

JACK SHULL... clouted his first home run of the year for the Huskers at Wichita to help Nebraska to a 12-8 win.

Huskers Rally to Sweep Diamond Series at Wichita

The University of Nebraska baseball team maintained its winning ways by dropping Wichita Tuesday to take the two game series from the Shockers.

The Huskers were trailing 8-4 when they rallied in the final three frames of the seven inning fracas to collect eight runs. It wasn't until the sixth inning that the Huskers were able to head the Kansans.

George Nutt started on the mound for the Huskers and was relieved in the fourth inning for Dale Bunsen. Bunsen displayed some artful hurling and was able to stop a Wichita uprising. He then went on to pitch shut-out ball the rest of the way and gain his first credited victory of the season.

It was Jack Shull's two run home run in the fifth that started the Huskers off on their fifth inning rally. The Huskers shoved across four runs in this inning and the score stood at 8-8 at the end of the fifth.

Bill Fitzgerald started off the sixth inning with a single. He raced to third as centerfielder Bill Tibbetts erred on the play, letting the ball go through him. Fitzgerald scored after the Shockers' relief pitcher, John Friedersdorf, threw a passed ball.

Bob Diers continues to lead the Huskers batting parade. He collected two hits to give him a season total of 12 hits in 20 appearances at the plate.

Two Hits Apiece Bobby Reynolds, Bill Jensen, and Jack Shull all had two hits a piece also. Reynolds and Jensen both hit doubles, while Shull smashed the circuit clout.

Tony Sharpe's crew are now averaging 13 runs per game, having collected a total of 52 runs in their first four games. The Huskers have two more games before they return home.

Tony Sharpe's nine will face the Kansas State Wildcats in their initial Big Seven conference game of the year. Coach Ray Wauthier is expected to use either Jim Iverson, former basketball star, or

Lopat Shackles Red Sox, 6 to 1

The powerful (on paper) Boston Red Sox fell before superb New York Yankee pitching again Wednesday as the Yanks duplicated their opening day defeat of the Sox. Ed Lopat hurled two hit ball at the Boston sluggers in winning 6-1.

Lopat had a no-hitter working for six and one-third innings before Ted Williams lined a single to center. Williams scored on the only other Sox hit by Bobby Doerr.

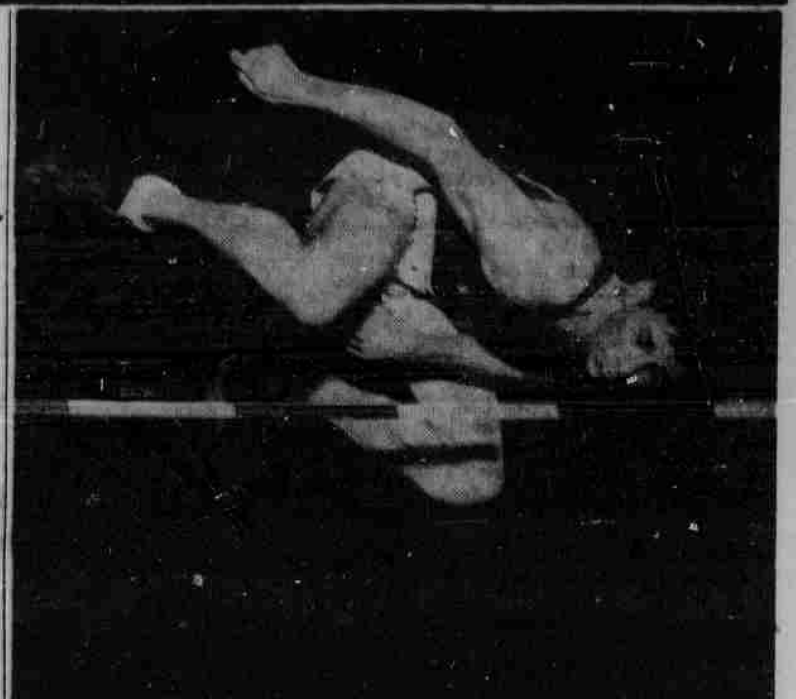

The Brooklyn Dodgers gained Phillies as they dropped the Bluejays, 4-3. Preacher Roe turned in a seven-hit performance for the Dodgers to give them an even split in their first two games. Bubba Church was tagged with the loss. Willie Jones and Dick Sisler clouted homers for the losers.

Park Reitemeier for the starting pitcher's assignment.

Coach Sharpe will probably start with Al Benjamin, Del Kopf, or Bill Anderson. Bob Lehrberg, who missed the second Wichita game, will again resume his duties behind the plate.

The Wildcats are basing their hopes for a successful season on five returning lettermen. Last year's Wildcat aggregation were able to win 10 out of their 24 starts.

DICK MEISSNER... will represent the Huskers in the high jump in both the Missouri duel Friday and Kansas Relays Saturday.

