily Nebraskan. The order of those organizations participating will be determined by a drawing, the date of which will be announced later.

Alpha Xi Delta was the winner of last year's sing. Phi Gamma Delta won the men's sing, sponsored by the Kosmet Klub.

AWS Convention Delegates Return With New Suggestions

Nancy Button and Sharon Fritzer represented the University Association of Women students at the thirteenth biennial convention of the intercollegiate AWS.

The meeting was held at Purdue University from March 29 to April 1.

The theme of the convention, which featured both speakers and workshops, was "Today's Woman Tomorrow."

Among the speakers at the meeting were Marguerite Higgins, war correspondent for the New York Herald Tribune; Mrs. Frieda Miller, director of the United States labor department; Dr. Dorothy C. Stratton, executive director of the Girl Scouts of USA; and Dr. Lillian M. Gilbreth, management engineer and well-known author.

Workshop Topics

The workshop topics were as follows:

College life outside the classroom, the National Student Association, and the higher education of women in the national emergency.

The workshops discussed and recommended resolutions which the delegates were to carry back to their respective universities.

A reevaluation of all campus organizations through an annual comprehensive report of leadership and structure was advocated by one of the resolutions approved by the convention.

Local AWS groups were urged to assume the responsibility of stimulating cultural programs and interests on their particular campuses.

Family Life Courses

Another resolution encouraged each AWS to study and evaluate college courses and particularly to make courses in family life available to students in arts education without unnecessary prerequisites.

The convention also recommended to the delegates that vocational guidance, leadership training and home life interests be furthered through the AWS program.

One hundred colleges and universities were represented at the meeting.

AUF to Select '52 Recipients Of Solicitations

The executive board of the All University Fund is selecting organizations for which they will solicit funds during the next school term.

The purpose of AUF is to solicit funds as a whole which will then be divided, accordingly and given to the organizations and charity groups previously designated by AUF.

This year the $4,500 collected by AUF went to the Crusade for Freedom, World Student Service Fund and Lincoln Community Chest.

Any on or off-campus organizations wishing to have AUF solicit for them must send in their requests before April 15 and meet with the AUF executive board some time this month.

The request must include a budget outlining specific needs and expected receipts. It is understood that the permission to drive and the budget are subject to the approval of the organizational heads and executive board.

The request should be sent to Sarah Fulton, AUF, Union, Room 306.

AUF will not drive for on-campus organizations seeking increased membership or funds for general running expenses. Funds collected for campus organizations must be used for some all student project.

Zucker's Program Combination Of Modern, Classical Music

Misses Florence and Blanche Zucker will play a duo-piano concert Sunday in the Union ballroom at 4 p.m.

Their program will vary from Tchaikowsky's waltz "Eugen Onegin" to their own arrangements of "South Pacific" tunes and "Blues-Boogie." About the latter selections the girls said, "Being American, we feel that the popular and jazz idiom is part of four folklores, and as such should also be heard from the concert halls throughout the country."

Natives of Brooklyn

The Zucker sisters are natives of Brooklyn, N. Y. They were started on their musical careers by a musician-friend of their parents. The New York College of Music awarded them scholarships so they continued their music study. Later Florence specialized in voice and Blanche studied cello at the Juilliard School of Music.

Blanche spent four years at New York University, again on a scholarship, while Florence pursued a pre-medical course at Hunter college. After this they again turned to the piano and decided to make their profession. They began working with the Vinness pianist and teacher, Hedda Ballou.

The pianists lately appeared at the White House on a program honoring President Truman. On this engagement they were billed with comedian Danny Kaye.

Concert Is Free

This concert is under the sponsorship of the Union music committee. Admission is free.

The program is divided into four parts they are: I Waltz (from "Eugen Onegin"), Tchaikowsky; "The Lark," Glinka; "Sabre Dance, Kchatchaturian, "II Rhapsody on a Theme by Paganini," Rachmaninoff, III Festivals, Debussy-Ravel, "Suite Scaramouche," Milhaud, IV "South Pacific," arranged by Zucker; "Beat American," "Dancing in the Dark," "Tea for Two," "Night and Day," "I Got Rhythm," arranged by Zucker; "Blues-Boogie," arranged by Zucker.

Coeds May Apply For Camp Jobs

Special Jazz Artists Featured In Duke Ellington Concert

Duke Ellington and his band of jazz artists will appear in concert at the Coliseum, April 11 at 8 p. m. Max Roach, drummer, and Jimmy Hamilton, clarinetist, will be featured along with Ellington's piano, although he will play no solos.

After studying art, he organized a five-piece band and took it to New York. With a larger band Duke Ellington opened and stayed five years at the Kentucky club in Harlem. Later, in vaudeville, he appeared with Maurice Chevalier, and also at the famous Palace theater.

Zeigfeld's "Show Girl" featured his song of the same name. Three ASCAP annual awards were his for "Solitude" in 1935, "Caravan" in 1938 and "I Let a Song Go Out of My Heart" in 1939.

Ellington and his band toured Europe before the war and he himself scored as soloist and conductor in 1948. He continues his annual appearances at Carnegie hall which began in 1943, along with stops at concert halls of key cities in the U. S. and Canada.

Other Duke Ellington hits include: "Sophisticated Lady," "Mood Indigo," "I Got It Bad and That Ain't Good" and "Stormy Weather."

Tickets are available to students for 85 cents and to the public at $1.20. Disadvantages of previous seating methods have been overcome in the improved Coliseum arrangement for this two-and-a-half hour concert.