17 Texas Relay Champions Invade Kansas This Week

At least 17 Texas Relays champions will follow the gold-medal harvest north to the twenty-sixth Kansas Games in Lawrence April 21.

This roster includes both the Longhorn double individual winners, Darrow Hooper, Texas A & M's mighty weight-heaver, and Paul Faulkner Abilene Christian's pole vaulter-javelin thrower. Hooper, holder of the national high school shot-put mark of 59-10, erected a new Texas record of 53-1 in his favorite event.

He also collected the discus at 148-9 3/4, thus establishing himself as an early favorite in both events here.

Faulkner dethroned Ray Marek, the defending Texas and Kansas champion, in the javelin with a cast of 192-6 1/4. Marek won here last year at 205-4 3/4.

Meeks and Hoskins Other individual Texas winners scheduled to go after more glory here are Charles Meeks of Texas, who edged Kansas State's Herb Hoskins for the broad jump gonfalon; Hayden Fields, of Howard-Payne, in the 100; and Jerry Lemon, Oklahoma, and Jack Simpson, Texas A & M, who tied Faulkner for the pole vault crown at 13-9.

This gang, along with most of the relay teams, set the stage at Austin for a revenge motif at Lawrence. Some of the favorites absorbed a lacing at Texas, and their subsequent improvement, plus juggling of various baton quartets, is certain to unfold a raft of spirited duels in the lee of Mt. Oread.

Slight Edge Hoskins, for instance, will take dead aim at Meeks, the Southwest conference king. The latter won by 3/4 of an inch at Austin and the winning distance of 29 3/4 was far below what the streamlined K-Stater usually accomplishes. His winning leap at Texas last year was 24-10 1/4. He reached 25-2 1/4 against Kansas in a dual last spring, and whipped Meeks in the Southwest-Big Seven dual at 24-2 1/4. He was fourth in the nationals at 24-8.

Marek is another potential avenger. Faulkner, the Texas conference champ, didn't come close to him in any of the three major Midwest relay carnivals last year.

Relay Duels There'll be some blood-letting in the relays too. This likely will be featured by double duels between Arkansas and Kansas in the distance hauls, and Oklahoma and Oklahoma Aggies in the middle distance trials.

KU and Arkansas traded blows at Austin, the Jayhawks winning the Distance Medley in the excellent time of 10:14.4, just two and a half seconds more than the meet record, while the Razorbacks were dethroning the Jayhawkers in their favorite, the Four-Mile.

Heating the competitive gauge even more is the fact that the Porkers blew a 45-yard lead in the anchor carry of the first race as Herb Semper, Bill Easton's great distance steed, slaughtered Ollie Gatchell, Arkansas anchor, with a 4:14.6 mile. Johnny Morris' gang punished YU's second and third runners to gain a 150-yard lead on Semper in the Four-Mile. The redhead trimmed off 115 yards of this bulge but never had a chance to overhaul Tom Hardin.

Two-Yard Margin OU whipped A & M only two yards in the Two-Mile and the race might have been even tighter had not Ralph Taylor, Cowpoke anchor, dropped the baton going into the final curve. The Sooner's time was a good 7:47.4. The Normans clipped the third place Ags by only 4-tenths of a second in the Sprint Medley which went in 3:31.9 on a slow track.

Oklahoma has a little score-settling of its own to do in the Mile where Texas Aggies kept the Sooner from copping a fifth Austin baton title by a mere six inches in the good time of 3:17.0.

Close Sprint Medley Most stinging duel in the college class will throw Chicago Loyola against Abilene Christian in the Sprint Medley. Bill Conrardy-Loyola's great middle distance driver, edged Leon Leopard of the Christians in a fine 1:53.4 anchor lap at Texas, to pull the Chicagoans home in the good time of 3:28.3, just :01.7 over the Kansas record.

Four Nebraskans To 4-H Convo

The 21st National 4-H Club Camp at Washington, D. C., will be held from June 13 to June 20, according to news received by the University Agricultural Extension Service.

Four youths, two boys and two girls, from Nebraska have been awarded the all-expense trip to the camp. It's the highest honor that can come to a 4-H club member in Nebraska. They are:

Calvin Kuska of Omaha, Lawrence E. Murphy of Mitchell, Alene Oschner of Madison and Ruth Moritz of Lexington. William C. "Bill" Smith, assistant state 4-H club leader at the University for the past three years and a half, has resigned to accept a position in Clackamas county, Oregon.

He will be county 4-H club agent and will be stationed in Oregon City. Mr. Smith's resignation is effective sometime in May.

Delta Pi's, Cornhusker Co-Op Notch Initial Softball Wins

Intramural softball rolled into its third day of action Tuesday, taking advantage of the good weather. Two reports were received by the winning teams and those are the only results available.

Defending All - University champion, Cornhusker Co-op, opened the defense of their title by unloading an 18-hit attack on Sigma Alpha Mu to win easily, 25-5.

Stu Nelson hurled four innings of no-hit ball for the Cornhuskers before being relieved in the final fifth by Dick Hungerford. Hungerford allowed the Sammies their only three hits and five runs.

Nelson and Hungerford were also the batting stars for the victors as they collected four hits apiece. Both pitcher-sluggers clouted a pair of home runs to add to their prestige.

13 Errors The Sammies did nothing to help their cause, however, as they were guilty of 13 errors over the five inning contest. The winners finished cleanly.

The victors started out fast and chalked up two runs in the first frame and added 12 more in a big second inning. Four more came in the fourth and six more in the fifth stanza.

Delta Sigma Pi scored behind the brilliant pitching of Lloyd Hinkley to defeat Delta Sigma Phi, 6-1. Hinkley was all the Deltas had to offer, but his masterful one-hitter was enough to stifle the power hitting of the Delta Sigs.

The Delta Sigs led momentarily as they scored their only tally in the first inning on an error, a hit by second baseman Don Delli Paoli and a passed ball.

Big Second The Delta Pi's evened the score in their half of the first frame and then sewed it up in the second inning with four big runs. Tom Jenkins doubled to right to bring two runs across the plate and Jenkins and Phi Reiland were brought across on a single by pitcher Hinkley. They tallied their sixth run in the third inning of the six-inning game.

Billy Wilson on the mound for the losing Delta Sigs gave up only four hits but allowed four walks. Hinkley walked two.

Other contests saw Tau Kappa Epsilon defeat Pioneer House, 2-0 and Beta Theta Pi dropping Brown Palace.

Wildcats Meet Colorado in Two Contests

Baseball is the headliner on the Kansas State home schedule this weekend as Coach Ray Wauthier's club tangles Friday and Saturday afternoon with Colorado in two Big Seven contests. Game times are 3 p.m. Friday and 2 p.m. Saturday.

It will be the home debut for K-State's diamond crew. The Wildcats dropped their opening matches to Oklahoma at Norman last weekend, 2-11, and 5-9. Two earlier matches with Wichita were rained and snowed out.

Although his club was decisively beaten by the Sooner forces, Wauthier was encouraged by his team's showing. Oklahoma had played six previous games, while the weather harried K-Staters had scarcely logged any infield time.

"We definitely found out we need more batting practice," Wauthier commented. "They were getting everything they threw past us the first five innings."

The new diamond coach thought his pitching corps stood up remarkably well considering its lack of practice. Jim Iverson, who scarcely had time to shuck his basketball suit, pitched five no-hit innings in the opening OU game and had things well under control until two blooper singles and a foul-line-hugging triple got him in trouble.

Twenty-One Alums Gather for Game

By Shirley Murphy

Iowa State alumni are really showing a big interest in the varsity-alumnae game coming up May 5. Twenty-one alums have indicated they're willing to play in the second annual game with the Cyclone varsity.

Jim Iverson, third leading scorer for Kansas State's Big Seven and Western NCAA champion basketball team, has had little time to relax since the close of the court season. Besides being the number one pitcher on the K-State baseball team, the Wildcat junior has been elected to the Student Council, one of the college's highest student offices.

Colorado baseball coach Frank Prentup, a very rugged individual whose nickname, "Chief," is a tribute to his Indian ancestry, has had his dignity considerably impaired recently by Dr. Forrest B. "Phog" Allen, notorious Kansas university basketball coach.

"Phog" took to calling Prentup many years his junior, "Prentie," and the pseudonym was overheard by Prentup's colleagues at Colorado, who have since then made the gymnasium of the Buff campus ring with "Hey, Prentie."

Lonny "Barrymore" Chapman, two-miler at Oklahoma in 1947, is a successful player in Elizabeth B. Ginty's new comedy, "Missouri Legend." Chapman is a graduate of the Sooner drama school.

Chapman portrays Jesse James, the Missouri outlaw who robbed banks by day and attended Baptist prayer meeting by night. Vernon Rice of the New York Post writes about his actions, "I doubt if those who came in contact with Jesse's revolver found his as boyishly charming as Lonny Chapman makes him, nor quite as likable, but after all Jesse is the hero of 'Missouri Legend.' Under Chapman's thoroughly-winning portrayal, if you had a bank to be high-jacked, Jesse would be the man you would want to do it."

No wonder the former Sooner runner fits the part so neatly. He is a native Missourian.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 17... THE OWL

"So I'm a wise guy — so what?" "Speotyto cucicularia" — Speo, for short, majors in the classics. But in this case, he's dropped his Latin leanings and slings American slang with the best of them. He comes right out "cum loudly" whenever he voices his opinion on these quick-trick, one-puff cigarette tests. They're a snub to his high I.Q. He knows from smoking experience there's just one intelligent way to judge the mildness of a cigarette.

It's the sensible test... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as a steady smoke — on a pack-after-pack, day-after-day basis. No snap judgments needed. After you've enjoyed Camels — and only Camels — for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), we believe you'll know why... More People Smoke Camels than any other cigarette!
